All Presidential Hopes Perk Up

BY KYLE D. PALMER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Presidential politics and personalities came to the fore today as a result of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's apparently [illegible] in New York that President Coolidge will not seek another term.

[illegible] interested observers here regard the Butler utterance as nothing more than an indication of his own desire to seek the Republican nomination, the quick response of Senator Borah on the wet and dry issue raised by the antiprohibition president of Columbia University and the keen interest in the farmer expressed by Gifford Pinchot and Frank O. Lowden, furnished Washington with a topic of conversation and not a little amusement.

OFFERS TO DEBATE

Mr. Borah, advocate of strict dry enforcement, ignored Dr. Butler's reference to the Coolidge candidacy and offered to debate the wet and dry issue and to "force the issue to a final conclusion in the next convention." The Idaho Senator also announced his intention of touring the country following the adjournment of Congress.

The evident interest shown by Mr. Pinchot in farm relief is regarded as a direct attempt to reinject himself into national politics, either with the intention of seeking the Republican nomination for President or placing himself in position to seek the Vice-Presidency as a running-mate with former Gov. Lowden of Illinois, an active Presidential aspirant, or with Vice-President Dawes, an interested but as yet not [illegible] candidate.

Mr. Lowden made his personal contribution to the situation through the medium of a telegram indorsing the application of the provisions of the McNary-Haugen bill proposed for [illegible].

STRONG DRY STAND

Amusement and amazement seemingly were the chief reactions to a statement by Dr. Butler that President Coolidge, having taken the oath of office twice, actually has served two terms as President and hence would be an actual third term candidate. Dismissing the argument of the university president as puerile, Republican leaders, nevertheless, concede that he has raised the issue in such manner as to necessitate a full discussion of the third-term factor.

Because of the fact that the Republican party has taken an unequivocal stand in favor of dry enforcement, Dr. Butler's enthusiasm for the wet cause and assertion that it [illegible] be espoused by the party in the next campaign created decided smiles or caustic comment, the [illegible] interpretation of his re-

CLARK HEIR IS MARRIED TO DIVORCEE

Grandson of Late Senator Takes as Bride Woman Twice Wed to Same Man

BUTTE (Mont.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive) W. A. Clark III, millionaire grandson of the late Senator W. A. Clark of Montana and son of W. A. Clark, Jr., of Los Angeles, married Mrs. Thelma Wyatt Johnson, divorcee, here today. The bridegroom gave his age as 24, the bride said that she is 25.

Mrs. Johnson was twice divorced, each time from the same man, R. Ford Johnson, bank cashier at Helena, Mont., to whom she was first married in 1918. In 1923 she obtained a decree on the grounds of cruelty. In 1924 Mrs. Johnson remarried the Helena man. December 11, last, Johnson obtained a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. The 6-year-old child of the couple was placed in joint custody of the parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark, III, will leave immediately for Los Angeles where they will spend a week with Mr. Clark's father. From Los Angeles they will sail for Honolulu. They expect to make their home in Los Angeles and Butte.

The marriage was performed by a Presbyterian minister in a Butte hotel. A few friends witnessed the ceremony. When Johnson obtained a divorce he charged that his wife devoted most of her time to social affairs and chided him when he could not accompany her to society functions.

PANTS TRIP POOR DATU

Princess Cuts Up in Jealous Fit

Failure to Meet Sultan for Lack of Trousers Ires Chief and War's On

MANILA, Feb. 8. (AP)—The American-educated Princess Tarhata Diram was willing enough to share her husband, Datu Tahil, Moro rebel chief, with his three other wives, but to allow a comely Sulu girl to shower affection on him—Ah! no, no, no, no! That, in substance, is the reason for the downfall of Datu Tahil. So say dispatches received here today from Jolo Island, scene of the recent drama of love, rebellion, flight and capture.

It was related that as soon as it became known to the Sultan of Sulu that Tahil, one of his chiefs, was in rebellion against the Philippine government, the Sultan sent his favorite niece, the Princess, to the scene of conflict summoning Tahil to the royal palace for a conference looking toward a peaceful settlement of the difficulties which caused the insurrection.

QUITE ACCOMMODATING

Princess Tarhata, arriving at the fort where Tahil had dug in with 300 of his armed followers, found him in the process of taking a bath. That in itself was not so bad, but the Princess discovered that a comely young woman was scrubbing his back.

Being the fourth and favorite wife of Tahil, the Princess objected. The royal lady, a graduate of the University of Illinois, seized a pail of the chieftain's bath water and threw it in the face of the accommodating young woman.

In order to make it clearly understood that she was displeased, she then seized a knife and attacked Datu Tahil's trousers, which were lying near-by. In a moment they were in shreds.

They were the only tousers Tahil had with him. He positively could not attend the conference at the royal palace without a pair of trousers, and so the negotiations were held up.

SULTAN PEEVED

The Sultan, the story goes on, waited until his royal patience was exhausted, and then, believing one of his chieftains had ignored a command, sent word to the Philippine constabulary to go ahead and attack Tahil if they cared to.

The constabulary did. It moved up to the fortification and then learned that the Princess was inside. That stove off the attack for several days. Finally Tahil and the Princess fled with a few followers, leaving most of the rebels to face the fire. Special correspondents reported sixty Moros were killed in the attack. Official reports listed the dead at thirty-five.

The Princess later was found exhausted and penitent, wandering on a mountainside, but her husband was nowhere about. He is being sought on a charge of sedition. His people have turned against him. The Princess is being kept in semiconfinement, but she has shown such penitence that it is believed she will not be punished further.

PRINCESS WORRIED OVER FRIEND'S OPINION

JOLO (Island of Sulu, P. I.) Feb. 8.—The greatest worries of Princess Tarhata Kiram, niece of the Sultan of Sulu, wife of the insurgent Datu Tahil, and a former University of Illinois co-ed, are not about her husband, who has not yet been apprehended, after he escaped with the Princess from the besieged fort on this island, but about her four-months'-old baby and about her American friends at Urbana, Ill., she told the correspondent today. The real reason the co-ed Princess took her high adventure was in an ambition to become Sultana of Sulu.

Clad in a loose silk jacket of bright green and purple trousers with slippers covering her feet, the Princess appeared considerably improved since the time the constabulary brought her a captive to Jolo. Her hands and feet are small and graceful, her skin is light and her features show a trace of her Chinese ancestry. But she is thin from weeks of wandering; her left eye is blackened and the whole side of her face is bruised from the row she had with Datu Tahil after discovering him in intimate circumstances with another Moro girl.

IN PARENTS' HOUSE

Gov. Moore transferred the Princess yesterday to her parents' house, an old wooden shack, formerly a movie house, with a sign, "Get Your Tickets Here," on the outside wall. Tarhata sat on a rickety bench and told her toubles at length. Her English is perfect.

"I wonder what my friends at Illinois will think of my escapades," she began, half smiling. "They will think I have forgotten all my American education. I should like to see what the Chicago papers are saying about me.

"Sometimes I write Prof. Glasgow at the University of Illinois, but I correspond with no other acquaintances there."

When asked why, with all the advantages given her, she reverted to savagery, Princess Tarhata rose, walked quickly around the room nervously clasping and unclasping her hands, and started to speak in short, tense words.

"I don't know," she answered. "I never want to see my husband again. I am tired. I have been through more in the last two weeks than I

RAIL STOCKS HIT PEAK

Trading Orgy in Sixteen Issues

Wheeling Again Vortex of Speculation and Prices Set New Record

Merger Lines Affected as Panic-Stricken Shorts Rush to Cover

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Sixteen railroad stocks were bid up to record high levels, bringing the average of twenty leading issues to the highest level since the war, in a wild orgy of speculation on the New York Stock Exchange today.

Wheeling and Lake Erie issues, control of which has just passed from the Rockefeller interests to the Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and "Nickel Plate" systems, again were the sensational individual features.

The common stock soared 35 points to a new record high at 130 as panic-stricken shorts resumed their covering operations, only to drop back to 100 again on rumors, which later proved to be unfounded, that the Stock Exchange would take action to relieve the tension in that issue. Similarly, the preferred jumped 13½ points to a new peak at 93 and then slumped 10 points from that figure.

Slightly more than 8000 shares of Wheeling common changed hands during the day, and about double that volume of preferred. After the close of the market, the Stock Exchange issued a perfunctory statement that it had been informed that directors of the road had authorized the conversion of prior lien and preferred stock into common, that recent wide fluctuations were due to the change in control and that daily reports of transactions would be required of members.

ANOTHER FLUCTUATES

Erratic fluctuations also took place in the Western Maryland issues in which the Baltimore and Ohio has increased its interest to 35 per cent of the total outstanding. The common closed off 3-4 net, and the second preferred off 1 1-4 net.

Most of the other "merger rails" were under heavy accumulation. Among the issues to reach their highest prices since 1925, many of them to the highest levels on record, were Chicago Great Western common and preferred, Reading common and second preferred, New York, Ontario and Western, New Haven, Texas and Pacific, St. Paul common and preferred, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Bangor and Aroostook, Wabash common, and Denver and Rio Grande Western preferred, the gains running as high as 7 points.

Chesapeake and Ohio fell back nearly 4 points and then recovered half its loss on the announcement that minority stockholders would oppose the additional stock issue, the proceeds of which would be used to pay for Erie and Pere Marquette stocks purchased in connection with the revised "Nickel Plate" merger plan.

LOREE KEEPS MUM

Purchase of a controlling stock interest in the Wheeling and Lake Erie by the Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and "Nickel Plate" systems was regarded in railroad circles today as a closed incident. No further comment was made either by the officials of the roads concerned or other railroad executives previously reported to have opposed such a line-up.

Leonor F. Loree, whose proposed fifth eastern trunk line system is reported to have been checkmated by the joint action of the three other roads, declined to make any comment whatsoever, but his associates volunteered the information that he was "not worrying." In banking quarters it was even considered doubtful that he would oppose the stock purchases when approval was sought for them before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It was recalled, however, that former President Rea, in a statement of the road's policy before the Interstate Commerce Commission a few years ago, opposed the affiliation of the Wheeling and Lake Erie and Western Maryland roads with the other eastern systems. At that time the discussions centered around leases and mergers, rather than stock purchases.

Mr. Loree has never made public the detailed plans of his projected eastern trunk-line system. About a year and a half ago he is reported to have made informal suggestions for a new grouping of roads into a fifth system to act as a competitor to the Big Four combination, which comprised the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio and the Van Sweringen system. His proposals met with instant objections by all the other eastern lines, but the Pennsylvania's opposition was described as "lukewarm."

Mr. Loree's holdings in other eastern roads, patricularly the Lehigh Valley, are believed to be sufficiently large to give him a "trading position"

DISABLED LINER RESCUED

Tugs Bring Relief to 700 Shivering Passengers Left Helpless on Atlantic as Fuel Gives Out

HALIFAX (N. S.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Relief was brought today to 700 shivering passengers who for three days have wallowed in the North Atlantic on board the United States Line steamer President Harding surrounded with every luxury but one—heat or the means or producing heat.

A leak in one of the fuel-oil tanks, discovered after the liner had touched at Queenstown on the voyage from Bremen to New York, developed to such an extent that when near Nova Scotia last Saturday, the supply was so low that it was decided to make for Halifax to make temporary repairs and replenish the tanks. But the oil supply was too low even to bring the liner into Halifax and yesterday the captain anchored off Jeddore and asked for a convoy.

Three tugs went out last night, one of them carrying a supply of fuel oil and found the crew of the President Harding burning the wooden hatch covers to make heat for cooking purposes so that the people on board might at least have hot food and drink. The Harding was taken in tow and brought to port.

LIFE TRAGEDY REVEALED

Dead Iowa Recluse and Day Laborer Once Governor in Philippines and Brilliant Scholar

AMES (Iowa) Feb. 8. (AP)—A life tragedy that transformed a brilliant, well-educated young man, into a sad and meditating recluse, was revealed here today after the death of Chris W. Ney, 56 years of age, from injuries received last week when he was struck down by a falling tree limb.

Four years ago, Ney came to Ames, established himself in a tiny one-room shack and enrolled in the electrical engineering department of Iowa State College. He soon dropped out of classes and for more than three years had worked here as a day laborer.

Papers in a safety-deposit vault today disclosed that he was holder of degrees from two universities, a soldier, editor, attorney and island governor in the Philippines, under the Taft administration.

Before completing a civil engineering course at Iowa State College, in 1889, it was learned he entered the law office of former Gov. Horace B. Boies of Iowa, and was admitted to the bar in 1895. He later was graduated from Minnesota University with a bachelor of law degree.

After serving in the Spanish-American War with distinction, he edited the Manila Tribune, first American newspaper in Manila, and was named Governor of Nueva Vizcaya Province in 1901.

Death of his wife, the former Miss Lucinda Ansboro of St. Paul, Minn., soon after their marriage was followed by his resignation as Governor and return to the United States, where he entered Columbia University and received the doctor of laws degree.

He was practicing law in New York City when the World War came. He enlisted and took part in many engagements overseas.

After he was demobilized he entered the University of the Sorbonne. Papers revealed he was at one of the early conferences that founded the American Legion, but the death of his wife preyed on his mind and he sought seclusion. He was a member of a prominent Iowa family and was the son of Patrick K. Ney of Independence. His brother, the late Judge Ney of the Tenth Judicial District was professor of law at the University of Iowa.

NEW DELAY FORCED ON RADIO BILL

Opponents of Compromise Lose Fight on Measure; Dawes Imposes Gag

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Opponents of the radio compromise bill lost another fight against it today in the Senate, but again forced a delay in final action on the conference report, already approved by the House.

Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, raised the point that the report was out of order and that it failed to contain the language allowing each State a separate wave length which was voted by both the House and Senate originally.

After more than an hour's debate, Vice-President Dawes interrupted and informed Senator Howell he need not discuss the question further for "the elucidation" of the presiding officer. Likewise shutting off Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, as he was about to answer Senator Howell, the Vice-President overruled the point of order.

Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, appealed from the decision, but a vote went over when no quorum could be mustered and adjournment was forced.

Early in the day Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, sponsor of the original Senate bill, sought an agreement for a vote tonight on the conference report, but Senator King, Democrat, Utah, objected. Senator Howell then objected to any agreement setting a time for a vote until the farm-relief bill is disposed of on Friday.

SHIP SERVICE TO END

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—The Los Angeles Steamship Company applied to the Railroad Commission today for permission to abandon its so-called Red Ball freight service between Los Angeles and San Francisco, declaring the service is not wanted by the majority of its patrons and is being operated at a loss of $600 a month.

Merchant Fined for Little Rap at Fair Miami

MIAMI (Fla.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—"Selling out, going back North, where men are men and rents are reasonable," read the sign of B. Kaufman, merchant. It aroused protests from indignant Miami citizens and Kaufman was sentenced to ten days in jail late today in Municipal Court, accused of disorderly conduct.

Kaufman came from Biltimore and is said to have admitted he named his own price in renting the downtown corner store room for $300 a month. The sign, he said, was simply an advertising stunt.

HUGH GIBSON MADE ENVOY TO BELGIUM

Native of Los Angeles to Finish Arms Parley Duties Before Transfer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Hugh S. Gibson, now American Minister to Switzerland, has been selected for appointment as Ambassador to Belgium, relieving William Phillips, who is to be first American Minister to Canada.

Gibson is now in Washington working on the report of the American delegation to the preliminary arms conference at Geneva, of which he was the head. He will return to Geneva to continue his duties as American delegate when the preliminary conference reconvenes at Geneva in March.

The new Ambassador will be on familiar ground, when he returns to Belgium, as he was secretary of the American mission to that country in 1914, and served there during the German drive through Belgium. He also has served as Minister to Poland. He is a native of Los Angeles.

Bay City Eager for Mementos of Valentino

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Personal reminders of the late Rudolph Valentino, motion-picture star, in the shape of pictures and other household items from his estate in Hollywood, were put on the auction block here today and brought lively bidding. The famous Beltram-Masses portraits of the young Italian star, one of which showed him in the costume of a Spanish grandee, were centers of interest.

Within a few hours a total of $10,000 in various articles was "knocked down" to the highest bidders.

SHELLS HIT LEGATION

Minister Reports Building in Line of Fire as Rebels Battle for City

Strict Censorship Imposed; British Send Warships to Aid Citizens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The American Legation at Lisbon has been repeatedly struck by rifle and machine gun bullets, forcing Minister Fred M. Dearing to abandon the building, according to a telegram received today by the State Department.

The message described the situation at Lisbon as "very serious," but gave no details of the present status of the Portuguese revolutionary outbreak.

The State Department made public the following message from Minister Dearing:

"The situation in Lisbon is very serious and will probably continue so for several days.

"The Minister has been obliged to abandon the legation, which was repeatedly struck by rifle and machine gun fire."

The message from Minister Dearing bore no date, but it was assumed that it was filed today, since it reached the State Department late this afternoon. The only previous communications from the Minister referring to the revolution merely said that such a movement was in progress the 4th inst. and that a censorship had been imposed.

The American Legation is located in the downtown section of Lisbon not far from the British Legation. It is not adjacent to any important government building.

BRITISH CRUISER ORDERED TO LISBON

GIBRALTAR, Feb. 8. (AP)—Three British war vessels have been ordered to proceed to Lisbon and Oporto to protect British interests in Portugal in the event that the revolt now in progress there should menace them. The cruiser Comus has been ordered to leave for Lisbon this afternoon, while the destroyers Windsor and Westminster have been ordered to Oporto.

LONDON IN DARK AS TO PORTUGAL REVOLT

LONDON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The veil is still drawn over events at Lisbon, no dispatches having been received from the Portuguese capital today and the censorship has closed down even on the course of events at Oporto.

The only indication in London of the continuing gravity of the situation in Portugal was the news that a British cruiser was leaving Gibraltar for Lisbon, and that two destroyers had been dispatched to Oporto for the protection of British interests.

Mail advices from frontier points, bringing events up to Saturday, State that all the politicians of the extreme left wing of the Democratic party had betaken themselves to the headquarters of the revolutionary troops in Oporto. The authorities had ordered a curfew—all shops in Lisbon to be closed and traffic suspended in the streets after 4 o'clock, in the afternoon, while the marine arsenal was heavily guarded.

PAPERS SUSPENDED

The government had also decreed that safe conducts during curfew hours would be granted only to persons whose professions required them to be abroad in those hours. Many had been arrested for infringing these regulations. Three papers, O Mundo, Infomaco and O Rebate, had been suspended and their editors imprisoned. There has also been trouble with the milling interests, who are licensed by the government's orders regulating bread baking to prevent speculation.

Similar mail advices up to Sunday reported that Lisbon again was under martial law. The strike on the State railways continues, but the government has succeeded in running a few trains.

The Westminster Gazette's Paris correspondent gives reports that mutineers on two cruisers in the harbor at Lisbon had occupied several quarters in the capital and captured the

NORTH SWEPT BY BLIZZARD

Top Tier of States Gripped by Canadian Storm; Montana Reports 30 Degrees Below Zero

DENVER, Feb. 8. (AP)—Raging from Canada to Southern Colorado, King Winter today was doing some plain and fancy storming in the Rocky Mountain area. A cold wave reached down from the Canadian provinces, extending into the Dakotas, and had the northern tier of Montana counties in its grip. Temperatures ranging to 30 deg. below zero were reported from Northern Montana points east of the Rockies.

Cheyenne had the deepest snow of the winter last night—seven inches and more—with zero weather generally throughout Wyoming forecast.

ILLINOIS EXPERIENCING COLD WAVE AND FLOOD

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—While a cold wave was sweeping down on Chicago from the Northwest, cities in the southern part of Illinois were girding for a battle with floods, due partly to melting snow which has sent rivers bombing near the danger mark. Tonight, according to the Weather Bureau, the temperature will drop to 10 deg. above zero or lower. The temperature began tumbling in the afternoon, dropping from 43 to 39 in an hour.

The down-State fight against encroaching flood waters was characterized as critical. Heavy rains have added their burden to rivers already swollen by the melting ice and snow.

At Beardstown, which was completely under water for several weeks in the fall, merchants and townspeople again were called to serve in volunteer patrols as water began to rise in basements.

The crest of the high water had passed Peru and La Salle today and was bearing down on Peoria, where preparations were made to battle a twenty-three-foot stage, expected within twenty-four hours.

Tonight the official gauge was 21.9 feet and the river was rising at the rate of an inch an hour. Hundreds of acres have been inundated along the stream's course in the north central part of the State and transportation handicapped.

One flood death was reported from Ottawa, where an 11-year-old boy drowned in a ravine filled by overflow waters.

CHANG ASKS ALIEN AID

Chinese Bids for Powers' Favor

Protection of Foreigners Pledged by Marshal of North's Forces

Restoration of Order and Payment of Debts Part of Offer for Help

PEKING, Feb. 8. (AP)—Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian dictator and generalissimo of the armies which are fighting the Cantonese, made a bid for the favor of foreign powers today when, on behalf of the northern military forces, he issued a statement pledging protection of all foreign lives and property in the realm of the Peking government.

Marshal Chang promised that the Peking government will maintain its credit obligations but warned that "we expect the powers to respect our public opinion and sovereign rights so that the Chinese may be freed of fear of possible invasion from the outside while the powers may be freed of apprehension over antiforeign movements."

WAR ONLY ON REDS

The northern generalissimo declared his military forces are operating only against Bolshevism and that "there is room for negotiations for all others except Bolshevists."

He outlined an extensive idealistic program of national reforms, preservation of national sovereign rights, restoration of order, extension of educational facilities and plans for the co-operation of capital and labor. Extension of communication facilities and plans for judicial reform also were included.

Referring to the civil war which now besets China, he said:

"The sponsors of extreme radicalism in China, being puppets in the hands of certain foreign agents, have not failed to seize the present opportunity of misleading a distressed people by erroneous theories which are working havoc. They are bound to fail, but it is intolerable to see the people suffer."

Chang declared economic rehabilitation must be accomplished by augmenting national productive power, cutting out unnecessary expenses, including limitation of the size of the army.

"The present juncture marks the turning point in the history of China," he said. "For the good of the people and the continuance of friendly relations with the powers it is time to ponder carefully what our responsibilities and attitude, face to face with the powers, should be. Equality in international treatment is the only safeguard to world peace."

CABINET DISCUSSION

The Peking Cabinet, say unofficial reports considered reliable, discussed today Great Britain's proposals to conduct negotiations dealing with the whole problem of China's relations with Great Britain.

The Cabinet, it is said, decided not to reply to the British government's proposals until the British reply to China's note of January 31, last, which expressed hope that the government would "give the necessary instructions for the immediate withdrawal of troops dispatched to China, so that nothing untoward may happen to mar the friendly relations of the two nations."

British forces estimated at 20,000 men, with several warships, have been dispatched to various Chinese ports, the bulk of them being destined for Shanghai to safeguard British interests as a result of antiforeign demonstrations in China.

JAPANESE HINT PEACE CONSIDERED

SHANGHAI, Feb. 8. (AP)—A Japanese dispatch received today from Peking reported that northern political leaders are considering formulation of peace terms for discussion with the Nationalist government of Southern China.

The report that northern political leaders are planning to discuss peace terms with the Nationalist government in the civil war of China must be considered with caution. The Peking government is dominated by military, not political, leaders, and nothing authentic has been received to indicate they are planning peace overtures.

CANTONESE TROOPS MEETING AT NANCHANG

SHANGHAI, Feb. 8. (AP)—Several hundred Nationalist (Cantonese) troops mutinied Wednesday at Nanchang, Kiangsi Province and killed several officers. Afterward they plundered and burned one section of the city.

The story of the mutiny was brought here today by R. G. T. Beydenburgh, superintendent of the Methodist Hospital at Nanchang, which was closed owing to hostility toward foreigners by Chinese radicals.

The troops, said Dr. Beydenburgh, mutinied when paid off with depreciated paper, instead of silver, which they had been promised.

Other missionaries who arrived on the steamer Tuckwo said that business as well as missionary conditions in Hunan and Kiangsi provinces are in a state of suspension because of the military exactions.

Many wealthy Chinese who refused to disgorge to the militarists have been executed, the missionaries reported.

Having closed down the splendid Yale in China Hospital at Changsha, Hunan Province, of which he is the superintendent, Dr. J. R. B. Branch of Macon, Ga., arrived here today as a refugee. On the steamer Tuckwo with him were fifty other foreigners forced by anti-foreign agitation to leave interior China. The majority of the refugees are American missionaries from Hunan and Kiangsi provinces.

Dr. Branch attributed the closing of the hospital to radical unionization, in which native doctors and nurses joined in making demands that virtually wiped out the hospital's receipts.

After conditions had rendered the closing of the hospital imperative, Nationalist government authorities appealed to the American heads of the institution to keep it open to treat military wounded. They refused, however, to furnish any funds.

The foreign staff afterward departed from Changsha, leaving the hospital premises in the hands of the native staff, whose attitude was hostile to foreigners. The hospital was closed two months ago.

Two Americans, Dr. D. H. Leavens of Norwich, Ct., and W. J. Hall of the foreign staff, remain to watch the property until the school authorities of America and China decide the future of the institution, which is directed by the Yale foreign missionary society of New Haven, Ct.

WALES TRIPS IN COURT ROBES

Heir to Throne Almost Falls at Solemn Opening of Parliament

LONDON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The Prince of Wales suffered one of those embarrassing moments during the state ceremonies attendant upon the opening of Parliament today.

The great assembly of nobles and their ladies in the House of Lords gasped as the heir to the throne, failing to manipulate his sword and long red robe properly, got them tangled up with his feet and stumbled. The Prince, however, recovered quickly and flashed one of his roguish smiles as he left the House.

Coolidge Not to Act in Central America Union

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—President Coolidge has examined with interest the proposal for a Central American Confederation of Nations, but feels that the initiative in any such movement should come from one of the Central American states rather than from Washington.

Senator Shipstead of Minnesota, the Farmer-Labor member of the Foreign Relations Committee, has proposed in a resolution that President Coolidge call a conference here to consider formation of such a union.

The President feels that the Central American treaties now in force already have given Central America something akin to the federation contemplated in the Shipstead resolution.

KING TALKS ON CHINA

Policy Debated in Commons

Baldwin Reads Resolution Showing Determination to Land Troops

LONDON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The British Parliament reassembled today, and was opened in state by the King. The speech from the throne dealt largely with the Chinese difficulty and China and the British policy furnished the text for the later debate in the House of Commons.

In his speech from the throne, the King expressed an earnest desire for a peaceful settlement, made reference to the British proposals, which were intended to remove all grievances, and to renew treaties on an equitable basis, and emphasized Great Britain's "traditional policy of noninterference in the internal affairs of China."

POLICY CLEARED UP

The debate in the afternoon gave Premier Baldwin an opportunity to clear up the British policy, which he did by reading a resolution adopted at a Cabinet council, showing that the policy had not changed and that the government still was determined to land troops at Shanghai for the "protection of British lives, should an emergency demand such a measure. In the event, however, of the danger of civil strife, affecting the Shanghai district passing entirely away, the necessity of such a landing would no longer exist.

"Nothing has happened," declared the Prime Minister, "to change the government's determination to achieve the end desired by negotiations, but the government declines to be overruled by either north or south in its care for the safety of British lives."

Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the opposition, in bringing the Chinese question before the house, declared that the British government was "playing with fire" in sending troops to China. He wanted negotiations with the Chinese reopened, after which, said the former Premier, the troops now on the way to the Far East could be diverted and not landed anywhere in China.

TROOPS FOR PROTECTION

The most interesting part of Premier Baldwin's speech was his reading of the resolution adopted by the Cabinet council yesterday: "That the Chinese policy should be based on the following considerations, namely, that the troops sent to the Far East are solely for the protection of British lives in China, and that the question of the time, manner and number of troops landed must obviously depend on the local situation and advices from the British representatives on the spot."

The Premier went on to say that if the British representatives at Shanghai considered that the emergency required immediate disembarkation of British troops at Shanghai, then the government would act accordingly. If an emergency did not exist, the leading brigade would be held in readiness at Hongkong, while the rest of the force was approaching. There could be no question of entering into arrangements with Eugene Chen, the Cantonese Foreign Minister, or any one else regarding troops dispatched to protect British lives.

COULD NOT SEND POLICE

In the general argument Mr. Baldwin likened the situation to that preceding the Boxer rising in 1900, and laid stress on the extreme difficulty of holding the scales of impartiality even between the conflicting parties of the civil war, so that neither might accuse Great Britain of helping the other. He declared that every foreign community in Shanghai was certain that evacuation in case of danger was impossible. He admitted that bona fide guarantees of safety might be given, but until it was quite clear that the opportunity had passed for the neighborhood of Shanghai to become a fighting ground in the civil war, the danger to Europeans and Japanese could not be regarded as nonexistent.

Replying to Mr. MacDonald's criticism of his employing troops for police duty, the Prime Minister said he wished he could send the London police, but that was impossible; therefore he was obliged to resort to troops.

KING OPENS PARLIAMENT

Regal Splendor and Ancient Pageantly Mark Ride of England's Rulers to Westminster

LONDON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Amid colorful scenes of royal splendor and ancient pageantry King George and Queen Mary rode today in regal state through wintry wind-swept streets to open the nation's Parliament. London's February drabness was blotted out for a brief hour at noon time as the gilded coach, with the King and Queen bowing to cheering crowds, rolled along the troop-lined streets from Buckingham Palace to Westminster.

In all this pomp and panoply there was a touch of homeliness. As the procession started, a window high up in the palace was opened, the curtains parted and a nurse held up the infant Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, for her first peek at the glitter of England's picturesque royal spectacle.

CROWDS ENTHUSIASTIC

Along the Mall the crowds displayed unusual, almost undignified, enthusiasm, surging forward on the sidewalks, waving and cheering and trying to keep up with the royal coach.

In the House of Lords there were just two momentary hitches to give a touch of reality to the stately proceedings, which were like a glimpse into a fairyland of medieval splendor. The Prince of Wales relieved the tension by tripping over his sword and long red gown, which caused the lords and ladies to gasp and the Prince to smile.

The members of the House of Commons were a little late in crowding into their gallery, which delayed the King's reading of the speech from the throne. The peeresses leveled their lorgnettes at the Commoners, and the noble lords looked displeased.

In the dim-vaulted chamber of the House awaiting their Majesties were the Prince of Wales, the peers and peeresses of the realm and the Diplomatic Corps. Many of the diplomatic representatives were in gold-braided uniforms, which seemed to make an unequal fight for recognition in the colorful spectacle of red robes and bejeweled gowns and heads. Alanson B. Houghton, the Ambassador and Ray Atherton, the first secretary, in severe evening dress, were America's democratic contribution to the picture.

KING READS MESSAGE

In the center of the Chamber on the long red Morocco benches sat solid banks of noblemen as vivid as a bed of roses in their scarlet robes, and, rising tier on tier at the sides, sat the peeresses.

In a hushed silence, the royal procession entered, the King leading the Queen by the hand to the throne chair, where, under soft spotlights, the monarchs outshone all the brilliant array before them. The Queen presented a magnificent figure in a robe of cloth of silver, with a crown of jewels and flashing diamonds.

"My Lords, pray be seated," said the King.

There was a delay for the appearance of the Commoners; then the patriarchal figure of the Earl of Balfour emerged from the massed nobles before the throne and handed the King his speech. The monarch, still sitting on the throne, read in resonant vibrant tones, audible in the furthest corners of the chamber, an outline of national policy and legislation which would be carried out by Parliament.

When he had finished, the royal procession reformed, the peers and peeresses dispersed and the members of the House of Commons returned to their chamber, where Premier Baldwin and the former Labor Premier, Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the opposition, launched debates which will buzz through the spring and summer.

BUTLER STIRS POLITICAL POT

marks being that he deliberately has sought to embarrass the President and injure him politically.

This, of course, Dr. Butler has denied, insisting that he believes the President's own views coincide with his statement of the case. He has made no claims of "inside knowledge" but has contented himself with generalizations.

If his utterance was designed to discover the possibility of his own nomination to succeed Mr Coolidge, he has received an unmistakable answer from representative Republicans here, a majority of whom are disposed to regard him as a political joke, while others, with a less elastic sense of humor are inclined to denounce him as a plotter against Republican solidarity.

Regardless of his motives and aspirations, Senator Borah in a letter written today loses no time in taking advantage of the opportunity afforded for bringing the prohibition question to the front as one of the major issues of the 1928 campaign.

The Idaho Senator, who is thought either to have Presidential ambitions himself or to be determined to have a determining voice in the selection of the Republican nominee, thus comments on the Butler declarations:

"I have read your address of last evening in which you are quoted as saying: 'In 1928 no candidate for President can escape making known with definiteness and precision his attitude upon prohibition. Unless he is against it, he cannot, in my judgment, be elected on any ticket.'

HIS VIEW ASKED

"With your view that this issue is here and should be candidly met it seems to me all must readily agree. I do not think it can be met, nor should we undertake to meet it by leaving it to the declaration or the supposed personal attitude of the candidate. The Republican party as a party should unmistakably declare itself upon this question. The voters who make up the party should have an opportunity to speak. In order to achieve this, the issue should be presented to the respective States and districts prior to the election of delegates so that the delegates may be elected in accordance with the popular view.

"What does your program contemplate prior to the time that the repeal takes place? Would you oppose the Republican party pledging itself specifically to the upholding and enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment so long as it remains a part of the Constitution, that is, until it is taken out of the Constitution in the manner and through the process provided in the Constitution for amending the same and that this pledge would include the enactment and maintenance of proper laws within the respective States in aid of such enforcement?

"I repeat again, I agree with you perfectly that we should not dodge this issue. And speaking for myself I am willing to go into the respective States to assist in presenting this matter directly to the people who are to elect the delegates. In order to do this effectively the issue must be framed. I think your speech is timely. I shall contribute in every way I can to force the issue to a final conclusion in the next convention."

Meanwhile the attitude of President Coolidge is unguessed by political friends and foes. He has given no indication of his intentions and on a number of occasions has declined to discuss the subject when opportunity was afforded. There is a conviction shared generally by leaders of the party that he will be a candidate, but this impression is not based on any intimation from the President himself.

The fact seems to be that the President himself may be included among those who are uncertain as to the course he will pursue. Developments during the next twelve months probably will dictate his decision. With such an attitude toward his political future he is singularly free to deal with important public questions without thought of possible political consequences.

MAY PROVIDE ISSUE

The increasing probability of passage of the McNary-Haugen bill, the main features of which he has indicated are not acceptable to him, will bring immediately to his own consideration and to the attention of the country one of the most important issues before Congress. Should he veto the bill, as there is reason for concluding, he will invite the vociferous denunciation of a faction in the Middle West and will supply Mr. Lowden or Mr. Dawes with a clear cut issue of opposition.

Whether such action would eliminate Mr. Coolidge, or by its obvious courage raise a nation-wide insistence that he seek election a second time, is being debated, with majority opinion strongly leaning toward the feeling that Mr. Coolidge will be re-elected if he seeks another term.

Thus far it is significant that virtually the only well-known Republicans showing undue anxiety concerning the "third term" issue are Senator Borah, champion of the drys, and Dr. Butler, champion of the wets.

As to Mr. Borah's qualifications there are many opinions, but as to Dr. Butler's, one derisive Republican stalwart sought to epitomize it today with the assertion that the doctor has but one outstanding and recognized endowment—a high silk hat.

LESLIE M. SHAW ATTACKS STATEMENT OF DR. BUTLER

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Leslie M. Shaw, who was Secretary of the Treasury under President Roosevelt, today took exception to the assertion of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, that a President has served two terms who has twice taken the oath of office.

Dr. Butler made his assertion in an address in which he expressed the belief that President Coolidge will not be a candidate in the 1928 campaign.

In an open letter to Dr. Butler, Mr. Shaw expressed the opinion that the death of a President does not advance a Vice-President to the Presidency, but merely increases his duties. If Dr. Butler's statement is logical, Mr. Shaw said, "then any President can get his third term by simply repeating his oath three times."

SAYS OATH IS NEEDLESS

The oath of office taken by Coolidge after the death of President Harding "was both innocent and unnecessary," in the opinion of Mr. Shaw. He added it was fortunate Mr. Coolidge did not resign as Vice-President, in taking the oath as President, because such action would have made him a private citizen and Charles Evans Hughes would have become "acting President."

"The framers of the Constitution made clear provision that no man shall be President of the United States of America unless and until he is elected to that particular office in the manner provided in the Constitution," Mr. Shaw wrote. "The duties of that office, under certain circumstances, but not the office, may fall upon the Vice-President."

ROOSEVELT SURPRISED

Mr. Shaw said he called the attention of Col. Roosevelt to "the unequivocal language of the Constitution" several years ago. "The surprise he expressed led me to doubt whether he would have made his famous statement at the close of the election of 1904 if he had realized then that for nearly three years he had unintentionally violated his oath of office by signing President," Mr. Shaw said.

Although he agrees with Mr. Butler that the Eighteenth Amendment "is un-American, unreasonable and in outright viciousness, is excelled by nothing that Congress has recommended and the people approved," Mr. Shaw asserts it is here to stay. Warning Dr. Butler not to be deceived, he adds that no middle western State can be carried by a pronounced wet candidate on the Republican ticket. He declares the South will vote for a Democrat "on any platform that a Democratic convention will put together," and adds that the people of the West "vote their convictions, not their traditions, right or wrong."

DIAZ TROOPS STORM CITY

Liberals Battle in Trenches

Nicaragua Conflict Wages on Church Defended by Machine Guns

Airplanes Aid Conservatives Who Rush More Men to Take Chinandega

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Feb. 8. (AP) Fighting continues in the town of Chinandega, sixty miles from Managua, first occupied by the Liberals, and then in part by the Conservatives. Official advices indicate that groups of Liberals managed during the night to entrench themselves in the central part of the city, and with four machine guns in the towers of Calvario Church are standing off the Conservative reinforcements and the attacking airplanes, which again today flew over the battle zone.

Gen. Parajon remains in command of the Liberals, and Gen. Viques commands the Conservative forces in the Chinandega sector, which is an important strategic position between Corinto and Managua.

Conservative headquarters here is advised that Gen. Diego Vargas, with several hundred men, is attacking the Liberals on the southeast side of the city. Gen. Gomez has arrived at Quezalguaque and has sent forward about 350 men to aid Viques at Chinandega, which is only seven miles distant.

Compulsory recruiting continues here and the majority of young and able-bodied men are headed for the fighting zone. Four hundred additional drafted men were equipped this morning and dispatched in the direction of Chinandega by train, but as the tracks are torn up at places, it is expected that they will meet with considerable delay.

The question of most concern for the Conservatives at present is the source of the vast amount of ammunition used by the Liberals in the recent fighting. Communication between Managua and the west coast by telephone, telegraph and railroad is still cut off. Diaz aviators brought some mail and government dispatches from Corinto today. A guard of marines has been placed on the Tropical Radio Station.

AMERICAN CHARGE IN MANAGUA RECALLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Lawrence Dennis, who served as American Charge in Managua during the period immediately preceding recognition by the United States of the Diaz government, has been recalled to Washington and will be replaced on the legation staff at Managua by John H. Macveagh, now in charge of Central American affairs in the Latin-American Division of the State Department.

The change will be effective about March 1 and Dennis will take over the Central American desk in the Latin-American division.

State Department officials said today that the transfer was of a routine nature, Dennis having served more than two years at his present post.

NEW BLOW GIVEN ALIEN ORIGIN RULE

House Committee Favors Suspension of Provision on Immigration Control

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Repeal of the national origin provision of the immigration laws was approved today by the House Immigration Committee.

The committee ordered reported a Senate resolution to defer for one year the placing in effect of the provision, together with an amendment proposing its outright repeal. The amendment would leave regulation of immigration upon the existing quota basis.

Under the provision which the committee proposes to repeal, the quotas of admissible aliens would be based on a percentage of the total number of immigrants of the respective nationalities who entered the United States between 1820 and 1920. The existing quota arrangement fixes these percentages upon the number of each nationality resident in the United States in 1890.

The committee's action was based on the ground that the national origin clause afforded no substantial way of estimating the quotas to be allotted various countries.

A majority of the members took the position that governmental departments charged with computing quotas would be forced to use conjecture in fixing the allotments.

Pay or Strike, Cries Sheriff's Deputy Force

PHOENIX, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Announcement is made of an impending strike of all appointed members of the force of Sheriff Jerry Sullivan. The County Supervisors made appropriation for eighteen deputies. Sullivan appointed twenty-two, asserting that all are needed to combat an asserted crime wave. At the last monthly meeting the Supervisors refused to audit the demands of the deputies. A writ of mandamus was filed today by Sullivan, seeking immediate payment.

If no money is forthcoming, the deputies announce they all will quit next Tuesday night. Sullivan declares he will make all process services by special deputizing of citizens who may be in the vicinity of his office, starting with the Supervisors.

ASSAILED BY MOTHER

Through an interpreter, Princess Tarhata's mother, an aged, gray-haired woman, dressed in cheap, dirty cotton, said that Princess Tarhata's difficulties were the judgment of God on the girl for abandoning the Moro customs and acquiring the Occidental.

"Tarhata is a Moro girl and you cannot make her American," said the mother, and the interpreter nodded his head vigorously, agreeing as he translated.

It is learned that the Princess had a love affair with a young American school teacher here before she went to the university, but former Gov. Carpenter stepped in and prevented the marriage. Many say this was the only real love Tarhata ever had and having failed to marry the white man, she cast her lot with Tahil out of bravado, and in the belief that he could make himself the Sultan of Sulu, while she could rule the treacherous troops through him.

Datu Tahil's 14-year-old son surrendered last night, saying, "I've had enough." He would not reveal his father's whereabouts. The boy is a survivor of the battle of Bagsak in 1913, when Gen. Pershing's troops killed his mother.

Coolidge Delays Action in Island Plebiscite Vote

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—President Coolidge will delay action for the present on the resolution calling for an independence plebiscite in the Philippines. He wants to confer with Gov.-Gen. Wood before he acts.

It is the understanding here that Gen. Wood will come to Washington on leave as soon as his health permits, and the question then will be taken up at a conference between the general and President Coolidge.

Passed by the Philippine Legislature over Gen. Wood's veto the plebiscite resolution has been forwarded to Washington. It will go into effect and the plebiscite will be held, unless Coolidge likewise vetoes it.

HOUSE GETS RIVER PLEA

Proponents Urge Bill Passage

Imperial Valley Flood Peril Pointed Out in Attempt to Obtain Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) Colorado River legislation and the necessity for immediate steps to protect Imperial Valley from the menace of flood occupied the attention of the House of Representatives for more than an hour today, when arguments favoring enactment of the Swing-Johnson bill were presented by Representative Lea of California and Representative Winter of Wyoming. The Wyoming Representative, speaking from the standpoint of a resident of an upper-basin State, asserted that the withdrawal of Utah from the six-State Colorado River compact does not affect the status of the Swing-Johnson bill. He indicated his belief that approval of the bill will be followed by unconditional approval of the river agreement by at least six States, including California and Utah.

Representative Lea assured the members of the House that "engineers agree it is only a matter of time when the river, if unobstructed, is going to turn into Imperial Valley."

"It may not be next year," he said, "but engineers do not estimate it will be longer than twenty years until the river goes in."

He described the physical aspects of the river and told of the deposits of vast amounts of silt each year that steadily are raising the bed of the Colorado above the surrounding territory.

Contrasting the river problem on the Mississippi with that on the Colorado, he explained that an overflow of the Mississippi is followed by a return of the river to its bed and complete drainage from the inundated lands, whereas in the event of the overflow of the Colorado into Imperial Valley, a permanent lake will be created because of the fact that no outlets exists for excess water.

Mr. Lea strongly favored the construction of an all-American canal, asserting that such construction will supply Imperial Valley with a great volume of water and will give the United States an advantage in negotiations with Mexico to the disposition of water rights.

Discussing the financial aspects of the proposed legislation as set forth in the Swing-Johnson bill he said that the assessed valuation of Southern California, in excess of $1,000,000,000, is a guarantee that the project will be financially sound and that the Federal government will be repaid its investment of $125,000,000 or of a larger sum.

The need of Southern California communities for an added domestic water supply, he said, "is the greatest demonstrated demand for water in the history of the world."

Differences between California and Arizona, Mr. Lea asserted, are not based on disagreements as to water rights but involve Arizona's demand that that State be given the right to tax California and the Federal government for electrical power developed at Boulder Canyon.

He concluded with an appeal to the House Rules Committee to permit the bill to come before the House for an early hearing.

ARIZONA OFFERS ANOTHER PROPOSAL

The tri-State conference on the development of the Colorado River adjourned at noon yesterday until today. The conference continued its discussion of the alternative proposal submitted by Arizona, it was announced, and adjourned early in order to permit the California and Nevada delegations an opportunity for further study.

The nature of the Arizona proposal was not made public. The sessions are being conducted behind closed doors.

HUNT NEAR LOSS OF PARTY CONTROL

PHOENIX, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—That Gov. Hunt soon will lose control over Colorado River negotiations was indicated this afternoon when the House, by a vote of 36 to 15, passed a Senate bill that provides for a river commission of seven members, of which only three shall be appointed by the executive and two each by the presiding officers of the Senate and House.

The only change was a cut of the original $200,000 appropriation to half that sum. The Senate is expected to concur at once and the Governor to veto, with the assertion that the Legislature is seeking invasion of executive prerogatives. Then each house will pass the bill, the veto notwithstanding, for Hunt has a House strength of only fourteen and has only about three in the Senate.

CONFERENCE IN UPPER BASIN PACT OFF

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Feb. 8. (AP)—The conference of the governors of the four upper basin States on the Colorado River problem, which had been called tentatively for Thursday by Gov. Emerson, has been postponed, he announced tonight.

"Gov. Dern of Utah and Gov. Dillon of New Mexico found it impossible to attend by reason of their necessary attention to the legislatures now in session in their States," said Gov. Emerson.

"By reason of demands on my own time made by the Wyoming Legislature I can appreciate their situation.

"A very hearty interest has been manifested by the executives of Colorado, New Mexico and Utah in the Colorado River situation, as well as in questions concerning public lands and other matters relating to our Western States. A conference no doubt will be held as soon as the press of legislative affairs in the States decreases."

'JOIN THE NAVY AND SEE MOVIES' NEW LURE FOR RESTLESS YOUTH

WASHINGTON, Feb 8. (AP)—Adventurous American youths who have felt the urge to become sailors and see the world now have the added inducement to "join the Navy and see the movies."

The Navy asserts that it has become the largest motion-picture distributor in the world, having 1200 complete eight-reel programs in duplicate and 150 in triplicate and almost 5000 reels of short stories, comedies and cartoons.

Simultaneously with the release of features to the large theaters, the Navy starts two prints of them on circuits from the east and west coasts, on which the films travel three years before returning to storage. The reels go from ship to ship until every vessel of the fleet has had its turn, then after an overhauling they go the rounds of naval stations.

The navy motion-picture service is under the direction of the Bureau of Navigation's training division. Before a film is leased it is screened and reviewed by representatives of the training division, which makes an effort to distribute the most popular type of films.

FARM BILL VOTE NEAR

Senate Ready to Ballot Friday

Passage There and in House Believed Assured With Consequent Veto

Lowden and Pinchot Rally to McNary-Haugen Plan Despite Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Obstacles to a Senate vote on the McNary-Hagen farm-relief bill were removed toay when unanimous agreement was reached for a final showdown on the measure not later than 4 p.m. Friday.

Having obtained this agreement, supporters of the bill turned their attention toward the House, where efforts will be made for a final roll call early next week. The rule giving the measure right of way with provision for twelve hours' general debate will be called up tomorrow with indications that the remainder of the week will be spent in discussion of the rule and the bill.

Pleased over the situation, Senate supporters of the proposal sat back in their chairs and smilingly listened to opponents attack its provisions. When the shafts of the opposition failed to arouse them, Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, turned on them with a charge that they were reluctant to defend the bill because they could not answer the charge that it is unconstitutional. This brought a reply from Senator Stewart, Republican, Iowa, who declared the report of the agricultural committee speaks for the advocates of the bill.

BACKED BY LOWDEN

While the Senate supporters rested, advocates of the legislation outside of Congress came forward to its defense. In a letter to George N. Peek of the farm committee of twenty-two, Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, said the Curtis-Crisp bill is not an adequate substitute for the McNary-Haugen measure as its omission of the equalization fee "wholly misses the point of legislation we have been advocating."

Support also came from Gifford Pinchot, former Governor of Pennsylvania, who said in a statement that he favors the bill because he believes it would help the farmers and is worth a trial.

He charged that Secretary Mellon killed the bill at the last session, and that he has "every reason to believe he will try to kill it this year." He further charged that Representative Mills, Republican, New York, who recently resigned as a House member to accept the position as Undersecretary of the Treasury, had withdrawn his resignation to lead the fight in the House against the bill.

CHALLENGE VOICED

In challenging the constitutionality of the McNary-Haugen bill, Senator Lenroot called on supporters of the bill to prove that it does not exceed the power of Congress.

Replying, Senator Stewart cited the Transportation Act containing provisions for the selection of the members of the railroad labor board as similar to those proposed for the farm board but Senator Lenroot insisted they are not parallel.

Senator McMaster, Republican, South Dakota, contended that the farm-board provisions are analogous to those provided in the Federal Reserve Act permitting member banks to elect six of the nine directors, but this was denied vigorously by Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, one of the authors of the act.

Continuing his attack on the bill, Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, predicted that if the bill passes the courts will hold the equalization fee unconstitutional as in his opinion it is a mandatory tax against the agricultural producer.

"I repeat," he added, "I have no authority and have consulted with no one, but I can't see how this bill can ever become a law."

COOLIDGE VETO INTIMATION GIVEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) That President Coolidge will veto the McNary-Haugen farm-relief bill, if it should be passed by Congress, is the inference drawn from a cryptic observation made by the executive today.

Official Washington has been guessing for several days what the President will do if this measure, charged with political dynamite, should come to his desk. The President advises all who would prognosticate his course on public problems to consult the book written about him by his former secretary, Bascom Slemp, entitled "The Mind of the President." The guessing fraternity immediately turned to the book and found Mr. Slemp's statement that the President "has never changed his position on a fundamental public issue."

Inasmuch as the President has condemned the McNary-Haugen bill as a price-fixing measure and economically unsound, it was concluded that Mr. Coolidge had conveyed a delicate hint of an impending veto. Even opponents of the bill now concede that it will be passed by Congress next week, while the friends of the measure admit that it could not be repassed over a veto.

Word also was brought to the Capitol during the day that the President regards with favor the Curtis-Crisp bill, which contains no equalization fee provision and, according to its defenders, does not put the government into the marketing business.

SEED-LOAN BILL PASSED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The $6,600,000 seed-loan bill was passed today by the Senate with provision for cotton farmers as well as northwestern grain growers.

With approval of Senator Norbeck, Republican, South Dakota, amendments were added to permit the loans for obtaining seed in cotton States and for sugar-cane crops in Florida and Louisiana.

As sent to the House, the bill stipulates that $5,000,000 shall be for farmers in North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana and $2,500,000 for the drought-stricken areas in South Carolina, Georgia and West Alabama.

MISS CALLES TO WED

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Feb. 8. (AP) Natalia Calles, daughter of President Calles of Mexico, will be married to Carlos Herrera in Mexico City the 19th inst., said an announcement reaching Mexican Consul-General Carrillo in San Antonio today.

Review of Day in Congress

The $6,600,000 seed loan bill passed the Senate.

Repeal of the national original provision of the immigration law was favored by the House Immigration Committee.

CENSORSHIP MARKS DAY OF CENSORS

Secrecy, Statements and Futile Conferences Leave Play Clean-up in Tangle

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Plans and conferences, more plans and more conferences, secrecy, statements, and much massing of high officials of the police department to "talk things over" today featured—rather vaguely—developments in the present movement to clean up the New York stage.

The outstanding conference, and the most effectively concealed "plan," concerned Dist.-Atty. Joab H. Banton and Police Commissioner George V. McLaughlin. These two met in conference for an hour and a half, well-flanked by many and various police officials.

At is close Commissioner McLaughlin said:

"We all agreed on a concerted action and we feel that the conference was very harmonious and will result in a lot of good. No definite action was agreed upon, but later we expect to come to some conclusive agreement. That's all I can say at present."

Mr. Banton, who a few days ago said he would "be the censor" and who yesterday modified the statement somewhat, stood by, smiling. He said the commissioner had said all there was to say—for the time being.

Earlier in the day at Banton's office, Winthrop Ames and Frank Gillmore, representing the theater interest's "Committee of Nine," outlined their plan whereby the theatrical people desire to cleanse the profession "from the inside."

This plan Banton said he would comment on Thursday, until which time its details are not, he said, to be made public. It was announced, however, the proposal suggests the elimination of Mr. Banton as a "stage czar," and censorship after production rather than from the manuscripts of plays, and also for censorship "on the dog," while the play is still out of town preparing for a New York opening.

M'PHERSON MOBS BRING POLICE CALL

Throngs Turned Away at Meetings in Chicago When Evangelist Attacks Vice

CHICAGO Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Police reserves were called last night and this afternoon from the Harrison-street division to care for the crowds trying unsuccessfully to get into the meetings being conducted by Aimee Semple McPherson. The Los Angeles evangelist preached to 6000 in North Hall of the Coliseum at both services. Tonight she drew even greater throngs.

The evangelist, with her eyes bright and her cheeks glowing from a long horseback ride this morning along the lake shore, attacked vice and sin with her characteristic vigor and drew a reply in the shape of hundreds of hands when she asked for those who wished conversion.

Forty-five ministers requested the privilege of being seated on her platform. A committee of several hundred persons has requested that she return to Chicago next summer at the Coliseum and hold a three-weeks' revival campaign. The evangelist indicated she might consider the proposition.

PRINCE GOT HIS SOUP

Son of King Gustavus Directs Making of Favorite Dish

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8. (AP)—Prince Wilhelm, second son of King Gustavus of Sweden today felt an irresistible urge for one of the dishes of his homeland. Scarcely had the distinguished traveler, scientist and lecturer reached his room here when he asked if the chef could possibly make him a bowl of prune soup, such as is served at the royal table in Sweden.

Camille Kurtz, chef of the Bellevue Stratford, obliged by coming out of his kitchen with chafing dishes, a quantity of prunes, sago, fruit juices, and other ingredients and prepared the prune soup under the distinguished Prince's eyes, following the royal instructions to the letter.

Score of Persons in Mired Autos on Colorado Desert Await Relief

GRAND JUNCTION (Colo.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Stranded on a muddy desert road between here and Cisco, Utah, more than twenty persons comprising eight automobile parties are in need of relief, a traveling salesman who made his way through reported at Cisco today.

The road, which crosses more than fifty miles of desert, usually is frozen all winter, but recent warm weather thawed it and the automobiles are mired down in the soft gumbo. Some of the motorists, the salesman said, are in need of food.

DAUGHERTY ASSAILED

Graft Charges Outlined

Buckner Sketches History of Asserted Bribe in Merton Case

Cashier in Brother's Bank Describes Transaction in Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Hunched in a chair, his coat collar turned up about his neck, and a hand shading his eyes, Harry M. Daugherty, Cabinet member in the Harding administration, today heard United States Attorney Buckner tell a Federal court jury that the hand he raised as he swore to enforce the law, later was extended for graft. That picture of Daugherty given piecemeal during Buckner's four-hour opening address in the second day of the trial of Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former Alien-Property Custodian, brought no visible response from Daugherty. Once, as Buckner orated to the jury, he yawned, and now and then he smiled as defense counsel objected to "the inflammatory and theatrical speech" of the United States Attorney. Nor did Miller flinch when he was included.

In September, 1926, when Daugherty and Miller were put on trial for the first time, Buckner said he would show the same things. The trial ended in disagreement. The objections to Buckner's opening address were made by Aaron Sapiro, counsel for Miller, who did not hear the opening address Buckner made at the first trial.

JURY SHOWN CHARTS

Buckner dragged an easel before the jury. On it he put graphs and charts, by which he traced the formation of the various branches of the metalurgical business of the Merton family of Frankfort-am-Main, Germany. Then he showed how, during the war, the United States impounded almost $7,000,000 of the assets of the American Metal Company, a Merton establishment, 49 per cent German owned.

In '921, he related, Richard Merton, chief government witness, came to the United States to procure release of the impounded American Metal assets, declaring them wrongfully seized because they were pledged as guaranty to stockholders of the Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs De Metaux, another Merton establishment in Switzerland.

Merton, Buckner asserted, met John T. King, one-time national Republican committeeman from Connecticut, who introduced him to Jess W. Smith, Daugherty's handy-man. King and Smith were indicted, but both are dead. By the influence of King and Smith, and by arrangement with Miller and Daugherty, Buckner said he would show, by inference, the Merton claim was passed and Daugherty, Miller, Smith and King were paid $441,000.

THREE TESTIFY

Three witnesses testified during the afternoon session. Vera V. Veall, assistant cashier of the Midland National Bank of Washington Court House, O., of which Daugherty's brother, Mal S. Daugherty, is president, told of four $10,000 Liberty bonds, bearing serial numbers of bonds Merton gave King for his aid in having the Merton claim passed, being received at the bank. They were received in November, 1923, two years after Merton gave them to King. They were sold, she said, to Otis & Co. of Cleveland.

The sale of the bonds brought $39,335. This, she said, was credited to the bank. But on the same day this sum was received—November 19, 1923—a certificate of deposit for a similar sum was issued to Mal S. Daugherty. This was taken up December 21, 1923, and on the same day nine certificates of deposits amounting to $49,335 were issued to Harry M. Daugherty.

POINT BROUGHT OUT

Buckner then brought out by questioning Miss Veall that on December 21, 1923, Mal Daugherty had a balance of only $35,271.36 and that the proceeds of the bonds had to be used to issue a certificate of deposit for $49,335. The $49,335 included $10,000 that was not accounted for when court adjourned.

Clarence Dauphinot, office manager of Goldman Sachs & Co., banking and brokerage house, testified that in October, 1921, two days after Miller handed Merton checks totaling $6,453,977.97, King, whom he knew for fifteen years, came into the office with Merton. While they were there, he said, Merton was given $391,000 in Liberty bonds. A receipt bearing the serial numbers of these bonds was identified by Dauphinot and a clerk.

Californian on Deathbed Pays Outlawed Debt

BALTIMORE, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—After thirty years had passed and John D. O'Leary had paid back only $10 of an even $100 he had borrowed from John T. Marchant, Baltimore, Marchant kissed the other $90 good-by.

Then Alfred Wells of the Salvation Army called on Marchant.

Wells said that John D. O'Leary had inspired him and that O'Leary was then sick in the County Hospital in San Luis Obispo in California. That was three months ago. O'Leary has since died, but yesterday there came to Marchant a letter inclosing $100, being the $90 debt and $10 for interest. The letter was signed by M. Mirko, who said the money had been turned over to him by O'Leary before O'Leary died.

The money was borrowed so that O'Leary could open a lunch stand in Washington during William McKinley's inauguration as President.

NEW REVOLT IN MEXICO NIPPED

So-Called Catholic Plot in Two States Halted

Defeat of Rebellious Groups Announced by Calles

All Found Guilty May Face Federal Firing Squads

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 8. (AP)—The Mexican government today announced that it has nipped in the bud what officials describe as another "Catholic plot" for a rebellion in the States of Queretaro and Guanajuato.

The government also reported further defeats of rebel groups in other sections of Mexico. Nine rebels were killed and five captured after a two-hour fight with Federal forces in the Chapala Mountains in the State of Guanajuato, according to military reports. Six "rebels or bandits" were killed in an engagement with Federal troops in the State of Jalisco.

Gen. Alvarez, chief of staff to President Calles, said today that an anti-government plot by the League for the Defense of Religious Liberty was discovered in the city of Queretaro. Eighty rebels, who are asserted to be attempting an uprising under this plot, are being pursued. Federal forces killed one of these men and captured three, the latter of whom, the government says, confessed that the League for the Defense of Religious Liberty had plotted the uprising.

"The government has ordered that the necessary measures be taken," Gen. Alvarez said, this being construed as meaning that those found guilty will face a firing squad.

Jose de la Pena, Governor of the region of Nayarit, has telegraphed friends in Mexico City that he was ousted from his office in a political coup d'etat and that political enemies had attacked his residence. More trouble is feared and Federal troops in Tepic, capital of the State, have been ordered to be in readiness to prevent a free-for-all political battle.

BRITISH WOMEN HIT BY CURFEW

Town of Hastings Decrees All Weaker Sex Must be in Bed By 10 O'clock

HASTINGS (Sussex) Feb. 8. (AP)—Magistrates in this little seaside town near where the Norman conquered King Harold in 1066, say that all women should be in their homes by 10 o'clock at night.

They were asked by a saloon keeper who wished to give a party to his women customers, for permission to keep his premises open after 10 o'clock, the usual closing time. His application was refused on the ground that all women should be in their homes at that time.

COOLIDGE NOW WALKS

President Decides to Resume Two-Mile Daily Hike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Yielding to advice of his family and close friends, President Coolidge has decided to resume his daily walks, which are about the only form of exercise he takes.

Twice this week after ceasing work at the executive offices the President selected the ellipse south of the White House for his stroll. He found that by walking three times around the ellipse he covered two miles, and this length has been settled upon as a daily minimum.

ROW ON PRAYER BOOK EXTENDED

Revision Leads to Bitter Strife Among Faction

Evangelicals Prepare for Indefinite Contest

Many of Clergy May Quit if Alterations Enforced

[Copyright, 1927, by the Chicago Tribune]

LONDON, Feb. 8 (Exclusive)—A bitter conflict over the adoption of the new revised Book of Common Prayer for the Church of England already has begun, a day after the changes were made known. The evangelicals, who oppose the changes, are preparing to make the greatest fight in their history, and today summoned to a meeting the evangelical members of the church assembly to discuss the plans.

The Anglo-Catholics, at whose urge the changes were made, are preparing to defend their substantial gains.

The church association representing the die-hard evangelicals is meeting the first of the week to review its proposed campaign which will be followed by a conference of all the Protestant societies. Posters have appeared on London billboards saying, "Protestants, your religion and the nation are in danger."

BOTH SIDES ACTIVE

The National Church League, which has expressed opposition to any form of reservation of the bread-and-wine sacrament, held a vestment committee meeting this afternoon. The Anglo-Catholics also are not resting on their guns but are preparing to resist any attack. The English Church Union and Federation of Catholic Priests have scheduled meetings within a week, while the central consultative committee of the great Catholic societies has been summoned for a council Thursday. Every aspect of the stage is being set for a stormy melee when the convocations meet again, the 22nd inst., to express their opinions or recommendations in the revised book.

While prominent laymen generally take a moderate view of what is regarded in some measure as a prelates' quarrel between the 4000 Anglo-Catholic clergymen and the 8000 evangelicals, the party strife centers in strong partisan organizations headed by one or two bishops, notably the Bishop of Norwich, who wrote the London Times a long letter this morning explaining his stand which he will further elucidate in next Sunday's sermon. This prelate did not attend the bishops' meeting to revise the book.

J. D. Barron, secretary of the Church Association, which is a great evangelical body, said today, "Our clergy are awaiting the issue. Many threaten to resign if the changes are made."

VOICE OPPOSITION

"We oppose," continued Mr. Barron, "the reservation of the holy sacrament, the use of vestments and the prayers for the dead. The prayers for the dead assume that the dead benefit by them. Hence they assume the existence of a purgatory."

Mr. Fowler, head of the Protestant alliance, said he had studied the proposed changes and his organization will resist them.

"We are against the introduction of extempore prayers because they will soon devolve into prayers to the saints," he said.

The Evening Standard, discussing the controversy tonight, regrets that "the ghosts of Queen Elizabeth, Archbishops Matthew Parker and William Laud of Canterbury and King Charles I, should walk again so visibly," saying the process will be watched by all concerned with the national well-being. The Star newspaper, on the other hand, doubts that matters will ever reach an open clash, saying that there will be lots of loud talk, but the English dislike for extremists and their liking for a middle course is the one factor against wholesale secessions. "The other," says the Star, "is the amount of property which depends upon this decision."

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND WIZARD FOR THRIFT

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—James Olsen, 24 years of age, in Domestic Relations Court today told the judge that if he had a saving wife he could retire at 35. Mrs. Ethel Olsen, the wife, said he took the bulbs out of electric lights to save bills, locked the coal shed to save fuel and visited the neighbors to read the papers, explaining he would tell her everything in them. She got $10 a week alimony.

IRON PARACHUTE WON BY FLYER

Mail Aviators "Rag" Comrade Who Gained Two Hours on His Schedule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Flyers who pilot the government's air mail planes day and night from coast to coast encounter thrilling and even perilous experiences, but they treat all of them lightly in their "ragging" among themselves.

YOU WIN THE CAST IRON PARACHUTE!

For instance, Pilot R. J. Johnson, of the Central Division, who had a perfect record of no delays, no returns and no forced landings during December, has been awarded the "cast iron parachute" by his comrades because he left Omaha twenty-five minutes late one day and landed on the Chicago field at Maywood one hour and twenty-five minutes ahead of schedule.

BETRAYAL BY VICTIM DESCRIBED

Defendant in Murder Trial Tells How He Was Robbed in Mexican Prison

PORTLAND (Me.) Feb. 8. (AP)—"He dies," was the decision made nearly six years ago by Benjamin S. Turner, when he found that James D. Hallen, asserted swindler, more or less widely known, had betrayed him.

Turner, on the witness stand today in Superior Court at his trial for the murder of Hallen at the latter's summer home near here last September, told the story of his life. Asked by his counsel, as to his reaction when he found that Hallen had taken his checks for $827, every cent he had in the world, and deserted him, a prisoner, charged with a murder in Mexico for which he was acquitted after two years' imprisonment, he said:

"My reaction was, 'he dies.' I reached that decision in August, 1921, while in prison in the City of Mexico."

"Stunned as I was," he testified, "I could not realize it was possible that a man like Hallen could have betrayed me—a man that I had trusted like a father. It was simply a case of love turning to hate."

Harry C. Libby, associate counsel, in opening for the defense stated that the breaking point in Turner's mental condition came after months of confinment and worrying, on the morning of September 8, when Hallen denied his own name. The defense is that Turner was temporarily insane at the time Hallen was shot with seven bullets from an automatic pistol.

Telling of his early life Turner said that because of conscientious scruples against killing unnecessarily he was never a hunter nor a fisherman. He attended the University of Nebraska for two years.

He told of going to California and working in Fresno fruit packing establishments, San Francisco ship yards and for a year in the Federal Reserve Bank, during which time he attended business college and night school.

WOMAN'S LUGGAGE SHRINKS WITH GARB

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Woman's luggage is getting smaller and smaller, just as their clothing has decreased from pounds to ounces, William Wilmington of Toledo, O., president of the Retail Luggage Dealers' Association, declared today. Trend in man's luggage is just the opposite, he said, because golf equipment has reached the point of being a necessity.

SELECTION OF JURORS IN HALL CASE STARTS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Task of selecting a jury to weigh the fate of Floyd Hall, accused of the murder of H. J. Litzberg, Sacramento merchant, was started today after Judge Hughes had denied a motion for dismissal of the case on the grounds of former jeopardy. When the court adjourned this afternoon not a single juror had been selected.

MEXICAN COURT TO GROUP CASES

Supreme Tribunal Postpones Oil Law Hearing

Proposes Blanket Decision on Bunched Appeals

Tampico Labor Agonized as Operations Suspend

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) Two lower courts have forwarded to the Supreme Court two injunctions filed against the application of the new petroleum law. It was announced by the Supreme Court that the decision of these two cases probably will be postponed until a group of thirty to forty injunctions asking for similar action are heard in one lot.

In one of the two cases, brought by the local subsidiary company of the Royal Dutch Shell interests, the lower court held for the company and the government appealed. In the second case, the local subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana appealed from a decision rendered in favor of the government.

WILL GROUP CASES

The Supreme Court's statement announces that all oil injunctions will be grouped in different classes and a ruling rendered on the group, hearings to take place in about four weeks.

Meanwhile dispatches from Tampico announce the situation in the oil fields is growing more critical daily, with companies decreasing activities pending a definite decision whether the petroleum law is confiscatory and retroactive.

"The labor situation at Tampico rapidly is becoming agonizing," says the Excelsior correspondent, reporting the shutdown of the refinery of the Transcontinental Petroleum Company on orders from New York. The dispatch details further suspension of drilling activities, reporting that workers are appealing to Tampico judges to decide oil company injunctions in favor of the companies, in the name of "thousands of men who will remain without sustenance."

UNIONS DIVIDED

Some Tampico labor unions have taken an attitude against the government. Others have telegraphed their representatives here to inform the government of thier support of President Calles's nationalistic policy.

The relief committee of the Mexican Federation of Labor announces measures are being taken to alleviate the unemployment situation at Tampico.

CHURCHMEN WOULD SETTLE AFFAIR BY GOLDEN RULE

EX-DETROIT MANAGER TO PLAY FOR PHILADELPHIA

"Georgia Peach" Accepts One-Year Contract at Fabulous Salary Offered by Connie Mack

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8. (AP)—Ty Cobb will play baseball with the Philadelphia Athletics this year. The former manager of the Detroit Tigers announced tonight at a dinner of the Philadelphia sports writers that he had accepted the offer of Connie Mack.

[illegible] COBB

[illegible] said he would formally sign a player contract tomorrow. [illegible] provisions of the contract were not revealed, but unofficially it was reported that the "Georgia Peach" was to receive $60,000 for the 1927 season, the largest salary ever paid a baseball player.

A number of American League teams were anxious to obtain Cobb's services, but Manager Mack apparently outbid them. The St. [illegible] Browns was said to have offered [illegible].

[illegible] and Manager Howley of the St. Louis Browns, made a [illegible] trip to Cobb's home in [illegible], Ga., to lay their offers [illegible], but the player declined to sign or give either a definite answer until he had considered proposals made by other [illegible] League teams.

Major League Goes Landis One Better in Punishment of Offenders

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—The National League put itself on record today as willing to go Commissioner Landis one better in penalizing all players who make "gifts" to another club as a reward for performances in any stage of the pennant race.

JUDGE LANDIS.

The commissioner, as a result of his recent scandal investigations, urged a regulation fixing a year's ineligibility as punishment for making such "gifts," but the National League club owners, in midwinter session today, recommended that the penalty be increased to three years.

The National League also put its full stamp of approval on the commissioner's other recommendations growing out of the scandal probe. These included (1) a statute of limitations by which charges such as those of Risberg and Gandil would be outlawed after a five-year lapse; (2) ineligibility for one year for a player who bets on a game other than one in which he performed; (3) permanent ineligibility for a player who bets on a game in which he participates.

The American League, also meeting here, deferred definite action on these regulations. Acting President Frank J. Nevin said they had been tabled until the "next meeting," which is not scheduled until next winter, but baseball men understood

HUDKINS FIGHTS ATKINSON

With a card featuring as a main event a ten-round bout between Ace Hudkins and Billy Atkinson, Joe Levy, matchmaker for the Olympic Auditorium yesterday announced his show for next Tuesday night, February 15.

Hudkins practically filled the Olympic on the occasion of his last start there a week ago, when he met Billy Alger in a ten-round go, knocking a lot of aspirations out of the tough Arizonan's head and causing him to kiss the canvas three times. This bout was also Hudkins's first start locally since his return from the East.

Oxy, Bruin Athletes Hit by Faculty Ax

BROBST PLACED ON BLACK LIST

Oxy Grid Captain and Ten Tanbarkers Ineligible

Bailey's Loss to Track is Hard on Chances

Basketball, Baseball Comes in on Smash-up

The faculty ax dealt a death-damaging blow when it landed on the necks of some twenty-four Occidental athletes yesterday morning. This is not the first time in Occidental's history that the faculty ax has been damaging, but it is by far the worst, as it included next year's football captain and ten other football prospects, five outstanding track men, one basketball man, the track manager, and a yell leader.

Joseph A Pipal

The following are the men who were dropped. Rats Brobst, the captain-elect of next year's football team; Carlisle Bailey, track man who has run the 440 in 50 seconds flat; Forrest Haworth, freshman football man and pole vaulter; Gordon Newell, a miler who has made 4:35; Joe Donley, a pole vaulter and javelin thrower; Reg Lavelle, a two-miler; Bill Charnock, football man and outstanding candidate to fill Bud Teachout's shoes as a baseball pitcher. Milo Weddington, football end who was expected to step into Mike Godett's place at end on the football team; Sam Hitch, quarterback on the freshman team this year; Wilkie Kleinpell, track manager for the coming season; Norman Smith, football man; Charles Failor, star freshman football tackle; Robert Donaldson, yell leader; Scherbacker, Belman, Wiley, Edmondson, Sheldon, Shoemaker, Watson and Kessler—all men who are out for various athletic teams but not as outstanding as those mentioned above.

In addition to this long list of men who were dropped on account of studies, a number of others will be put on probation and will be ineligible for spring athletics. Just who these men will be is not known at present, but Albert Allen, star freshman tennis man, is almost sure to be among them. John Eberhardt, fullback on this year's varsity, and Gerald Chappell, center, who was booked for varsity center position next year, will probably be out of college for a full year on account of finances.

These men have all been definitely dropped by the faculty committee, but there is still a chance for a few of them who have demanded a rehearing of their cases and if any are re-admitted it is possible that they

ROSENBERG IS GIVEN BOUNCE

New York Boxing Board Puts ex-Bantam Champ and Graham on Grill

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—To answer charges that dishonesty existed in the contract for their match last Friday, Charley (Phil) Rosenberg and Bushey Graham, together with their managers, were ordered today to appear this Friday for a hearing before the New York State Athletic Commission. All of the principals in the investigation are under indefinite suspension in the meantime, the commission announced, in addition to which the money due both fighters for the bout has been ordered withheld.

Through Chairman James A. Farley, the commission refused to elaborate on its investigation into the affair, but it was disclosed that the honesty of the contract entered into by Rosenberg and his manager, Harry Segal, with William J. Parr, Graham's manager, was under question. Rosenberg won the bout from Graham at Madison Square Garden in fifteen rounds, but forfeited his championship by scaling four and a half pounds over the bantam limit.

Plummer and Guzin Latest on Ineligible List

Interfraternity Meet Turns Up Promising Men

Classes Meet Tomorrow for Annual Spike Battle

When the information leaked out yesterday afternoon that Ed Plummer, winner of the 220-yard dash in the frosh conference meet last year, and Ray Guzin, varsity letter man in the 440, would be ineligible to compete during the coming season, Coach Harry Trotter, who dispenses the fine points of track and field procedure at the University of California at Los Angeles, was given further reason for losing his characteristic optimism. Sixteen athletes capable of making the freshman and varsity squads are on the ineligibility list together with a large number of promising performers.

HARRY TROTTER

The Bruin mentor is looking forward to getting a line on his material, of which there is an abundance, tomorrow afternoon and Saturday when the interclass events are run off. As there is only three weeks before the Bruins open the Southern California Conference season with the strong Pomona College team, Coach Trotter has scheduled a frosh meet with Glendale next Tuesday afternoon and a varsity meet with the Pasadena Junior College the following Friday. Week after next the final tryouts will be held to pick the teams for the Pomona meet.

Plummer's loss was unexpected as the Bruin sprinter had been working hard and ran the 220 on a curved track in 22.4s., with the possibility of getting down to 22s. flat or better. He ran the century in 10.1s. last season. That was only a part of Trotter's

KENTUCKY LAD DROPS VERDICT

Whittier Idol Grabs Glory in Vernon Main Event

Teddy Silver and Alkie Akol Draw in Semifinal Go

Jimmy Fox Stops Joe Noto in Second Round of Bout

BY PAUL LOWRY

By the grace of Referee Freddie Gilmore the Mexican hero, Bert Colima, is back at the top of the pugilistic heap again. He was awarded the decision over Joe Anderson of Kentucky in the ten-round main event at Vernon last night, although the count shows five for Anderson, four for Colima and one even.

Bert Colima.

A packed house which bulged out from the rafters with fans saw a nip-and-tuck battle in which Anderson did the forcing and Colima the counter punching.

It was a Mexican house fore and aft and the fact that the decision was greeted with a fifty-fifty salvo of boos and cheers indicates that the lad from the blue-grass country was entitled to more than he received.

However, Colima gets the glory because it's the decision that goes into the record book which counts. And there is keen satisfaction for Colima in decisioning Anderson, for Anderson not so long ago beat Leo Lomski, and Lomski holds a knockout mark over Colima.

NO KNOCKDOWNS

There wasn't an awful lot to rave about in last night's bout. There were no knockdowns and no terrifically damaging punches.

It was a close fight between two very clever boys and Colima fought at top form because he was courageous in the knowledge that Anderson is not a heavy hitter.

One new factor Colima put on display was a slight aptitude to fight in the clinches. In the tenth round, for example, it was this style of punching which enabled him to swat his way out of close quarters and rock Anderson's head with damaging blows.

Anderson won the first, fourth, fifth, eighth and ninth rounds. Colima captured the second, third, seventh and tenth rounds. The sixth round was even, although it might

LEON DURAY SINGES BOARDS AT CULVER CITY SPEEDWAY TO BREAK WORLD'S RECORD

Leon Duray, the noted French racing driver, late yesterday afternoon set a new world record for racing automobiles at the Culver City speedway. He roared around the huge mile-and-a-quarter board oval at the rate of 138 miles an hour in official practice for the 250-mile classic on March 6.

Leon Duray

With the pits filled with other famous racing pilots, mechanics and officials, Duray signaled from his flying car that he was ready to go in his attempt to break the former record of 136.6 miles an hour held by Harry Hartz, A.A.A. racing champion, which was set last October on the Salem (N. H.) board track.

Fred J. Wagner, official starter of all the championship races, and Art Klein, former racing driver, held the split-second stop watches to time Duray as he flashed across the starting line in a cloud of smoke and flame after several preliminary laps to warm his motor.

Before the hurtling car had reached the first steeply banked turn, the scream of the supercharger could be heard as it forced the gasoline into the roaring motor, which was turning over at 7000 revolutions a minute.

Into the back stretch, with the sun gleaming on the flying black car, Duray roared without lifting his foot from the throttle, swinging through the last two turns at a terrific gait, his sleek, front-wheel drive car forced up toward the outer guard rail by the intense speed.

OAKLAND PROMOTER FINALLY MATCHES DUFFY AND WILLS

OAKLAND, Feb. 8. (AP)—After wandering through a maze of two weeks of technical temperamental uncertainty, Oakland's choicest boxing plum of years found its way home today when Promoter Tommy Simpson matched Jimmy Duffy, Oakland, and Young Harry Wills, negro welterweight of San Diego, for a ten-round bout here the 15th inst.

Originally scheduled for the 2nd inst., the fight has been "up in the air" ever since because of refereeing difficulties, suspensions, and whatnot. What was considered the final blow came today with advices from Vernon that Tom Scott, manager for Wills, had signed his boy for a bout with Lew Tendler there the 22nd inst., but in order to meet the boxing commission's ruling that seven days must elapse between fighter's appearances, Simpson received permission today from Commissioner Charles F. Traung to advance the date of his showing. Will's manager also telegraphed acceptance of the 15th inst. date.

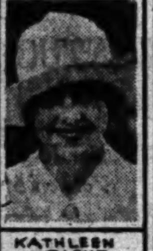
Fine Matches in Golf League on Tap Today

Mrs. Lee Mida First Eastern Golfer to Arrive

BY BILL WISE

Misses Kathleen Wright and Margaret Cameron contributed a best ball of 80 at Wilshire yesterday, to win three ways from Mrs. George M. Lewis and Mrs. George Weber of the Los Angeles Country Club and knock the Beverly golfers from the lead in the local auxiliary teams league.



KATHLEEN WRIGHT.

Mrs. Gregg Lifur and Mrs. T. H. Pike of California, also chalking up a best ball aggregate of approximately 80, led their home club to a sweeping 7½-to-2½ victory over Rancho and the Culver City exponents are now leading the feminine interclub competition by a slight margin.

Hillcrest defeated Hollywood, 8½-to-3½ in the third clash staged at Wilshire and greatly stimulated interest in the current season, as California now has a great chance of pacing the league after the final match is settled. California is leading Annandale but the Pasadena golfers will make a great attempt to hurdle the league leaders in the interclub play scheduled for next week.

CIRCUIT TEAM PLAY TODAY

Fifth-round matches in the S. C. G. A. team league will engage several hundred golfers over the local circuit today. Rancho, trailing in group No. 4 by a very narrow margin will invade Bel-Air and attempt to win enough matches to crawl up with Los Angeles and Wilshire. Wilshire enjoyed a fair lead, but will travel to Los Angeles today and face a much stiffer test than is anticipated by Rancho, at Bel-Air.

POSTPONE MIDWICK INVITATION EVENT

The Scots foursome invitational of the Midwick Country Club, scheduled for last week and postponed until tomorrow, has again been called off and will be staged March 17, 18 and 19, next.

MRS. LEE MIDA IN THIS CITY

Mrs. Lee Mida of Chicago, one of the best women golfers in the United States, arrived in this city yesterday and will play her first California golf at the Los Angeles Country Club this morning. Mrs. Mida shattered seventeen course records last year and will be one of the most dangerous challengers in the annual midwinter invitation at Beverly and other west coast major events.

HUNTER, MARTIN AND D'ALBERTO RETURN

Willie Hunter, Brentwood, Hutt Martin, unattached, and Vic D'Alberto, of the Los Angeles club, contestants in Texas open championships last month, returned to this city yesterday.

BILL TILDEN TO PLAY WESBROOK

For the first time in the history of the Southland, and to the pleasure of eager fans, an amateur and a professional racket-wielder will cross rackets together. This goes to say, that Bill Tilden will engage Walter Wesbrook, famous Midwick southpaw and pro, in an exhibition singles next Saturday afternoon at Alhambra. No admission will be charged. Johnny Doeg, national junior champion, and Wesbrook will face Tilden and Bennie Harwood in an exhibition doubles.

OBSERVATIONS
BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

ALL this excited talk about a $25,000 match race across the Catalina Channel by Mrs. Huddleson and Henry Sullivan is interesting, but we rise to ask a few questions. Whose $25,000, for instance? Also, why? It now seems perfectly clear that they both can swim the channel and likewise perfectly clear that they couldn't do it in a race—at least they didn't do it when Mr. Wrigley's $25,000 was at stake and they had as good a chance as George Young or anybody else. These "go-as-you-please" events are a very different thing from a race in which all face the same conditions and a swimmer who might be spurred by competition to cross the channel in fifteen hours might not be able to do it in that many weeks if he didn't have the competition. When the water gets a little warmer so that somebody besides the human seals can stand the temperature it wouldn't be surprising to see several more folks get across under their own power.

If the improvement shown recently by the hired hockey Hessians of the Winter Garden is any criterion there ought to be some real thrills when the Detroit Millionaires and other visiting shinny demons arrive to take on the home talent. Monday night's fracas involving the Richfield and Winter Garden sextets went pretty nearly twenty minutes overtime and uncovered some of the greatest skating of the season on the part of members of both teams. The Winter Garden team certainly looked a lot better than it ever has previously, while Richfield, which ultimately won, showed outbursts of remarkable skill, particularly on the part of Pool, their latest acquisition.

It looks very much as though Braven Dyer, the well-known parent of a bounding baby boy, had hit upon an interesting point in the failure of the A.A.U. to accept the world's records set by Charley Hoff on his indoor tour under their auspices a year ago. From all appearances they have decided not only to professionalize the Norwegian demon, but to ignore the records which he made while he was a perfectly good amateur in good standing. It looks a good deal to us as though the heads of the amateur bodies were going pretty far in their efforts to pretend that there is something hellish about an amateur's action in turning professional.

Lou Daro's re-entry into the realm of sport after a layoff of a few months will be watched with considerable interest. Lou is the only man who has been able to make folks like wrestling in Southern California and he always seems to give them a good enough program to send them away greatly delighted. The fans have had a long vacation now, however, and it will be really interesting to see how they respond to his first program at the Olympic Auditorium tonight.

Richfield Oil Hockeyites to Take on Globe

Strengthened by the addition of "Lanky" Poole, former star wing man of Saskatoon and Regina, the Richfield Oilers clash tomorrow night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace with the league-leading Globe Ice Cream hockey stars.

Poole made his first local appearance last Monday night when the Oilers and the Maroons clashed. He pulled the game out of the fire on two different occasions and then scored the winning goal, after the two teams battled for two extra periods to decide the game.

Richfield will appear to much better advantage tomorrow night and will take the ice a favorite. Lloyd Cook, playing manager of Globe, has ordered his athletes out tonight for another practice session and expects them to stop this youngster.

The Detroit Millionaires, who meet Winthrop Sears's Maroons Monday night in the first game of the East-West series, will leave Dallas tonight for Los Angeles.

ILLINOIS MAY BAR DEMPSEY PICTURES

CHICAGO, Feb. 7. (AP)—A petition for an injunction to prevent the showing of the Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures here was filed yesterday in the Circuit Court by Leon Britten of New York, claimant of sole rights to the fight films. He said that he paid Tex Rickard $25,000 for the exclusive film rights and that Simon S. Britten's petition says the films were stolen last November from a theater in Cecil, Pa.

The two teams met last Sunday in Southern California, 7500 spectators watching Del Monte triumph by an 11-to-8 score.

CARLARIS WINS RACE

Gains Head Victory Over Flatiron in Preparation for Speed Handicap Event Sunday

TIA JUANA RACE TRACK, Feb. 8.—Carlaris, the hero of Tia Juana racing last season, came back this afternoon to the races where he scored his great triumphs, to win the Hurry On, an owners' handicap, at six furlongs, by a head from Flatiron, from the Greenbriar stable. Paavo got the show.

The English bred son of Phalaris, owned by Chula Vista stable, of which W. T. Anderson is master, looked himself as he came out for the race and was installed a prohibitive favorite from the start.

New beauty, recently claimed by C. B. Irwin, broke on top and got to the front at once with Paavo right after her. Carlaris, taken to the rail, was in a pocket all down the back stretch and could not get free running, but Paavo was taken back at the turn and Jockey G. Philpot took Carlaris off the rail to overtake New Beauty at the stretch turn.

Philpot then gave Carlaris his head and the winner of the Coffroth Handicap and Tia Juana Derby last year as a 3-year-old, dashed to the front. From the outside came Flatiron, from the Greenbriar stable, making a game bid for it all. Philpot had to drive his mount near the end, however, to gain the head victory over Flatiron. Paavo hung on well to get the show, five lengths back of the place horses. It was just a two-horse race through the stretch, however, with Flatiron gaining to the end.

The six furlongs was run in 1:11, just one-fifth second over the track record for the distance held jointly by Lucky Play and Mino.

The race was a prep for the speed handicap, first of the major stakes at Tia Juana, which is down for decision Sunday. The first three horses and Dangerous, which finished seventh, are almost sure starters in this event along with a host of others, a field of about twenty being anticipated. The Creech entry of Bookbinder and Shasta Gold, ran one, two in the secondary feature of the afternoon, a mile and seventy yard event for high-class platers. Bookbinder won by a length and a half in easy style with Pegasus getting the show.

First race—Three and one-half furlongs. General Grant (Peternell,) won; Alexander Pantages (Schaefer,) second; Sun Kin (Taplin,) third. Time, :42 2-5.

Second race—Six furlongs. Handsome Star, (Pershall,) won; Gael (Peternell) second; Tomorrow (R. Jones,) third. Time, 1:15 1-5.

Third race—One mile, seventy yards. Aristotle (Pendergrass,) won; Falls of Afton (Taplin,) second; [illegible] (Peterson,) third. Time, 1:46 3-5.

Fourth race—One mile, seventy yards. Anna Mary (Depreme,) won; Old Broadway (Pendergrass,) second; Hence (Craigmyle,) third. Time, 1:46 4-5.

Fifth race—One mile, seventy yards. Bookbinder (Peterson,) won; Shasta Gold (Mansue,) second; Pegasus (Yates,) third. Time, 1:43 2-5.

Sixth race—The hurry on, six furlongs. Carlaris (G. Philpot,) won; Flatiron (R. Jones,) second; Paavo (Mansue,) third. Time, 1:11.

Seventh race—Six furlongs. High Joy (Edwards,) won; Lahontan (Huntamer,) second; Rosamond (Wallis,) third. Time, 1:13 2-5.

Eighth race—One mile. Shepherd (Yates,) won; Matilda B. (Craigmyle,) second; Golden Shore (Dalton,) third. Time, 1:41 3-5.

Ninth race—Mile and one-eighth. Extra Edition (Pershall,) won; Kickapoo (Munden,) second; Billy Mann (Peterson,) third. Time, 1:53 3-5.

JACK KEARNS MAY BUY ACE

lieved by the Hudkinses that the "Wildcat" could soon be boosted into the welterweight title because Jack knows all the angles of the fight game in the East.

Clyde Hudkins may get a small fortune for his managerial end. Ace earned close to $75,000 last year. Kearns may pay $50,000. He could easily get it back in one fight if Ace Hudkins wins the welterweight crown.

Twelve months ago Clyde Hudkins almost parted company with his brother fighter to Eddie Long, manager of Bud Taylor. Long offered to pay $10,000 for the "Wildcat's" services, but Clyde Hudkins finally turned down the offer. That was before Ace Hudkins went east and became a big sensation. However, he claims he was given the run-around for important matches. That's why Kearns is being brought into the picture.

DONORS TO BE BARRED OUT

the proposed new code of rules would come up tomorrow at a meeting of the joint major-league steering committee."

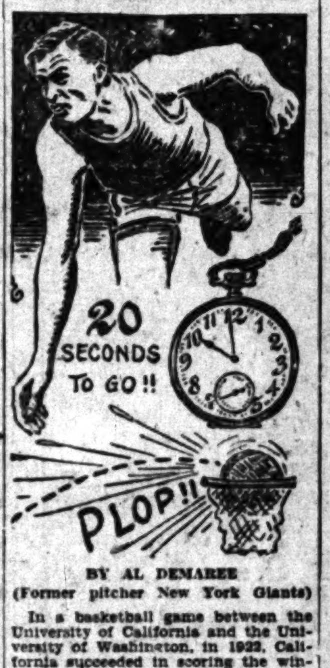
Both leagues ratified the 1927 schedules, calling for opening games on April 12, and the closing on October 2, one week later than last year. The opening games are listed as follows: American League: Detroit at St. Louis, Chicago at Cleveland, Boston at Washington and Philadelphia at New York; National League: Brooklyn at Boston, New York at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh at Cincinnati, St. Louis at Chicago.

The proposed new major-minor league draft agreement was approved by the club owners of both leagues, but this amounted to merely a gesture inasmuch as the leading minor organizations, including the Pacific Coast, International and Western, already have rejected the proposals.

BROWER WILL JOIN BALTIMORE CLUB

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Frank Brower, outfielder for the San Francisco Seals for the past several years, was sold today to the Baltimore club of the International League. Secretary George A. Putnam said the sale was subject to waivers in the Pacific Coast League, but that no difficulty was anticipated in the matter. Brower, a resident of Price, Md., notified the Seal officials that he preferred to remain in the East.

Bears Figure in Basketball Game Thriller



20 SECONDS TO GO!!
PLOP!!

BY AL DEMAREE

(Former pitcher New York Giants)

In a basketball game between the University of California and the University of Washington in 1922, California succeeded in scoring the winning basket with but twenty seconds left to play, giving them a 1-point lead.

It happened this way: The referee tossed up the ball at center. Washington, working a center play, the ball was tipped to Selk, a Washington player, who shot a long basket from close to the side line. The time was so short the referee didn't even have time to again toss up the ball.

This was the most exciting game as well as the most exciting finish I have ever witnessed.

Tilden to Play Exhibition for Junior Netters

Bill Tilden, dean of American singles net aces, has given much of his time to developing juniors, and the Los Angeles Tennis Club has secured him for an exhibition tomorrow afternoon to which the junior tennis fans of Los Angeles have been invited. No admission will be charged.

At 3:30 Tilden will play Wynn Mace in a singles match. A doubles match is also planned with Tilden and Ben Harwood, a promising 14-year-old junior, playing Johnny Doeg, national junior net champion, and Ed Beery.

SAGEHENS READY FOR TRACK MEET

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—In preparation for Saturday's interclass battle, Pomona track-and-field stars began tapering off work today. Indications are that the interclass affair will bring out some of the best competition ever seen on Alumni Field and the added interest in Charley Paddock, who will run a special 250-meter race, should bring out a large group of entries. The meet itself looks to be a struggle equally divided between sophomores, juniors and seniors, although the second-year men have made the best marks to date.

FALCONS, RANGERS BATTLE FOR TITLE

The race in the California Amateur Ice Hockey League is nearing the home stretch, and when the Falcons and Rangers clash this evening at 8:15 at the Palais de Glace, they may practically make or break themselves as far as the championship is concerned.

The Falcons are out to make first place in their next two games and a win tonight will put them up to within one point of the leading Palais de Glace sextet. But to do so they will have to beat a team tonight that gave the Palais its only trimming of the season.

SUBMARINE TOSSERS DEFEAT CALIFORNIA

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—The submarine division basketball team defeated the U.S.S. California quintet last night, 28 to 24, in the second game of the battle fleet championship series, victory coming in the last two minutes of play.

SARAZEN TO PLAY HAGEN THIS MONTH

MIAMI (Fla.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Gene Sarazen, 1922 American open golf champion, announces that the first half of his seventy-two-hole match with Walter Hagen, professional champion, will be played the 20th inst. over the Miami Biltmore course.

RABBIT PUNCHES
BY PAUL LOWRY

ROBERT S. WEAVER, boss of the local division of the A.A.U., sat in the grillroom of the Athletic Club the other night and poured lamentations into our ears. He was bewailing the fact that he can't interest the local track coaches, prep or college, in cross-country running. Bob wants to build up the long-distance athletes in our fair Southland, but he can't get any co-operation. He says the only way our college distance men will get any place in the I.C. A.A.A.A. games, for example, is to go in for long cross-country races like they do in the East.

He says our middle-distance and long-distance men are complete failures in the East because they aren't rugged enough, and he alleges the fault lies in the training of the athletes. Bob has talked many times with Lawson Robertson, and he says the famous eastern coach thinks our distance trainers are all wet. Robertson is reported to have said our coaches are great on turning out field performers, but there's a lot they haven't learned about the art of running. Admitting that our distance men don't do so well back East, we have nevertheless decided to permit Messrs. Cromwell, Pipal, Nixon, Stanton, et al, to dissect the situation and report.

The rest of our column for the day was kindly donated by Herr Norman Hartford, leg boy and typewriter hound for Lou Daro. It seems that the wrestling season opens tonight, whereupon Norman left the following sweet note upon our Remington:

"How about 'Rabbit Punch' comment on the glorious opening of the wrestling season tonight?

"Lou Daro has some darned good bouts on tap, especially that Paul Jones-Jim Browning meeting. If the fans want action they should get it in that bout. Personally, I think Jones is about the best young wrestler to come out here, and if he ever meets Nick Lutze again I think he will make Nicholas look like several kinds of monkey.

• •

"Browning is returning after being away two years. I suppose you remember him for his bouts here.

"How would a match between Russell Vis and Matty Matsuda go? The L.A.A.C. against the Japanese settlement.

"If Matty and Vis both win tonight, Daro expects to stage such a bout.

"It would be a good main event. Vis hasn't lost a match in seven years, and Matsuda has a marvelous record. The Jap is good.

"Vis may not win, however, tonight, as Van Dusen is supposed to be a tough baby. So says Tom Travers, although Travers should not have too much to say in this matter, inasmuch as he is the referee.

"Everything appreciated.

"NORMAN."

Kid Brown Favored to Beat Hoppe

DICK HOPPE.

The lightweight fight that tops the bill at the Movie City arena is considered one of the best scraps that could have been lined up at this time. They will depend largely on their ring generalship to put over a win. They are even up on many things and the one who hits the harder will undoubtedly come through victorious. Hoppe is as good a short-ender as has entered the ring here in months.

One of the best-looking young fighters in California today is Mickey Bies. His last start at Hollywood was against Nick Antonio and he had Nick down and nearly out in one session. Mickey fights Larry Murphy in the semi-wind-up. This bout looms up like the best fight of the night and may steal the show.

Little Jimmy Peila will make another start in the special event. Peila is one of the best featherweight prospects developed here in the amateur ranks since Jackie Fields graduated into the lightweight division. Peila fights Al Neff, a very tough customer.

POMONA QUINTET MEETS WILSHIRE

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Pomona's classy freshman basketball squad journeys into Los Angeles tomorrow night for its game with the Wilshire Boulevard Church team. Coach Earl Merritt is taking nine men on the trip and expects to play every one of them, especially if the churchmen set the fast pace they are expected to set. Capt. Elmer Goertz, Dyer, Bishop, Hagestead, Hartman, Luce, Farrell, Wilkins and Baldwin will invade the big city.

ARMOUR AND BOWEN TIE FOR GOLF LEAD

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb 8. (Exclusive)—Dick Armour and Jack Bowen, the favorites, lead the opening round of the qualifying in the Desmond Cup invitational tournament at Los Serranos today. Armour and Bowen played true to form and had all the best of the opening day's scoring. They are touted to play in the finals for the championship. Co-ed scorers were used in the play. Faculty and student golfers were competing in one of the biggest tournaments Pomona ever staged.

BEAR HOOP PERFORMERS DUE FRIDAY

Trojans Set for Visitors in Two Court Affairs at Olympic Auditorium

California's Golden Bears are due here Friday morning for the two basket tilts with the Trojans, that will wind up the local team's conference season. Nibs Price is expected to bring down all the men he can muster, for the strength displayed by Stanford in winning all three conference games from the Trojans, necessitates a clean record on the Bears if their hopes for a conference title are to be realized.

The Bears won a 30-27 contest from U.S.C. in the north a couple of weeks ago, rallying, after the Trojans had gone into a lead of 22-21, with a tremendous spurt. Les Turner has his local charges working ambitiously for the series, which is to be played in the Olympic Auditorium Friday and Saturday nights, and the Cardinal and Gold squad has hopes of scoring its first victory of the season.

Tommy Lewis, who did not make the Stanford trip due to illness, is still laid up, and may not be in shape for the two California games. The rest of the squad is in good form, however.

Aubrey Devine's crack frosh performers play the Universal City quintet in a game Friday night, meet the Pasadena Junior College Saturday night, and wind up their season with a tilt Monday evening.

TRACKMEN LOST TO BRUIN TEAM

worries, however, as Ed Mesa, plunging 180-pound fullback on the freshman eleven, and Jerry Wonder were among the list of ineligible freshmen. Mesa was expected to be a real phenom in the weights.

The list of athletes now on the outside includes Edsel Pearcy, the best distance man in the conference next to Atwood Scovel of Occidental; Huber, who jumped 5ft. 10in. in the high jump last season; Dees, the only consistent pole-vaulter on the team; Roland Drummond, shot and discus ace from the frosh team; Boyer and Luitweiler.

To discount their loss, Trotter has uncovered several new satellites and is enthusiastic over the freshman team unless further ineligibles break out. Carl Brown, who made 20 points single-handed in the interfraternity meet, is being groomed for a first-team job. Brown won the shot put, took third in the discus, fourth in the 220 and tied for first place in the 100-yard dash. Ralph Lewison is showing up well in the sprints, Jerry Stewart, Los Angeles High pole vault star of last year, who was a consistent performer at twelve feet, is the most promising vaulter the Bruins have had in a number of years; Jerry Russum, who earned a name for himself with the frosh football team, is coming along nicely in the sprints.

Tomorrow's interclass meet will see the finals of the pole vault and shot put. Heats will be run off in the sprints and hurdles with the possibility that the mile will also be included. On Saturday afternoon at 1:30, the finals will be staged on Moore Field.

OXY ATHLETES ON BLACK LIST

will be eligible for athletics for the balance of this year at least. Coach Joe Pipal and his track team were undoubtedly hit the hardest by the faculty ax as Bailey's loss in the 440 will undoubtedly take away possibilities for a championship team. He was also anchor man on the relay team and the points of Haworth, Newell and the other track men will be very sorely missed.

SEVEN RACES SLATED FOR BANNING TRACK

American Legion officials of Banning who are staging seven big auto races on Washington's Birthday, February 22, are spending considerable money in reconditioning the famous speedway for the big event.

BABE GIVES SELF $33,000 PRESENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Babe Ruth celebrated his thirty-third birthday today in Los Angeles by establishing a trust fund of $33,000 in the Bank of Manhattan Company, New York. This is part of the money he has saved from vaudeville and picture-making this winter. In a telegram to the bank, George Herman said that he is planning a $100,000 trust fund but is holding off until he has signed a Yankee contract. If all goes well, Babe said, he will increase the fund to $50,000 by June 1 and make it an even $100,000 by the end of the year.

Card Calendar of Trackfests for Year Fixed

STANFORD (Cal.), Feb. 8. (AP)—Stanford University's schedule for track and field meets was announced today as follows:

February 26, inter-class track meet.

March 19, Olympic Club.

April 2, University of Southern California.

April 9, All-Southern conference.

April 16, University of California.

June 3-4, Pacific intercollegiate.

All the meets will be held at Stanford except the intercollegiate, which will be at Los Angeles.

UNIVERSAL CAGERS HAVE GOOD SEASON

The Universal Pictures basketball squad has had up to date a most successful season with the sphere, playing and winning eight consecutive circuit tilts. With but one more contest on the bill, it seems quite probable they will cop the penant in the six-team league sponsored by the Recreation and Athletic Association of Southern California.

The movie quintet consists of "Doc" Trauger, erstwhile university luminary, at guard; Carl Laemmle, Jr., reputed one of the fastest forwards for his size in the league; Herman Schlom, manager and high-point getter of the team, at forward; Ad Schaumer, a lanky six-footer, at the pivot position; Richard Wanna, a stellar guard; C. Kuntzman, a substitute center; Mel Stern, filling a forward berth, and Murray Rock, captain, getting his floor work as a guard. Big things may be expected from these lads whenever they are in action.

COURSING RACES AT SAUGUS SCHEDULED

SAUGUS, Feb. 8.—The arrival at the Baker Ranch Stadium of a mechanical rabbit, which weighs six tons, and is capable of a speed of more than forty miles per hour, was today announced by Bob Anderson and Roy Baker, who are sponsoring the introduction of dog coursing in Southern California in connection with other turf sports.

Anderson and Baker declare the mechanical apparatus which they have just received at their new track here, is similar to those most successfully used on eastern tracks and it will be installed immediately so as to be in perfect running order for the opening races scheduled for Sunday, the 27th inst.

GODFREY TO MEET SMITH IN PORTLAND

George Godfrey, the well-known "black shadow," and Ralph Smith, former local fireman, have been signed to mingle in the ten-round main event of a Portland (Or.) show on March 8, next. Smith, under the management of "Mysterious" Billy Smith, the famous old-time welter and middleweight, has defeated Tiny Herman and John Lester John in recent starts. The match was arranged by Jimmy Dougherty, Godfrey's manager, and Joe Waterman, matchmaker of the Portland Boxing Commission.

MANAGER OF BROWNS COMPLETES TRADES

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8. (AP)—Dan Howley, manager of the St. Louis Browns, announced in a telegram to the Post Dispatch this afternoon from New York that he had traded Pitcher Joe Giard and Outfielder Cedric Durst to the New York Yankees for Pitcher Sam Jones. As a part of the deal the Browns will sent Infielder Gene Robertson to St. Paul.

STEWART STARS IN TRACK MEET

Texas Giant in Classy Form as U.S.C. Frosh Race

Labes Sparkles in Weights; Wins Shot Event

Darling Displays Fast Effort to Annex Furlong

BY RALPH HUSTON

Big Jim Stewart, the one-man track team from Texas, flashed all over Bovard Field yesterday afternoon, when Coaches Dean Cromwell and Tommy Davis staged a track meet among the seeming millions of freshmen for the purpose of selecting a first-string squad. Stewart won the high jump and discus, and took second in the shot put and broad jump, winding up with a victory on the impromptu 220-yard dash for weight men.

DEAN CROMWELL

The afternoon was crammed with activity and surprisingly good marks for early season. Especially gratifying were the two weight events. Stewart won the discus with a toss of 131 feet 11 1-8 inches, with Frank Labes, the New York youth, right behind at 131 feet 6 1-2 inches. Taking an extra throw, Labes heaved the platter 136 feet 10 1-4 inches, the longest toss of his career.

Labes took first in the shot, tossing the twelve-pound ball 50 feet 3 1-4 inches, with Stewart right behind at 49 feet 9 1-4 inches. Labes was disappointed with his showing, as he had tossed the ball around 53 feet a few nights before.

This pair will go a long ways toward filling Bud Houser's shoes next year.

The sprints were equally sensational. Paul Borfeld surprised in the hundred to finish in front by a fair-sized margin in 10 2-10s. Bert Darling, despite a bad heel, displayed all kinds of form to win the furlong in 22 8-10s—sensational time considering it was Darling's first real race of the season, the poor condition of the track, and his bad heel. He also placed second in the century.

Ellsworth Patterson, ex-Poly miler, showed a nice effort in winning the half in 2m. 5s, while Duncan Powers and Jimmy Payne walked home in the high and low hurdles respectively in good form. The results:

Half-mile run—Won by Patterson; O. Kirk, second; Woodruff, third; Hansen and Arnold tied for fourth. Time, 2:05.

440-yard run—Won by E. Kirk; Meisner and Powell tied for second; Hill, third; Feldman, fourth. Time, :54.2.

220-yard dash—Won by Darling; Borsfeld, second; Bastajian, third; Kemp, fourth; Maxwell, fifth. Time, :22.8.

Shotput—Won by Labes; Stewart, second; Edelsen, third; Ward, fourth; Marvin, fifth. Distance, 50 ft. 3¼ in.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Payne; Powers, second; Adams, third. Time, :25.5.

High jump—Won by Stewart; Von Kleinsmid, second; Beardsley, third; Marvin and Schiller tied for fourth. Height, 5 ft., 10 in.

Broad jump—Won by Hill; Stewart, second; Levien, third; Labriola, fourth; Flannigan, fifth. Distance, 20 ft., 7 in.

Pole vault—Won by Hubbard; Beeman second; Harris, third. Height, 12 ft., 6 in.

FAVORITES TO MIX IN CULVER BATTLE

Tomorrow night at the Culver City Stadium Paul De Hate, stable mate of Bert Colima, will meet Jackie Johnson in the eight-round main event. Both of these clever boxers are big favorites with the general boxing public at the present and Matchmaker "Sy" Seens states that he is preparing his beach stadium for a record-breaking run of cash customers.

In Johnson, De Hate is bound to find a worthy opponent. In support of this conjecture any of the boxing fans who saw Jackie floor Tommy O'Brien in a training bout at the Manhatton Gym recently will vouch for it.

ly re-elected president of the Holly-tees will be officially notified. wood Athletic Club announced last night that he had reappointed James Irsfeld as chairman of the Athletic Committee. Irsfeld has taken a wide interest in athletics during the past year and under his régime the athletes representing the film city club in various sports won national honors.

Other appointments to be released by Eastman were delayed until tomorrow when all the 1927 committee's will be officially notified.

SHERIFFS AND POLICE CLASH

Don't be unduly alarmed if you see a group of huskies romping down the street dressed in police uniforms followed closely by a few hard-looking deputy sheriffs or don't look for a raid. It's only the boys from these two departments working out for the coming three-game series of basketball games to be played between teams representing both departments. The gymnasium at Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street, will be the scene fo the scrap and the first game is scheduled for Friday evening, February 11. Two other games, February 25 and March 11, are also planned if there are enough men left on either team to call a game.

GENE CAMPAIGNS FOR BOXING BILL

OLYMPIA, Feb. 8. (AP)—Legislative business was cut short today to enable the members of the Washington State Legislature to listen to Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, who came to Olympia from Seattle by airplane and automobile at the invitation of authors of a bill to permit ten-round boxing in this State.

Major Stars to Vie With Pro Golfers

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Big-league baseball talent, rated as "amateurs," will strive for honors with veterans of the links when the south-central open golf tournament opens here tomorrow over the course of the Hot Springs Golf and Country Club. Stanley Harris, manager of the Washington Senators; "Goose" Goslin and Sam Rice, two of his far-knocking baseball aides; Carl Mays, Cincinnati pitcher, and Jess Petty, Brooklyn hurler, will tee off in the mixed professional-amateur matches.

The arrival of Al Watrous, Grand Rapids professional and winner of the first south-central open tournament in 1925, and of Larry Labholtz, Cleveland, swelled tonight the total of golfing stars who will compete for the $5000 in cash prizes. Bill Mehlhorn, who won the crown last year, and Bobby Cruickshank were others present who promised to make the third championship a bitter fight. Walter Hagen was expected to arrive tomorrow.

COLIMA WINS VERNON SCRAP

very well have been awarded to Anderson because Colima landed a distinctly low left-hand punch in Anderson's groin which made the Kentuckian draw back in pain, but which the referee failed to observe.

BERT BREAKS GROUND

Anderson's best rounds were the fourth and fifth, which he won easily by making Colima break ground with left-hand wallops to the belly. Colima's best rounds were the second and third, when he assumed the aggressive, and the tenth, when he came from behind and rocked Anderson's head with lefts and rights.

The house was estimated at 7500-strong before the main event started. Anderson weighed 155 1-4 and Colima, 154 flat.

The semi-wind-up between Teddy Silva and Alki Akol resulted in a draw, after each had momentarily dropped each other at various stages of the bout. Just before the affair started P. Pat Shanley reclaimed a Continental Hotel key, which was offered from the ring by Dan Tobey.

Mickey Walker, the middleweight king, and his manager, Jack Kearns, were close observers at ringside. Walker had picked Colima to win, and Kearns bet on Anderson.

In the first of the six-round preliminaries, Billy Manasella defeated Perfecto Mendoza, and in the second Jimmy Fox stopped Joe Noto in the second round. The bout was halted with Noto on his feet, but badly punished.

VAN GILDER SHINES IN IVORY MATCHES

Flashing the best billiards that has so far been played in the round-robin tournament for the city three-cushion championship at Steyens's Billiard Parlors, Dave Van Gilder advanced nearer the finals by turning in a pair of victories Monday and last night. On Monday night Van Gilder defeated H. S. Miles, 35 to 28, while last night he won over J. P. Brady, 35 to 8. In trimming Brady, Van Gilder finished the game in thirty-five minutes, had a high run of eight and required but twenty-six innings to complete his string.

REDLANDS BASEBALL ATHLETES TURN OUT

REDLANDS, Feb. 8.—Baseball has broken out. First practice for baseball at the University of Redlands was held tonight and over twenty men answered the varsity call of Coach Ashel Cunningham. Among them were several letter men from last year and some of the freshmen who played good baseball in their first year.

NEWELL QUITS OXY TO CIRCLE GLOBE

The Occidental College 1927 track team suffered a terrific blow yesterday afternoon when Gordan Newell, star one and two-miler for the Bengals, failed to register for the second semester. Newell plans a world-wide trip and has decided to leave school immediately.

BARRETT DRAWS SUSPENSION

DUNDEE STOPS DATTO

COURTNEY HALTS KURP

READING (Pa.) Feb. 8. (AP)—George Courtney, 163 1-2, Oklahoma, stopped Joe Kurp, 163 1-2, Shamokin, in the fourth round of their eight-round bout here tonight. Courtney floored Kurp twice before the referee stopped the fight.

POMONA CAGERS PLAY WHITTIER

Sagehens May Lose Osborne Through Injuries

Bengal Quintet to Tackle La Verne at Home

Bruins and Redlands Clash on Bulldog Court

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—On the eve of one of the crucial games of the season, luck has dealt Pomona's varsity basketball squad a paralyzing blow in the injury of Herb Osborne, leading scorer and star forward. Osborne crashed into a team-mate last week in scrimmage and badly dazed, but supposedly uninjured, he neglected to have a physical exmaination, but finally went to college medical authorities and has been found to have several torn and dislocated ribs. He has been barred from practice and will probably be unable to play when Pomona faces Whittier College here next Saturday night.

With Osborne out of the line-up, Bruce Wilkins will probably get his chance in big-league competition. Wilkins is a sophomore and the only member of last year's frosh team that has had much of a chance on the varsity thus far. He is small, but fast, and has a good eye for the basket and should go a long way toward filling Osborne's position. He was high-point man against Caltech last week, despite the fact that he was only in the game for one half.

This struggle between Pomona and Whittier, to be played here Saturday, should be one of the most thrilling tilts ever staged on the local floor. The Poets are boasting one of the best squads in a long history of good basketball teams and Pomona is just beginning to find itself, so everything points to a hair-raising battle. Whittier is favored to win, but isn't unbeatable, as was shown by the narrow margin of victory over Redlands last week.

OXY PLAYS HOST TO LA VERNE

Coach Eddie Kienholz's Occidental Tigers will play host to the La Verne College cagers next Saturday evening in the Oxy pavilion in a Southern Conference basketball contest.

The Tigers are resting safely in third position in the conference ratings after losing two games to date to the league-leading University of California of Los Angeles Bruins. The Bengals gave the Bruins a fairly stiff battle at Hollywood High gym last Saturday night, and are heavy favorites to trounce the invading La Verne athletes.

Capt. Solly Mishkin and Neal Archer have hit their stride for the season and are going strong. Ted Ellsworth is playing a bang-up game at guard alongside Mike Godett, veteran of two years standing. Ernie Ketcherside and Charles Osgood are two classy forward substitutes ready for action at the least call.

The freshman team, under Bill Anderson, will engage Caltech's Babes in another conference tilt as a preliminary to the varsity struggle.

BRUIN CAGERS PLAY REDLANDS FIVE

Remembering the narrow squeak Whittier College ran into last Saturday against Redlands, when the Poets barely won by a single point, Coach Caddy Works will take his full strength to Redlands Saturday with the expectation of having a tough game.

CHICAGO GIRL BIDS FOR GOLF LAURELS

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Virginia Vanwie, 17 years of age, of Chicago, who made her debut in national golf circles here last year by carrying Glenna Collett to the nineteenth hole, in the final round of the Florida east coast championship and then beating her in a sensational finish, will begin a campaign here next week which golf experts believe will establish her as a contender for the national women's title.

The Chicago youngster will begin her tournament campaign next week when she faces a hard field in defense of her title as Florida woman's champion. The next week she will compete in the South Atlantic cup at Ormond. The first week in March she will defend the title she took from Miss Collett last year in Florida east coast tournament.

LANGDON WINKS AT JINX NUMBER ON CAR

No. 13 — no, it's not unlucky—it's Harry Langdon's car which he has entered in the Los Angeles Grand Prix road race next Saturday at the new Palisades Del Rey course.

Otto Lind, youthful driver and friend of Langdon, is prepared to do his stuff and cop the cup. Lind mounted on Langdon's "iron horse," a Frontenac special, has shown remarkable speed in the tryouts. In fact, all the cars in the time-trial runs have shown better time than they have ever done in practice before.

WOMEN'S LACROSSE TEAMS TO HOOK UP

The Pasadena and Hollywood women's lacrosse squads, who battled to a 7-to-7 tie in their first meeting last Sunday morning at the Crown City will tangle again Sunday to try and settle the question of supremacy. Next Sunday's game will take place in Hollywood, on the Poinsettia Playground Field, at 10 o'clock in the morning and another hot struggle is expected to take place.

Both Pasadena and Hollywood are members of the Ladies' Lacrosse League of Southern California.

BEAR FROSH CAGERS TO FACE CARD BABES

BERKELEY, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—California's much improved freshman basketball team is eagerly awaiting its opportunity to bask in the silvery glow of the spotlight Friday evening when it is to meet the Stanford frosh quintet in Harmon gymnasium.

"Times" Daily Short Story

The Passing of Black Eagle

By O. HENRY

THE initial movement of the story is furnished by the foot of a bartender in St. Louis. His discerning eye fell upon the form of Chicken Ruggles as he pecked with avidity at the free lunch. Chicken was a "hobo." He had a long nose like the bill of a fowl, an inordinate appetite for poultry, and a habit of gratifying it without expense, which accounts for the name given him by his fellow vagrants.

Physicians agree that the partaking of liquids at meal times is not a healthy practice. The hygiene of the saloon promulgates the opposite. Chicken had neglected to purchase a drink to accompany his meal. The bartender rounded the counter, caught the injudicious diner by the ear with a lemon squeezer, led him to the door and kicked him into the street.

Thus the mind of Chicken was brought to realize the signs of coming winter. The night was cold; the stars shone with unkindly brilliancy; people were hurrying along the streets in two egotistic, jostling streams. Men had donned their overcoats, and Chicken knew to an exact percentage the increased difficulty of coaxing dimes from those buttoned-in vest pockets. The time had come for his annual exodus to the south.

Two hours later an Iron Mountain freight engine pulled out of the railroad yards, Texas bound, with a string of empties. In one of the cattle cars, half buried in excelsior, Chicken lay at ease. For a week that car trundled southward while its passenger slept.

When Chicken awoke his car was stationary. A white post stood near the rails. Going up to it, Chicken read the letters at the top, S. A. 90. Laredo was nearly as far to the south. He was almost a hundred miles from any town. Coyotes began to yelp in the mysterious sea around him. Chicken felt lonesome. He had lived in Boston without an education, in Chicago without nerve, in Philadelphia without a sleeping place, in New York without a pull, and in Pittsburg sober, and yet he had never felt so lonely as now.

Suddenly through the intense silence, he heard the whicker of a horse. Here was the one thing in the desert that Chicken did not fear. He had been reared on a farm; he had handled horses, understood them, and could ride. He mounted him and rode.

And now he noted that the horse moved to a definite goal.

At last, upon the side of a gentle rise, he suddenly subsided to a complacent walk. A stone's cast away stood a one-room house. Chicken slipped to earth, and tied the horse to a tree. He halloed again and again, but the house remained quiet. Half an hour later, Chicken emerged from the house with unsteady steps. He had drawn upon the absent ranchman's equipment to replace his own ragged attire. He wore a suit of coarse brown ducking, the coat being a sort of rakish bolero, jaunty to a degree. Boots he had donned, and spurs that whirred with every lurching step. Buckled around him was a belt full of cartridges with a big six-shooter in each of its two holsters.

Prowling about, he found blankets, a saddle and bridle with which he caparisoned his steed. Again mounting, he rode swiftly away, singing a loud and tuneless song.

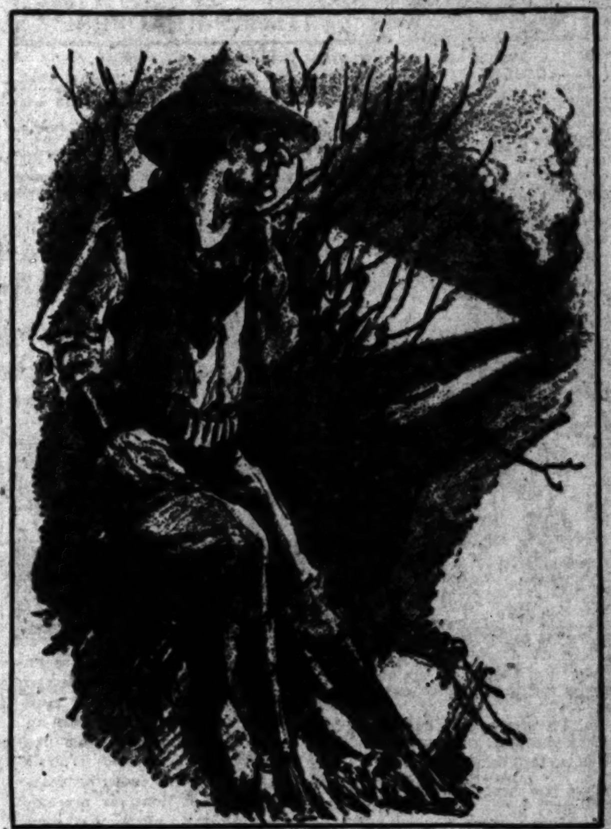
Bud King's band of desperadoes, outlaws and horse and cattle thieves were in camp at a secluded spot on the bank of the Frio.

One night while they were in camp on the San Miguel water-hole a solitary horseman on the regulation fiery steed dashed in among them. The newcomer was of a portentous and devastating aspect. A beak-like nose with a predatory curve projected above a mass of bristling, blue-black whiskers. His eye was cavernous and fierce. He was spurred, sombreroed, booted, garnished with revolvers, abundantly drunk, and very much unafraid. Few people in the country drained by the Rio Bravo would have cared thus to invade alone the camp of Bud King. But this fell bird swooped fearlessly upon them and demanded to be fed.

To their guest the band of outlaws seemed to be nothing more than a congregation of country bumpkins whom he was "stringing for grub" just as he would have told his stories at the back door of a farmhouse to wheedle a meal. And, indeed, his ignorance was not without excuse, for the "bad man" of the Southwest does not run to extremes. Those brigands might justly have been taken for a little party of peaceable rustics assembled for a fish-fry or pecan gathering. Gentle of manner, slouching of gait, soft-voiced, unpicturesquely clothed; not one of them presented to the eye any witness of the desperate records they had earned.

For two days the glittering stranger within the camp was feasted. Then, by common consent, he was invited to become a member of the band. He consented, presenting for enrollment the prodigious name of "Captain Montressor." This name was immediately overruled by the band, and "Piggy" substituted as a compliment to the awful and insatiate appetite of its owner.

Thus did the Texas border receive the most spectacular brigand that ever rode its chaparral.



It came on with an increasing roar; the engine bore down upon the ambushing desperadoes with a glare and a shriek.

One night in camp the members of the band—eight in number—were sprawling around the fire, lingering over their supper. Only Bud was absent.

"Wut's de use," Piggy was saying, "of chasin' little red cowses and hosses 'round for t'ousands of miles? Dere ain't nuttin' in it. Gallopin t'rough dese bushes and briers, and gettin' a t'irst dat a brewery couldn't put out, and missin' meals! Say! You know what I'd do if I was main finger of dis bunch? I'd stick up a train. I'd blow de express car and make hard dollars where you guys gets wind. Youse makes me tired. Dis sook-cow kind of cheap sport gives me a pain."

Later on, a deputation waited on Bud. They stood on one leg, chewed mesquit twigs and circumlocuted, for they hated to hurt his feelings. Bud foresaw their business, and made it easy for them. Bigger risks and larger profits was what they wanted.

The suggestion of Piggy's about holding up a train had fired their imagination and increased their admiration for the dash and boldness of the instigator. They were such simple, artless, and custom-bound bush-rangers that they had never before thought of extending their habits beyond the running off of live-stock and the shooting of such of their acquaintances as ventured to interfere.

Bud acted "on the level," agreeing to take a subordinate place in the gang until Piggy, now rechristened Black Eagle, should have been given a trial as leader.

After a great deal of consultation, studying of time-tables, and discussion of the country's topography, the time and place for carrying out their new enterprise was decided upon. At that time there was a feedstuff famine in Mexico and a cattle famine in certain parts of the United States, and there was a brisk international trade. Much money was being shipped along the railroads that connected the two republics. It was agreed that the most promising place for the contemplated robbery was at Espina, a little station on the International and Great Northern, about forty miles north of Laredo. The train stopped there one minute; the country around was wild and unsettled; the station consisted of but one house in which the agent lived.

Black Eagle's band set out, riding by night. Arriving in the vicinity of Espina they rested their horses all day in a thicket a few miles distant.

The train was due at Espina at 10:30 p.m. They could rob the train and be well over the Mexican border with their booty by daylight the next morning.

To do Black Eagle justice, he exhibited no signs of flinching from the responsible honors that had been conferred upon him.

He assigned his men to their respective posts with discretion, and coached them carefully as to their duties. On each side of the track four of the band were to lie concealed in the chaparral. Gotch-Ear Rodgers was to stick up the station agent. Bronco Charlie was to remain with the horses, holding them in readiness. At a spot where it was calculated the engine would be when the train stopped, Bud King was to lie hidden on one side, and Black Eagle himself on the other. The two would get the drop on the engineer and fireman, force them to descend and proceed to the rear. Then the express car would be looted, and the escape made. No one was to move until Black Eagle gave the signal by firing his revolver. The plan was perfect.

At ten minutes to train time every man was at his post, effectually concealed by the thick chaparral that grew almost to the rails. The night was dark and lowering, with a fine drizzle falling from the flying gulf clouds. Black Eagle crouched behind a bush within five yards of the track. Two six-shooters were belted around him. Occasionally he drew a large black bottle from his pocket and raised it to his mouth.

A star appeared far down the track which soon waxed into the headlight of the approaching train. It came on with an increasing roar; the engine bore down upon the ambushing desperadoes with a glare and a shriek like some avenging monster come to deliver them to justice. Black Eagle flattened himself upon the ground. The engine, contrary to their calculations, instead of stopping between him and Bud King's place of concealment, passed fully forty yards farther before it came to a stand.

The bandit leader rose to his feet and peered around the bush. His men all lay quiet, awaiting the signal. Immediately opposite Black Eagle was a thing that drew his attention. Instead of being a regular passenger train it was a mixed one. Before him stood a box car, the door of which, by some means, had been left slightly open. Black Eagle went up to it and pushed the door farther open. An odor came forth—a damp, rancid, familiar, musty, intoxicating, beloved odor stirring strongly at old memories of happy days and travels. Black Eagle sniffed at the witching smell as the returned wanderer smells of the rose that twines his boyhood's cottage home. Nostalgia seized him. He put his hand inside. Excelsior—dry, springy, curly, soft, enticing, covered the floor. Outside the drizzle had turned to a chilling rain.

The train bell clanged. The bandit chief unbuckled his belt and cast it, with its revolvers, upon the ground. His spurs followed quickly, and his broad sombrero. Black Eagle was moulting. The train started with a rattling jerk. The ex-Terror of the Border scrambled into the box car and closed the door. Stretched luxuriously upon the excelsior, with the black bottle clasped closely to his breast, his eyes closed, and a foolish, happy smile upon his terrible features Chicken Ruggles started upon his return trip.

Undisturbed, with the band of desperate bandits lying motionless, awaiting the signal to attack, the train pulled out from Espina. As its speed increased, and the black masses of chaparral went whizzing past on either side, the express messenger, lighting his pipe, looked through his window and remarked, feelingly:

BEAR GOLFERS AFTER TRIP TO NATIONALS

BERKELEY, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Should California's much-vaunted golfing squad give Stanford the severe trimming that many persons are predicting, there is a possibility that the golfists will be entered in the national intercollegiate championships.

The Blue and Gold team includes a number of record-holders over various courses in the San Francisco Bay vicinity and looks much stronger than in any previous season. A really overwhelming victory might so please the university athletic authorities as to prompt their sending the golf combination to distant parts for national competition.

DUDLEY WILL TAKE UP NEW TASK SOON

Ed Dudley, youthful Oklahoma City professional, has signed a one-year contract with the Hollywood Country Club and will take over the Movie City job the first of next month. Hollywood club directors have made Dudley a very nice guarantee and the new mentor will represent the club in the national open and P.G.A. championship.

TRACK CANDIDATES AT O.A.C. WORK OUT

CORVALIS (Or.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—First call for varsity track aspirants by Dad Butler, track coach at the Oregon Agricultural College, brought out more than sixty would-be runners, jumpers and weight men. The men are working out nightly in the Armory until the field is dry enough to receive them.

DEDICATE INGLEWOOD COURTS SATURDAY

INGLEWOOD, Feb. 8.—Sixteen handsome silver cups have been put up for the tennis tournament that will feature the formal opening of the new municipal concrete tennis courts in Centinela Park on next Saturday, it is announced by Sam M. Greene, chairman of the committee in charge of this municipal event.

There will be four classes of players in the morning events: One for boys under 16 years of age, girls under 16, one for boys over 16, and men, and one for girls over 16 and women. Doubles only will be played. Blanks for entering may be secured from City Clerk Otto H. Duelke at the Inglewood City Hall.

OREGON GRID COACH PRAISES ATHLETICS

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON (Eugene, Or.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Competitive athletics between colleges should be fostered, there should be no commercialism or professionalism and all athletics should be under strict faculty control, declared Capt. John J. McEwan, head football coach at Oregon, in an interview today.

"I pity the book-loving student who spends four years in a university without any physical development," McEwan said. "The men on our athletic teams are not the ones who need physical development."

SAINTS BUY ROBERTSON

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8. (AP)—Gene Robertson, third baseman with the St. Louis Browns, was purchased today by St. Paul, of the American Association. The price was announced as $7500.

OREGON BASKETEERS TRIM COUGAR FIVE

EUGENE (Or.) Feb. 8. (AP)—The University of Oregon won another conference basketball game here tonight, defeating Washington State College, 43 to 23.

The Cougars held the lead, 6-2, five minutes after the game began, but the Webfoots came from behind and rained in enough points to lead at half time, 27 to 9. From then on the outcome was never in doubt. Okerberg of Oregon was high-point man with twenty points.

MISSOURI SHOOTERS CARRY OFF TROPHY

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8. (AP)—Missouri's five-man team took the interstate flyer team trophy in today's program of the twenty-third annual interstate trap shooters' tournament here, with a score of 89 of a possible 100. Wisconsin finished second with 88 and Illinois, the defending team, took third with 87.

I'm the gink who must take his hat off in the elevator. No matter how crowded it may be I must take it off when a lady gets on. I reach up and grab the hat. Usually I have to hold it above my head in some ludicrous fashion or jam it down at my side and push my elbow into some one. I look with disapproval upon any man who fails to remove his hat when a lady enters the lift. Of course, I know they are probably as courteous as I, but I just must make a show of mine. My wife would appreciate a little of my courtesy and attention. Meanwhile, pardon my elbows. A lady is entering.

LIMIT ON FORD STOCKS CITED

Clause Required First Sale Offer to Other Holders

Effort Made to Show Value Was Thus Impaired

Financier Admits Restriction Would Reduce Field

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) An attempt to prove that a limiting clause in the by-laws of the Ford Motor Company, which requires prospective sellers of stock to first offer their holdings to other stockholders impaired the selling value of the stock in 1913, was made by government counsel today during the cross-examination of witnesses in the $81,000,000 Ford tax suit.

Ralph T. Crane, head of the securities department of Brown Brothers & Co. of New York City, stated in answer to questions propounded by Alexander Gregg, general counsel for the Internal Revenue Bureau, that such a clause would have constituted "a very important element" in every sale of the stock.

Mr. Crane added that the clause undoubtedly would narrow the field of prospective buyers but that he was certain that many persons would be more than willing to invest in Ford stock at any time. Mr. Gregg did not press this point, but indicated that witnesses will be called later to show that the clause would have lowered the value of the stock.

Edward B. Tinker, retired vice-president of the Chase National Bank of New York City, supported Mr. Crane in placing a high value on the Ford stock as of 1913, giving his opinion that its value ranged between $10,000 and $12,500 on that date. Mr. Chase placed the lowest value on the stock of any of the witnesses called by the government, but his estimate of $9525 was well above the government's first official valuation of $9489 a share as of 1913.

The government contends that its 1913 valuation of $9489 a share was much too high and that its true value on that date was $3500. When the stockholders sold out in 1919, they paid a tax based on the original government valuation. Now the government is trying to make them pay an additional tax of $81,000,000, based on the difference between their first and last valuations.

Mr. Crane testified that his company would have "been foolish" not to have purchased a part of the Ford stock in 1913 if it could have been purchased then for $9500 a share. He said the name of "Ford" was considered a gold mine by the investing public.

CHANGES IN WATER LAW COMPLETED

Proposed Amendment to Constitution Will Settle Riparian Rights

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Gov. Young was informed today that the subcommittee of the Legislative Water Conservation Commission has ready for announcement tomorrow a constitutional amendment defining the limits of the riparian doctrine in California. This measure will, if accepted by the legislative commission, be submitted to the Legislature when it reconvenes with the purpose of making possible the water conservation program recommended in a recent report by State Engineer Paul Bailey.

Such a program is considered unfeasible at this time because of the recent Herminghaus decision, which holds against diversion of the overflow of streams at the expense of riparian holders.

During the last week the water commission subcommittee composed of Senators Ray Jones, John Inman and Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden met several times with Fred S. Athearn of San Francisco; William M. Finch, presiding justice of the Third District Court of Appeal; Max C. Sloss, former justice of the Supreme Court, Judge W. D. Tillotson of Redding and Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb and formulated the legislation that will, if enacted into law, define clearly the rights of riparian holders.

The amendment embodies the purposes of two constitutional amendments already submitted to the Legislature, one by Assemblyman Crittenden, the other by Senator Jones, augmented by proposals from Judge Finch and Senator Inman.

The Legislative Water Conservation Commission, composed of four Senators and four Assemblymen, will meet tomorrow at 11 a.m. to consider the amendment submitted by the subcommittee.

CARRIERS PROTEST GRAIN RATE QUIZ

THREE INVESTIGATIONS SINCE 1921 ALL ROADS CAN STAND, THEY SAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Western railroads operating north of the Missouri and west of the Mississippi River filed a joint petition today with the Interstate Commerce Commission protesting any further investigation of grain rates in that territory.

The commission tentatively has ordered an investigation of the grain-rate structure in that region, in compliance with the Hoch-Smith resolution of Congress, which ordered a general inquiry into the effects of railroad rates on agricultural products.

the petition today said that a "time for ending litigation over grain rates in western trunk-line territory has now arrived." Since 1921, it was added, there have been "three separate investigations of this rate structure, and there is nothing new that can be brought out at this time about it."

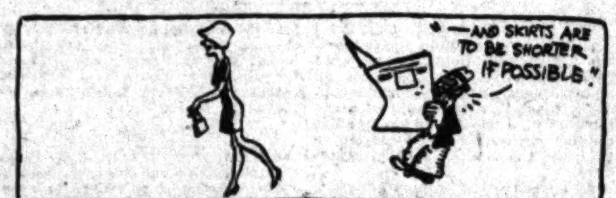
"Another proceeding can only be costly and burdensome to the carriers," the petition continued, "and it is not sought by either the shippers or the railroad commissions of States in western trunk-line territory. The carriers have neither the time nor the resources properly to prepare evidence for another proceeding."

DIVORCES HUSBAND WHO PLAYS HOOKEY

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Mrs. Beatrice O'Brien Potter won a divorce today partly because her husband, Willett, 35 years of age, played hookey from school. She said she gave him money to go to an insurance school and then found that he spent the money for other things.

COLOR CLASH STYLES STAGGER

Overseas Shoppers Rubbing Their Eyes Over "New Art" of Mixing Tones and Splashing of Many Tints; Skirts to Be Shorter—If Possible



"—AND SKIRTS ARE TO BE SHORTER IF POSSIBLE."

PARIS, Feb. 8. (AP)—The "new art," that makes the general public rub its eyes in the modernist salons and ask if it is seeing straight or if there is really something wrong with the perspective now has invaded the dressmaking houses that serve up the world's styles.

The new styles lean mostly to a matter of combining colors in two-tone effects. A dress may be half dark and half light. Sometimes the break comes down the middle of the front; sometimes it is the front that is light, while the back is dark—or vice versa. Color also is applied in spots or splashes. The flowers of last season are almost entirely replaced by dots and dashes.

The new mode is somewhat staggering to the overseas shopper who has not been inoculated against the new French art. Parisians, however, take it as a matter of course, and the designers themselves say:

"The mode is little changed. The lines will be more slender than ever, and skirts even shorter if possible. Fullness will take the form of concealed pleats and many small tucks."

They do not mention the color effects and dizzy lines which are causing the New York buyers' eyebrows to jump about.

TOKIO SEES ODD PILGRIMAGE

Young Tradesmen Parade to Shrine in Cold, Clad Only in Thin Garments and Bathe in Ice Water

TOKIO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—With its beginning in a time far beyond the memory of man, the annual kan-mairi, or pilgrimage to the Buddhist Fudo Temple in Fukagawa, is now being celebrated here. Wearing the traditional thin, pure white garments, groups of young men nightly pass along the streets of Tokio bound for the shrine where they believe their wishes will be granted in return for devotion.

Each youthful pilgrim carries an oblong paper lantern and has a bell hung at his side. Down the half-lit streets, mere lanes meandering hither and yon in an intricate oriental fashion, their arrival is signaled by the faint tinkle of the many bells and, as they come nearer, by the fitful flare of little lanterns and the patter of tabi.

This custom of making a solemn pilgrimage to Fudo Temple is observed here all during the cold season and ends this month when, according to the lunar calendar, that period is at an end.

Chanting their prayer as they go, "Zange zange rokkon shojo"—repentance, repentance, purification—they hasten away down the gray, cold streets, eternally murmuring of repentance and purification.

Most of the pilgrims are young artisans—perhaps the older members of their trades have learned something of the futility of supplication, who knows?—and they believe that in return for their rigorous devotions to the deity their workmanship will be improved and they will prosper mightily in the year to come.

With perfect faith in the potency of their prayers, they brave the midwinter night almost unclothed, wearing only the thinnest of cotton kimonos, snow white, with the intricate seal of Fudo Temple repeated many times on a single garment.

In the past, before the police intervened in the interests of so-called propriety, the pilgrims walked unclothed to the temple.

Arriving at their destination, they first offer up their prayers. Afterward they take a cold bath. Thousands take these baths of purification nightly, between 6 and 10 o'clock. Often, the journey to the temple is a long and weary one, from one of the distant suburbs, for Tokio is a great, sprawling city. The baths are taken in the open air and as the pilgrims pour pails of the icy water over their bodies they chant the patient, hopeful prayers.

Later, the devotions over, they leave the temple compound and partake of piping hot amazake, or unrefined sweet sake, which is served free of charge at a dingy little inn just outside the gates.

Testimony Ends in Long Drawn Leiter Battle

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—The last bit of testimony in the long trial of the suit of the Countess of Suffolk and Berks to oust her brother, Joseph Leiter, from co-trusteeship of the estate of Levi Leiter, his father, went into the voluminous record today. Judge Denis E. Sullivan adjourned the trial until the 18th inst., when he will hear final arguments.

Judge Sullivan told the attorneys that the case must be concluded by March 3, even if night and holiday sessions become necessary.

Adverse British Reply Forecast on Reservations

GENEVA, Feb. 8. (AP)—Great Britain today informed the League of Nations that she is replying to the United States on the American World Court reservations in accordance with the terms of the instrument drawn up in Geneva at the World Court conference last year.

As this instrument did not accept completely the fifth American reservation concerning advisory opinions, it is considered here that the British reply is tantamount to rejection of the American conditions governing her possible entry into the World Court.

DETECTIVES OF STATE FORM ASSOCIATION

FRESNO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Perfecting, in one night, the organization of the California Association of Detective Agencies, the heads of twenty-one of the foremost detective agencies met here tonight. Prior to tonight's gathering, the State was divided into two districts, with each district having its own association. However, members of the new body declared the old plan was not satisfactory, and, in order to affect closer contact, the reputable agencies planned the organization of the State-wide body. The new organization will offer cooperation between agencies, members declared.

DOG MAIL THEFT TRIAL ARRANGED

Defense Witnesses Coming Far Over Ice Wastes

SPOKANE (Wash.) Feb. 8. (AP)—The story of how a woman known as "The Black Bear" and a roadhouse keeper robbed a dog sled mail of a shipment of gold five years ago in Alaska, while its driver lay asleep will be told by government witnesses at the forthcoming trial of the two at Fairbanks, postoffice authorities said here today.

Government testimony is ready, and six defense witnesses are being rushed nearly 400 miles across Alaskan wastes by airplane and dog sled to testify for the accused. William Schermeyer, the roadhouse keeper, is asserted to have confessed the mail robbery, but Nellie Beattie, the other defendant, took the pauper's oath to induce the government to transport witnesses for the defense at its expense.

LOCKED IN POUCH

The story of the robbery, as government testimony will adduce, is that a Seattle bank sent a $30,000 shipment of gold to the bank at McGrath. The money traveled safely to Nenana, where it was transferred to the dog sled, being contained in a pouch with a peculiar lock. This "brass lock" could only be opened by certain stations, so that the gold was carried past McGrath to Flat, where the pouch was unlocked and started on its return journey to McGrath.

Traveling on the mail sled was Nellie Beattie, called "The Black Bear." The sled driver stopped at a roadhouse kept by Schermeyer, and while he slept, Schermeyer and the woman took the gold from the sled and cached it, according to a confession Schermeyer is asserted to have made later.

WOMAN IMPLICATED

The two later split the gold, and Schermeyer traveled to the States for his health, he said. Then, becoming ill and fearing death, he made a confession implicating "The Black Bear" and himself, postoffice inspectors said. This was long afterward. The officials said Schermeyer will plead guilty on the stand, and declared they have witnesses to authenticate his confession and to trace movements of the roadhouse keeper and the woman after the gold was found missing.

Inspectors here said the sled driver's care of the pouch, and telegraphed information, made common knowledge of the gold shipment. They added that Schermeyer is old, and will not, in their opinion, repudiate his confession.

PLEA MADE FOR PUBLIC CRIME WAR

Minnesota Survey Leader Tells California of Need for People's Efforts

OAKLAND, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Responsibility for the delay and miscarriage of justice and failure to obtain conviction of criminals rests, for the most part, on the public and not on the courts or on the prosecutors, Justin Miller, chairman of the crime survey committee of Minnesota, declared today.

"What California needs is a comprehensive criminal survey," Miller said. "The Crime Commission which recently worked out a series of changes in criminal procedure in the courts is a splendid thing, but the crime problem is not to be solved entirely by changing court procedure. People themselves and the laws they enact are responsible for the crime situation in this country.

"I have heard prison wardens appear before parole boards and beg them to parole convicts serving for comparatively small crimes in order to make room for dangerous criminals. Yet when prisoners are paroled to make room for more serious offenders, a howl goes up from the public, which will not approve the expenditure of funds for the building of more prisons.

"We exempt from jury service practically all classes of men and women best qualified to serve. This leaves us with the professional jurymen and jurywomen who serve mainly for the few dollars they receive or because they have nothing else to do."

DETROIT

DETROIT, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Equal representation on State political committees, sought for years by the Republican women of Michigan, is provided in a bill to be introduced in the Legislature by Senator Norman B. Horton of Fruit Ridge. The measure, which bears the approval of the administration, the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan as well as other women's organizations, would increase the representation on the State committee to four, of which two members from each Congressional district would be women.

The Farmers' State Savings Bank at Bay City has been closed. A notice on the door announced the institution was in the hands of the local clearinghouse. It is indicated depositors will be protected by local clearinghouse banks, probably through a merger.

Two trucks fully equipped with forest fire fighting apparatus have been purchased by the State fire marshal's department for experimental use this summer. The trucks are equipped with motored pumps, 200 gallon tanks and sufficient hose to reach from an eighth to a quarter of a mile. The fire marshal belives the use of speedy trucks by the fire wardens will result in a lessening of the many small fires which break out every year in the slashings and cut-over lands of the northern counties.

Featured by the most extensive paving program of recent years, Traverse City's 1927 budget, amounting to $126,464 has been adopted officially by the city commission. The amount to be raised by taxation is $14,000 more than last year, but due to increased valuations, the tax rate will nevertheless be lower.

AKRON

AKRON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Parking restrictions on downtown streets apply to buildings as well as to automobiles, City Council ruled when it voted in favor of an ordinance ordering all obstructions removed from Canal street between Cherry and Beech streets. The ordinance, which revokes permission given by an old-time council for the construction of parts of several private buildings and a railroad siding on part of Canal street, also provides it shall be widened to its full width to be used as a street instead of an alley. The favorable vote was cast after council was told the city planning commission favors ejecting all "squatters" from Akron streets, that the thoroughfares may be used for traffic movement only.

Superintendent George E. McCord put into effect a reduction of forty-four in the teaching staff of the public schools, involving a saving for this semester of $43,000. The measure is part of an economy program, ordered by the Board of Education to relieve the present financial stringency.

George D. Goodyear, 54 years of age, for years one of the best-known grocers in the city, was killed by carbon monoxide fumes in the garage at his home, 389 Perkins street. Mr. Goodyear, who had gone into the garage to do some repair work on his automobile, had started the motor while the doors and windows were closed.

ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Clarence E. Mills, former president of the defunct Broadway State Bank, was found guilty of grand larceny by a jury in Ramsey District Court. The indictment under which Mills was tried charged embezzlement of $1650 of the bank's funds through a fictitious mortgage. Mills was indicted jointly with Frank W. Blackert, a real estate man, and Paul Strickland, attorney. These two demanded separate trials. Blackert is under two indictments and Strickland faced grand larceny and forgery charges.

M. J. Costello, 70 years of age, a friend of Theodore Roosevelt and a former editorial writer for the St. Paul Dispatch, died at Ancker Hospital. Mr. Costello was secretary to former Mayor Robert A. Smith of St. Paul for many years. Mr. Costello and Roosevelt were members of the New York Legislature at the same time and a close friendship resulted from their association and continued after Costello came to St. Paul about forty years ago.

Capitalized at $200,000, the Durum Milling Corporation of Rush City, filed articles of incorporation with Mike Holm, Secretary of State. John F. Diefenbach of St. Paul is president of the concern, which will concentrate on the manufacture of flour and feeds. William Allred of Rush City is vice-president and Earl M. Pettibone of St. Paul is secretary and treasurer.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) Mrs. Madge Parmele, 67, widow of George Dexter Parmele, died at her home, 2133 Kenwood Parkway. Mrs. Parmele's parents were pioneers in Southern Minnesota, but since 1905 she has been a resident of Minneapolis. She has always been actively identified with St. Paul's Church, a member of the Woman's Club of Minneapolis, and the Art Institute. Two daughters, one son and one sister, survive.

Returns from the special Senatorial primary in the sixty-fifth legislative district show the nomination of Mrs. O. A. Naplin of Thief River Falls, for the final election next week. Opposing Mrs. Naplin in the final contest for the State Senate seat made vacant by the death of her husband apparently will be Marius Waldal of Plummer, State Representative in 1923 and 1925.

H. A. Gosslee, 47 years of age, cashier of the First State Bank of Clitherall, is dead following a heart attack. His widow survives.

LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Nearly $3,000,000 worth of building permits, twice the highest previous record for January, were issued here in the last month, the Building Inspector's office announced. Excavation has been started for the seventeen-story Heyburn Building at the southeast corner of Fourth street and Brodway, according to F. F. Schoettler of the Struck Construction Company. The Struck firm was awarded the $1,000,000 general contract in Chicago January 15. Other contracts will bring the total cost to $1,200,000.

Proctor Haller, book-keeper in the Second National Bank at Ashland, Ky., was made defendant in a warrant issued by the United States Commissioner at Covington charging him with embezzling $14,305.13 of the bank funds. The asserted embezzlement was committed between December 1, 1924, and December 1, 1926. The warrant was forwarded to Ashland.

Gardner K. Byers, who for three years has been Assistant Attorney-General of Kentucky, has resigned to take up private practice of law at the Maysville bar. Byers has been a member of the Kentucky bar for nine years, practicing at Louisville before his appointment to the State's legal department by Attorney-General Daugherty. He is author of "Byers On Kentucky Corporations."

AGED PENSIONER DIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) The death of Mrs. Mahala Huff of Louisa, Ky., has removed the oldest pensioner from the pension rolls of the government, according to information made public at the Interior Department today.

Mrs. Huff was 108 years old and was one of the seventeen surviving widows of the War of 1812. She drew a pension of $50 a month. Born in December, 1818, in Wayne county, W. Va., Mrs. Huff has lived with her son, Henderson Wells, on his farm two and a half miles south of Louisa for the past forty years.

Records of the Pension Bureau show that she was the widow of James Huff, who served as a private in Capt. G. W. Camp's company of Virginia militia in the War of 1812. He was enlisted at Jonesville, Lee county, Va., Nov. 5, 1813, and was honorably discharged March 10, 1814. He married Mahala Wells on December 5, 1869, in Wayne county, W. Va., and died February 10, 1879.

NURSE SAYS WIFE CRUEL TO GELFAND

Salad-Dressing King Told She Wished Him Under Ground, Woman Says

BALTIMORE, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—"I hope you never get up. I don't care if my children are orphaned. I hope I see you under the ground."

That's what Mrs. Esther B. Gelfand told her husband, Simon Gelfand, "salad-dressing king," according to Mrs. Gertrude Hertzberg of Hackensack, N. J., nurse, testifying at the trial here of Mrs. Gelfand's suit for divorce from her husband, who, she asserts, earned $1,000,000 last year. The business started in Brooklyn, N. Y., where Gelfand has two nephews, Dr. Jacob Kurnik and Hyman Heringman, a builder, both of whom had been Gelfand's partners before the business was transferred to Baltimore and later to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hertzberg said Mrs. Gelfand's little speech was made to Gelfand as the salad-dressing king lay on his sick bed. Mrs. Hertzberg at the time was Gelfand's nurse. She testified Mrs. Gelfand went visiting in Philadelphia, leaving her husband extremely ill.

Heringman, also a witness, said Mrs. Gelfand once threw a milk bottle at her husband because he explained his delay in reaching home, saying that he had stopped at a barber shop. Dr. Irving J. Speer, Baltimore, testified he diagnosed the ailments in 1922 and 1924 of Mrs. Gelfand, who spent $50,000, according to testimony, in two years consulting twenty-eight doctors who might aid her in reducing.

ELECTION RIOT FATAL

MOSCOW, Feb. 8. (AP)—During election disorders near Samara, in the southeastern section of Russia, the secretary of a newly elected town soviet was shot and three other officials wounded. Near Baku, in the Republic of Azerbaijan, a fight took place between disenfranchised kulaks and other peasants. One man was killed and many were wounded.

ARIZONA AIMS AT HUNT RULE

Governor's Policies Opposed in Legislature

Senate Favors Measures for Pure Elections

Contributions to Election Funds Face Fight

PHOENIX, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Gov. Hunt, his appointees and his policies are under unsympathetic scrutiny in the current Legislature, despite the fact that both houses are overwhelmingly Democratic. Something more than intimation has been made on the floor of the Senate that the Governor's continuous occupation of office has been due primarily to the existence of a powerful political machine, one that has centered in his Highway Department and one for which funds have been wrested from State employees.

In a committee-of-the-whole session of the Senate, a large measure of political beans were spilled in consideration of a quartet of purity-of-election bills that had been offered by President Mulford Winsor. Possibly the most important was one which prohibits State employees from contributing to campaign funds or from taking an active part in political campaigns, and prohibits hire of vehicles for taking voters to the polls.

The second prohibits State, county or city officials from drawing pay while serving as active members of political organizations. The third seeks to speed up returns on the results of elections and the fourth limits election expense of Senatorial candidates to $3500, Supreme Judges to $1000 and all other State officers to $1500.

COLTER OBJECTS

The committee recommendation for passage was unanimous, save for the vociferous objection of Senator Fred Colter, champion of the Governor and also president of the Arizona High Line Reclamation Association. Laid over for a day, the bills are to pass at once and are expected to meet with favorable consideration in the House. It is assumed that disapproval will be met in the executive office, but ample strength has been developed to pass any or all over a veto.

Senators Donnelly and Akers, classed with the administration, were active in support of the Winsor bills. It was the former who brought out a discussion high light by his production of a letter addressed to the heads of all State departments by Secretary Don C. Babbit of the Democratic State Committee. The communication disclosed a shortage of nearly $9000 in the funds of the committee, with $3196 still due to newspapers and $2315 in the "publicity" account. Babbit stated that he had negotiated a loan of the amount, to be repaid at the rate of $1000 a month, to come from a 2 per cent "contribution" from State employees drawing $100 or more a month.

WOULD FURNISH LISTS

Lists of all such employees were to be furnished, "that a correct record be kept of those contributing and those from whom contributions are expected." At this stage Senator Akers obtained the reading of a section of the Governor's message recommending legislative action "with a view to strengthening our laws against corrupt election practices."

President Winsor, speaking of the charge of employment of large sums by private interests in elections, declared, "We ought also to censure the equivalent use of government money for the same purpose." Senator Sutter considered the main measure necessary "to prevent the collection of huge campaign funds, such as have been raised in the State Highway Department. . . . It is going to result in the State of Arizona paying the campaign expenses of the clique or party in power out of the money raised by taxing all the people of all the parties." Conditions that cause payment of tribute by a government employee, he declared, "destroy efficiency, because his loyalty to the government is undermined and slides away to the Governor."

In the same connection, statement was made by Legislators that Secretary Babbit had continued in office as deputy State land commissioner during the several months in which he apparently had been wholly occupied by the last campaign.

USES STATE CARS

More general are charges that much of the shortage in the highway department might be chargeable to the months of campaigning spent by its employees, carried in State cars and trucks, while a State car and driver openly were used by the Governor all through his campaigns, primary and general.

The House bill creating the new office of comptroller, one to be filled by the Legislature, is considered aimed at the Governor. There is claim that other departments besides that of highways have failed to honor legislative restrictions and have used their funds at their own sweet will. There even is claim that the elaborate tiled floor in the Capitol rotunda, bearing representation of the State seal, was paid for with funds that happened to be available in the State entomological bureau which at the same time had raised its salary roll without first obtaining legislative authority. It has developed that $50,000 appropriated four years ago for an audit of the highway department was inadequate, for a bill for nearly $20,000 has been presented by the auditors, a Chicago firm.

SAN DIEGO AIRPORT TO GET FLOOD LIGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) A gigantic airport flood light, capable of illuminating an area of three-quarter of a mile in radius, will be erected at the San Diego naval air station to aid night flying activities, according to announcement here today. The light was given a successful tryout at the local naval air station last night.

GATE CRASHERS AT YALE PROM FOILED

ARMY MEN AT STANFORD

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 8. (AP)—Nineteen reserve and regular officers of the United States Army will attend a two week's ordinance course for reserve officers here, beginning next Monday. It will be under the auspices of the Stanford School of Engineering.

BOMBING URGED FOR SAXOPHONE

Assemblyman of New Jersey Asks Desperate Move on Disturbers

TRENTON (N. J.) Feb. 8. (AP) Enactment of a bill to permit the throwing of hand grenades at saxophones was urged in the Assembly today by Assemblyman Muir, during debate which led to repeal of a bill requiring three months' notice before tenants may move or landlords may increase rents.

"I am Exhibit A," Assemblyman Muir announced. "I was living in a house comfortably with gold fish and canaries and steam-heated doormats and thought I was settled for life.

"Then a gentlemen with a mean disposition and a saxophone moved next door. I could not move for three months. They are poisoning our liberty at Washington, I know, but I hope some day we may have the right to hurl hand grenades at saxophones disturbing our peace."

Magazines Full of Nude Figures Shown to House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—A group of magazines whose covers and pages bore photos of undraped women were exhibited to the House today by Representative Wilson, Democrat, Mississippi, as "evidence" in support of his bill to prevent distribution of questionable literature.

He declared these publications were "sowing the seeds of moral decay" and advocated imprisonment for "these men who with vulgar and immoral pictures are stealing the morals of youth."

He also declared that plays were being presented on the stage which would "bring a blush of shame to cheeks of a hard hearted man" and that some of the fiction recently published in book form likewise was of highly questionable character.

SPANISH FLYER HELD FOR SENDING NOTE

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 8. (AP)—Commander Ramon Franco, leader of the aerial flight from Palos, Spain, to Buenos Aires, last year, is under arrest in Madrid, it is reported in a dispatch to La Nacion from Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish frontier. He was sentenced to a month's military imprisonment in a fort, the message says, for having sent a message to the Spanish Ambassador to Argentina protesting against failure of his country to receive an air transport contract which the Argentine government had given to a French aviation concern.

RIVER TRAFFIC GAINS FORESEEN

Cities Along Mississippi Make Preparations

Barge Line From Chicago to Gulf Planned

Memphis Builds Terminal at Cost of $1,000,000

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) Cities along the Mississippi are making preparations to take care of the increasing business which they expect to follow the forthcoming development of their great waterway.

Maj. Rufus W. Putnam, former United States engineer, in an interview said that he expects to see establishment of barge-line service within five years from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico and that he believes this increased use of water transportation will speedily result in a greater market for products of the Middle West in Latin-American countries.

At Cairo, Ill., the Federal Bridge Line has built a terminal and has made use of an incline that had been built by the Illinois Central System to compensate for the rise and fall of the water.

Baton Rouge, the capital of Louisiana, with only about 75,000 population, has expended $1,000,000 for a river terminal which is now largely used by the barge line which the Federal government operates. Here is an important interchange point for further shipment of cargo to various points in Texas.

Memphis, Tenn., has built a barge terminal at a cost of nearly $1,000,000 and this also is used principally by the government line.

At Vicksburg, Miss., the government barge line has constructed a terminal, and at New Orleans most of the terminals and ports are leased by the State port commission to barge lines and other operators.

At Helena, Ark., a new terminal has been completed and the barge line is to make this port a regular stop on its route between the Gulf and St. Louis.

Rumania Again Brews Trouble on Succession

VIENNA, Feb. 8. (AP)—Trouble again is brewing over the succession question in Rumania. Private reliable advices from Bucharest say that the National Peasants' party and the rank and file, especially in the provinces, are determined that while King Ferdinand is still alive Prince Carol's prerogatives as Crown Prince shall be restored to him, even though he formally renounced them more than a year ago.

This attitude is persisting, it is declared, notwithstanding the fact that Premier Averescu, addressing the Chamber of Deputies, again warned that the matter had been settled once for all by the establishment of a regency and that most severe penalties will be inflicted on those attempting an alteration of this arrangement.

La señorita Josephine Campbell y el joven Leroy Winborn fueron elegidos para primeros cantantes y bailarines; la señorita Grace Symmes y el joven Wes Woodford desempeñarán los papeles cómicos.

Mañana Iniciará su Acción la Señora Ormiston

La señora Ruth Peters Ormiston, que llegó a ésta hace varios días procedente de Sidney (Australia), espera que sea interpuesta hoy o mañana ante el juzgado superior su querella de divorcio contra Kenneth G. Ormiston, ingeniero radiotelegrafista, según declaraciones hechas anoche por la citada señora. No pudo, sin embargo, dar a conocer los cargos que se harían en su escrito contra Ormiston, cuyo nombre sonó tanto en la causa seguida hace poco contra Aimée Semple McPherson. Lo único que pudo decir ayer la señora Ormiston es que eran falsas las noticias de que fuera a hacerse mención en su juicio de divorcio del asunto de la "Señorita X", y de la aventura de ésta con Ormiston en Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Los Gases Tóxicos de un Calefactor Matan a Cuatro

El médico forense ha declarado que los humos venenosos producidos por un calentador de gas originaron la muerte de Joseph Lee Winters, Mary Kistler, Ralph W. Sperry y la señora Ruby Vallon, cuyos cadáveres fueron hallados ayer en Watts, en la caseta de Winters. La policía encontró asimismo cierta cantidad de licor en una botella que estaba cerca de los cuerpos; de allí que en un principio se creyera que la muerte de esas personas había sido causada por la bebida de whisky venenoso de "bootleggers".

STARTS BROADCASTING

JAMES CHARLESON

For Deep Thinking, Thoughtful Men

GENTLEMEN—You know us, you've heard about us, you've read about us. We do not have to go into details relative to the unquestioned reputation for integrity and reliability of the members of this firm. We are not starting this great value-giving tailoring campaign for the purpose of raising money, as we are by far from being hard pressed for ready cash.

This gigantic value-giving tailoring campaign is mainly and solely for the express purpose of getting acquainted with new trade, which is only the natural instinct of any well-known, reliable, commercial institution that wishes to forge ahead, but in going after new trade we want all of our old customers to also take advantage of this unusual offer as we keenly appreciate past favors extended us.

Now, then, the broadcasting of this message is for the benefit of the thousands upon thousands of men who have continually paid $35 and more for ordinary ready-made clothes which are manufactured by machinery in the East and made for no one in particular. Men, we are going to hold out an incentive in an effort to wean you away from wearing ordinary ready-made clothes. That incentive will give you food for your thoughts if nothing else, when we say that we can make you a strictly hand-custom tailored $50, $55 and $60 suit out of imported fabrics for $35. We mean just what we say. Those are the prices being charged by all responsible and reliable tailoring firms throughout the entire country for this grade of imported material.

There is not a responsible tailoring firm in the country at the present time and under the present conditions who would willingly take your order for a hand-tailored suit at our advertised sale price, except and only under extraordinary circumstances. These magnificent imported fabrics were shipped direct to us from England, Ireland, Scotland and Germany through the Panama Canal. They are positively guaranteed to be 100% pure virgin long staple lamb's wool, dyed in the wool abroad in European mills and positively guaranteed fast colors throughout. These fabrics were cold water shrunk for 24 hours in Europe. They are of the finest quality and textures, absolute novelties in woolens, consisting of the very latest in weaves, shades and designs. It is an utter impossibility to duplicate them. We have repeatedly refused offers of many well-known exclusive tailoring firms of this city who were ready to take part of this immense stock of imported fabrics off our hands.

Now, then, men, are you thinking of paying $35 and perhaps more for one of those ordinary, ready-made suits, which were made for no one in particular? If so, then we'll make it worth your while to stop and think before you place your order. We want you as one of our future customers and we are prepared to go to the utmost extremes to get your name on our books. We are prepared to tailor to your own individual measure a guaranteed $50, $55 and $60 suit out of these imported fabrics for $35, which price you have been paying for ordinary ready-made clothes.

When Tucker and Charleson issue a statement, that statement can be absolutely relied upon. When we make a promise that promise is made in all sincerity and in the right spirit and always carried out to the very letter. The name and reputation of this institution which has been established in this community for years is more than firmly established. It's not a question of simply tailoring one suit for you. It's your good will and future valuable consideration that we are banking on. Furthermore, upon the completion of the suit you have ordered, if you think you haven't received an actual $50, $55 and $60 hand-tailored suit for $35, take the suit off, leave it on our hands, step over to the book-keeper, who has implicit instructions to ask no questions, present your receipt with the amount of the deposit you have paid, and same will be instantly refunded you and no questions asked. We are assuming the entire responsibility. It will be our loss and not yours. That's our policy, always was our policy and always will be our policy.

It takes a lifetime to establish a reputation for sterling qualities of character among your fellow-men. RUBBER MAKES SUMATRA RICH

United States Purchases in 1925 Reach $65,000,000

Report Shows Philippines Would Profit by Crop

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) What the development of a rubber industry in the Philippines might mean for those islands and for the United States is reflected in what has been done in Sumatra, one of the islands of the Dutch East Indies, as shown in the remarkable export trade expansion of that Holland possession.

In 1914 the exports from Sumatra east coast were valued at approximately $40,000,000; in 1921 the figure had more than doubled, while in 1925 total exports were valued at $133,000,000. The successful exploitation of its rubber resources during recent years, along with the unusually high prices obtained for the product, thanks to the manipulations of the British rubber monopolists, have been the leading factors in economic prosperity of Sumatra, according to a survey of that country that has been made by the Department of Commerce. In 1914 Sumatra was not doing enough in rubber to have that product included in the list of the major products of the island or of the entire Dutch East Indies group.

HALF OF EXPORTS

More than 50 per cent of the total capital now invested in Sumatra is devoted to rubber, it is reported, and fully one-half of the country's export trade is made up of this commodity. In 1925 the rubber industry reached the peak of its history, the price of crude on the Sumatra market rising to $1 a pound. The cost of producing rubber in the island is estimated to be about 25 cents per pound on the average.

Purchases of the United States from Sumatra have shown an even greater increase than the island's foreign trade, due to the enormous demand here for crude rubber. In fact, our annual business with the island—that is, buying business—has increased tenfold in the last six years. In 1921 we bought products to the value of $6,500,000 from the island, while in 1925 our direct purchases amounted to $45,500,000 and the indirect exports which reached this country via Europe swelled the total to approximately $65,000,000.

RUBBER IS RESPONSIBLE

Rubber, says the Department of Commerce, is responsible for this striking increase of Sumatra's export trade with the United States. In 1925 this country took 55,000 tons of the island's plantation products, or 42 per cent of the total exported, and rubber makes up the bulk of these plantation products.

The greatly increased prosperity of Sumatra has been reflected in a marked degree in increased imports of practically all lines of goods, the survey indicates. A country that is selling its products advantageously abroad always has money to spend on the products of those countries that constitute its best markets, and Sumatra is no exception to the rule. It not only has more money to spend, but is actually spending it. It is estimated that Sumatra's total imports for 1925 amounted to 90,000,000 florins, an increase of 20 per cent over the previous year and fully 50 per cent over 1924.

A florin under normal conditions is worth about 40 cents in our money. This means that Sumatra is buying abroad about $35,000,000 worth of goods a year. That is not a large business, as compared with the foreign purchases of countries that run into the billions, but it means that Sumatra is a growing market for the exports of the United States.

AMERICAN CARS BOUGHT

Recent figures of the island's imports from this country are not available, but the officials say it is evident that they have increased proportionately with those of Great Britain and Germany. Automobiles constitute the largest single item of our business with Sumatra and it is stated that about 85 per cent of all the machines shipped into the country are of American make. Some 1500 automobiles and trucks were imported into the Sumatra east coast in 1926, it is estimated, as compared with 1000 in 1925.

All of this leads the Department of Commerce to lay emphasis on the fact that Sumatra undoubtedly offers the greatest opportunities for immediate expansion of export markets of any of the Dutch East Indies. The trade of the island with the United States has grown steadily in recent years and an ever-rising demand for a variety of American specialties is developing.

But of perhaps even more significance is the lesson of rubber, learned from Sumatra, as it may be applied in the Pacific insular possessions of this country. If a rubber industry can be developed in the Dutch East Indies that will bring so much of prosperity it is reasonably to be expected that something of the same kind can be done in the Philippines.

HISTORY OF POSSESSIONS

The Dutch created their East India Company in 1602. This company conquered successively the Dutch East Indies and ruled them for almost two centuries. In 1798, after the dissolution of the company, the governing of the Dutch possessions was taken over by the mother country.

The islands embrace 733,000 square miles of territory and the total population in 1920 was about 50,000,000, which is about seven times that of the Netherlands. Of this population 169,708 were Europeans and 876,505 were orientals, chiefly Chinese and Arabs.

The chief occupation of the people is agriculture. The greater part of the land is government property, but there are many private estates and their number is increasing. At one time the government or the owners of the estates were entitled by law to one day's gratuitous labor each week from each laborer on an estate, or, instead, to the payment of one guilder per head annually. In 1882 the greater part of these enforced services was abolished, and the remainder in 1914 in return for an increased poll tax. Agriculture was encouraged by the granting of waste lands on hereditary leases for seventy-five years.

CHIEF PRODUCTS

The chief products are sugar, rubber, tea, cassava—from which tapioca is made—gum benzoe, copal, coffee, tobacco, cinnamon, nutmeg, mace, cacao, maize, cotton, sisal, peanuts, cocoanuts, quinine, copra, petroleum, cinchona bark, miscellaneous foodstuffs, and palm oil.

The total foreign trade of all the islands in 1924 amounted to 2,271,347,000 florins, which was divided into 68.5 per cent for exports, and 31.5 per cent for imports. This gave the islands a favorable balance of trade of no mean proportions.

The islands buy an enormous quantity of cotton piece goods every year. In one year this item accounted for nearly a third of the total increase in imports. This suggests the possibility of building up the market there for the cotton products of the United States, a thing that is a matter of prime concern to this country now, by reason of the overproduction of raw cotton and the virtual collapse of prices for it.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.—[Advertisement.

PAINTING SOLD FOR $800,000

Ohio Museum Purchases Luini Canvas Found on Italy Frontier

GENEVA, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) A painting by Bernardino Luini, the celebrated master of the Lombard school and friend of Da Vinci, which was recently discovered at Bergamo on the Swiss-Italian frontier, has been sold to the museum of Cleveland, O., for $800,000.

Luini, when young, used to execute orders for paintings for 15 shillings plus board. Several of his beautiful paintings have been wrongly attributed to Leonardo.

MOSCOW, Feb. 8. (AP)—Fearing the imminence of war, peasants of the Pskov, Mogilev and Yaroslav districts of Russia have bought up all available stocks of salt, causing a famine in the commodity. They remember the high price of salt during the last civil war.

UTAH VOTE PRESAGES RACING LAW REPEAL

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—The lower House of the Utah Legislature late today defeated an amendment to Reed racing law. The vote forecasts ultimate repeal of the law and doing away with parimutuel racing here. The amendment provided for a limited meet of thirty days instead of giving the commission power to approve as many meets as it sees fit. The vote was 24 to 28 and came after an entire day of debate. Utah has had two seasons of racing under the law.

SPELLING TAUGHT WITH A SMILE

WILL THE "SYSTEM" TAKE ALL THE DRUDGERY OUT OF LEARNING TO SPELL!
WHO WAS THAT LADY I SAW YOU WITH LAST NIGHT — AH — ER — ER?
NEW SYSTEM OF TEACHING SPELLING — BY USING GAGS!
S-MILE-S
SPELL THE LONGEST WORD KNOWN! A MILE BETWEEN THE FIRST AND LAST LETTER

PULLMAN (Wash.) Feb. 8. (AP)—"Orthography with a smile," might be the slogan for a system of teaching spelling devised by Joseph M. Tewinkel, instructor at Washington State College here.

His method is designed to take the drudgery out of learning to spell; to eliminate the monotony of "education through repetition."

Subconsciously, a child learns the words he reads daily in the comic strips, in billboard and street-car advertising and in movie subtitles, Prof. Tewinkel holds. Therefore, learning can be made painless.

So he composes tests for the student to write. His dictation deals with subjects that entertain the youthful, sometimes employing breezy newspaper English or incorporating jokes such as are supposed to bring relaxation to the tired business man.

Probably the most ancient of all "gags," "Who was that lady I seen you with last night?" and its venerable response, "That warn't no lady, that were my wife," is one he has employed. The student's product, however, must be correct as to grammar and spelling.

In one test he used in the three short paragraphs, the following words which are frequently mis-spelled: civilization, amuse, business, ecstasy, humorous, rhythm, conscientious, judgment, occurred, received, benefited, laboratory, recommend, efficient, supercede, all right, separate, description, imagination.

Last Hope for Six Condemned Men Shattered

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Their last hopes for delay shattered, six convicts at the Joliet penitentiary, recently convicted of the murder of Deputy Warden Peter Klein, are awaiting death on the gallows Friday morning.

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles, after a hearing, announced tonight that no recommendation for clemency or delay will be made. Gov. Small, at Springfield, announcing that he had not been notified of the board's finding, added that he will make no move to halt the hangings.

"I will not grant a stay," he asserted. "The case is closed so far as I am concerned. The murder of Deputy Warden Klein was a vicious act."

Luis Lupian, Mexican Consul in Chicago, appeared before the Parole Board to plead for three of his countrymen among the six condemned. They are Gregorio Rigo, Robert Torres and Bernardo Roa. He pleaded for time in order that a defense could be gathered.

Mrs. Mary Belle Spencer, their attorney, said that the case should go to the Supreme Court, and that it was the first time in Illinois history that six men had been condemned to hanging for a single murder.

Chairman Clabaugh retorted that he saw no reason why sixty should not be hanged for one murder if the circumstances warranted.

American Mine Under Attack by Armed Mexicans

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) An urgent call from Cinco Minas, a large American mining property near Guadalajara, was received today by Ambassador Sheffield, saying the striking miners, armed with rifles, were shooting up the place. The call asked urgently for troops.

The Embassy at once solicited troops through the Foreign Relations Department. Radical leaders are reported to be urging the miners to commit excesses. Probably the company will suspend work.

The War Department issued an order to send troops to Cinco Minas at once.

Visitors Vote to Keep Nudes in Art Exhibit

OAKLAND, Feb. 8. (AP)—Visitors to the art exhibit in the Oakland Art Gallery today voted approximately 20 to 1 in favor of retaining the "nudes" which thirty Oakland clubwomen asked to have removed from the exhibit.

William H. Clapp, curator of the gallery, offered two petitions to visitors, one asking removal of the nudes and the other asking their retention.

HERO OF ARABIA GIVEN TRIBUTE

Modesty in Adventures and Writing Set Forth

LONDON, Feb. 8. (AP)—George Bernard Shaw has written a laudation of Col. Thomas E. Lawrence, the "uncrowned King who won Arabia," to a catalogue of an exhibition of paintings and drawings, illustrating the Arabian pioneer's famous book, "The Seven Pillars of Wisdom." This is really an abridged edition and only a few copies are available to the public. In the book Col. Lawrence in inimitable prose relates his adventures in Arabia.

"G. B. S." describes Col. Lawrence as "the mystery man, the wonder man, the man who might have, if provoked, put on Arabia Felix and Arabia deserta as a shepherd putteth on his garments, and who did when all the lies and all the legends are substracted, authentically and unquestionably in his own way and with his own hands explode and smash the Turkish dominion in Arabia and join up with Viscount Allenby (the redeemer of Palestine) in Damascus at the head of Arabia Liberata, Arabia Redenta, Arabia Allied to Britania, just when Britania wanted her."

Shaw describes how Lawrence impoverished himself to produce the unique book and how the government was nonplussed as to how to reward such a strange genius who had rejected commands and bureaucratic jobs and joined the Royal Air Force as a common soldier and exiled himself to India.

He concludes the panegyric with: "What will happen in India next, heaven only knows."

Col. Lawrence's conquest of Arabia stands out as an epic of modern times.

The same modesty which characterized his adventurous life in Arabia also was shown in the publication of his new book. He first wrote it in Paris after the Paris Peace Conference. The manuscript was stolen in a London railway station and never recovered. He then rewrote it, but only a very few copies were published.

It is said that the late Gertrude Bell, who did similar work in Mesopotamia, induced him to publish the present book which is described as a marvel of typography and illustration.

Total of 1000 Boston People Vanish in Year

BOSTON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—In Boston during the past year there were about 1000 persons reported to the police as missing. This does not include the surrounding cities and towns, only the city proper. It is an increase over the number of similar cases reported the previous year. Indeed, for the past ten years, there has been a steady increase in the number of missing persons in Boston each year.

Fortunately, the majority of cases are cleared up without great difficulty. The Missing Persons' Bureau of the Boston Police Department, under Capt. Louis Lutz, veteran police officer, has a particularly efficient record in this work. For instance, out of the 1000 missing persons reported in Boston last year, the bureau has already succeeded in locating all but eighty.

In other words it was called on to find 1000 persons and has actually placed its hands on 920 of them.

And the eighty remaining cases are still on the "open" file at the bureau. Capt. Lutz believes that the majority of them will be solved eventually.

Merchant Gives Pre-Will Gifts to Employees

OAKLAND, Feb. 8. (AP)—Anticipating the provisions of his will, and in gratitude to employees of the store, whom he credited with "making his success possible," Al S. Lavenson today distributed $100,000 to members of the H. C. Capwell organization here.

Seventy-six employees and executives received gifts ranging from $3500 to a few hundred. Lavenson recently retired as a partner in the store after thirty-five years' work there.

Two Sermons at Same Time in One Church

HARRISBURG (Or.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive) — Two sermons are preached regularly every Sunday morning in the little Meninite church here and neither preacher disturbs the other. The reason is that only one preacher is heard.

While the regular pastor is addressing the congregation the other sits in one corner of the church and talks to his parishoners with his hands. That corner is reserved for the deaf and dumb church members. They read their sermon from the motions of Levi Hostetler, deaf and dumb farmer. There are fifteen in his flock.

Extreme Cold Makes Horses Forsake Hills

BUTTE (Mont.) Feb. 8.—Butte has a new problem, stray horses from the hills. As the snows cut off their fodder and as creeks and water holes are frozen, the beasts come in scores and stand pathetically about in backyards, often at the closed doors of what once were stables.

Largest Home-Delivered Circulation

In Southern California

The Audit Bureau of Circulation is a nation-wide organization maintained by publishers and large advertisers to ascertain the exact facts about newspaper and magazine circulations.

The Audit Bureau of Circulation permits newspapers to segregate their home-delivered circulation from their street sales, and needless to say those newspapers having sufficient home-delivered circulation to reflect advantageously on themselves never fail to furnish this information.

The Los Angeles Times is the only Los Angeles morning newspaper which shows its home-delivered circulation in these official reports. The circulation of the Los Angeles Times is 96% home-delivered! It is the largest body of newspaper subscribers on the Pacific Coast and is concentrated within retail shopping distance of Los Angeles.

Two Offerings of Securities Due Out Today

New financing announced for offering in this market today include an issue of $2,500,000 Bessemer Limestone and Cement Company first mortgage 6 1-2 per cent bonds, and an issue of $2,000,000 North Continent Utilities Corporation 6 1-2 per cent convertible sinking fund gold debenture bonds.

A banking group headed by Otis & Co., and including the First Securities Company, will market the securities of the Bessemer Limestone and Cement Company, due February 1, 1947, at par to yield 6 1-2 per cent. The bonds are secured by a first closed mortgage on all fixed assets of the company, appraised as of October 31, last, at $5,826,702.

The securities of the North Continent Utilities, due January 1, 1942, will be offered at 100 and interest to yield 6 1-2 per cent by Coffin, Forman & Co., Inc., George M. Forman & Co. and R. E. Wilsey & Co., Inc. The bonds are convertible on or prior to the date of maturity or redemption into North Continent Utilities 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock.

Eight Arizona Crops Average High Per Acre

PHOENIX, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Figures compiled by the Arizona Industrial Congress show that this State during the past year raised eight crops that ranked first in the country in average acreage yield. They were tame hay, alfalfa, cantaloupes, fall wheat, winter wheat, oats, sweet potatoes and three classifications of hay.

In cotton, California stood first, with an average lint yield of 382 pounds to the acre, compared with Arizona's 330 and a national average of 187 pounds. The California cotton in December had value of $86 an acre and Arizona cotton $45.80, with a national average of $21.33. These figures do not credit the higher prices received for the large Arizona percentage of long-staple. The Arizona cantaloupe average was 220 crates to the acre and the lettuce average 225 crates. Alfalfa grown in this State had an average acreage yield of 4.3 tons to the acre, and all classes of hay were valued at $46.40 an acre.

Oil Company to Close Tampico Refinery Plant

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—The refinery of Transcontinental Petroleum Company at Tampico, Mex., will be closed down within a few days, it was declared today at the offices of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey of which the Transcontinental is a subsidiary. Because of the enforced curtailment of drilling new wells, due to cancellation of permits under the Mexican oil laws, volume of crude oil has steadily dropped off and the working force of the Tampico plant has been materially reduced.

The company's refinery at Matillas terminal, also in the Tampico district, was closed down several days ago.

VEGETABLE OUTLOOK IN TEXAS IMPROVES

OUTPUT OF LOWER RIO GRANDE VALLEY ESTIMATED AT 18,000 CARS

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—The prospects for the 1927 vegetable season in the Lower Rio Grande Valley have changed again during the past few weeks, and the season now promises to be the most successful in the history of the valley, with the total shipments estimated at from 18,000 to 20,000 cars.

W. N. Coe, Jr., Mercedes, estimated that the shipments would pass the record movement of last year by about 2000 cars, and other shippers are even more optimistic in estimating the total movements from this section.

The estimate is due primarily to the unprecedented heavy plantings of tomatoes. In the Mercedes district alone between 2500 and 3500 acres of tomatoes have been planted, and the acreage around San Benito is heavier with the entire valley expected to have out between 8000 and 10,000 acres of tomatoes. It is estimated that the average return on tomatoes in the valley last year was $500 an acre and in one or two instances growers made as high as $1300 an acre from this crop.

ALLIED PACKERS SHOWS NET LOSS

EDISON MAY ISSUE COMMON

Percentage of Total Capital Out of Line; Rights Would Add to Return; Preferred Status Different

BY EARLE E. CROWE

From the point of view of the common stockholder, a comparison of the $250,000,000 financial structure of the Southern California Edison Company with the ideal set-up for a public utility reveals an interesting conjecture. The deduction is obvious that the preferred stock and bonds are getting slightly out of line, and in the ordinary course of events the issuance of more common stock can be expected as a corrective.

Public-utility bankers generally agree that the ideal capital set-up should consist of 50 per cent in bonds, 30 per cent in preferred stocks and 20 per cent in common stock. At the present time, allowing for the recent sale of bonds and the continuance of the preferred stock distribution, the common stock proportion is about 2 per cent short of the theoretical 20 per cent. The capital structure works out about 52 per cent in bonds, 29.2 per cent in preferred stock and 18.3 per cent in common stock.

MORE COMMON NEEDED

To bring the common up to 20 per cent of the whole, the company would have to issue somewhere around $4,000,000 worth. After the addition of this new stock the proportion of bonds would drop to about 51 per cent and preferred stock to slightly under 29 per cent, or 28.9 per cent.

While this is merely conjectural, it conforms to the recognized principles of sound financing. The Edison company is engaged in an enormous construction program, which has been largely financed by the sale of bonds and preferred stock, and will probably continue along the same line. But the investment positions of the bonds and preferred shares must be maintained as the outstanding amounts increase. This calls for the building up of the equity interest, or the amount of common stock, the owners of which are the real owners of the property.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has been active in the last few years in building up the equity in the property to correspond with the increases in bonds and preferred stocks. In recognition of the risks the common stockholders assume as equity holders, Pacific Gas has undertaken to compensate them additionally by offering subscription rights to the common stockholders to subscribe to the new stock. The value of the rights serves to increase the annual return.

RIGHTS POSSIBLE

As long as the Edison company will ultimately have to increase the amount of common, it is logical to assume that the offering of subscription rights will be utilized to add to the return of the common stockholders. Rights worth in the neighborhood of 50 cents would increase the annual return to $2.50, or the equivalent of a 10 per cent basis for the stock. A 10 per cent basis, in fact, is about the return on par value that the common stockholders should expect by this time, either in outright cash payments or by way of subscription rights.

Once the precedent of subscription rights is established, it is likely that it would be continued each year, until the major financial program of the company is completed. And after that the company would probably be in a position to increase the common dividend to $2.50, or 10 per cent.

PREFERRED CONTRACT

Preferred stockholders, in the nature of their contract, cannot expect to participate in any offering of common stock that may come. The preferred stockholders forego the right to participate in extra distributions in exchange for a preferential claim on earnings ahead of the common, the assurance of a fixed return, which is cumulative if not paid, in the case of Edison preferred, and a prior claim on assets in the event of dissolution.

The right to vote is one of the principal assets of preferred stockholders, and they have a legitimate complaint if this right to protect their position is endangered by the issuance of new common stock. In the case of the conjecture under consideration, the issuance of $4,000,000 of additional common would still leave the preferred with 60 per cent of the voting power.

Federal Mining is Reversed in Dividend Fight

WILMINGTON (Del.) Feb. 8. (AP)—The Supreme Court of Delaware today sustained Chancellor Wolcott in overruling the demurrer filed by Federal Mining and Smelting Company to the complaint of H. Content & Co., which involves right to pay dividends by a corporation without marking off depreciation of the mines or oil wells.

The contention of the complaint was that the defendant has no legal right, so long as any shares of its preferred stock are outstanding, to pay dividends on its common stock when and so long as the amount of the defendant's net assets is less than the amount of its paid-in or invested capital.

The court held that "whether a corporation engaged in exploitation of wasting assets shall be excepted from operation of our statute, is a question for the Legislature to decide. It may be fortunate that the Legislature is now in session."

Florida Fruit Frost Damaged Report Shows

ORLANDO (Fla.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Recent frost and drought damage has reduced estimates of Florida citrus production this season to 13,500,000 boxes, a decrease of 3,000,000 boxes under January estimates, it was announced today by the local office of the Federal Department of Agriculture.

This forecast includes fruit already shipped, and divides the total expected production into 8,000,000 boxes of oranges and 5,500,000 boxes of grapefruit.

Shipments last season aggregated 14,700,000 boxes.

PLANS FOR OPENING OF BANK UNIT LAID

PACIFIC-SOUTHWEST BRANCH ON LA BREA TO START ON 19TH INST.

Announcement was made yesterday of plans for the opening of the Country Club and La Brea branch of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, a new branch bank, on the 19th inst. The branch occupies the ground floor of the Wittekind Building and is equipped with up-to-date fixtures and contains reinforced concrete safe deposit vaults.

Capt. Ian Forgan Mactavish of the branches inspection staff of the central office will be manager of the new branch, and H. L. Booker, assistant manager of the Thirty-third and Main streets branch, will be assistant manager.

Capt. Mactavish has had an interesting career as a banker and a soldier. He came to Los Angeles in 1922 and with the exception of two years as comptroller for Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., he has been with the Pacific-Southwest bank since that time.

Mr. Booker has been a banker in Oklahoma, Arizona and here for many years and has occupied various positions in the profession up to and including that of president of a bank.

MOUNTAIN STATES TELEPHONE REPORTS

DENVER, Feb. 8. (AP)—During 1926 more than $6,000,000 was expended by the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company for additions to the company's plant in the States of Montana, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and at El Paso, Tex., the corporation's annual report issued here today by its president, Frederick H. Reid, stated. Total revenues for the year were $18,-549,000 leaving net earnings of 7.08 per cent on the average book value of the property after providing for all expenses, the report discloses.

SUN LIFE INVESTOR IN UNITED STATES

CANADIAN COMPANY REPORTS HOLDING AT NEARLY $150,000,000

Indicating its faith in the growth of industry in the United States, nearly $150,000,000 is invested by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada in bonds and preferred and common stocks of United States corporations, it was revealed in the company's annual statement issued yesterday in Montreal. More than $34,-000,000 was invested by this company during 1926.

The largest amount of life assurance ever written by a Canadian company, more than $265,000,000 of paid-up business, is the record the Sun Life has created for 1926. Annually this institution has set a new mark in Canadian life assurance history until today it has over $1,250,-000,000 of assurances in force.

Undivided surplus of the company now stands at more than $34,000,000, exclusive of contingency funds of $11,000,000. Its assets show an increase for the year of more than $42,-000,000, bringing the total assets close to $350,000,000.

Since the company began business in 1871, $257,816,000 has been paid to living policy holders and beneficiaries in death claims, matured endowments, etc. Nearly $40,000,000 was paid out in the year just closed, of which over $27,000,000 was paid to living policy holders.

WATER CONQUERED IN BOUNDARY CONE MINE

Water in the shaft of the Boundary Cone mine at Mokelumne Hill has been conquered, and the flow now is considered an asset in washing the gravel, according to a report just received from John McSorley, superintendent at the mine, by the local office of Boundary Cone. Crews are working night and day on the development of the cross-cut, which is believed to be in the channel and near the bar.

WOULD USE SURPLUS TO PAY DEBTS

Tregoe Says Government's Profits Should Not Go to Reduce Income Taxes

Surplus accruing from the fiscal operations of the Federal government this year should be applied to the public debt, in conformity with the principles of sound credit practice, in the opinion of J. H. Tregoe, executive manager of the National Association of Credit Men, who is in Los Angeles on a tour of the Southwest.

"It would be pleasing to the taxpayer to have this melon cut," Mr. Tregoe said, "but I feel that the application of the surplus on the principal of the public debt would prove more beneficial and more satisfactory in the long run than would its division among the income taxpayers on the basis of their returns for 1926."

Mr. Tregoe said further that he believed the present basis of taxation should not be revised, even though it has resulted in a surplus this year, "for there is no telling what may happen in our trade and financial activities in 1927."

"The government's income is a changeable quantity," he said, "and the same basis of taxation, direct or indirect, may produce a surplus one year, but result in a deficit in another year. It would not be wise in my opinion, to revise the basis of Federal public revenue without making a most careful and systematic scrutiny of the sources of income."

Commenting on the surplus, Mr. Tregoe said, "The disposal of the surplus is not a matter of Congressional concern alone; it is of interest to all the people, for we all pay taxes, directly or indirectly, and we are therefore concerned with the cost of running the government and with the manner in which it spends its income."

Quotations on Hay Markets at Previous Level

Hay markets were somewhat easier, although prices were quotably unchanged during the week ending the 4th inst., according to the Weekly Hay Market Review of the United States Department of Agriculture. Receipts and country loadings increased in the producing areas with more favorable weather. The mild weather in some of the principal consuming areas caused a slackening of the demand for shipments to this territory.

Alfalfa held steady for good leafy hay, but lower grades were draggy. Receipts at Kansas City increased slightly, due to improved weather. A large part of the receipts were from Colorado as road conditions in Nebraska and Kansas restricted hauling. Most of the hay was of medium to lower grades and hardly suitable for shipping demand. The States to the north were the best outlet, although Wisconsin and Illinois were also liberal buyers and there was some improvement in the southern and southeastern demand. Inquiries for shipping were confined mostly to top grades of good color hay. Omaha reported the movement retarded by unfavorable weather and bad roads. Alfalfa mills were taking only small quantities.

Business Philosophy

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

Human life is so short that we must learn from the experiences of others as well as our own.

Honesty appeals to all men even though they are not strong enough to practice it.

Brains count—if you're willing to work.

A man whose work is with the micrometer, the level, the square or a plumb line is very apt to be honest in his man-to-man transactions.

RAIL PINCH JOGS MEMORY

Squeeze in Wheeling Raises Question of Kinship to Famous Northern Pacific and Other "Corners"

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—If the squeeze in Wheeling and Lake Erie Railway shares does not represent a corner, it is so much akin to one that in the financial district the event plainly calls to mind the great corners of history. By its rise within a month from 27 1-2 to 90 or 245 per cent, the stock, which at a 7 per cent premium loans at the dearest rate ever officially recorded, has jumped suddenly into the limelight, but what interests serious-minded financiers now is not the gyrations in this particular issue. They want rather to know wherein this situation resembles or differs from others that have gone before and how the present wild movement in certain of the low-priced railroad shares will affect the general market.

Ever since the famous Morris Canal and Banking Company corner in January, 1835, when the stock rose from almost nothing to 185, corners have been dramatic episodes in Wall street. Usually they have had an unsettling influence on the general market since an abnormal movement always raised the question of its permanency. In November, 1865, the stock of an obscure western road was driven from 60 to 250 and the Prairie du Chien corner went down in history as another predecessor to the three outstanding corners of the last quarter of a century. The important corners that have been recognized by the New York Stock Exchange since 1900, are, of course, the one in Northern Pacific shares in 1901, the Stutz corner in 1920 and the Piggly Wiggly corner in 1923.

In each of these the principals were fairly well known to the speculative community, as were the reasons for their action. In the fight for control between the Hill-Burlington-Great Northern party, for which J. P. Morgan & Co., were bankers, and the Harriman-Union Pacific party, for which Kuhn Loeb & Co. were bankers, the Northern Pacific shares were driven up to 1000 before the bankers finally agreed upon a settlement. Panic followed in which stocks were dumped to the right and left in perhaps the most memorable day in the history of the stock exchange. In the Stutz motor car stock corner of March 31, 1920, the move was traceable to Allan A. Ryan who rose from his sick bed to come down to Wall street to thwart an effort to foil his plans. The stock rose quickly from 100 to 391 before it was suspended from trading and afterward touched 71 at auction. Even the power behind the throne in the Piggly Wiggly corner was known at the time of the fireworks.

The squeeze in the Wheeling and Lake Erie in the last few weeks has been shrouded in more mystery that surrounded the three outstanding corners of the present century to date, but in one other important detail it differs from the majority of those that have preceded it since the formation of the stock exchange. The reference is to the effect of the wild movement on the general market. It would not be accurate to say that the market has paid no attention to the situation in Wheeling and Lake Erie, but that the delicate position of this, and, for that matter, one or two other issues, has not to date unsettled the tome of the market must now be as plain as it is fortunate.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, Feb. 8. (By Wireless)—The markets today were quiet, but fairly steady. Chinese issues were a trifle better.

The most active sections were tin, the minerals and oils, the last-named market becoming large. Increasing attention is being given to the fact that consumption of oil is overtaking production in spite of the recent increase in output.

Industrials were irregular, but the tobacco group was good, and although the imperials show an increase of only £83,000 in profits for the year, the figures are the highest ever recorded. Sterling was again weak.

The purchase of £585,000 of gold by American interests created an unsettling influence in investment stocks and the tone at the closing today was weak. Home rails, however, rallied after the recent prolonged fall which, on the eve of dividend declarations, is encouraging. Hope that the results will be better than had been expected or else had been over-discounted, was probably responsible for the improvement.

Budget for Year Set for Utility Group in North

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Great Western Power Company, San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation and Midland Counties Public Service Corporation, the three western subsidiaries of the North American Company, will spend $20,-000,000 in construction and operation this year, it was announced today by Emory Wishon, vice-president and general manager of the three California utilities.

The allotment is $10,506,135 to Great Western Power; $8,555,385 to San Joaquin Light and Power, and the remainder to Midland. According to Wishon, the program is one of the most extensive in the history of the companies and is designed to meet new business demands. One of the most important construction items is the projected 220,000-volt steel-tower transmission line 100 miles long from Brighton, near Sacramento, to Feather River, giving four main feeds.

SALES LARGEST SINCE OCTOBER

Speculation in Rail Shares Features Activity

Merger Rumors Send Several Issues to New Highs

Remington Typewriter Leads Industrial Advance

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Excited speculation in the railroad shares, several of which were bid up to record high prices on the flood of merger rumors which followed the announcement that control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie had passed from the Rockefellers to three eastern trunk-line systems, overshadowed all other developments in today's active stock market. Total sales, which ran close to 2,500,000 shares, were the largest of any session since last October.

Industrials showed more irregularity, although a sensational advance of 21½ points in Remington Typewriter common to a new high record at 160½ on the resumption of dividends and merger rumors attracted widespread attention. Baldwin Locomotive and Hudson Motors showed substantial gains, but several of the other recognized leaders, such as U. S. Steel common, General Motors, Allied Chemical and American Smelting either showed little change or lost ground. Brokers reported that some of the liquidation in those issues was based on the belief that speculative activities in some other quarters were being carried to excess.

The large reduction in brokers' loans reported for last month by the New York Stock Exchange had a favorable effect on sentiment. Money rates continued easy, and dividend news was favorable, the United Fruit Company declaring an extra payment of $1.50. Copper metal was quoted at 12¾ cents, the lowest price in nearly three years.

Contrary to earlier expectations, the Stock Exchange took no action to relieve the tension in the common and preferred stocks of the Wheeling and Lake Erie. The common soared 35 points to a new record high at 130, and then dropped back to 100, and the preferred fell from a high of 90 to 83.

Meanwhile, spirited bidding developed for the common stocks, of other carriers, new high records being established by Reading, Chicago Great Western common and preferred, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Bangor and Aroostook, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, St. Paul common and preferred, New York, Ontario and Western, New Haven, Texas and Pacific, Wabash common and Denver and Rio Grande Western preferred. Western Maryland issues lost ground.

The sharp run-up in Remington was associated with reports of an early merger of that company with

SILVER MARKET BRIGHTEST SPOT

Defeat of India's Program Stirs Recovery Hope

Lead Consumers Stocking Up at Attractive Price

Zinc Gains Fraction; Copper Makes Further Drop

Silver has furnished the bright spot in the metal market with a rise in price of about 3 cents to 60, lead standing still, zinc rising 20 points to 6.45 and copper dropping to 12 7-8 cents.

The silver-buying movement is largely speculative, as the recommendation of the India Currency Commission is now being discussed before the Indian Legislature at Delhi, and the increasing price indicates that those who are studying the situation believe the sentiment is against the adoption of their recommendations.

Due to the fact that about two-thirds of the silver production goes to India and China, the conditions within those countries reflect quite directly upon the silver situation. Some see a better silver future in the present Chinese troubles, arguing that the real issue in China is industrial advancement, and with industrial advancement will come a demand for more silver than can be supplied.

The figures are not all available as yet for the British India silver excess of imports over exports for 1926, but, based upon the first ten months, the total will exceed 115,000,000 ounces, as against 107,000,000 during 1925 and 93,000,000 during 1924.

LEAD TRADE BETTER

Lead buying is heavy as the price is low, and manufacturers are taking advantage and stocking up for their spring requirements. Two cuts have been made in the A. S and R. contract price during the past two weeks, 7.85 to 7.60 to 7.40, and it was not until the latter figure was reached that buying was stimulated.

The lead production for 1926 in the United States totaled 698,838 tons, as compared with the former record year of 1925, when 672,245 tons were produced. There was a corresponding increase in Mexico and Canada, as they produced 228,280 tons and 139,276 tons, respectively, in 1926, as against 205,189 and 124,277 tons, respectively, in 1925.

The buying of zinc is also good, starting two weeks ago, when the price touched 6.35 and continuing after the reaction. The buying is scattered as to delivery, running over the next three months.

Zinc likewise showed considerable production advance during 1926, the United States producing 638,583 tons of slab zinc during the last year, as against 590,928 tons during 1925. The other large zinc-producing countries are Belgium and Polish Silesia, which countries produced 209,674 and 116,541 tons, respectively, during 1926, as against 189,473 tons and 107,226 tons, respectively, during 1925.

COPPER DULL

Copper will naturally be slow at the present price, as this price is lower than the large producers are willing to sell, and hence they are out of the market, but it is reported that the fabricators' February requirements are pretty well ordered in advance, and even copper offered at the low-quoted figure is not finding ready buyers.

The production of refined copper in the United States set a new high, totaling 1,440,454 tons, which is a 6½ per cent increase over 1925. The steady increase of the last five years is shown by the following: 1922, 788,826 tons; 1923, 1,163,865 tons; 1924, 1,300,282 tons; 1925, 1,352,809 tons, and 1926, 1,440,454 tons.

On the other hand, export shipments have not had the same trend, as the 1926 shipments were about 11 per cent less than the 1925 shipments. However, this condition was due to certain well-defined reasons, such as the British coal strike, the French financial conditions, etc., and does in no way mean that the needs of the European countries were less, but means that they have not satisfied the needs for the metal.

With the improved condition now existing in Europe as compared with last year, we have every reason to expect that increase in European demand is going to more than care for any decreases which seem imminent in domestic demand, coming from a slump in the building trades and automobile industry.

Foreign observers report that the German industrial recovery is worrying manufacturers of other European countries, which is an encouraging sign, as it is making them realize that it will be necessary to replace their antiquated machinery and old-fashioned methods with modern equipment.

There is nothing in the copper situation which would tend to bring buyers of copper into the market for quantity orders or anything to change the hand-to-mouth buying policies of the copper producers during the next year will determine much of the extent of the anticipated prosperity of the industry, and it is not believed that the producers are going to repeat the over-production mistakes of the past, and, if production does come in excess of requirements, we are more likely to see the copper held back and not offered for sale.

Whether the producers like it or not, the evidence points to a continued low price of copper, and numerous interviews with people of prominence in the copper world indicate reasonable satisfaction with the price, as the present "normal" price of copper has been greatly lowered by greater efficiency and improved metallurgy.

The production figures of the last few months have shown a steady increase without the corresponding consumption increase, thus increasing the surplus stocks, and it may be that some of the producers are beginning to figure that greater production, with lower costs and lower prices, will actually make greater net. This is getting away from the "stabilization" policy and the next few months are going to tell the tale as to whether the policy of balancing consumption and production is going to maintain, or whether there will be a return to the "survival-of-the-fittest" policy.

THE INVESTOR

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—More than ordinary interest attaches to the offering last week of $95,000,000 Missouri Pacific Railroad first and refunding mortgage 5 per cent bonds.

In the first place it was the first time on record that any one banking institution ever undertook to place such a large issue without the aid of a carefully selected selling syndicate.

Secondly, it is not taking any laurels from Kuhn, Loeb & Co. to state that their ability to handle the transaction alone indicates probably more clearly than any other development this year the enormous investment appetite of the American public at this time.

A further conclusion that might well be drawn from the deal is that the credit position of the Missouri Pacific and the railroads in general is better now than it has been at any time since the termination of Federal control.

The sale of the new bonds places the Missouri Pacific in a favorable position so far as financial requirements are concerned, the operation having the effect of placing the maturity date on nearly $70,000,000 of bonds and notes ahead to 1977 and at the same time reducing the proportionate amount of interest on all but $12,000,000 of these by 1 per cent.

The road still is faced with a number of maturities within the next few years, however, but the refunding or payment of these should not be difficult, particularly in view of the improved earning position of the road.

The first maturity of consequence takes place on July 1, 1929. At that time $30,551,000 of St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Company unified and refunding 4s fall due. Another maturity on the same part of the system, amounting to $42,874,000 of General Consolidated Railway and Land Grant 5s occurs on April 1, 1931, while a further one of $34,548,000 of the River and Gulf division of the Iron Mountain takes place on May 1, 1933.

Earnings of the Missouri Pacific in 1926 were sufficient to cover all interest charges and leave a substantial margin. William H. Williams, chairman of the board, is authority for the statement that earnings applicable for the payment of bond interest last year amounted to $24,930,072. Interest and other fixed charges, including service on the bonds just sold, amount to $15,181,261 annually.

BANCO DE SONORA TO INCREASE CAPITAL

NOGALES (Ariz.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—From the City of Mexico has come authorization for increase to 1,800,000 pesos of the capitalization of the Banco de Sonora, with branch banks at Navajoa, Cajeme and Culiacan. Permission also is given to function as a mortgage bank.

OIL STOCKS IRREGULAR; BANKS OFF

Bancitaly Reacts to 100; Standard of California Gains; Edison Firm

Activity on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday was well distributed throughout the list with utilities strong and banks, oils and mines irregular.

Bancitaly and Bank of Italy reacted yesterday following the announcement by A. P. Gianinni that the corporation would issue additional stock in an endeavor to hold the price of Bancitaly within bounds. Bancitaly closed a point off to 100 and Bank of Italy closed 2 points lower at 593. First National continued to sell at the previous high, 470.

Julian Petroleum preferred led the activity in the oils, breaking in the morning to 13, rallying later to 13 1-4 and closing in the afternoon 3-8 of a point net lower at 13 1-8, with the heaviest volume in several days. The common held at 2 5-8. Standard Oil of California rallied 1-4 to 60 while Union Oil of California lost a fraction to 53 5-8. Richfield closed fractionally lower at 25 3-8, while California Petroleum added a fraction to 31 5-8.

Los Angeles Investment held at 2.94, as did Southern California Edison common at 33. Los Angeles Gas and Electric preferred moved up a fraction to 99 7-8.

North Star continued its advance of Monday, touching 10, then sold off to a close at 9, a net loss of 1-2 cent. Sunnyside was in demand at 10, Boundary Cone at 7 and Oro Amigo at 4. New Gibraltar on a light turnover added 4 cents to 21.

The Clearinghouse

News of Spring Street

In contradiction to the somewhat pessimistic pictures painted, Whiting Finance Company's record for 1926, in the face of intense competition, contains a cheerful message for Los Angeles finance companies. According to Dwight Whiting, president, a certified audit just completed for 1926 shows that net income before reserve for income taxes amounted to 23.97 per cent of the net paid in capital from stock sales. Before taxes, the company earned nearly $6 a share for the common stock for 1926.

Credit Men to Meet

The Los Angeles Bank Credit Men's Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Alexandria tomorrow evening. M. D. Couch, vice-president and general manager of Blake, Moffitt & Towne, will speak on the "Problems in Dealing with the Small Retailer," from both the wholesalers' and bankers' point of view. S. P. Chase, manager of the Ledger Exchange Bureau, will speak on the functions of that department.

Opens New Office

H. J. Barneson & Co., members of the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and New York Stock Exchange yesterday announced the opening of a San Francisco office to do a general brokerage business, specializing in Pacific Coast securities. The offices are located in the Barneson Building.

The Southern New England Ice Company
[With Stock Purchase Warrants]

To be dated February 1, 1927 To mature February 1, 19

Principal and semi-annual interest (February 1 and August 1) payable at The New York Trust Company, New York City, and The National Shawmut Bank of Boston, Boston, Mass. without deduction for Federal Income Taxes not exceeding 2% per annum. Coupon bonds in interchangeable denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100; registerable as to principal. Redeemable at the option of the Company, on any interest payment date, on sixty days' published notice, to and including February 1, 1932, at 110; thereafter to and including February 1, 1937, at 107½; thereafter to and including August 1, 1941, at 105; and thereafter at par, plus accrued interest in each case. The Company will reimburse holders upon proper and timely application for any Personal Property or Securities Tax or income taxes of any State not to exceed in the aggregate 6 mills per annum in respect of each dollar of principal amount of the bonds.

EDWARD C. MASON, BOSTON, MASS., Individual Trustee

Each bond will be accompanied by a detachable warrant entitling the holder of such warrant, for each $100 of principal of such bond, subject to prior termination or alteration of the right, to purchase on or prior to February 1, 1942, 1 share of the No Par Value Common Stock of the Company at a price of $12 per share on or before February 1, 1932, thereafter at $15 per share on or before February 1, 1937, thereafter at $18 per share up to and including February 1, 1942 and otherwise as provided in the First Mortgage.

Mr. Howard H. Davenport, President of The Southern New England Ice Company, summarizes his letter to us as follows:

BUSINESS: The Southern New England Ice Company, a Massachusetts Corporation, has been organized to acquire the ice business, physical assets and good-will of over thirty concerns which now supply artificial and/or natural ice at retail and/or wholesale in a number of important communities in Connecticut, Massachusetts, and New York, having an aggregate population of approximately 700,000. These concerns, with few exceptions, have been operated continuously over a long period of years. The Company will also engage in the sale of coal for domestic consumption, the installation and servicing of mechanical refrigerators, and the icing of refrigerator cars.

PROPERTIES: The ice properties consist of natural ice reserves located at Litchfield (Lake Bantam), Bridgeport and Hartford, Connecticut; Southwick (Lake Congamond) and Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and other communities, aggregating 533,200 tons annual capacity, and modern artificial ice plants at Bridgeport, Derby, Hartford, New Haven and Waterbury, Connecticut, with an annual capacity of 141,375 tons.

INDUSTRY: The manufacture and distribution of ice is one of the important industries of the United States. With the increase in population there has been a constant increase in the sale of ice. It is estimated by the leading trade authorities that the per capita consumption of ice in the United States has increased from 240 lbs. in 1904 to 700 lbs. in 1925, the total domestic output has increased from 9,933,000 tons in 1904 to 40,500,000 tons in 1925, and the annual dollar value of ice consumed from $24,000,000 in 1904 to $265,000,000 in 1925.

In many respects the ice business partakes of the nature of a public utility. The characteristics notably exemplified by the electric light and power industry, with respect to continuous growth of sales and profits, cash business, stable prices and small inventory are shared by the well-managed company.

EARNINGS: For the year ended December 31, 1925, net earnings of the predecessor businesses before Federal taxes and depreciation were reported at $609,477.53, or over 4 times the maximum bond interest charges. Similarly earnings for the ten months ending October 31, 1926, were $484,701.62, or over 3.8 times bond interest requirements for such period.

SECURITY: These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on all the physical properties, to be presently acquired and by a direct lien on other assets and rights. The sound depreciated value of the physical properties, as appraised by Charles T. Main, Inc., Engineers, is $4,534,639 exclusive of tools, wagons, trucks, etc., which are appraised at $287,400 by the management. Thus net tangible assets are equivalent to $2,095 per $1,000 bond outstanding.

SINKING FUND: Beginning February 1, 1928 and semi-annually thereafter the Company agrees to pay to the Trustee for sinking fund $25,250 to be applied to the purchase and/or redemption of this issue. In addition the Company agrees to pay semi-annually into the sinking fund, to be similarly applied, an amount equal to interest on all bonds retired through the sinking fund operation. The Company shall have the privilege of substituting for cash bonds of this issue at cost, said cost not to exceed 105 and accrued interest. It is estimated that through the operation of this sinking fund over 50% of this issue will be retired by maturity.

MANAGEMENT: The management of the Company will be in the hands of officials closely identified with the Metropolitan Ice Company, serving several cities and towns in Greater Boston, and the New England Cities Ice Companies, serving Lawrence and Worcester, Mass., Nashua, N.H., and Portland, Maine.

All legal details will be under the supervision of Messrs. Davies, Auerbach & Cornell, for the Company, and Messrs. Wise, Whitney & Parker, for the Bankers. Examination of the ice business in the territory served and of the position of the Company in such business with report thereof by Messrs. Sanderson & Porter. Appraisals have been made by Charles T. Main, Inc., Engineers, and the R. B. Engineering & Construction Company. The books and accounts of the predecessor businesses have been audited by Messrs. Seidman & Seidman, Certified Public Accountants.

Price 99½ and Interest to Yield over 6½%

The above bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and accepted by us, subject to the approval of all legal proceedings by our counsel. The statements herein are based upon acquisition of all properties of all of the predecessor businesses. If not acquired free of all prior liens, the management agrees to reduce the amount of securities to be outstanding proportionate to the reduced purchase price of the properties acquired. Interim receipts or temporary bonds may be delivered in the first instance exchangeable for definitive bonds when ready.

With each share of Prior Preference Stock will be deliverable as a bonus one share of the Company's No Par Value Common Stock.

Beginning September 1, 1928, the Prior Preference Stock will be entitled to a minimum sinking fund of 1% per annum of the largest principal amount at any time outstanding, plus an additional sinking fund equal to 5% of net earnings after the payment of all charges and preferred stock dividends. Such sinking fund monies are to be used for the purchase or call of this Prior Preference Stock.

On the basis of the appraisals net tangible assets are more than $270 per share of the Prior Preference Stock. Net earnings as reported after bond interest but before Federal Taxes and depreciation, for the year 1925, were over 6 times Prior Preference Stock dividends and for the 10 months ending October 31, 1926 over 5 times such dividends.

Application will be made in due course to list this Prior Preference Stock and the Common Stock on the Boston Stock Exchange.

All legal details will be under the supervision of Messrs. Davies, Auerbach & Cornell, for the Company, and Messrs. Wise, Whitney & Parker, for the Bankers. Examination of the ice business in the territory served and of the position of the Company in such business with report thereof by Messrs. Sanderson & Porter. Appraisals have been made by Charles T. NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Confused price movements characterized today's transactions in the curb market, but trading showed a substantial increase in volume. Collapse of Kay Copper from $1.25 to 25 cents a share, following the recent investigation into transactions in that issue, was one of the day's features.

Price movements in the oils continued to lack uniformity with most of the popular shares showing only fractional changes. Trading in the Southern American issues quieted down but prices held steady.

Several new high records were established in the industrial group. Remington Noiseless Typewriter crossed 37 to a new peak in sympathy with the rapid advance in the stock of the parent company on the "big board." Bancitaly Corporation crossed 103 to a new peak, but lost all its gain. Rand Kardex which has been associated with Remington Typewriter in merger rumors, closed unchanged at 70.

Motors were quiet with prices fairly steady. Coal, radio and food shares also showed little change. A point advance in Snia Viscosa featured the artificial silk group. Universal Pictures responded to a favorable earnings report by advancing to a new high level for the year.

New peak prices were registered in the public utility group by Associated Gas and United States Light and Heating.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

WOOL MARKETS

BOSTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Anticipating favorable developments for heavyweight goods, a few dealers are holding medium wool at a little higher figure. Up to 93 and 95 cents is asked on certain offerings of 3-8 territory, but there is a free outlet at only 90 cents or under for average lots. For Ohio 1-4 blood as high as 46 cents in the grease is asked.

A Legal Investment
Yielding 6.25%

A DECIDEDLY high grade first mortgage bond yielding 6.25%, is offered by GARDEN FOUNDATION, Incorporated, First Mortgage 6¼% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, due 1937. Bonds are a legal investment for California Savings Banks and Trust Funds and are guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Mortgage Insurance Corporation.

Bonds are secured by a direct first mortgage on approximately 3500 acres of land, located between the University of California at Los Angeles and the Pacific Palisades, appraised at $7,360,000, or over $3000 in security for each $1000 bond.

About 1000 acres of this land will be devoted to the development of Botanical Gardens, one of the most important public projects outlined for Southern California.

Exempt from California Personal Property Tax and with Normal Federal Income Tax up to 2%, paid by the Company.

First Mortgage Twenty-Year 6½% Gold Bonds
To be Dated February 1, 1927 To Mature February 1, 1947

Redeemable as a whole or in part by lot on any interest paying date on sixty days published notice at 105 and interest up to and including February 1, 1932; at 103½ and interest thereafter up to and including February 1, 1937; at 102½ and interest thereafter up to and including February 1, 1942; and at 101 and interest thereafter prior to maturity.

BUSINESS: The Bessemer Limestone and Cement Company has been organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, to acquire the properties and business of a company of the same incorporated under the laws of the State of Ohio in 1919. The business was originally established in 1888.

The Company owns a large deposit of limestone at Bessemer, Pa., and its business originally consisted entirely of the production of fluxing-stone for the iron and steel industry and crushed stone for construction purposes. In 1920 the company erected a cement plant, which now has an annual capacity of 1,500,000 barrels, for the conversion of its limestone into cement, and at the present time slightly less than 50% of stone produced is used in its cement plant, the balance being sold largely as fluxing-stone to the steel companies operating open hearth and blast furnaces in this district. Limestone and shale are used by the company as the chief raw materials for its cement.

Limestone deposits owned or under lease by the Company are estimated to contain over 50,000,000 tons equivalent to about 60 years' supply at the present rate of consumption. The overburden contains shale which is used by the Company in the manufacture of cement, and coal which is used for fuel for the Company's locomotives, steam cranes, steam shovels, etc. Some shale is also sold for the manufacture of brick.

SECURITY: This issue of bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first closed mortgage upon all the fixed assets of the Company, appraised as of October 31, 1926, by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., at a sound depreciated value of $5,326,702. The Company's balance sheet as of October 31, 1926, adjusted to give effect to this financing, shows net tangible assets applicable to these bonds of $6,420,595, or $2,568 for each $1,000 bond.

EARNINGS: Net earnings of the predecessor company available for interest and federal taxes, after allowance for depletion and depreciation, and after elimination of special charges of non-recurring character (averaging about $32,000 per year), as taken from the certified accounts of Price, Waterhouse & Co. for the 3 years and 10 months ending October 31, 1926, and from the Company's reports for the months of November and December, 1926, have been as follows:

1925	745,644.55
1926	463,409.14

Average annual net earnings for the four year period as given above were $681,057.83 or 4.19 times maximum annual interest requirements on this issue.

SINKING FUND: The indenture securing this issue of bonds will provide for a sinking fund which it is estimated will retire approximately 85% of this issue, prior to maturity.

MANAGEMENT: The executive officers of the Company will include the writer and some of his associates who have for many years controlled the Standard Slag Co., which with its affiliated corporations, is the largest organization in the country dealing in slag. The writer with others, including both operating and executive officers of the Company, is investing over $1,400,000 in cash in the class "B" shares of the Company. The Company will continue in the operation of its properties the majority of those who have been in charge of their successful operation in the past.

We offer these bonds when as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to the approval of counsel Messrs. Tolles, Hogsett and Ginn, of Cleveland, for the bankers and Messrs. Harrington, Deford, Huxley and Smith, of Youngstown, for the company. Delivery may be made in the form of temporary bonds or interim receipts of the trustee.

Rand Kardex, and possibly Burroughs Adding Machine, but these lacked confirmation. Producers and Refiners, Middle States Oil, Barnet Leather, Marlin Rockwell and Murray Body Corporation also reached new high ground.

In the commodity markets, cotton and wheat futures showed moderate improvement, while coffee and sugar prices yielded slightly.

Call money held steady at 4 per cent all day. Time money rates were easier, the short maturities again being quoted on a flat 4 3-8 per cent basis, with 4½ per cent asked for the longer dates. Prime Commercial Paper was unchanged at 4 to 4 1-4.

A sharp drop of 18 points in Spanish pesetas, which were quoted around 16.75 cents, was the only change of consequence in the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling ruled slightly higher around $4.84 11-16 and French francs around 3.93 cents.

The Safe Course Pays

ONE of the greatest dangers that confronts the average investor is the temptation to venture into the field of high interest rates. Many people who have no intention of speculating, incur serious losses through the purchase of unsafe securities.

Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates of the Mortgage Guarantee Company are designed for the investor who wants the highest degree of safety that it is humanly possible to provide, and who is content with the fair and logical yield of 6%.

The stringent regulations under which these Certificates are issued, and the guarantee of both principal and interest, backed by resources of more than $50,000,000.00, are set forth in an interesting booklet which will be mailed upon request.

40% Greater Savings

Savings mean productiveness, thrift and buying power. Buying power means capacity to provide for the necessities and comforts of life.

The average savings account per man, woman and child in the United States is $211. In the 11 States served by the Associated System it is $[illegible], or nearly 40% larger.

The growth of the electric light and power industry depends upon the buying capacity of its customers. The greater their purchasing power, the more they will avail themselves of the appliances and labor saving devices which the use of electricity affords.

The thrift and buying power of the population served by the Associated properties is reflected in the more than average growth in customers and electric output. The electric kilowatt hours sales increased 70% and the number of customers 75% since 1920.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—After a week of steady declines under profit-taking, French obligations returned to the center of interest in the bond market today. Aside from the foreign division, bond trading was quiet, with prices holding fairly steady.

Particular demand focused on the French governmental issues, while some of the railway liens, including Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean 6's and Nord 6½'s had good support. There was a broadening of interest, too, which took in securities hitherto not especially active. Among these were Swiss 5½'s and Good Hope Steel 7's. Belgian governmental loans recorded fractional advances.

Domestic rail mortgages were sluggish, despite active speculation in railroad stocks. A sharp rise of 7 points in Norfolk and Western convertible 6's and one of more than 3 points in Wabash 4's featured trading in this department. Chicago and Alton 3½'s also were firm. National Railroad of Mexico 4½'s displayed weakness, dropping off more than 2 points.

Although industrials generally were steady, material losses were sustained by Anglo-Chilean Nitrate 7's and Granby 7's, while Fram-American 7½'s and Warner Sugar refunding 7's advanced smartly. Public utilities were steady.

There was a fair demand for Federal government bonds, and prices were firm.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

THE RICHARD D. WYCKOFF

An Unsound Investment Position

Too Much Real Estate and Too Few Good Securities.

IT is easy, in any rapidly growing section such as the Pacific Coast, to fall into the error of having too great a proportion of one's funds invested in real estate. This practice violates several fundamentals of safe investing.

IT LACKS DIVERSIFICATION—meaning that too many of the investor's "eggs" are in one "basket."

IT LACKS QUICK MARKETABILITY—which means that quick conversion into cash is either impossible or necessitates pricing considerably below the fair value.

As investment counselors, the Richard D. Wyckoff Analytical Staff, Inc., urges investors to take stock of their affairs and see that a proper balance exists between realty investment and sound security holdings. Having no securities whatever for sale, specializing as we do in investment advice, and having no interests whatever to serve but our clients, we feel we are in the best possible position to offer this suggestion.

The great majority of investors employing Wyckoff Advisory Board Service renew from year to year. Why? Because they have found it profitable—because they enjoy the freedom from anxiety which comes of knowing that the most comprehensive investment advisory service in the country has approved their holdings.

Any man or woman with $10,000 in cash or already invested in high grade securities can afford to employ Wyckoff Advisory Board Service. Wyckoff fees are not as high as those of many other investment counsellors; our policy being to serve thousands at nominal fees instead of a much smaller clientele at much higher fees.

The coupon herewith will bring you our free booklet "The Investors Advisory Board." We suggest you write, telephone or call at our office for information as to how our service can be applied to your individual case.

Wheat Prices Shade Higher on Light Trading

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Offerings of wheat were not large, and with the forecast for colder weather over the belt, and the crop without snow protection, an advance was easily sustained, with the finish about the top, with net gains of ⅝@1⅛c, with September leading. May closed at 1.41⅞@1.42, July 1.35⅝@1.35½ and September 1.33⅛@1.33¼. Corn had a range of around ½c and closed ⅛@¼c higher, with May 81⅜, July 84⅝ and September 86⅝. Oats were unchanged to ⅛c higher, with May 47 and July 47⅝@47½. Rye was ⅝@⅞c higher, with May 1.07⅝@1.08, July 1.04⅞ and September 99½.

Uncertainty regarding the outcome of the proposed legislation at Washington serves to curtail trading on either side of wheat, and while the market was somewhat easier early, offerings on the decline were readily absorbed, with a good part of the new business going into the deferred deliveries. The latter had a range of 1⅛@1⅛c for the day, compared with 1c for the May, and the latter has been steadily losing ground as compared with the July, the spread at the last being around 6½c.

Effect of the immense world's shipments the past week was not apparent in the action of the Liverpool market during the day, and the decline in American on Monday was ignored, the finish being ⅛@¼d higher, with a better demand. The upturn was in the face of predictions that supplies on ocean passage next month would aggregate 96,000,000 bushels, a record, but American traders expressed the belief that the maximum would be around 80,000,000 bushels, or about 15,000,000 bushels greater than was reported on Monday.

Buenos Aires closed ½@1c higher, with March 1.27⅛ and May 1.29⅛. Winnipeg was firm throughout the day and ⅝@1c higher.

Interest in corn was small, and trade largely of a local character. Local operators were on the buying side on the declines, with the action of wheat the main influence. Cash demand failed to show improvement, and the spot basis was 1c lower to 1c higher, with country offerings to arrive small, although cold weather is expected to result in more activity. North American visible stocks increased 2,771,000 bushels for the week, and are 43,387,000 bushels, against 22,629,000 bushels last year.

Eastern houses were on the buying side of oats and the market showed a firm undertone. Seeding of the new crop in parts of Texas is delayed by heavy rains.

Houses with eastern and foreign connections were on the buying side of rye, and with wheat strong, a higher range was easily attained. Selling was mainly by longs and by holders of offers.

Changing orders were in evidence in lard, with longs selling March and buying May, while carriers took the March and packers sold the May. Lard closed 2½@5c lower, with ribs unchanged to 2½c lower and bellies 2½c higher. Cash trade was reported as decidedly slow, with green meats and hams easier.

Western packers reported selling loose lard rather liberally, which is reflected in increase in local stocks, and packers are credited with hedging it by sales of futures. Weakness in hogs had some effect, prices at the yards being 15@25c lower.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The majority of yesterday's estimated run was late in arriving and very little of it had been offered for sale until late afternoon. Demand was only moderate and indications were that most of the run would be held over. Sales made on steers were generally steady with the small supply of she stock selling readily at strong prices. A car of 851-pound California steers made 8.60, while 8.75 was bid on good northern steers, but they were still unsold. Two cars of medium steers brought 8.35, while several lots of common kinds sold down to 7.00 and below.

Correction: Monday's daily report stated that the steer top was 8.80. This was in error. The top should have been 8.70, for a load of 1011-pound northerns.

Odd head and small lots of good heifers sold above 7.00, while odd head of cows cashed from 6.75@7.25. The best cows sold were a load of 870-pound southerns at 6.65. Part loads of medium cows turned from 6.00@6.50, while common kinds sold down to 5.00. Yesterday thirty-nine head of 614-pound heifers from a Southern California feed lot brought 8.10. Cutters turned mostly from 4.00@4.75, with low cutters down to 3.00. Bulls were active and steady, good bulls selling from 6.50@6.75, with the balance, medium kinds, from 6.00@6.25.

CALVES—Quotable steady. Odd head of milk vealers went over from 11.00@13.00, with a few calves around 11.00, while odd lots of common calves and heavies turned from 7.50@9.50.

HOGS—Demand was not overly active and yesterday's small supply met rather slow trade. Prices were generally steady to 5 cents higher, with the top of 13.65 being paid for two loads of 151 and 163-pound butchers. Two loads of 179 and 188-pound butchers made 13.50, with 181-pound holdover hogs at 13.30. Sizeable lots of trucked in butchers averaging 203 to 234 pounds, turned from 12.00@12.50, with a few packing sows from 10.25@10.50. Four loads still remained unsold at a late hour.

SHEEP—None. Medium to choice lambs were quoted from 10.50@12.00, with medium to choice wooled ewes from 6.00@7.50.

PRODUCE MARKET

(U. S. Bureau of Markets.)

Trading was moderate yesterday morning, most lines showing little or no change in prices over Monday. Artichokes were plentiful and moved rather slowly at steady prices. Cauliflower was weaker and liberal offerings of peas from all sections brought slightly lower prices. Lettuce demand continued slow, prices holding about steady with Monday's figures.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—The cotton market had a strong opening today in following the early rise at Liverpool, where a better feeling prevailed over the Chinese situation. Prices here were advanced 7 to 8 points from yesterday's closing with some local, New Orleans and other scattered buying the feature. There was also some local bullish activity and covering of shorts, but after prices had advanced within 2 to 3 points of the quotations reached Saturday, fresh local liquidation and southern selling developed, canceling all the gain.

Later the market was dull, with prices falling to about 5 points under yesterday's closing on some selling by those who had been good buyers early.

This decline sent March to 13.73 cents; May, 13.99 cents; July, 14.16 cents and October, 14.35 cents, against the early high of March, 13.84 cents; May, 14.05 cents; July, 14.26 cents and October, 14.46 cents. The lowest prices reached for the season on December 4 were March, 11.80 cents; May, 12.02 cents; July, 12.25 cents; October, 12.46 cents and December, 12.75 cents.

Liverpool futures closed with a net advance of 6 to 9 points against 2 to 3 rise due. Spot there was off 3 points from yesterday's prices early to 9.54d for middling, with the day's sales 10,000 bales. The reaction here did not develop until after the closing cables were in.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Feb. 8. (AP)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Steel sheet quotations are stiffening. Production is increasing in the Youngstown and Chicago districts. Chicago mills are encountering increased competition. Pig iron buying is quiet at St. Louis, following recent reductions of 50 cents a ton by the leading producer. Mill operations in the Middle West are being speeded up to 85 per cent of capacity. Iron and steel scrap quotations are sagging.

Copper market continues easy, although quotations remain unchanged at 12.50@12.62½, delivered Connecticut, with a test of these figures lacking. Lead is strong at 7.25 St. Louis and 7.40 New York. Zinc is easy at 6.57½@6.60 St. Louis. Tin is higher at 69@69.25.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Overnight developments disclosing the activity of big roads in taking huge blocks of Wheeling and Lake Erie out of the street, sent the shares of the road skyrocketing. With the premium still holding at $7 a share, shorts bid frantically for the stock, forcing it up at 5 and 10-point bounds to a peak of 130 shortly before noon. The preferred rose spectacularly also. But the transaction at the top, involving 1000 shares, evidently marked the termination of distress covering. The turn of the day saw the stock drop precipitately to around the opening level, whether or not private settlement had been arranged could not be ascertained, but the street was on the alert for something to explain the sudden easing of the situation.

Buying Sweeps Rails

Demand for other cheap rails was unabated and position or prospects seemed to mean little at the moment. Speculative appetite was whetted and buying went ahead with little thought of possible consequences. Peoria and Eastern, Great Western, with 50 per cent back dividends due on the preferred, the Altons and others in none too attractive positions, went along. In a word, it was hard to reconcile the buying with actual prospects except that many people were buying without any definite guidance except the tape.

Reading Leads Big Rails

Reading again assumed the leadership of the dividend-paying railroad group as recent developments caused a focusing of attention on that stock. It was recalled that New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio between them hold about a 50 per cent interest in the road. More important from the speculative viewpoint was Reading's holdings of Central Railroad of New Jersey, which are now held by trustees pending a favorable opportunity for their disposition. Experienced railroad observers were of the opinion that the Jersey Central stock would bring probably double the price for which it is selling in the open market. This naturally would enhance tremendously the value of Reading.

Precautionary Selling

Increasing nervousness over the embarrassing position of shorts in Wheeling and its possible consequences brought a good deal of cautious selling in other sections of the list at intervals. The opinion seemed to be that a corner was a corner whether it was technical or actual, and past experience has taught that such situations in the long run do much more harm than good to the market as a whole. It was not surprising, therefore, that the disposition to lighten speculative burden should prevail.

Remington Shorts Squeezed

Remington Typewriter shorts seemed to be in almost as bad a way as those in Wheeling. Apparently the action of the Remington board in voting inauguration of dividends on a $5 basis this morning was more or less unexpected. At any rate, it was apparent that bears had put out large lines on the side of the decline during the recent advance in the stock. At 153, the top of the day, Remington was, to say the least, far out of line as a $5 dividend payer, but the urgent character of the buying which catapulted it ahead for a 13-point gain reflected the disposition of shorts to take their losses.

Steel Unusually Quiet

Steel common experienced one of its quietest days in many months, having little part in the proceedings, as speculative interest centered more intensively than heretofore in the railroad list. Steel common apparently was enjoying a well-earned breathing spell pending the publication Thursday of its monthly tonnage statement. While opinion seemed to be that a decrease of roughly 100,000 tons was in prospect, the street having been surprised on several recent occasions, was disposed to wait the actual figures rather than attempt to discount them in advance.

MONTEBELLO LAND TO MARKET BOND ISSUE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Montebello Land and Water Company, operating in Los Angeles county, has been authorized by the Railroad Commission to sell before June 30 at not less than 95 per cent of face value and accrued interest, $50,000 in 6 1-2 per cent serial bonds, the proceeds to be used to pay indebtedness and finance improvements.

GRAIN EXPORTS SHOW INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Grain exports last week from the United States were 3,460,000 bushels as compared with 2,041,000 bushels the week before. Commerce Department figures today give the following comparison between last week's exports and those of the week previous: Wheat, 2,040,000 bushels, against 1,067,000; Rye, 361,000 against 229,000; oats, 62,000 against 84,000; corn, 539,000 against 365,000; barley, 458,000 against 349,000.

AMERICAN BROWN BOVERI NET GAINS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Net income of American Brown Boveri Electric Corporation for 1926 is estimated at $2,000,000, which would be equal to about $3.39 a share on the participating stock after Federal taxes and preferred dividends. The participating stock earned $3.44 a share in 1925.

FURNESS TO ADD SWIFT CARRIERS

Six Motorships Building for Pacific Fleet's Run

Local Schedule Cut from Two Weeks to Ten Days

Action is Prompted by Growing Demands on Service

Six new 10,000-ton speedy motorships now building in British yards will augment the Furness Pacific fleet's run between the Pacific Coast and the United Kingdom before the end of this year, according to advices received at the local offices of the company.

Their entrance will permit an arrival and a departure between here and the United Kingdom every ten days, stepping up the fortnightly service now maintained by four large steamers and two motorships, rated at fifteen knots.

Tremendous trade developments are given as the answer, the service more than doubling since the line's regular advent at this port three years ago. All the new craft will have elegant cabin accommodations for a score of passengers, and all will be bountifully equipped with refrigeration for carrying Pacific Coast perishables back to Liverpool, London and Manchester.

Similar development is under way by practically every foreign line plying between here and Europe, with a decided inclination toward motorships. The Swedish Johnson Line has just completed additions of several such motorships; the Norway Pacific recently added two and will add two more by summer. The Italian-owned Navigazione Libera Triestina is adding four fast passenger and freight motorships, and the British-owned Silver Line Limited is adding four new globe-circling motorships to this run. Similar additions have recently been made by the Hamburg American Lines, and the joint service of the Royal Mail Steam Packet and the Holland-America Line.

Not a single American company now operates a two-way schedule on this run, the recent sale of two United American freighters witnessing the vanishing of the Yankee flag, except for occasional freighters, and the one-way Dollar globe-circling fleet.

MAIL CARRIER WITH HOBBY CALLING ON LINER

Singular as it may seem, here is one United States mail carrier who makes globe-trotting his hobby. He is C. H. White of New York, and he is due at Los Angeles on the Panama mail liner Colombia from Gotham tomorrow morning.

For fifteen years, according to Clay Hutchison, Southern California manager of the line, White has been passing his vacations in visiting scenic and historic parts of Europe and the West Indies. He will make a sally into Death Valley while here.

Fifty-two travelers will disembark here, including Henry Lang, director of the Ingersoll-Rand Company and Mrs. Lang, whose father founded that concern; Miss Margaret Haberich, secretary to Paul Warburg, New York banker; Col. Clifford Ham, collector of customs in Nicaragua; John F. Hawley, Los Angeles coffee merchant; Misses Ruth and Faith Green of Los Angeles, completing a round trip to New York on Panama mail liners, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McKay.

The vessel will discharge coffee, hardwood and eastern merchandise and depart tomorrow night for San Francisco.

K. Ariyama, Japanese consul to Santos, Brazil, was among twenty-seven passengers traveling through to the Orient on the globe-circling Japanese steamer Hawaii Maru of the O.S.K. Line, in from Buenos Aires via the Gulf. The vessel will take on eighty Japanese passengers and 1200 tons of sardines and old newspapers before departing this afternoon.

Another oil service barge, the twelfth built at the Los Angeles shipyards in the past year, will slide down the ways late this week to take her place with the bunkering fleet at Los Angeles Harbor. The craft is 131 feet long, 40 feet of beam and with a depth of 11.6 feet. She has a capacity of 7000 barrels of fuel oil and cost approximately $80,000. Started for the Julian Petroleum Company, she will be commissioned as California and Eastern Oil Company's barge No. 1.

Ulysses S. Grant Jr., and Mrs. Grant head a party of fifty-two Californians booked by the D. F. Robertson's Travel Bureau, to take passage on the Dollar liner President Polk March 5, for a four-months' cruise around the world. It is one of the largest globe-belting parties ever assembled out of this port. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will accompany the travelers, among whom are William Kerckhoff, Fred Miner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ralphs and two children; Mrs. Henry Sherry, Walter Lindley, and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Hill. They will visit Honolulu, Japan, China, the Philippines, Ceylon, Egypt, Palestine and the Holy Land. They will tour Europe by automobile.

The 100-foot Lusitania, one of the largest fishing tenders and bait boats ever built here, will get her sea trials from Al Larson's yards in ten days. She is being built at a cost of $35,000 for Manuel Rose of San Diego, and designed for cruises of 1500 to 3000 miles, for exploring unvisited fishing banks off Mexico. She is equipped with 200-horsepower reversible Diesel engines giving a speed of twelve knots, and her holds are insulated with cork and composition to keep ice for forty days. A high pilot house for sighting distant schools of fish is a feature. She will carry a crew of twelve.

Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific System, and a dozen high officers of that company passed yesterday afternoon inspecting the harbor, escorted by J. V. Carroll, general agent at the port. He was accompanied by Vice-Presidents H. A. Scandrett, E. E. Calvin and F. W. Robinson; R. B. Robertson, assistant traffic manager; W. E. Rauch, industrial agent; J. L. Hauch, assistant to the president and Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of New York. All have been in Los Angeles several days and will continue their stay for another week.

Ring Swallowed During Hold-up Sought by Knife

PEORIA (Ill.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Maurice Sax is in a hospital here for an operation to recover a four-carat diamond ring, valued at $3000, he swallowed when seven armed men held up a gambling house.

Sax, recently indicted with several others in New York for the operation of a baseball pool lottery, placed the ring in his mouth when the robbers entered the place, but it slipped down his throat when one of the invaders prodded him in the ribs with an automatic.

LEAP KILLS SUSPECT

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Daniel Keyes, 33 years of age, was killed today when he leaped from the second-story window of a vacant building to avoid arrest when police came to the rescue of Dorothy Kavanaugh, 19, whose screams, when a score of men attacked her, aroused the neighbors.

The girl told the police she had been lured to the building. All but three of the twenty men in the building when the police arrived broke through the police lines and evaded arrest.

The police found the room in which the girl had been held captive had secretly been fitted up as a bootlegging joint, although the building from the outside appeared untenanted.

Gains Shown by West Coast Life, Western States

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Satisfactory gains in 1926 business over the previous year were reported to stockholders by directors of two insurance companies, Western States Life and West Coast Life, today.

The former reported a total volume of business in force of $117,174,968 as of December 31, 1926, or an increase of $9,172,160.

New paid business of the West Coast Life for the year was $25,721,281, or a gain of $623,615 over the previous year and three times larger than in 1921.

LIQUOR SALE UPHELD

Canadian Court Rules Vendor Not Responsible for Buyer's Acts

HALIFAX (N. S.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Selling liquor over the side of a vessel beyond the three-mile limit does not in itself constitute conspiracy to smuggle contraband, Justice Audet of the Exchequer Court ruled at Ottawa, counsel for owners of the schooner Buma were informed today.

Action was brought to confiscate the Buma and her cargo of liquor on the ground that liquor had been sold over the side and that although the sale took place beyond the three-mile limit, the vendors must have known that the purchaser intended to commit an act of smuggling and were therefore accessories.

The court held that the operators of the Buma could not be held responsible for the illegal intentions of the persons with whom they conducted a legal business.

CONTINUANCE WON IN WIFE-BEATING CASE

Nelson Hogan, president of the National Drilling Corporation, appeared yesterday before Municipal Judge Richardson on a charge of wife beating, and gained a continuance while he changes counsel. The case is to be called again today and set for trial, probably within a few days, according to Deputy City Prosecutor Chotiner. Mrs. Felicia Hogan, daughter of the late Rear-Admiral Sprague, and niece of former Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island, filed a divorce suit against Hogan a year ago, after police had been called to her home at 6511 Maryland Road, to protect her, she said, against her husband. The present complaint asserts Hogan struck his wife on January 14. He was arrested a week later.

TEXAS HOUSE DEFEATS COTTON PLANTING ACT

AUSTIN (Tex.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive) Cotton acreage will not be regulated by law in Texas. This fact was made apparent when the bill by Representative M. C. Parris of Austin, which would prohibit the growing of cotton upon the same land two years in succession, came before the House for consideration. By an overwhelming majority the motion to adopt the minority report of the committee reporting the bill favorably was voted down. This meant the death of the measure.

GUSTAVE F. H. BUEK DIES IN NEW MEXICO

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Feb. 8. (AP) Gustave F. H. Buek, 76 years of age, president of the Alco-Gravure, Inc., of New York City, died here today. Mr. Buek, who also was vice-president of the American Lithograph Company of New York City, and a director of the Crowell Publishing Company, came to Albuquerque two weeks ago, accompanied by his wife and Frank Bender, vice-president of the Alco-Gravure Company. The body will be sent to Brooklyn Wednesday.

LIFER CHARGES JURY WAS TAMPERED WITH

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Herbert R. Ure, serving a life sentence in San Quentin prison for the murder of his sweetheart, Mrs. Vivian Allen, in Oakland, in March, 1923, today filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the State Supreme Court. The petition charged that the jury which convicted him was "tampered with," that the judge was biased, and that no evidence was introduced at the trial. A further charge was that at the time of the trial the prisoner was deaf as a result of a suicide attempt, and did not hear the proceedings. Ure was convicted in Oakland.

ARMS PLOT EXPOSED AT COURT TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Preliminary details of an asserted plot to smuggle $500,000 worth of guns and ammunition into China from the Pacific Coast in 1924, which failed when members of the crew mutinied for lack of wages, were unfolded in Federal Judge St. Sure's court today as the trial of ten men, seven of them Chinese, was begun. The testimony came from Nels H. H. Borresen, who holds a captain's rating and who was master of the four-masted schooner W. H. Talbot, the vessel declared to have been used in the plot.

The W. H. Talbot, according to Capt. Borresen, loaded eighty-three cases of guns and ammunition in San Francisco Bay from a Chinese shrimp boat on the night of January 31, 1924, and then proceeded to Coos Bay to load a camouflage cargo of lumber before sailing for Shanghai.

In Shanghai Harbor, unpaid members of the crew began to sell the war materials overboard to Chinese sampans and news of the affair reached the American Consul who launched an investigation which caused the arrests.

Leong Chow, referred to as a financial power in China, and one of the defendants, was arrested here when found in the guise of a seaman.

The trial will continue tomorrow.

South Dakota Senator Hurt in Auto Crash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Senator Norbeck of South Dakota suffered a possible fracture of the shoulder and two ribs in an automobile accident late tonight on the Union Station Plaza.

The Senator was leaving the depot in a taxicab with Olaf Eidem, United States Attorney for South Dakota, when the machine was struck with considerable force by another car, throwing Mr. Norbeck against the side of the cab. He was unconscious for several minutes. Mr. Eidem was not hurt.

Taken to Sibley Hospital, the Senator was examined by physicians there, but later Dr. A. T. Sherer, a nonresident physician, was called and his examination disclosed a badly bruised shoulder and possible fracture of two ribs. Mrs. Norbeck also was summoned to the hospital.

Joseph M. Lemenes, driver of the car, was arrested and held under technical charges to await an investigation.

Woman Swim Star Held as Bandit Queen

TUCSON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Rita Dolores Sullivan, arrested in Tombstone, as queen of a gang of bandits operating in Arizona and New Mexico, is an amateur swimming star of Toronto, she said today while here in company with the Tombstone Sheriff.

Mrs. Sullivan, who refused to disclose her maiden name, said she is a member of the High Park and Sunnyside Swimming clubs, and asserted she was an acquaintance of George Young, Catalina Channel swimmer.

RAIL ROW SETTLED

New Eastern Wage Scale Agreed on Through Mediation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The controversy between the southeastern railroads and their trainmen and conductors, which was threatened to result in a strike, has been settled by mediation.

Under the mediation efforts of Chairman Winslow of the government mediation board the roads and unions agreed to a new wage scale effective on the 1st inst., under which the employees will receive an advance of 7½ per cent on the existing basic wage rates.

The settlement involves twenty roads operating east of the Mississippi River and south of the Potomac, and about 22,500 of their employees.

The mediation board estimated that increases granted would result in the distribution of about $3,300,000 additional in wages per year.

ILLS LAID TO SHOES

Women Warned by Specialist on Dressing for Style

BERKELEY, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Women who wear ill-fitting shoes for the sake of "style" are endangering their health, warns Dr. Frank W. Lynch, University of California specialist and instructor in obstetrics at the university hospital.

This fact has been proved, he declares, in examination of feminine patients. Backache is the most common complaint attributed to foot troubles, 200 per cent of these cases having been traced directly to unnatural foot and posture conditions, Dr. Lynch says.

COAST BALL PLAYER STRIKES OUT IN SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Pete McKenry, baseball pitcher, well known to Pacific Coast League fans, was "struck out" in the second inning of his attempt to collect $1350 from the Western Union Telegraph Company by the District Court of Appeals today. McKenry sued at Fresno, asserting an undelivered telegram had lost him a $600 a month job with Oakland last summer. The Superior Court ruled against him and the case came up, where the judgment of the lower court was sustained.

WOMAN JAIL-BREAKER RECAPTURED IN EAST

AUBURN (N. Y.) Feb. 8. (AP)—After eluding State officers for three days, Mrs. Edna Denning, the 52-year-old gray-haired, slim, frail little woman who smashed her way out of Auburn prison Saturday, was recaptured today.

CAR DRIVEN LONG WAY IN SLEEP

Illinois Business Man at 4 O'Clock in Morning Goes A-visiting

PANA (Ill.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Frank Umpleby, local business man, is the champion traveler in sleep. He left his bed while sleeping, started up his automobile in his garage, drove twelve city blocks to a prominent citizen's home, entered without warning and unannounced, declared to John Atkison, sitting up with a friend who was seriously ill, "I've come to fix that furnace."

Atkison aroused Umpleby, who declared he had received a telephone message to come to the house and repair the furnace. Atkison assured him no call had been phoned him and that the furnace needed no repairs.

It then dawned on Umpleby and Atkison that the former had driven his automobile in his sleep the entire twelve city blocks. The hour was 4 o'clock in the morning.

Stockton Men Plan Inspection of Houston Port

STOCKTON, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—The Stockton Realtors' Association is laying plans for a special train to convey Stockton business men to Houston, Tex., to inspect the Houston ship-channel project. Plans for the visit of the local delegation were announced by Hal Barnett, past president, who will be in charge of arrangements.

"With a deep-water channel and harbor project looming for Stockton," said Barnett, "we want to get an idea as to what the project should be. Houston furnishes us with the best example, inasmuch as it is an inland port."

Barnett further states that the trip will give leading Stockton men and city officials who will be in touch with construction details of the local project an opportunity to capitalize on any mistakes Houston has made in planning its ship channel.

New Englander Bank President at Ninety-five

JAFFREY (N. H.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Alfred Sawyer established a precedent in banking history when at the age of 95 he was re-elected president of the Monadnock Savings Bank, a position he has held for sixteen consecutive years.

Mr. Sawyer attributes his longevity to life in the outdoors, careful diet, and early to bed nights. Asked for advice for young men, the aged banker said, "Tell them to live out of doors as much as they can; go to bed early nights; avoid bad company and eat cautiously."

HISTORIC DOCUMENTS FOUND BY MEXICANS

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY MADE AMONG MUNICIPAL ARCHIVES OF CAPITAL CITY

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) A highly important historical find has just been made here by clerks cataloging the contents of the municipal archives. The discovery consists of more than 2000 documents of Mexico's postindependence period, signed by some of the most famous rulers of the country following the consummation of independence.

Just how these Federal documents came to be in the municipal archives is not known, and their presence has not heretofore been known. The documents will at once be placed in the hands of historical scholars, who will arrange to catalog them and make a thorough study of their contents.

A valuable collection of the seals of various viceroys, which is considered highly important, was found among the documents.

The documents will be classified according to years, and it has been announced that they will shortly be available for the use of students of Mexican history.

NEW TRAFFIC FINE RULE FOR BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—A flat schedule of fines for minor traffic-law violations goes into effect tomorrow as one factor in a campaign to preserve life and limb by hammering home the importance of observing all traffic regulations. First offenders on minor charges will be assessed $2, second offenders, $5, and third offenders, $10 or ten-day suspension of driving license.

PLANE WRECKED IN COLLISION WITH POST

VENICE, Feb. 8.—An airplane piloted by P. Carlyle was wrecked in a collision with a concrete light standard on Leona Boulevard this afternoon, according to the police report. Carlyle was uninjured. Carlyle was taking off at the Venice airport and was traveling parallel with the boulevard when a gust of wind blew his machine against the standard, it was said. Both plane and standard were wrecked.

BIRDS AND PEST FIGHT

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—The ravages of the Black Hills beetle are reported to have been stayed in the Kaibab National Forest, north of the Grand Canyon, though not till after there had been destruction of 150,000,000 board feet of timber, out of the 2,000,000,000 feet within the reserve. Forest rangers have been working diligently on the beetle for several years and report that valiant aid has been given by such birds as the blue-jay and woodpecker.

GANGSTER IN POLICE ROW LOSES SUIT

Injunction Denied Pal of Chicago Beer King in Race for City Alderman

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) John (Dingbat) Oberta, gangster and pal of Joe Saltis, beer king, must continue his campaign for alderman of the thirteenth ward without the shield of an injunction against the police department. Judge Hebel today dismissed "Dingbat's" suit as being without equity. Judge Hebel told "the people's choice," as Oberta has styled himself, that he had redress in the form of damage suits if he could prove that the police arrested him without cause, or tore up his campaign posters and otherwise crippled his aspirations toward a public career.

Oberta was a co-defendant with Saltis in a recent murder trial. Then they were accused of killing John Foley, a rival beer peddler.

Many police officials attended the hearing today. One police officer produced a "cannon" which was found on Oberta when he was last arrested.

"The people's choice," when asked for an interview on traction and other problems of the moment, after injunction had been denied, replied: "No, not now. I want to get away from all these police."

Berkeley C-oed Robs Youths of Shooting Honors

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. — Miss Gladys Izant, University of California freshman from Santa Cruz, 18 years of age, outshot every man in the university in a rifle contest, according to Col. R. B. Kelley, tactical professor.

Using a specially built .22-caliber rifle with regulation army sling, Miss Izant scored five bulls'-eyes in as many shots at fifty feet, the only perfect score made. On the whole, Col. Kelley declared, women are better shooters than men.

Santa Barbara Fire Destroys Rockwood Inn

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—The main building and three cottages of the Rockwood Inn, located back of the Old Mission in Mission Canyon, were destroyed by fire tonight. About thirty guests were driven out by the flames. Loss was estimated at $50,000 about three-fourths covered by insurance. The fire started in the heating plant in the basement of the main building.

The proprietor of the inn is M. J. Walls.

Mercury to Be Visible During Twelve Days

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Mercury, a planet not more than one of 10,000 persons ever has seen, will be visible here from the 13th to the 25th inst., Prof. Edwin B. Frost, director of the University of Chicago's Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., said today.

The planet will be visible about twilight and by its reddish tinge will be distinguished from Jupiter, which will appear white, Prof. Frost said.

Missouri House Defeats Bill to Bar Evolution

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Feb. 8. (AP)—The Missouri House of Representatives, 82 to 62, today killed a bill to prohibit the teaching of evolution in the schools.

NEW INQUIRY ORDERED

Stomach of Drowned Dry Agent in Bay City to Be Examined

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (AP)—The authorities today ordered examination of the stomach of Elton McMahon, who was drowned January 27, last, when the automobile in which he and Dr. J. Felton Taylor were riding plunged into the bay on the San Francisco water front. The order was a surprise to followers of the case in as much as an autopsy had shown death due to drowning. The city toxicologist will make the tests.

Proprietors of asserted bootlegging establishments, where police said McMahon and Taylor were drinking, will be among witnesses subpoenaed for the inquest Friday morning. Police hope that questioning at the inquest will force Dr. Taylor to tell more about why he failed to report the automobile's plunge into the bay until after it had been recovered. The physician issued a statement through his attorneys declaring that he had no recollection of the accident, and that he kept silent because he feared to jeopardize McMahon's job as a Federal prohibition agent.

FIGHT BEATS TILSON

Coolidge Withdraws Nomination to Bench in Georgia

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Faced with defeat, President Coolidge today withdrew from the Senate for a second time the nomination of William J. Tilson of Atlanta, to be Federal judge for the Middle District of Georgia.

The withdrawal message reached the Senate only a few hours before the nomination was to have been taken up in executive session under an unanimous consent agreement entered into last week.

Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, who led the fight against confirmation on the ground that Tilson was personally obnoxious to him, said he had far more than a majority of the Senate pledged to vote against the nomination.

The Georgian also announced that neither he nor his colleague, Senator George, would recommend anyone for the judgeship, which Tilson has held under a recess appointment given him last summer.

EDISON VICTORY WON BY RULING

[illegible] Against Power Bureau Will Go to Trial

Judge Overrules Demurrer of City Department

The suit of the Southern California [illegible] Company to enjoin the city [illegible] of Water and Power from [illegible] with construction of the [illegible] plant will go to trial on [illegible], as a result of a ruling [illegible] down yesterday by Judge [illegible] Superior Court, overruling a [illegible] of the bureau of the company's complaint.

At present the work is tied up by [illegible] restraining order issued [illegible] ago by Presiding Judge [illegible]. Whether this order shall be [illegible] or continued pending trial [illegible] temporary injunction is scheduled to be decided by Judge Shaw [illegible] Friday, when an order to show [illegible] why a temporary injunction [illegible] will be heard.

LENGTHY OPINION

Judge Shaw's ruling on the demurrer was delivered in a lengthy and [illegible] opinion, the reading of which from the bench yesterday required thirty-five minutes. Argument [illegible] the [illegible] fabric of the law [illegible] to municipalities and [illegible] utilities has been [illegible] by Judge Shaw at various [illegible] a period of several weeks.

In his decision, the court declared [illegible] of the power revenue fund [illegible] the construction of an electric [illegible] for the use of the Harbor Department would be an illegal diversion of such funds to an unauthorized [illegible] and can be enjoined at the [illegible] of a taxpayer.

PASADENA'S PRIZE GOES TO DR. HALE

Mt. Wilson Astronomer Wins Arthur Noble Medal for Outstanding Work

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 8.—Dr. George Ellery Hale, astronomer and director emeritus of Mt. Wilson Observatory, was announced today as the winner for 1926 of the Arthur Noble Medal, which is presented annually to the citizen of Pasadena who is adjudged to have done the most for the advancement of his city.

The eminent scientist was the unanimous choice of the judges, their chairman, Dr. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church, told the Board of City Directors today.

"The crystallization of his dreams of our great Civic Center, which is now nearing completion, was the immediate cause for the selection of Dr. Hale, who has long been one of Pasadena's most distinguished citizens, devoting himself not only to scientific research, but to many projects for civic betterment, as well," Dr. Freeman stated.

SECOND TO GET PRIZE

Dr. Hale is the second person to receive the prize, which was established last year. Gilmor Brown, director of the Pasadena Community Playhouse, which completed its beautiful new $400,000 theater in 1925, was awarded the medal for that year.

Dr. Hale, who came to Pasadena in 1903, was largely responsible for the establishment here of the Mt. Wilson Observatory by the Carnegie Institution of Washington, and was its first director. He is internationally famous for his scientific accomplishments, being especially noted as an authority on the sun and as the inventor of the spectroscope used by astronomers in photographing the stars.

As a member of the board of trustees of the old Throop Institute, he was personally instrumental in bringing Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Dr. A. A. Noyes and others here and in bringing about the development of the school.

Again, as trustee of the celebrated Henry E. Huntington library, Dr. Hale played a highly important part in preserving this unparalleled collection for the people of California, and for scholars of the world.

DR. HALE'S RECORD

Pasadena is also indebted in a large measure to Dr. Hale for the preservation of Carmelita Park, where the Pasadena Art Institute stands.

As a member of the City Planning Commission of Pasadena, he was instrumental in bringing about the adoption of the city plan and civic center, and it now beginning to see the fruition of this contribution.

Dr. Hale was born in Chicago, received his higher education at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and was later connected with the University of Chicago as the originator of Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis.

The medal will be presented to him Saturday morning on the steps of the new Public Library, first unit of the civic center plan, doors of which will be opened for the first time that day.

STATE TOURIST TRADE GROWS

Official of Advertising Agency Visits Here

Asserts Capital Rapidly Realizing Chances

Everybody in the East seems to be talking about California this season and a large number of the people are not only talking but coming out, according to Albert D. Lasker of Chicago, former chairman of the United States Shipping Board and at present chairman of the board of Lord & Thomas & Logan, one of the world's largest advertising agencies.

Mr. Lasker, who arrived yesterday at the Ambassador, is in California for a brief winter vacation and to confer with representatives of his firm in this section. He will remain in Los Angeles for several days.

"I was particularly impressed by the type of people I saw on the train when coming out here, all going to California," said Mr. Lasker. "They were mainly of the well-to-do class, and a considerable number of them were making the western trip for the first time."

USE LEISURE TIME

In this connection, Mr. Lasker suggested that the American people today have learned to use their leisure time more profitably than their predecessors of a couple of decades ago.

"Time was that it was thought a mark of inefficiency to even have any leisure," he commented. "Today it is beginning to be understood that leisure is as important to a people's progress as activity. For the most part, Americans spend their leisure in travel and a large portion of them travel to California, which perhaps offers greater attractions than any other section of the country.

"Among these attractions are the remarkable year 'round climate, great variety of scenery and wide range of things to do. And those who come here discover further that California has wonderful resources, is blessed with a large and well-balanced agricultural output and offers extraordinary opportunities for industrial development. The State possesses a substantial business foundation upon which to build for future expansion."

CLUB PRAISED

Mr. Lasker referred briefly to the success that has attended the efforts of the All-Year Club to inform other sections of the country in regard to California's delightful summer climate.

"That this publicity is achieving results has been abundantly revealed to us in the East by the increase in summer travel to California," said Mr. Lasker. "It becomes still further apparent when one is on the ground and may observe at first hand the development being made here.

"Your growth, while phenomenal, is not of the boom variety. You are building on a solid foundation. This is due to your resources. Perhaps one of your greatest developments here has been your harbor. Your proximity to the Panama Canal, South America and oriental ports is your opportunity to develop a foreign trade second to none in the world. I do not hesitate to predict that eventually the port of Los Angeles will be one of the world's greatest harbors.

DRAWS CAPITAL

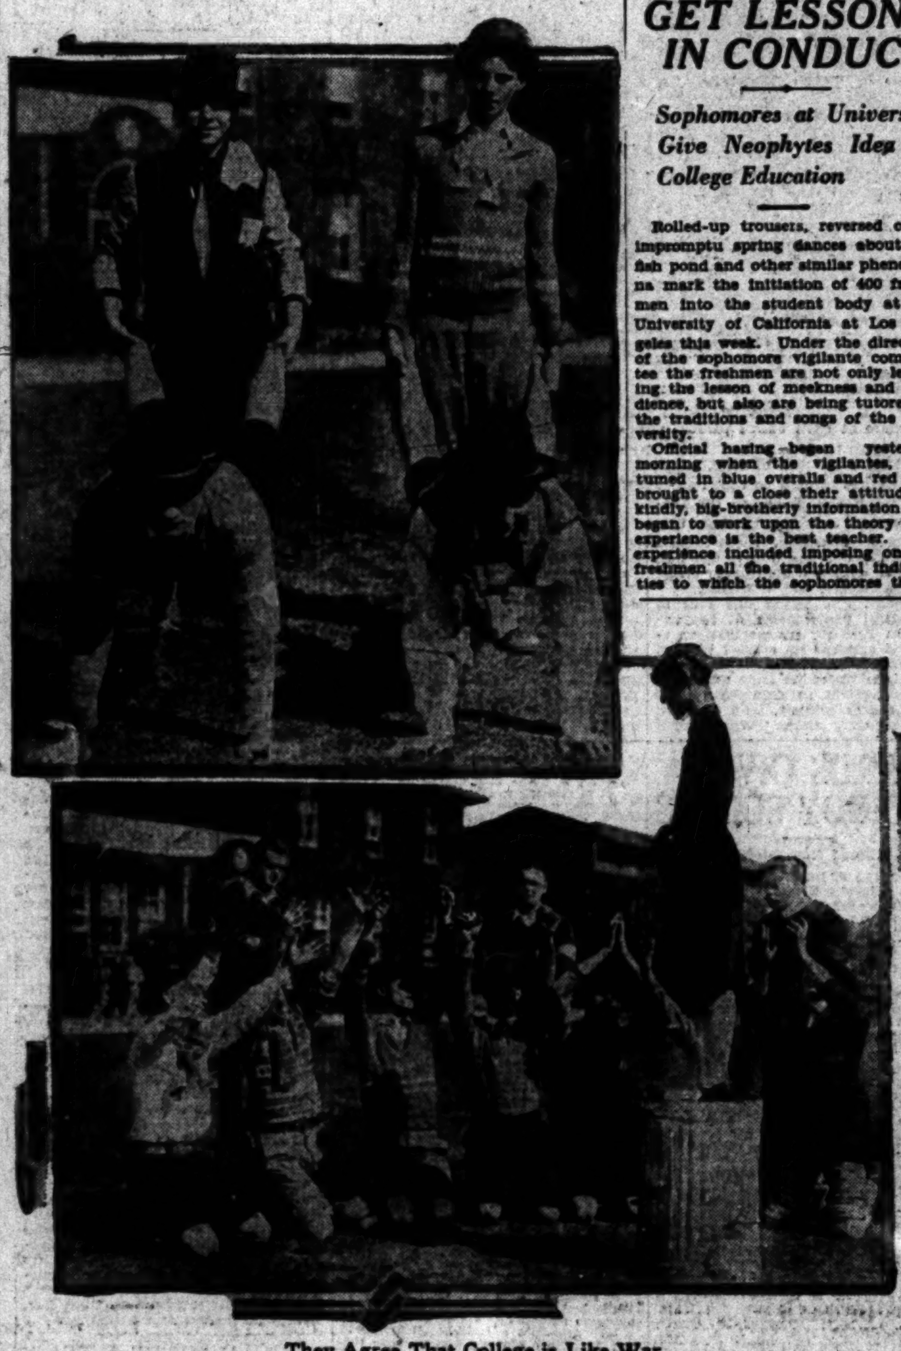
"Eastern capitalists and industrialists are not overlooking the great possibilities of the Pacific Coast. Many manufacturers already are establishing plants in Southern California. Your climate, which has always appealed to tourists and home-seekers, is now taking on an economic importance in industry. The opinion is gaining ground that if a genial climate is a good thing for residential purposes, it is also favorable for industrial operations."

Mr. Lasker recalled that Lord & Thomas had played a part in popularizing the California orange. "This was about twenty years ago, when the firm originated the trade name of 'Sunkist' and placed the first advertising in which this name was applied to oranges grown in this State," he said. "Only $3000 was spent the first year in this advertising, but since then publicity of 'Sunkist' oranges has expanded to where the name has become a household word all over the country."

CANADIANS TO MEET

The Canadian Society of Southern California will hold its third meeting and social dance of the new year at the Arcadia ballroom, 216 North Western avenue, tomorrow evening. Former and visiting Canadians, Australians and British are invited. During the intermission Peggy Strange of Toronto will appear in dances and Bob Wilbur will give an exhibition of dances, assisted by Mrs. Wilbur.

These Are First Steps in Education



They Agree That College is Like War

FRESHMEN GET LESSON IN CONDUCT

Rolled-up trousers, reversed coats, impromptu spring dances about the fish pond and other similar phenomena mark the initiation of 400 freshmen into the student body at the University of California at Los Angeles this week. Under the direction of the sophomore vigilante committee the freshmen are not only learning the lesson of meekness and obedience, but also are being tutored in the traditions and songs of the university.

Official hazing began yesterday morning when the vigilantes, costumed in blue overalls and red ties, brought to a close their attitude of kindly, big-brotherly information and began to work upon the theory that experience is the best teacher. The experience included imposing on the freshmen all the traditional indignities to which the sophomores themselves were subjected when they entered the university a year ago.

PROPOSALS RIFE

Freshmen in the main quad were to be seen yesterday proposing to scornful maidens in flowery language at the suggestion of vigilantes armed with clubs or straps. The initiates were made to crawl about the campus on their knees. Others prayed loudly and virogously for rain and received a dash of cold water as an answer.

Formal hazing will close today at 1 p.m. when an all-university sing will be held in the main quad. Howard Carpenter, head yell leader, will be in charge.

Freshman traditions that the sophomore committee, under the chairmanship of James Stewart, is enforcing are: Freshmen must wear freshman hats at all times, must not wear knickers, blue shirts, red neckties or cords, must sit upstairs at assemblies, must not trespass in sophomore grove, and are not to "queen."

REGISTRATION CLOSES

Registration closed formally yesterday with a total of 5196 students enrolled, 401 being freshmen. Enrollment will continue informally until the 21st inst. Lewis A. Maverick, recorder, anticipates a slightly higher

ALL-YEAR CLUB ADOPTS BUDGET

Southland Promotion Fund Set at $1,200,000

All Money to be Spent in East and Northwest

Flood of Autos and Crowded Hotels Benefit Proof

A civic promotion budget for $1,200,000 for Los Angeles and Southern California was unanimously adopted yesterday by all of the directors of the All-Year Club of Southern California. It had previously been adopted by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Part of the money is to be derived from public sources from taxation. The remainder is to be raised by public subscription from the businesses, firms, syndicates, property holders and individuals who are in position to benefit by the work done by the two organizations. This includes everyone with a property or a business interest in Southern California.

The $1,200,000 is $200,000 in excess of the budget of 1926, and is made necessary by the fact that Los Angeles is far more than 20 per cent greater as a going concern this year than last.

FUNDS USED IN EAST

The All-Year Club budget for the year, as submitted to the board of directors, provides that none of the money be spent for exploitation in Los Angeles. All is used east of the Colorado River, and in the Pacific Northwest, for the promotion of a tourist travel, and particularly a summer tourist travel to Los Angeles and Southern California.

The Chamber of Commerce will use the funds it receives in the business of bringing new wealth to Los Angeles. This is accomplished through its foreign-trade expansion, its domestic-trade expansion, and its presentation of the Los Angeles County Exhibit and millions of pieces of literature at the different fairs and expositions throughout the East and Middle West.

"The budget of the All-Year Club," said former Senator Frank P. Flint, chairman of the board of directors of the club, "represents the soundest commercial investment I know of anywhere. As in the past my companies will be fully represented in financial support. Just one item will show how useful the All-Year Club is. We had 124,000 visiting motor cars and 380,000 motor tourist visitors in 1926. They left an irreducible minimum of $23,000,000 in the commercial stream of Southern California.

HOTELS FILLED

"This is one item in which tourists have increased about 400 per cent in the period of operation of the All-Year Club. And the club is largely responsible for the increase. Train tourists have increased so that all of our hotels are filled to overflowing. A. Frank of the Ambassador and Alexandria hotels told me today that his two hotels were employing 400 persons more this year than last in taking care of visitors. If we can have advertising money we can keep these folks employed summer and winter because with advertising we can fill the hotels in the summer time as well as the winter. Mr. Frank estimated that the total of added employees for all Los Angeles hotels this year as against last is 3000."

D. F. McGarry, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said, "In the past year the Chamber of Commerce, in the metropolitan district of Los Angeles alone has placed 6000 persons in gainful employment at a total wage in excess of $10,000,000. The foreign trade extension division has increased our exports until the harbor of Los Angeles had for the year 1926 a favorable balance of foreign trade of $58,000,000. This is clear new added money to the people of the Southwest. The total harbor trade coastwise, intercoastal, Hawaiian and foreign is in excess of $800,000,000. All of this growth is made possible out of the funds we receive over and above our memberships. The membership money goes for administration of departments and other things so that subscribed money is applied without diminution to the business of bringing new wealth to Los Angeles."

CHEAP snobbishness, more than anything else, has caused the trouble in the Orient . . .

UP-STAGE STUFF

Punk little, two-by-four officials and their insignificant wives soothing their vanity and bolstering up their inferiority complexes by a lot of rubbish about the "dominance of the white race."

O! HOW HAUGHTY!

There is a certain comedy effect in the spectacle of a clerk who shudders every time he meets the boss at home . . .

Getting a little job in the Orient and pretending to be the imperial master of the dark races.

NOSES UP

It gives me a pain in the neck to meet some of these people who have just come back from India or China.

Their noses are in the air. They talk in a large manner about social "caste" and "our servants." After they have been back in America about two weeks—struggling with the old ledger in the gas house—the social barometer falls at an alarming rate.

"GRACIOUS LADY"

It is even so in Europe. I know a woman who lives in Berlin—to her great inconvenience and to her husband's financial disaster—because it pleases her vanity to have her paid servants call her "gracious lady" when they ask when they shall tell the laundry man who insists on being paid.

The manager of the theater where "An American Tragedy" is being played has wisely agreed to tone down the offensive bedroom scene—in reply to censor protests.

It is a nasty spot in an otherwise fine play—a play whose moral effect is more than excellent. In fact, a valuable sermon.

The action in that scene is certainly about the roughest single scene that has been shown in any recent play. It has no dramatic value. It adds nothing to the story. It should never have been there. It will be a better play without it. And it is a very fine play as it is.

A far better play for this reason: the audience giggles half way through the next scene as a result of what they have witnessed.

THE COURT TOLD 'EM

In an American court the judge, being the only one in the courtroom competent to judge of the value of the testimony, is forced to sit like a dummy while the jury flounders around in its ignorance.

In England the judge is free to exercise his brains and his judicial knowledge. Witness the charge to the jury in the Gladstone libel suit.

After the attorneys had finished their soaring arguments, the judge turned to the jury and said:

"Can you have any doubt that the plaintiff introduced this passage at the last moment to pander to the vicious taste of the public who love any scandal, expecting that it would further the sale of his book?"

Naturally that decided the case.

SUIT FOR $750,000 BEATEN

Col. Mosier Wins Decision in Action Aimed at Him Over Valley Ranch Option

Suit for $750,000 damages brought against Col. M. H. Mosier, formerly principal owner of the Sunshine ranch of 4200 acres in the San Fernando Valley, was decided against the plaintiffs yesterday afternoon by Superior Judge Doran.

The plaintiffs, Louis Thompson, J. W. Doyle, David O. Stohl, Mark Grimes and Lorenzo M. Stohl, asserted in their complaint that they had an option on virtually all of the stock owned by Col Mosier in the Sunshine ranch and that Col Mosier had repudiated the option.

Col. Mosier, represented by the firms of Dryer, Castle & Hartke and Hawkins & Hawkins, set up in his answer that the plaintiffs did not exercise their option, did not show financial ability to perform, did not make tender or offer of performance and in no way complied with the terms of the option, which, among other things, provided that they were to obtain a bond issue of $1,000,000 on the property.

At the close of the plaintiff's testimony and on the motion of Attorney C. H. Hartke, Superior Judge Doran granted a nonsuit. The plaintiffs were represented by Attorneys Halverson & Price and David H. Cannon.

Col. Mosier has been a pioneer developer of large realty holdings in Southern California and large oil properties.

Blame for War Cruelty Put on Vivisectionists

Vivisection is a failure so far as science is concerned because lower animals do not react in the same manner as human beings under the knife or drugs, declared Dr. Annie Besant in an address before the Los Angeles Anti-Vivisectionist Society last night at the Biltmore.

The brutality of the late World War, the speaker said, may be traced indirectly to vivisection. The same cause which permitted the manufacture of poison gas for use on the front placed its stamp of approval on vivisection, she said.

The poor of London, said Dr. Besant, will not go to the public hospitals for treatment because they are afraid of being experimented on.

BOY SCOUT AWARDS GIVEN

Troops, Chiefs and Members Honored at Annual Roll Call Ceremonies Last Night

The annual roll of honor of the Boy Scouts in Los Angeles was called last evening at a general assembly held by Scouts and Scout leaders at Polytechnic High School, in celebration of the seventeenth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

District organizations, troops, district leaders, Scoutmasters, troop committeemen, Boy Scouts, service organizations and Eagle Scouts were cited for outstanding, meritorious or valorous deeds of the last year, with specific mention for many and honorable mention for others.

Scouts and their leaders again pledged their Scout oath for the coming year. This oath was administered by Eagle Scout Dolph Baum, Troop 13. Babe Ruth was present and made a short talk to the assemblage. Arthur Young, game hunter, with bow and arrow in Africa, talked to the Scouts.

A concert was given by the Boy Scout Band, Scout Executive E. B. DeGroot made the honor citations.

District Roll of Honor—Highland Park district. Best organized and most active of all ten districts. Splendidly supported by the business, service and fraternal organizations of the district. Nearly 100 per cent in carrying out the troop and district programs of the Boy Scouts.

Honorable mention—South district.

Troop Roll of Honor—Troop 72. Largest, best organized and most all-around Scout troop in Los Angeles. Ninety-three registered Scouts. Well-organized, active troop committee, holding itself to monthly business meetings and to every other form of service required of a troop committee. Lowest average of tenderfoot Scouts in the northwest district. Three junior assistant scoutmasters. Senior patrol leader. Ten patrols. Ten patrol leaders. Ten assistant patrol leaders. Scoutmaster conducts regular and consecutive meetings with his patrol leaders, who, in turn, function as the actual leaders of all troop activities. This troop has a chief scribe with four assistant scribes. It has a quartermaster with four assistant quartermasters. It has a librarian with three assistant librarians. This troop has never failed to respond to special service calls. It has 614 hours of special service work. One member of the troop committee has attended, consecutively, 100 meetings of the troop. This troop has nine years of continuous registration and service. A model troop from the standpoint of organization and achievement.

Troop Honorable Mention—Troop 10: Five-year veteran troop; remarkable for its quiet tenacity. Troop 121: Five-year veteran troop; remarkable for its high morale and competitive spirit. Troop 60: Remarkable for its smart appearance, all-around activity and low tenderfoot retardation. Troop 82: Nine-year service troop; remarkable for its high morale and public demonstration work. Troop 52: Remarkable for its co-operative spirit and achievement in the field of special service. Troop 69: Nine-year service troop; remarkable for its service to older boys. Troop 13: Remarkable for its development of leaders for other troops. Troop 43: Ten-year veteran troop. Troop 12: Ten-year veteran troop.

District Leaders Roll of Honor—D. A. Alcock, Deputy Scout Commissioner, and acting chairman of the Highland Park district. Distinguished service in organizing, promoting and leading the Boy Scout movement in the Highland Park district. Herbert A. Wheeler, chairman of the Hollywood district committee. Devoted and distinguished service in the cause of boyhood in the Hollywood and Wilshire districts.

AUTHOR SUED FOR DIVORCE

Wife of Harry Leon Wilson Charges Desertion and Asks $500 a Month Alimony Pending Trial

Action for divorce against Harry Leon Wilson, author, was filed yesterday by Helen Cooke Wilson. She charges desertion and failure to provide. Mrs. Wilson declares she was at the small end of a property settlement executed when she and her husband separated on February 1, 1926. She asks one-half of the community property and $500 a month alimony pending trial. She also asks appointment of a receiver for the property, saying her husband is outside the jurisdiction of the court, and has threatened to dispose of the property.

The Wilsons were married on June 13, 1912, at San Francisco. They have two children, Harry Leon Wilson, Jr., 13 years of age, and Helen Charis Wilson, 12.

Mrs. Wilson declares that by the terms of a settlement executed when they separated, she was to have the home property at Highlands, Monterey county, to occupy for two years, $350 a month for two years, and ownership of the property at Carmel and 200 shares of stock in a realty corporation at Carmel.

She charges her husband concealed property. The total value of her share of the property settlement, she says, is $50,000, she having believed the entire community property was worth $100,000.

The Highlands estate alone, she declares, is worth that much. She says her husband has an income of $100,000 a year from his profession, contracts for royalties amounting to $100,000 and stocks and bonds amounting to $30,000.

Her action was filed by Attorneys Roger Marchetti and Leonard Comegys.

About four years ago Wilson and Theodore M. Criley, an artist, drew the spotlight of publicity with a first fight, which, report had it, resulted from love scenes in a Carmel theatrical production, in which Criley and Mrs. Wilson appeared. Mrs. Wilson before her marriage was Helen Cook, daughter of a Carmel short-story writer, and won attention as an amateur actress.

YEAR'S OUTLOOK BRIGHT

An optimistic view on the country's business outlook during 1927 was expressed yesterday by Theodore F. Merseles, president of Montgomery Ward & Co., Chicago mail-order concern and member of the directorates of many important corporations, who, with Mrs. Merseles, is a guest at the Ambassador. The organization which he heads, he asserted, did a total volume of business last year of $199,600,000; has during the last few years increased its business as a whole 100 per cent., and during that time its increase in California mounted to 300 per cent.

"Until five or six years ago we weren't buying very much in California. Now, however, we are anxious to buy on the Coast all the merchandise we sell here. We are willing to pay here the cost of an article in the East plus the transportation charge of the same article to the Coast. In other words, if an article is sold to us in the East for 75 cents and it costs 25 cents to transport it to the Coast, we are willing to pay $1 for the same piece of merchandise on the Coast."

Asked his idea of the national outlook during the coming year, Mr. Merseles said:

"Business conditions look good nationally because there's a note of caution all along the line both on the part of the producer and the retailer.

"Great depressions in business are usually preceded by wild speculation and extravagance—we've had some of each, but not wild—but there's no surplus merchandise anywhere, and that's one reason why I think conditions are fundamentally sound.

"There's less fluctuation business on the Coast than in the East or Middle West, and that is indicated by businesses like ours forging steadily ahead instead of in ups and downs as in some sections."

Commenting on recently-made national surveys on installment sales, the mail-order magnate declared that in some industries the volume of business attained during the last two years was due to false stimulation, "and if so, the chickens will come home to roost in those particular industries." But he did not think that applied to the industries selling necessities such as labor-saving devices for the home and farm, "where the installment business is a wise method of merchandising."

Commenting on the bright sunshine which streamed through the windows of his hotel apartment, Mr. Merseles declared he did not think anyone could visit California "without getting the inspiration that not only the climate gives you, but that the business men here radiate. You really have no need for boosters' clubs out here," he concluded.

Recalling pleasantly an acquaintanceship with the late Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, founder of The Times, he characterized him as "an outstanding personality among many colorful publishers of that day."

Mr. Merseles declared he is in California for a vacation, and will leave for San Diego and other Southern California cities today. In addition to being administrative head of Montgomery Ward, he is a director in the Northern Pacific Railroad, Case Threshing Machine Company, Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York and other corporations.

Tragic End of Two Couples in Cottage at Watts Solved

Coroner's Inquiry Refutes Poison Rum Theory

Friend Discovers Bodies on Couch at Home

Windows Tightly Closed and Gas Turned On

Poisonous fumes from a gas heater are declared by the Coroner's office to have caused the deaths of Joseph Lee Winters, Mary Kistler, Ralph W. Sperry and Mrs. Ruby Vallon, whose bodies were found in Winters's shack-like cottage in Watts yesterday.

Police found a quantity of liquor in a bottle near the bodies and at first believed the party might have got hold of some exceptionally strong bootleg or poisonous whisky.

Winters was an electrical foreman. He lived at 1966 East One Hundred and Fifth street for more than five years. Three years ago his wife and two small children returned to Scotland for a visit with her parents. A neighbor said Winters was a quiet, industrious man, never before known to have held a party in his home.

Miss Kistler's relatives live in Chino. She and Mrs. Vallon until recently lived at 1332 Bond street.

Sperry was a painter who worked occasionally with Winters and lived in the Preston Apartments, Los Angeles and Ninth streets.

The four were between 35 and 40 years of age, police estimated.

A. H. Howard, a fellow-employee of Winters, discovered the bodies. Howard called in the morning to ascertain why Winters had not been at work Monday. The cottage was closed tightly and a gas heater was in operation. Winters's body was on a couch in a sitting position. The body of Miss Kistler was leaning against his. Mrs. Vallon's body was at the other end of the couch and Sperry's body lay on the floor.

Detective-Lieutenants Lyons, Speck, Miller and Stevens learned, they said, that Winters telephoned an invitation to Sperry to join him and the women Sunday evening. They are believed to have died that night. Miss Kistler's roadster was parked at the Winters house.

FINANCE PLANS MADE

Poland to Change Economic Policies to Further American Loan

WARSAW, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—In connection with the departure of the Polish government delegation to America for the purpose of negotiating for a $100,000,000 loan, it became known that every effort will be made to change parliamentary policies to conform with suggestions of Prof. Kemmerer, American financial expert, putting the treasury on a solid footing and economic future on a basis warranting capitalists advancing funds for carrying out planned industrial improvements.

The government now announces the budget is balanced and the Polish National Bank has been instructed to restrict future notes of emission in conformity with Kemmerer's advice.

SHADOWING OF POLICE THREATENED

Lawyer for Sweetheart of Suspect in Green Murder Doesn't Get Girl

The spectacle of private detectives following a squad of police detectives around was promised by Attorney S. S. Hahn last night after Superior Judge Stephens denied the lawyer's writ of habeas corpus demanding that the police produce Betty Carroll, sweetheart of Harry (Mile Away) Thomas, suspected leader of a gang of hi-jackers accused in connection with the murder of Luther Green, local stock broker.

Judge Stephens denied the writ after he heard testimony given by Chief of Police Davis, Captain of Detectives Cline and Assistant Captains O'Brien, Bean and Taylor, subpoenaed by Hahn Monday, denying that they had in custody or were restraining the movements of Miss Carroll.

"They have the girl and don't intend to give her up," Hahn declared. "I'm going to employ private detectives, find where they have the woman hidden and file another writ of habeas corpus."

To all of which police officials last night adopted an amused attitude.

In the meantime, the will of Green, who was shot down near his house at 1053 South Bonnie Brae street a week ago yesterday, was filed for probate yesterday. The will, in Green's handwriting, is dated June 8, 1921. Burton E. and Calvin C. Green, his brothers, are petitioners and executors.

Green left a son, Robert G. Green, 18 years of age, and a daughter, Effie Green, 20. He bequeaths them the estate, in trust, in equal shares. The will provides that the son may have his share when he has demonstrated his ability to manage it without extravagance, thus preventing dissipation of property so laboriously assembled. The value of the estate was not given.

Case of Youth in Poison Notes in Local Court

The case of Vern Shannon, 17 years of age, of Huntington Park, who was charged with writing "poison-pen" letters to Lew Cody, motion-picture actor, in an effort to extort $3000, yesterday was transferred to the local Juvenile Court from Fresno county for disposition.

Shannon was taken into custody in Fresno January 3, last, on a charge of attempted extortion and was made a ward of Juvenile Court of Fresno county on the 5th inst. by Judge Barnard. The youth now is said to be in the custody of his mother, Mrs. Mary Shannon of Huntington Park.

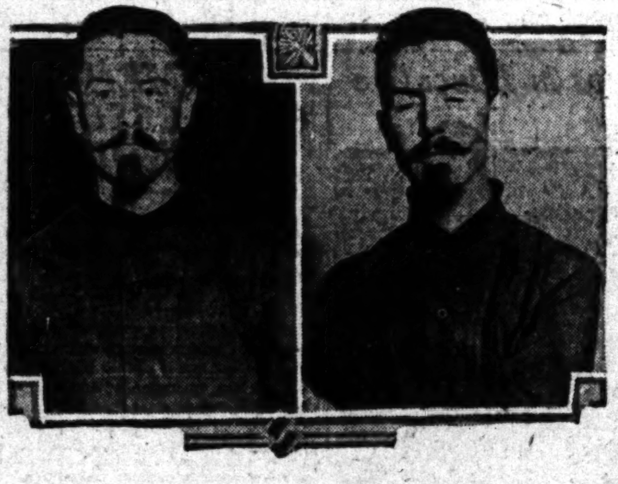
Young Shannon was said to have written two letters to Cody demanding $3000 under penalty of death.

Asked why he had written the letters, according to the Fresno probation officer's report, the youth said he had done so merely from curiosity to see what kind of answer would follow his demands.

"I had no intention of getting the money," he was quoted as saying.

BEFORE-AFTER PACIFIST DIET

Fast Protest Against Prison Term



They're Both Karl Robinson

WEAK from lack of food, which he has refused to touch since his imprisonment in the Lincoln Heights Jail twenty days ago, Karl Spies Robinson, pacifist and conscientious objector during the war, intends to continue his hunger strike until his release, the 27th inst.

Robinson, who served one year in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth in 1918 for his pacifist activities, was arrested on similar charges here. He stationed himself in Pershing Square, where he gave out anti-war propaganda in defiance to the United States soldiers, who were on recruiting duty there. When taken into custody he is said to have challenged the government's right to utilize a public park for the promotion of warlike intentions.

Since his imprisonment he has spurned every meal. He declares that no food will cause him to break his fast. So far he has lost thirty-five pounds, according to Jailer Reed, and fifteen more days remain before his release. If he continues to grow weaker, police say, steps will be taken to feed him by force.

"The other night the dove of peace appeared to me and told me not to give up my fast," said Robinson. "I have made up my mind to die if need be before I forsake my ideal."

IMPROVEMENT ASKED FOR HIGHLAND AVENUE

Property owners yesterday petitioned the City Council to improve Highland avenue from Melrose avenue to Wilshire Boulevard, by the widening of the two cement-paved roadways to a new width of twenty-five feet each, and that the center twenty feet between the two roadways be curbed for ornamental parking and planting. The petitioners also asked that when the paving of La Brea avenue is completed heavy trucking be prohibited on Highland avenue from Melrose avenue to Wilshire Boulevard.

JOINT PAVING PROPOSED

The Board of Public Works has asked the City Council to appropriate $11,000, an equal sum to be appropriated by the Board of Supervisors, for the paving of the westerly half of Warner Drive. The improvement was requested by the Regents of the University of California, as the road is needed for access to the new site of the University of California at Los Angeles.

GOLF SHOOTING VICTIM EXPIRES

Friend Wounded by Man Who Then Killed Self

Story of Tragedy on Links Repeated by Wife

Affair Laid to Mental Ills Over Financial Worry

Death took a second victim yesterday in the Bellevue golf course "mental case" killing when Cornelius J. Callahan, Ohio soft-drink manufacturer, passed away in the Hollywood Hospital. Andrew Jankowski, one-time wealthy saloon keeper of Toledo, O., whose wife said he shot Callahan in a sudden fit of derangement, died on the course Monday by his own hand.

Callahan never regained consciousness after he was shot at about 3 p.m. Monday, until he died at 4:35 p.m. yesterday, Dr. Elliot Alden said. The fatal shot was fired from a revolver held so close to Callahan that Callahan's skin was burned where the small-caliber bullet entered behind the left ear.

TELLS OF SHOOTING

Deputy Sheriff Stensland, who is conducting the investigation, said Mrs. Jankowski yesterday told him the first she knew of anything being wrong was when she was preparing to drive off at the eighth hole, when she heard a shot behind her, and, whirling around, saw Callahan fall and her husband start toward her with the gun pointed at her. She said she struck away the weapon with her hand and that her husband then turned it to his own head and fired, falling dead.

Stensland said Mrs. Jankowski reiterated the story that she told immediately after the killing about her husband being a sufferer from a mental disorder and that he must suddenly have acted on a mad and unreasoning impulse without just cause.

Deputy sheriffs at substation No. 5 who were first on the scene after the shootings said Monday they understood Mrs. Jankowski to say that her husband first attempted to shoot her and that Callahan sprang between them and accidentally encountered the bullet intended for her.

WANTED TO QUIT GAME

Stensland said the woman told him the only conversation that took place at the eighth hole was about her quitting the party, which had been playing since 9:30 a.m. She said she proposed to quit because she "was slowing up the game" but that Callahan objected and that when she turned then to drive off she heard the shot.

The three came in December from Toledo for Jankowski's health, Mrs. Jankowski said. He was suffering from a breakdown occasioned by financial reverses in an automobile distributing enterprise and Callahan, a close family friend of fifteen years' standing who had helped the Jankowskis financially and otherwise, came along to do what further he could to help Jankowski, according to persons who said they got their information from Mrs. Jankowski before the shootings.

GOLD MINER DIES

Funeral Services to be Conducted Tomorrow for George Parry

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 11 a.m. from the chapel of Vesper & Son for George Parry, 93 years of age, a gold miner in Northern California for forty years. He died Monday noon at the family home, 235 North Soto street, after a few weeks' illness.

Mr. Parry answered the gold rush urge in 1859, going from his home in Dalesville, Pa., to Butte county, where he worked the historical Cherokee placer mine. At the outbreak of the Civil War he returned east and enlisted with the Union forces. He was mustered out of service in 1867 and came almost immediately to California by way of Nicaragua. He continued gold mining until 1902, when he moved to the Soto-street address.

Dr. Frederick Keeler will officiate at the services. Cremation will follow at Evergreen Cemetery. He leaves one daughter, Miss Mary Louise Parry, a teacher in the public schools.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL LICENSE TAX HALVED

Beginning July 1 private trade and vocational schools of Los Angeles will pay a city license tax of one-half the amount these schools are now paying, as the result of action taken yesterday by the City Council. The schools asked that the license be abolished on account of the educational work the schools are doing and also because of the fact that private boarding, military and cultural schools pay no tax.

Albert Rooke Makes His Comebac

Wins six-year fight for health. Now well an at 60. Husky as ever, he praises Tan

At 1830 West 39th Place, Los Angeles, lives Albert A. Rooke, a respected citizen with 38 years of active railroad experience. He tells of a very interesting experience.

"About seven years ago," says Mr. Rooke, "my stomach and liver went back on me. It was a most distressing experience. Nothing seemed to agree with me; I lost all desire for food. A sound night's sleep was out of the question, so I rose each morning tired and sleepless. Then constipation developed and made life a continuous misery. I lost weight and could hardly drag myself around a good deal of the time. After six years of that I was all in. Along came the 'flu' when I had no resistance left. That was about the last straw. Nothing seemed to help me.

"On a friend's advice I tried Tanlac, and that certainly did help. I soon began to get refreshing sleep again, to eat with old-time zest. The distressing stomach and liver troubles disappeared. Briefly, Tanlac put me on my feet, with all my old-time vigor and enjoyment of life. I put on weight and after five bottles was as well as ever in my life. year ago. I'm, all in fine se. Few men of 60 are as well thanks to Tanlac."

Tanlac is nature's builder, made from barks by the famous Try a bottle—it may did for Mr. Rooke. Over 52 million

KHJ OBSERVES BOY SCOUT DAY

Organization's Band Gives Program Tonight

[illegible] Program Offered by Zoellner Trio

Blue Network to Present Harpsichordist

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Boy Scouts everywhere celebrated Boy Scout Anniversary Day, last night over WEAF in New York City James E. West, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, gave an inspiring talk to radioland and branches of the organization everywhere are observing Anniversary Day.

Tonight from KHJ between 8 and 9 o'clock the Boy Scouts will hold sway. The Los Angeles Boy Scout Band, [illegible], directing, will play marches and overtures and there will be trombone and cornet solos, boy scout bugle calls, flute and violin numbers and a four-minute message from Scout Executive DeGroot.

The entire week is being observed as Anniversary Week by the organization throughout the country and there will be thousands of interested scouts and parents who will eagerly listen in for the KHJ program this evening.

The broadcast will be a varied one; ranging from the grand march from Verdi's "Aida" to the popular "Dixie Town," popular tune of the day.

RADIO FAIRIES

With the Tuesday afternoon bridge game and the half-hour of dinner music at 6 o'clock, KHJ arrived at the regular children's hour program and the weekly visit of Queen Titania and Her Sandman.

As Uncle John was telling radioland that the belief in fairies depended on a person's point of view, the Sandman's whistle sounded and Queen Titania and her Sandman appeared in the studio. The studio lights became dim and finally went out, but far away could be seen the hour-glass, upon which the Light of Understanding was shining. As Uncle John's eyes became accustomed to the darkness, it was seen that the three radio fairies were standing on the tip of a rocky promontory, and before their eyes hung the glass, now grown to gigantic proportions. Sands were running swiftly through the glass. These, Queen Titania explained, symbolized those moments made golden by opportunities to do good which were grasped or dull from having been neglected.

The Los Angeles city playground department harmonica band, composed of boys between the ages of 9 and 17 under the direction of Charles D. McRoy, brought tinkling melodies to radioland. Charles Leslie Hill, "Honey Boy of KHJ," made his visit to the children's hour in the studio, Eugenia Abriel, 10-year-old singer, offered two numbers, and Gloria Curran, juvenile violinist, also entertained.

This was followed by Rev. L. G. Carter, minister of the Cypress Park Christian Church, in the evening scripture reading and H. M. Robertson's weekly talk on dogs.

ZOELLNER PROGRAM

Artist pupils of the Zoellner Conservatory of Music presented a program which included individual numbers as well as selections by the trio. Those taking part in the concert included Antoinette Bush, violinist; Betty Dartnell, 'cellist; Lucille McDavitt, pianist.

High lights in the program rendered included a trio number by Elgar, distinguished English composer, "Salut d'Amour," as well as Kreisler's "Tambourin Chinois," as a violin solo; the "German Dance," No. 1, by Beethoven, as a piano solo; and a well-known Wagner composition, "Evening Star," which was a 'cello piece.

James Foley, distinguished California poet, was a welcome guest artist in the studio with some of his own creations and other selections to broadcast to radioland. Viola Aimee Mayot, baritone, returned to the KHJ program with a group of three selections, including a Carrie Jacobs Bond number.

HARPSICHORDIST'S AIRS

The blue network and the southern division tonight will broadcast a classic program including several selections by Wanda Landowska, one of the few living harpsichordists. The orchestra and instrumental program will include three different periods of Inca music from Peru and some excerpts from Verdi's works. WJZ, KDKA, WSB and WMC are the best stations for local fans to tune for this program at 6 o'clock.

Louise Sullivan, who has been playing the violin from radio stations for three or four years, is announcing some of the KFWB dinner-hour programs. While most fans agree that feminine voices would not go over well for a steady radio diet, yet there is a distinct feeling that once in awhile the change from the masculine announcing is good business.

Station WOOD of Detroit has suspended operations and DX hounds will no longer hear their programs.

A night or so ago, as I was listening to a toll station broadcast a local program, the announcer said the program had expired, it then being the end of the hour. But I believe he was right in the first place without the extra words.

POLICEMAN IN ROLE OF NURMI

Shooting Eye Not So Good, but Fleetness of Foot Makes it Up

As a sharp-shooter, Police Officer Echols let his foot slip, but as a Nurmi he hit only the high spots.

He was walking by the merchandise store of Fred A. Valov at 301 South Clarence street yesterday, he reported, when he observed a burglar piling up bolts of cloth within. Whipping out his revolver he leaped in the front door as the burglar leaped out a rear window. Echols emptied his revolver at the fleeing form.

The officer then dashed out the rear window in pursuit and placed his man under arrest. The latter gave his name as Fernando Camarena, 38 years of age. He was booked at the City Jail on a charge of burglary.

LARGE SUM FOR LINCOLN HOME GIVEN

M. L. Montgomery Donates $20,000 for Community Hall for Friendless Boys

Funds to build the community hall for the new $100,000 Abraham Lincoln Memorial Home for orphan and friendless boys in Simi Valley, forty miles from Los Angeles, will be donated by M. L. Montgomery, a member of the executive committee of the institution when other subscriptions have been made to build two additional cottage units.

M. L. MONTGOMERY

The offer by Mr. Montgomery, which will amount to a $20,000 contribution, has been made to the board of directors of the institution, of which William Gibbs McAdoo is president. An intensive campaign to raise the $100,000 for the home is now being conducted by prominent Southern California men and women under the direction of Ben F. Pearson, vice-president of the executive committee.

When completed the home will provide for 125 boys from the ages of 9 to 17 and will be a nonprofit project. Headquarters for the home campaign have been established in Parlor 18, Biltmore Arcade.

TEACHERS HERE KEEP UP CLASS RECORDS

ENROLLMENT OF 100 PER CENT SHOWN IN REPORTS TO ASSOCIATION

Los Angeles teachers continue their excellent record of professional achievement, according to reports received at National Education Association headquarters yesterday at Washington, D. C., by Secretary J. W. Crabtree.

Amelia street, Amestoy avenue, Ann street, Annandale Boulevard, Brentwood, Bridge street, Brooklyn avenue, Cahuenga, Cahuenga Park, Canyon, Central avenue, Chatsworth, Cienega, City Terrace, Clifford street, Commonwealth avenue, Dahlia Heights, Eagle Rock, Encino, Fourth street, Frank Wiggins Trade, Garvanza, Glassell Park, Hayvenhurst High, Horace Mann Junior High, Hyde Park, James A. The departments as Americanization, California History, Classical, Course of Study, Drawing, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Manual Education, Primary Manual Arts, Salesmanship, Speech Correction and Visual Education.

The certificates this year show by a gold seal, called an honor medal, the first year of your 100 per cent enrollment.

FINAL DIVORCE PAPERS GIVEN TO MRS. HALE

CONTRACT BRIDGE—THE NEWEST GAME

By E. V. Shepard

(BRIDGE AUTHORITY AND AUTHOR OF TEXT-BOOKS ON THE GAME)

IV. Advertise Only What You Can Deliver

A player bidding without justification and a merchant advertising something that he cannot deliver are on a par, although neither may at once suffer from his deception, neither is worthy of confidence. Your partner's confidence is one of your biggest assets, never jeopardize it by making unsound bids.

An unsound opening declaration is even more liable to cause needless loss at contract than at auction bridge. Happenings like one which I just witnessed are far too common. It was rubber game, and both Y and Z wanted to win, so Z opened the bidding with 1 spade on the following hand:

	♠10-9-8 ♥J-10-9 ♣K-Q-J-10 ♦K-J-9 Y
♠K-J-4-3-2 ♥8-4-3 ♣7 ♦A-Q-8-6	A B	♠5 ♥K-7-6 ♣6-5-3-2 ♦10-7-4-3-2
	Z ♠A-Q-7-6 ♥A-Q-5-2 ♣A-9-8-4 ♦5

Of course, there could be no competitive bidding, either at auction bridge or at contract. Had he been playing auction, Z would have made three-odd, and it is possible that criticism might not have followed. But at contract, Y's values of five probable assisting tricks for a sound spade declaration imposed upon him the necessity of bidding 3 spades. Of course B passed, but Z felt that the need of going game was sufficiently urgent to justify bidding 4 spades. A doubled, and the unfavorable distribution of adverse trumps caused the contract to be defeated one trick.

Going down one doubled trick would have meant only 100 points at auction, but it meant 200 points for a vulnerable pair at contract, and on a hand at which five-odd could have been made through sound bidding. Although Z is a very highly rated player, excelled by few in the mere handling of his cards, he never has, nor ever will be, a sound bidder, just because he will not listen to anyone—a not uncommon trait.

Of course, Z should have bid 1 no trump, but he held a superstitious fear of a singleton, so, instead of making the only sound bid on the hand he made a thoroughly unsound suit bid. None of us like singletons at no trump, but they are not really as bad as a few writers believe them to be, little worse than having any unstopped suit, regardless of whether three, or even four low cards are held. Dummy has average chances of three to two to stop the run of a suit of which you hold only a singleton; he has barely even chances to stop the run of a suit of which you hold two or three very small cards.

Had Z bid 1 no trump, A would have passed, and Y, having probable aid of five tricks might have risked going down, by bidding 2 no trumps; his two bad suits would not have justified going higher, but Z could then have ventured bidding 3 no trumps. Five-odd could have been made, scoring 30 game points, 200 points for overtricks and 500 points for game and rubber, a total of 730 points made, instead of a loss of 200 points for going down on an unsound bid.

At auction, the difference between a sound opening bid of 1 no trump and an unsound 1 spade, provided neither had been opposed, would have been only 273 points, instead of 930 points, showing the greater need of sound contract bidding. More on bidding tomorrow.

ZONING PROTESTED

The Woman's Club of Hollywood and the Friday Morning Club has protested to the City Council against any business zoning of the extension of Beverly Boulevard from Beverly Hills to the ocean. The zoning of this twelve-mile territory is now before the City Planning Commission, but final action rests with the Council.

GOOD WILL ADVERTISING HELD VITAL

Banker Says Confidence in Merchants Slipping Due to False Announcements

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Building good will through consistent newspaper advertising is perhaps the most essential factor in a merchant's fight for success, T. K. Kelly, Minneapolis banker and president of the T. K. Kelly Sales System, declared in an address before the Illinois Retail Clothiers' and Furnishers' Association.

"Existence of good will between the average retail store and the customer has taken a dangerous tumble since 1920," Mr. Kelly declared. "Prior to 1920 almost every store had a standing list of customers upon which most of the business stood. Customers had confidence in their merchants and traded consistently with those in whom they had confidence. But this confidence has slipped because of false advertising, lack of courtesy, etc. Unless the descent is checked thousands of merchants, clothiers, bankers and many others face disaster.

"The remedy that is within reach and what is quite probably the only remedy available, is three fold—truthful advertising, rebuilding of good will and regaining confidence of customers."

INVENTORS TO HEAR TALK

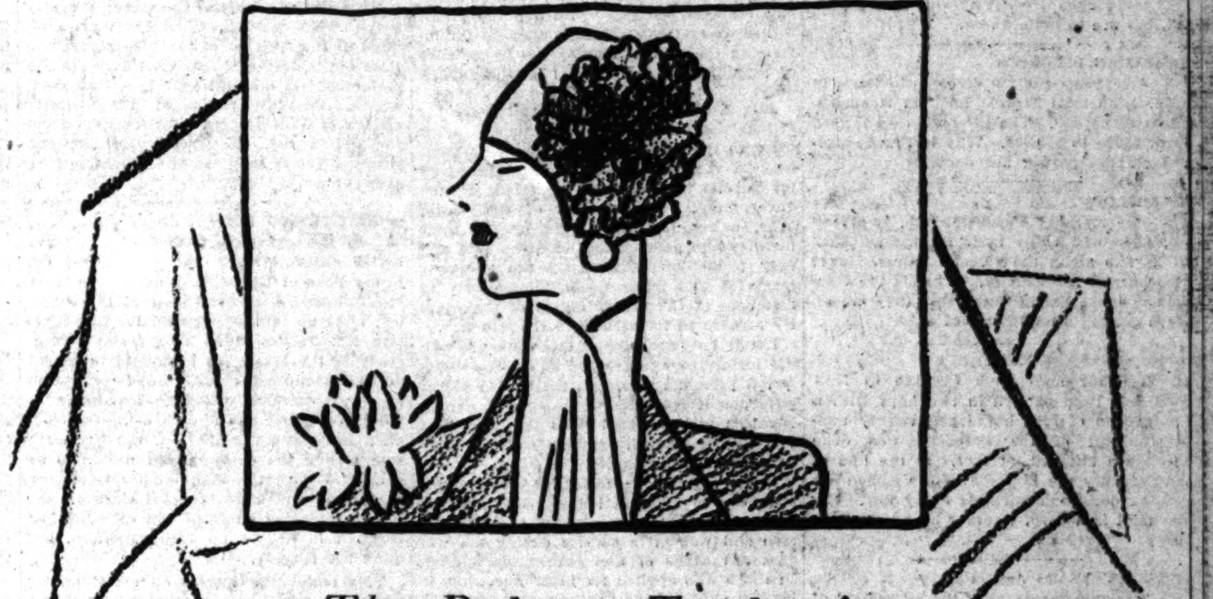
BULLOCK'S

Bullock's Now Introduces the New Hats of Spring 1927!



The Reboux Turban!

Sketched is an authentic copy of Reboux's new turban. Black ribbon, sleek and sophisticated. It expresses the fashionable idea of a "molded" cap—with interesting little ear tabs. The huge flower in the shaded tones of pink should match the flower on one's suit. This is just one of the new spring types that Bullock's is showing for street wear.

A Wide Brim—Colorful Embroidery

For California afternoons, what could be more picturesque and flattering than a wide-brimmed straw hat accented with colorful embroidery in the compose manner? Bullock's presents such an interesting collection of these graceful large hats in the distinctive new weaves of straw.

The spring hats are of felt, novel straw braids, silk and lace. Many striking examples of the compose idea in fabric. The hats are either very small and close or very large.

Cream Lace Used on French Hats . . .

NEW VERSION

HEIGHT OF RASHNESS

OUR "HIC" TOWNS

There are no really hick towns in Southern California. But just across our southern border—hup!—there are several—hic!—towns.

AGE OF ATHLETES

Another record has been hung up by an athlete. A boy in Bloomfield, N. Y., ate twenty-five hot-dog sandwiches at one sitting. Youth must be served.

ITS NONPOLITICAL CAPITAL

So many conferences of noted Mexican leaders, of one kind or another, are held here as to suggest that Los Angeles fast is becoming one of Mexico's capitals.

HANG TO 'EM

Gov. Small of Illinois says that none of his appointments have ever been refused. The same thing might be said of the pardons of ex-Gov. Miriam Ferguson of Texas.

SWEETS TO THE SWEET

A bulk shipment of nearly 1,000,000 pounds of a certain brand of confectionery has just been consigned to our fair city. Our loved ones are not only to look beautiful, but are to taste sweet.

PARISIAN DIVORCES

Americans got 280 divorces in Paris in 1926. The total harvest for 1927 is expected to reach 400. The lawyers' fees ranged from $3000 to $10,000. Why is France worrying about paying her debts?

KERFLOP

The marshal of Salem, Ind., is arresting girls who allow their negligee galoshes to kerflop along the street. Salem, Mass., also burned the witches. What is the complex in these Salem towns that they are always getting after the girls?

THE FLYING MAIL

The air mail from Chicago to New York has been carried in two hops with a flying time of four hours and twenty minutes. Most of the speeding was done through a blizzard, at that. In the line of regular duty the birdmen of the nation are turning out fresh miracles every day. Every pilot is a hero, whether he knows it or not.

TWENTY YEARS AFTER

The announcement of the retirement of Tyrus Raymond Cobb from the diamond may have been premature. He is a free agent and numbers of the big-league clubs are mentioned as eagerly bidding for his services. Tyrus himself asserts that the first twenty years in baseball are the hardest and that he should be able to go strong from now on. He doesn't need the money, but even hostile umpires have found it hard to keep him out of the game.

THE MIRACLE

Senators Shortridge and Johnson were able to vote together on the measure providing for the ultimate construction of three new cruisers. There be some who assert that this is the first time the California Senators have been able to get together when a ballot was being taken. They are usually so far apart that they cannot reach one another on the long-distance phone—this in spite of the fact that both are presumed to bear allegiance to the same political party and the administration.

BARBEROUS LAWS

In the State of Michigan an observant Attorney General has ruled that nobody but a regularly licensed barber has a right to cut hair. The beauty shops that have been bobbing maids and matrons from time to time have been bootlegging it, as it were. The question now arises, has a flapper with an illegally docked dome a right on the dancing floor or must she hide in domestic seclusion until her tresses are long enough to be sheared by a lawful barber? We may also ask if the wife who mows her husband's bean does not thereby become eligible for a prison cell. Anyhow, the barbers of Michigan appear to have the citizens by the hair.

POPULAR SCIENCE

More than 100,000 copies of Durant's "Story of Philosophy" were marketed with the masses last year and the volume was one of the best sellers in most of the city book stores. Wells's "Outline of History" and Thompson's "Outline of Science" prove conclusively that honest attempts to make heavy literature easier to read are bound to be popular. When they can grasp and understand them the plain citizens love their arts and ologies as well as their fiction. Where a heavy volume is lightened 1,000,000 people will be eager to pick it up where one would tackle the original weight. There is nothing more fascinating than the sciences once they are made simple and understandable.

WELL-FURNISHED HOMES

Los Angeles not only has many pretty bungalows, dainty chalets and stately mansions, but they are more richly and tastefully furnished than those of most American cities. The fact was recently brought out by statistics compiled by the Retail Furniture Association of California that this is the best market in the whole country for household furniture, and that at least 30 per cent of it is made here.

It is estimated that the average Los Angeles family spends 7 per cent of its income for home furnishings and that more money is spent per capita of population for this purpose than in any other city in the world. It is not of the trumpery sort which Thoreau said people did not have the courage to burn, but even in a five-room bungalow one will find some of the finer "overstuffed" grades turned out by the better class of manufactories.

Fifteen per cent of these home furnishings are of the expensive and luxurious kind to be found in the Fifth-avenue residences of New York. One large home in the Wilshire district was recently fitted up with no less than $76,000 worth of the costliest European importations. Writing desks that cost from $1500 to $2500 are not uncommon, while dining tables, sold for $1000 to $2000, are frequently to be found in the more lavishly furnished residences.

Los Angeles dealers ship in from the East whole trainloads of these household furnishings. A single local firm imported 1500 carloads last year. Eastern and European dealers in antiques say that their Los Angeles sales far exceed those made in any other American city.

When a western community like ours has gotten so far beyond the pioneer stage as to have such things said of its home equipment it is readily seen that it has become cityfied to an extent which those who have scoffed at our great urban center as "an overgrown village" can but feebly appreciate, and it is also seen that it has attained a position of wealth and prestige where overconsciousness of material possessions hardly can be charged against it. What our people have acquired by way of such possessions has been gained quietly and without lavish show. Rarely is one of them to be seen who has left his gold watch at home on his grand piano.

Gold watches, grand pianos and costly radio sets are taken for granted in Los Angeles, where good taste as well as ample means are by no means so uncommon as to receive undue attention from our residents or awaken in them the least surprise.

VETERANS' WAR INSURANCE

By special proclamation President Coolidge has designated the first week in February as a period for impressing on veterans of the World War the necessity for reinstating lapsed war insurance and converting it into United States government life insurance. He has urged all citizens, particularly civic and patriotic bodies, women's associations, employers and the press, to use every means at their disposal for informing the veterans as to the importance of attending to this helpful and beneficial duty.

July 2, 1927, is the last day of grace for reinstating war-risk life insurance. On or prior to that date all such insurance must be converted into one or more of the seven forms standardized and provided by the government. All veterans of the World War, either for themselves or for their families and dependents, need the safe and easy protection afforded by the generous terms of this insurance, available only to members of the armed forces of the country assembled for service in the late war.

Let it be remembered that this war-risk life insurance was granted at an exceedingly low premium rate, that the United States government bore the whole cost of administration and accepted risks too hazardous to pass the medical examiners of the regular insurance companies.

At its maximum $40,548,747,500 of insurance was in force, it being estimated that approximately 95 per cent of the 5,000,000 men and women in service during the war took advantage of the government's offer. Of those who applied for insurance while in service only 566,405 are now carrying such insurance and the total of government insurance in force at the present time has dropped to $3,774,938,077.

When the World War Veterans' Act of 1924 was passed by Congress it provided that all term insurance should cease July 2, 1926. On account of the vast amount of insurance in a state of lapse Congress has extended the time for rehabilitating the delinquent to July 2, 1927. Those veterans who fail to take up their rights under this last time extension will suffer an irremediable loss.

No more beneficial provisions have been made for so large a body of men in the history of life insurance. The appeal made by the President to the country to bring home to the war veterans how much this unusual opportunity for providing against future hardships means to each and every one of them is an appeal that every citizen should answer with hearty and forceful cooperation.

"WHO SAID POOR LO?"

There is said to be a youth movement among our American Indians. Some of the topics discussed in an aborigine school recently were: "What of the Nordic superiority complex?" "Who is going to be responsible for the next war?"

Other exceedingly pertinent topics were: Is flaming youth too hot-headed to propose constructive measures?" "Are the youth of today radically different from the youth of other generations?"

While the chiefs sit around the campfire, no longer does the young Indian brave hide away with the women and children. His language is as piquant and picturesque as that of his parentage. Stolidity has ceased to be an Indian virtue.

Seventy-five years ago the State of Georgia passed a law forbidding missionaries, who were the only teachers of the time, to instruct the Cherokees. Persistence on the part of the missionary meant imprisonment.

The first steps toward a national education policy for Indian youth was taken in 1876, says Elmer E. Higley, in a recent periodical. Twenty thousand dollars was appropriated by the government.

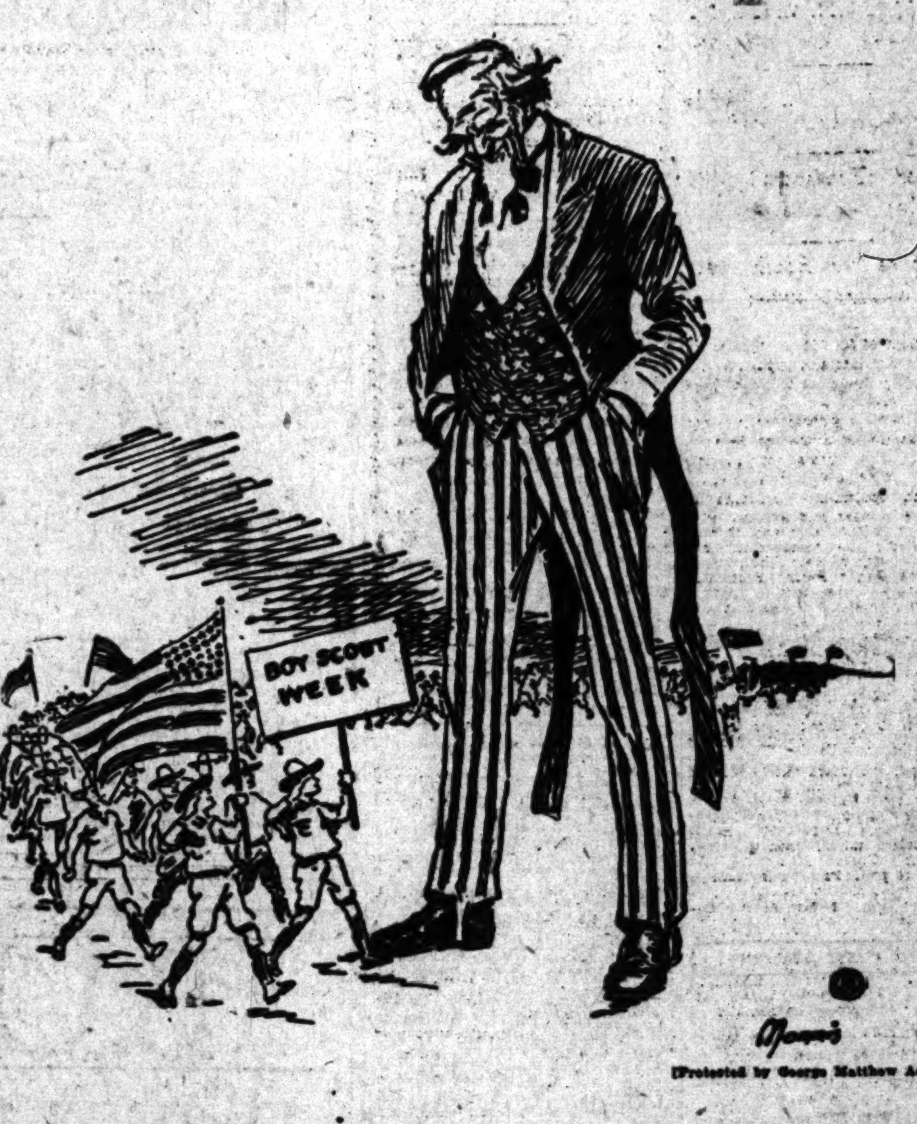
A member of the Finance Committee of the Senate declared with considerable choler: "This is a simple waste of money. Every dollar that you put into Indian education is thrown away."

However, the government threw it away and it is only necessary today to mention the names of United States Senator Robert L. Owen of the Cherokees; United States Senator Charles Curtis of the Kaws, and Congressman W. W. Hastings of the Chickasaws.

Other cultured red men who have brought distinction to the race are Dr. Henry Roe Cloud, Winnebago, head of the Institute at Wichita, Kan.; Dr. Arthur Parker, Seneca, State ethnologist of New York.

Miss Ruth Muskrat, Cherokee, recently won the Henry Morgenthau $1000 prize offered to the member of the 1925 graduating class of Mt. Holyoke College, who made the best record in the first year following graduation. Possibly much of the colorful speech of Will Rogers gets its hues from the Indian red. He can scalp men and shams about as easily as any brave roaming over the world today.

His Men of Tomorrow



[Protected by George Matthew Adams]

THE MELTING POT

In the changing phases of American racial characteristics and tendencies Dr. Frans Boas of Columbia University, one of the foremost anthropologists of this country, finds an interesting field for investigation and he has made a long and careful study of it. Much has been said in recent years regarding the supposed deterioration of our population owing to the influx of what are called undesirable elements from alien lands and the effect of the low birth rate among the cultured and well-to-do as compared with the high birth rate among the poorer and more ignorant classes. Dr. Boas's intensive study of this question has resulted in finding no such condition, but quite the reverse.

This eminent authority on racial affairs reports in the February number of Current History what he terms the fallacies of the theory of deterioration of the American people and brings to bear an array of facts, mainly technical and not the easiest of reading, that should reassure those led astray by "authorities" who have sounded pessimistic notes in more or less learned discourses upon the melting pot.

Aside from the facts Dr. Boas presents is the well-known one that no great racial progress is made in an isolated region where a certain type multiplies for many generations and particularly where there is a considerable degree of inbreeding. On the contrary, as in some communities, this often has resulted in physical and mental retrogression.

Dr. Boas does not stress this point, but he makes it clear that in an old, stable population heredity will bring about a condition in which the general composition of each generation will be about the same, and there will be, as a rule, no particular advancement, while the tendency will be downward. But in a new population, like that of the United States, the general composition will change from generation to generation through intermarriage until finally a certain degree of stability has been attained. It is this stability toward which we are tending as a race.

One gathers from the facts set forth by the scientist that the beneficial environment found by newcoming aliens in America has a tendency to improve their condition as well as that of their progeny, neither of which probably would have reached as high a stage but for migration. It is clear, too, from his findings that the melting-pot idea is anything but new. The same kind of crucible has been doing its work in Europe and Asia for many centuries. It would seem that the term "racial stability" is belied by the constant ebbing and flowing of the tide of human life sweeping up and down the world.

Social influences are much more important than organic structure in determining the kind of man or woman a child of alien parentage will become. These influences are strongly at work in America, and they have done more to skim the dross from the melting pot than has any other agency. Our race is tending upward and onward, not downward or backward. This should be obvious to even a superficial and unscientific observer, but it is well to know that the fact is supported by the close scientific studies of an anthropologist of such high rank as Dr. Boas.

OUR BOYS

It was not so long ago that the boy ate at the second table. He was supposed to be seen and not heard. He furnished most of the territory for the applied end of the hickory switch. Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer" is classic because it was the biography of boyhood a generation ago.

But times have changed—the week from February 6 to February 13 is turned over to the boys. Wherever a boy is scouting to do a good turn he will be honored in church and school. This is a scouting worth while.

George Washington wrote out 110 maxims of behavior when he was but 13 years old. He surveyed the wilds of Virginia at 18 and was adjutant-general with the rank of major at 19, says Scouting, a magazine for Scout leaders.

Alexander Hamilton was Washington's most trusted adviser at the age of 20 and was in the Continental Congress at 25. And yet he never weighed more than 119 pounds dressed.

Benjamin Franklin published articles at 14 and edited a newspaper and founded the Philadelphia Public Library at 26. At 15 Daniel Webster had read six books of Virgil at Dartmouth College. In spite of the fact that he flunked miserably when he first tried to speak in public at the age of 10, he was the Fourth of July orator at 18 at Hanover.

Being too young to be President of the United States, Thomas Jefferson occupied the time in growing old enough by writing the Declaration of Independence and otherwise guiding the destinies of the republic. Being a normal, healthy boy, he was always pulling things to pieces and looking into them and left many inventions—among other things some of our best principles of government.

Fulton is said to have dreamed of his steamboat at 14; Stephenson thought of his locomotive at 15. It is said that McCormick invented the reaper at 22; Howe, the sewing machine at 26; Whitney, the cotton gin in his early 20's; and Edison turned on the incandescent lamp while a newsboy on a train.

Liszt was boxing his piano's ears at 8; Handel and Rubinstein were prodigies at 8; Mozart showed genius at 4; Mendelssohn attracted attention at 10; Benjamin West painted pictures at 6, and Michaelangelo and Raphael were sketching their futures as brilliant boys in kilts.

Wilberforce began his monumental work of slavery agitation at 16 and was a member of Parliament at 21. Gladstone was in the House of Commons at 23 and was Lord of the Treasury at 26.

John Wesley was preaching at 11 and John Calvin was pastor of a flock at 17. Jeremy Taylor was preaching in St. Paul's Cathedral at 18 and Charles H. Spurgeon was famed as a pulpiteer and pastor of London Tabernacle at 20.

Francis E. Clark is reported to have begun the Christian Endeavor movement while he was in his early 20's and George Williams founded the Y.M.C.A. when he was but 23.

It would almost appear that the queer cult recently discovered in Russia that goes under ground at 40 and stays there has some grounds for its weird practices.

But when we learn from the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce that the 100 leading business and industrial concerns of America are captained by men averaging 60 there is room for further reflection.

Some men come into fruition earlier than others. Some occupations require young blood and others demand the experience and wisdom of years.

When youth laughs at old age it needs a club. And when age snubs youth it is ripe for the steam roller. However, this is boys' week. Everybody do a good turn!

ONE CAUSE OF DELAY

One cannot resist a suspicion that some of the statesmen who have been bellowing loudest about farm relief have been inspired more by the ancient story of Cincinnatus than by love of the farmer.

THE CLOWN

BY ELLANORE J. PARKER

The Y Hut was finished at last. For weeks the hammers had kept time with the roaring guns; now it was ready, ready for the boys and Charlie.

In tent and hut they waited for the magic hour of 6. Leg cases and arm cases, old and young, were waiting for the funmaker to teach them to laugh again.

Mud lay outside the hut, rain beat upon their heads, but still they ran eagerly across the space to the Y Hut. Charlie was coming and they longed to laugh with him again.

Stretcher cases pleaded for one glimpse of the comic man. Doctors and nurses that the god of war had failed to harden worked until the opening hour to put maimed boys upon the wheeled stretcher or chair.

It was a great night in the camp when Charlie was to trip upon the screen. How they yelled, those blue-clad boys, and clapped and stamped, for they were hungry for laughter. In his broad sallies they met their need of emotion. In his comic difficulties they merged something of their own new lives. Pain was forgotten or eased in that packed mass of scarred men.

White-veiled sisters were there in rows and the officers of the camp, they all came to see the funmaker.

A whisper came to the white-veiled sisters: A head case was missing, a man who had been as one dead, neither eating nor speaking, he had gone from his bed, and the bells rang out their warning, "A patient missing."

Sisters and doctors left quietly, but the massed men paid no heed; their eyes were fixed upon the screen and the man who rocked them with laughter.

He had arisen from his bed while the young orderly had run over for a peep at Charlie. Carefully and with extreme cunning he had taken a sick man's bundle of clothes and dressed himself. His head, swathed in bandages, caused no comment, there were plenty of others. No fee was charged the boys, they just walked in. When he was satisfied he went out from the Hut and stood waiting in the rain, he had forgotten where to go.

When they questioned him he looked puzzled, but a smile broke over his pale face, "I don't know who I am, sir, but I see'd old Charlie."

His case had puzzled the hospital staff. Day after day he lay in a deep coma. What sleeping cell had been touched into activity? What had caused him to arise and follow the crowd? Was it the intensity of his comrades' excitement?

Great surgeons worked over him, sisters spoke softly to him, but he was oblivious to it all. Now and again he smiled happily and murmured, "I see'd old Charlie at the Y."

Where News is Scarce

Lack of a sufficient number of newspapers in Pike county, Pa., may prevent the incorporation of a water company to supply residents of Millrift. Under the law it is required to publish notices for incorporations of companies in two newspapers of general circulation in the county where the company is to be located. Pike county has only one newspaper.

A Lover of Light

MONROVIA, Feb. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Daylight saving has been operating very satisfactorily for years in a number of other progressive cities and I do not know of any part of the country in which the plan could be more acceptable to the greater number than here in Southern California, where we do not have twilight and where an extra hour of daylight would be such a boon to the thousands of indoor workers. So I say with H. D. now is the time to step into the march of progress; therefore, I should like to see definite action in favor of daylight saving by our business men's organizations, bankers and clubs so that all might benefit by the extra time spent in our great outdoors.

Yours for more outdoor recreation. B. T.

A Boon to the Worker

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Too bad S. M. Ferguson doesn't approve of rising one hour earlier on account of daylight saving. After setting his clock ahead he would never know the difference, while the laboring men and women, to whom it is the greatest boon, would have that extra hour of daylight to enjoy at night.

There is no State that needs daylight saving more than California because of our almost complete lack of twilight. By the time the evening meal is over one has very little daylight left for enjoyment, either working about the lawn or garden or for driving with their families and getting the benefit of a little sunshine.

Having lived in one of the daylight-saving States and seen it grow more and more popular, I believe if once given a fair trial here it would become a permanent institution and a great benefit to the majority of our people.

Emerson Next

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Since it appears to be the fashion for a certain type of historian to create wine cellars for the illustrious dead it is a wonder to me how Emerson has escaped the morbid digging up of some of our latter-day literary ghouls. In describing a college reunion Emerson entered in his journal for August, 1841, the following: "I drank a great deal of wine (for me) with the wish to raise my spirits to the pitch of good fellowship, but wine produced on me its old effect and I grew graver with every glass."

One of Emerson's biographers tells us that his life was serene and lovely to the end. Is it not possible that he was mistaken? Is it not possible he had a wine cellar under his house? Let's leave it to the pathologic historian to find out.

"Water, Water Everywhere"

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I see by the accounts in The Times this morning that in order that Mrs. Huddleston could finish the swimming of the Catalina channel she drank half a pint of whisky. I note also that she received many congratulatory telegrams on her feat.

Now, as an old subscriber of The Times, I want to voice my protest against such facts being given publicity—that this woman should have won her victory on a half-pint of whisky. And this at a time when our churches and temperance societies are trying to win respect for enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and do away with the use of liquor. It is too bad that the channel had to be conquered by one of our fair sex in this way and that The Times should have printed that part of the facts.

CARE OF THE TEETH

Don't use toothpicks if you wish to keep your teeth! This is the latest advice issued by the National Mouth Hygiene Society, in convention in Chicago.

"Never push a wooden pick between the teeth except as an emergency measure," the society admonishes. "Constant use of wooden toothpicks will wear grooves in the teeth. Toothpicks are likely to lacerate the gums with minute splinters.

"Savages and animals keep their teeth clean and gums sound by eating coarse and raw foods. Because civilized man is the only animal that cooks his food, thereby softening all rough and hard particles before he eats it, he must use a tooth brush.

"While it does not entirely eliminate, the toothbrush cuts down the incidence of decay to a marked extent and, further, it prevents gum trouble. That the eating of candy is a cause of teeth decay is a fallacy. If anything, candy, included in a well-balanced diet, tends to keep the mouth clean because of its saliva-creating faculty.

"Teeth should be brushed at least twice daily, up and down, not sidewise, morning and evening, the latter time just before going to bed, as during the night salivary secretion is at lowest ebb and the self-cleansing of the mouth is poor. Following a brisk brushing, it is advisable to rinse the mouth of all loosened particles of food with a mild solution of salt and warm water. Such treatment, with periodic visits to the dentist, will keep the teeth in good condition."

In spite of the fact that wisdom comes with years, mighty few of us are old enough to know better.

THREE MILLIONS GO TO BUILDING

Height-Limit Loft Among Projects Announced

Whittier Boulevard Will Get New Theater

Clubhouse for Beach Near Newport Planned

More than $3,000,000 is involved in Southland building and industrial development projects announced here yesterday, wherein a height-limit loft and manufacturing structure is slated for the northwest corner of Seventh and San Julian streets, construction to begin immediately on a theater, store, and apartment building at Whittier Boulevard and Atlantic avenue, and a $1,000,000 beach club is scheduled for the ocean front between Huntington Beach and Newport. The Racor Pacific Frog and Switch Company has started production in its new $500,000 plant. About sixty men are employed.

Ground-breaking for the new Trades Building at Seventh and San Julian streets is set for March 15. According to Arnold A. Weitzman, designer, it will be constructed of pressed brick, modeled concrete and terra cotta. It is hoped the structure will be ready for use by the first of next year.

This week will mark the beginning of building operations on the theater project on Whittier Boulevard in Golden Gate Square. The theater proper will seat about 1500 persons, it is declared and will contain thirteen stores. There will also be several apartment units. It is planned as a legitimate playhouse, but will be equipped for motion pictures as well.

Plans have been completed for the South Coast Club, a beach project near Newport. The club has purchased a 1500-foot strip of ocean frontage for a consideration exceeding $225,000. A three-story clubhouse, seventy by 400 feet, is scheduled to rise at once.

Production has begun in the Racor Pacific Frog and Switch Company plant, 3354 East Slauson avenue. Less than ninety days ago work was commenced on the factory, which covers an area 110x140 feet. Seven more acres have been purchased adjoining the present holdings of the concern, it is announced.

The deal was made in anticipation of early expansion. The Racor Pacific Frog and Switch Company is a branch of the Ramapo-Ajax Corporation, operating in seven other cities. The firm manufactures railroad frogs, switches, guard rails, switch stands and switch connections.

VOICELESS BIRD LEADS TO SUIT

Woman Given Judgment for Price of Her Pet in Claims Court

Her canary wouldn't sing, but he had an appetite that cost her $10 in the few weeks she had owned it, Mrs. A. G. Goddier of Glendale yesterday told Municipal Judge MacCoy in the Small Claims Court when she appeared with the gluttonous but voiceless pet in support of her contention.

In absence of Jack Slotkin, from whom Mrs. Goodier said she bought the bird for $5.75, Judge MacCoy allowed judgment for the plaintiff. Mrs. Goodier had sued for the cost of the bird.

ROLPH WILL BE GREETED BY WAMPAS

Greeted by a large throng of civic officials, motion-picture folk and screen publicists, James Rolph, Jr., Mayor of San Francisco, will arrive here next Wednesday morning. He is coming to attend the Wampas frolic and ball at the Ambassador Auditorium the following evening, at which he will be an honor guest.

With the Mayor will come San Francisco's Chief of Police, Dan O'Brien, well known among film folk because of his frequent co-operation with Hollywood companies on location in the Bay City, and also because he is the father of George O'Brien, one of Fox's galaxy of male stars. Both Mayor Rolph and Chief O'Brien have been keenly interested in these annual cinema-social fetes since the Wampas held the 1924 frolic and ball in the northern city.

Heading the welcoming committee will be Chief of Police Davis, I. W. Birnbaum, president of the Los Angeles Police Commission, together with other city officials and motion-picture folk. The group will take parade formation in going from the depot to the hotel at which Mayor Rolph and Chief O'Brien will stop during their stay here. Mayor Rolph will leave the morning after the ball.

Wampas officials expect large delegations of San Francisco folk also to arrive on the same train, and on trains the next day, responding to the invitation sent to San Francisco by Levett, the "human dynamo," who left Los Angeles last Saturday noon on a 451-mile marathon to deliver the Wampas invitation to San Francisco. During his first fifteen hours of running Levett covered 103 miles, maintaining an average speed of a little less than seven miles an hour. Great throngs are following the progress of the runner as he negotiates the Coast highway.

Leads Chosen in University Annual Frolic

Leads for the four major parts in "The Rumpus of 1927," University of Southern California's annual student extravaganza, were announced yesterday by Grant La Mont, director of the stage frolic, after several weeks of elimination trials in which more than 300 college dancers and singers tried for the coveted places.

Miss Josephine Campbell and Leroy Winborn were chosen to take the juvenile singing and dancing leads, while Miss Grace Symmes and Wes Woodford are to fill the comedian roles.

A girl's chorus of sixty has been picked from more than 150 coed aspirants and twenty-five college boys will dance with them.

"The Rumpus of 1927" will be presented in Bovard Auditorium at Southern California on the evenings of March 17, 18 and 19.

Miss Ruth Burns is helping La Mont in the capacity of assistant director. The musical scores are in charge of Gene Johnston and the script is the work of Earl Baldwin of Music Box fame. Ray Pinker is production manager and George Northman is handling the stage and sets.

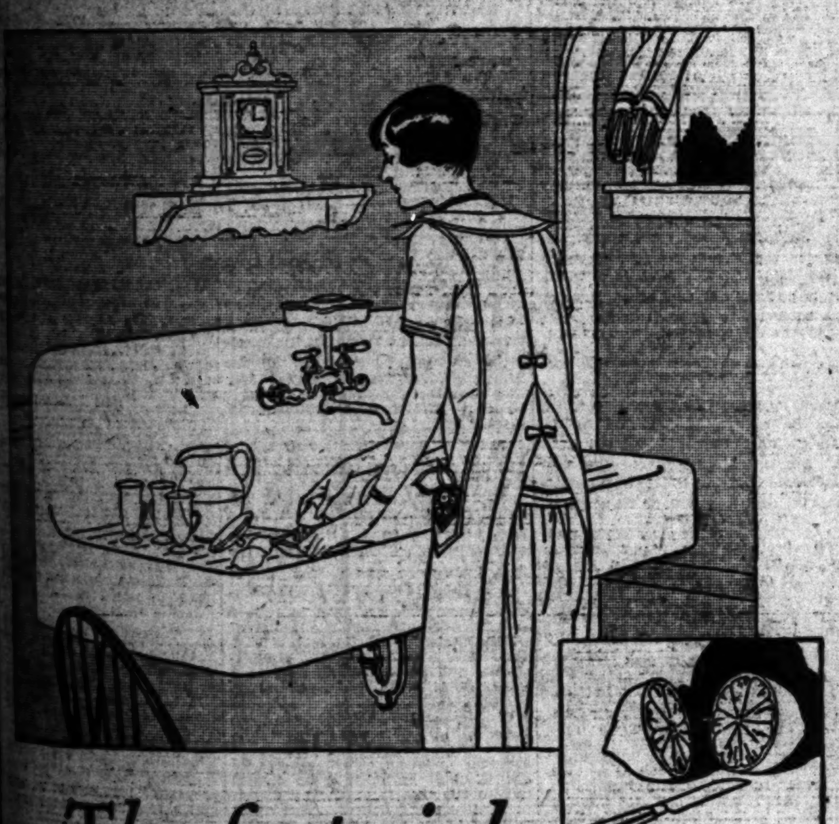
Luncheon for Chief Surgeon of Espee Line

An elaborate luncheon at which Dr. Walter B. Coffee, chief surgeon for the Southern Pacific Railway will be the guest of honor, and attended by the chief surgeons of the various other railway and rapid transit companies, will be held at the Victor Hugo Cafe at 619 1-2 South Grand avenue today at 12:30 o'clock.

Those who have promised to attend, according to Dr. Goodrich, are: Drs. E. A. Bryant, chief surgeon of the Los Angeles Street Railway; William Weber, chief surgeon of the Pacific Electric Railway; Giles S. Hall, assistant chief surgeon of the Southern Pacific; Weyland Morrison, chief surgeon of the Santa Fe; Guy Cochran, chief surgeon of the Union Pacific, and all of the assistant surgeons of the Receiving Hospital not then on duty.

SNAPSHOT EVIDENCE IN DIVORCE ACTION

Floyd Faris felt pretty sure his wife, Josephine Thelma Faris, had been "petting" on the beach with some other man. "What makes you think so?" inquired Judge Summerfield. "Well, judge, I had this here picture taken of her doing it," responded Faris, handing the judge a snapshot of a woman being thoroughly embraced. "That lady is my wife. The man sure isn't me, either." "It looks like you're right," the judge conceded. He granted Faris a divorce.



The first sink

with NEW ENAMEL that fruit and vegetable acids cannot roughen or discolor

DOZENS OF TIMES every day kitchen sinks are exposed to fruit and vegetable acids and to the ingredients of cleansers. This is their hardest service.

Here is a sink that resists the action of such food acids and cleansers. Its surface cannot become rough or discolored. It remains in gleaming white luster, so it is really easy to keep clean.

The enamel on this sink is an exclusive "Standard" PACIFIC development, and comes from the laboratories of the largest manufacturer of Plumbing Fixtures—the manufacturer who introduced the one-piece sink set "yard-stick high."

Stop in and have the superiority of this new enamel demonstrated to your own satisfaction. See it on display. It is available on all "Standard" PACIFIC Enameled Plumbing Fixtures; baths, lavatories, laundry trays as well as sinks are better with this luster-keeping, easy-cleaning finish.

For Voyageur.

Miss Evelyn Kingston, charming young debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Kingston of Lucerne Boulevard, who is leaving March 4 with her parents aboard the S.S. President Pierce for a tour of three and a half months around the world, is being much entertained by her numerous friends before sailing.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Moir (Phyllis Kemp) are giving a box party at the horse show for Miss Kingston, their guests including Miss Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols Milbank, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Hamil Davis Martyn and Clinton Hutchin.

Mr. and Mrs. Moir, whose wedding was one of the lovely events of last September, are at home again and will be domiciled for the winter at 1115 Redondo Boulevard.

Saturday afternoon Miss Janie Vandeveer and Miss Carol Latimer are giving a luncheon for Miss Kingston at the Ambassador and taking their guests to the horse show afterward.

The 18th inst. Mrs. Harold Morgan is giving a tea and bridge at her home in St. Andrews Place, with Miss Kingston as special guest of honor. The following day Miss Ann Abrahams is to be hostess at a luncheon at her home for Miss Kingston, and the 24th inst., Miss Geraldine Birks is giving a bridge-tea for her at her home in Pasadena. Mrs. Wallace Moir is to be hostess the 26th inst., with a bridge-tea at her home for Miss Kingston, and the 28th inst. Miss Charlotte Edwards is giving a bridge and tea at her home in St. Andrews Place, while March 2 Mrs. Rush Cameron Hinsdale (Beatrice Roesner,) a recent bride, is giving a bridge afternoon at her home in Western avenut for Miss Kingston.

Miss Ruth Richardson, unable to find an open date on Miss Kingston's calendar, is planning a bridge party immediately after her return in the summer.

For Sister

Honoring her sister, Mrs. Frank E. Pierce of Chicago, who arrived recently to make an extended visit here, Mrs. D. H. Hostetter, Jr., entertained with a beautifully appointed luncheon at her home in Meadow Grove avenue, Flintridge, yesterday afternoon. Luncheon was served in the dining-room, the tables elaborately decorated with fragrant spring flowers, and bridge featured the afternoon's entertainment. Those included were Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. J. Findlay Torrance, Mrs. Ada Rice Murphy, Mrs. Roy Hull, Mrs. William H. Taylor, Mrs. Jared S. Torrance, Mrs. Benson Talbot, Mrs. Royden Vosburg, Mrs. Elliott Gibbs, Miss Henrietta Heddens, Mrs. J. W. Heddens, Mrs. C. C. Clark, Mrs. James R. Darsie, Mrs. Roy Davis, Miss E. Martindale, Mrs. William J. Pringle, Mrs. Raymond Mixsell, Mrs. William Lawson, all of Pasadena, Mrs. Barrett Heddens of Kansas City, who is the house guest of Mrs. J. W. Heddens, Mrs. William Hart of Chicago, Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter and Miss Helen Hostetter of New York, who are wintering at the Huntington in South Pasadena, Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin of Chicago, who is at the Maryland for the season, and the hostess.

For Visitor

Mrs. William Milnor-Gibson (Mary Forve) of London, Eng., who is visiting friends and relatives here this winter, and is at present a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Edgar Gale Miller (Louise Forve) in Lucerne Boulevard. Mrs. Frank Matthiessen entertained yesterday afternoon with a luncheon and bridge at the Midwick Country Club, the decorations and appointments of the table being in yellow with ferns, foliage and candles. Among the guests were Mrs. Milnor Gibson, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Harrison Lobdell, Mrs. John Bandini Winston, Jr., Mrs. Van Buren Jarvis, Mrs. Kell Pulliam, Mrs. Lyndol Young, Mrs. Eugene A. Sorority News

Pansies, the flower of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and the colors of the sorority, which are gold and black, were used as the theme of the pansy luncheon at the home of Miss Ruth Burns, 1801 Buckingham Road, Friday, when Omicron chapter of the sorority at the University of Southern California entertained in honor of their rushees.

Another Kappa Alpha Theta rushing party was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Teschke (Sara Taft Summers) 1500 North Ogden Drive, in the form of a colonial tea. Last Friday night the closing event in the midyear rushing season was a formal dinner at the home of Miss Violet Johnson in Beverly Hills, when the sorority colors of gold and black predominated in the decorations.

Rushing events at the Iota Sigma Theta sorority house at the University of Southern California during the past week included a blue Monday luncheon, a studio tea and a Boston tea party. A clever Aztec tea and a formal flower dinner at the sorority house, 2830 Menlo avenue, completed the rushing program, in charge of Miss Gladys Berry, president of the sorority.

Alpha Sigma Delta fraternity at the University of Southern California conducted formal initiation at the chapter house, 2633 South Hoover street, Friday afternoon at 4:30 for eleven pledges, including Milton Booth, Clifford Weimer, Loren Kling, Maurice Landers, Earl Culp, James Batchelor, Stanley Mackie, Milton Hauner, Herbert Cook, Norman Flanagan and Roger Peery. A banquet at the Mary Louise and a theater party at Grauman's Egyptian Theater concluded the festivities.

A New, Easy, Electric Way to Wax-polish Floors~

Every floor surface in your house can instantly be brought to lustrous, deep-toned beauty at trifling expense. Even those shabby worn spots in door-ways. And those dull looking "edges" around the rugs. HOW? With Johnson's Wax and Electric Floor Polisher.

Ten Times Faster and Better

Just spread on a thin film of Johnson's Wax. Then run the Johnson Electric Floor Polisher over the surface. The result is floors of velvety richness. It takes only a few minutes—there is no stooping—no messy rags or pails. No soiling of hands or clothing.

It makes no difference whether your floors are old or new—of wood, linoleum, tile or composition. Nor how they are finished—with varnish, shellac, wax or paint.

RENT IT for $2.00 a Day

You can RENT a Johnson's Wax Electric Floor Polisher by the day from your neighborhood dealer or painter. Telephone NOW and make an appointment to get one for any day you wish.

JOHNSON'S WAX Electric floor Polisher

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

The Advantage of Sticking

"When I wrote for your booklet on reducing, I weighed 140 pounds, and I am only five feet tall. By following your instructions, I reduced to 122—a loss of eighteen pounds. (My weight varies two or three pounds, I find.) I feel splendid, and I would like to tell those who are discouraged to stick and not give up, as everyone does not respond quickly. It took me, for instance, almost a year to lose my eighteen pounds, and I reduced so slowly that my friends didn't even notice a difference in my appearance; but, Ah! I sure did. And I especially noticed how much better I felt. I can think more clearly, and furthermore, I have more time now for thinking, for I find my mind does not run on food all the time! I can even skip a meal now and then and not notice it. We all eat too much, and I am grateful that overeating is a thing of the past with me. But I sure did love my eats. Awful, isn't it?—Mrs. M."

Your experience of sticking to your reducing, Mrs. M., no matter if you did not seem to get results at first, will be a helpful pointer to many. I find that most want to reduce too rapidly. A physician once said to me that it ought to take just as long to reduce the excess weight as it took to accumulate it; but I don't agree, and I have had much more experience in this line than he has. It is not necessary, nor desirable, in most cases. For instance, one may gain not more than five pounds a year but if he does this every year for ten years, he will have an excess of fifty pounds. Now when he sees the light, he should take that fifty pounds off in one year or even less, instead of taking the ten years that it took him to accumulate it. However, that's a good thought for those who want to reduce over night.

According to the standard rule of 110 pounds (without clothes,) for five feet in height, in stocking feet, and five and one-half pounds for each inch over, you are still twelve pounds overweight, Mrs. M., but we allow a slight variation of five per cent or so, or below, this weight for the heaviness of the framework, and possibly you have a heavy frame.

Most of those who reduce experience the same mental exhilaration and speeding up that you have experienced, Mrs. M. If we got all the overweight persons in this country down to normal weight, there is no computing what a wealth of ideas might be turned loose to add to the sum total of happiness in the world.

No, "we all" do not eat too much. I'll have to correct you there Mrs. M. How about our T. T. T.'s. As a rule they do not eat enough. We can say, however, that "we all" who are overweight eat too much! Easily.

(The instructions which this correspondent followed are contained in our booklet on the subject. Those in need of it may have it by sending ten cents in stamps with a self-addressed stamped envelope.)

Walking and Hopping as Exercises

Walking, especially with a long stride, and briskly, is a splendid exercise. If it is done in the open air, there is the added advantage of the fresh air, and sunshine, if there is any. Merely sauntering along slowly gives very little exercise. But it gives you the fresh open air, and that is something not to be sneezed at!

Hopping is a wonderful exercise, but it is much more strenuous than walking, so those who have any reasons for not taking strenuous exercise, should not take it. The folk dances furnish an exceedingly pleasant form of exercise because they have so much hopping. Probably nine-tenths of us do not get enough physical exercise. Let's add a little hopping, or strenuous walking?

(Speaking of exercises —we have an article on exercise for the abdominal and back muscles. Send self-addressed stamped envelope for article on Atonic Abdominal Wall.)

Tomorrow—Broadcasting Health.

My dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

New Safe Treatment for Feminine Hygiene

Sheer Frocks and Women's Hygiene

New way safer—Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND Registered Nurse

5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads," it permits one to dance, motor, go about for hours without a moment's doubt. Also deodorizes; thus ending all fear of offense.

Obtain at any store without embarrassment simply by saying "KOTEX." Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Good Pop-Overs

Pop-overs are considered a difficult muffin to make by some cooks, but the success lies in having the batter very cold and the pans into which it is poured very hot. Then bake as directed in your usual recipe.

On Bitter Nights

When the family is large one does does not always have enough hot water bottles to go around to warm up the beds on bitter cold nights. An ordinary quart flask filled with boiling water, then tightly corked and protected with a towel will answer just as well and will be no expense.

Discarded House Dresses

It is nearly always the waist of the house dress that wears out first, leaving a perfectly good skirt. Why not utilize these skirts by cutting them into good-sized aprons for kitchen wear?

Prevents Tarnish

Keep a piece of gum camphor in the buffet drawer with your flat silver. You will find it will prevent the silver from tarnishing for quite some time.

Hard to Wash

After using the sieve for floury articles it is anything but easy to wash. However, if a stiff brush with ammonia water is applied a few vigorous strokes will do the trick. Never use soap on it.

Gained Pounds of Weight in Only 3 Weeks with New Yeast and Iron—or pay nothing

Thousands are amazed at IRONIZED YEAST. They can't understand the magic by which IRONIZED YEAST transforms thin, run down, pasty-faced men into well-filled-out, clear-skinned, vigorous people. Those who have been benefited could tell you (for their letters tell us) how a one course treatment of IRONIZED YEAST has given them 5 to 15 pounds of firm flesh, cleared the skin, improved digestion, assimilation and bowel action. It has put them on their feet again—given them a new interest and pleasure in life.

Vegetable iron and yeast have always been known as ideal blood and body builders. But it remained for us to combine these two vital elements in a highly concentrated form. By our new, special formula IRONIZED YEAST is 9 times more effective than ordinary baker's yeast and iron alone.

Sickening Oil Unnecessary

A single tablet of IRONIZED YEAST gives you all the weight-building benefits contained in 10 tablespoonfuls of cod liver oil—without the sickening, fishy taste or "repeating" afterward. IRONIZED YEAST speeds up assimilation so that you get the full benefit of the food you eat. It clears the blood of impurities that ruin complexion, giving you a nice, clear, healthy skin. It will pick you right up and fill you with the pep and "life" you have always longed for.

If you are below normal weight—take warning! Underweight people have low resistance to disease. Do something now to put on good firm flesh. Take IRONIZED YEAST. See your body build up. Notice how your skin clears, your digestion improves and you feel new strength and pep. Absolutely safe, containing no harmful drugs.

Try It on "Money-Back" Offer

Go today to any drug store and get a full size treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with effects, ask for your money back. It will be refunded immediately. If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.00 direct to THE IRONIZED YEAST CO., ATLANTA, GA., DESK 93-C.

Two events are scheduled this month for St. Ann's Inn, in Santa Ana, according to R. L. Bisby, manager of the inn. On Sunday, the 20th inst., a colonial dinner will be served from 12 noon to 8 p.m. The management has arranged to have a number of young people, in costume of the period, sing and mingle with the guests. Some old spinning wheels and spinnets, and other colonial relics, will help to transform the hotel into an old-fashioned home.

On Tuesday evening, the 22nd inst., there will be a colonial dinner and dance with as many as possible in costume and the same features of the Colonial Period will be carried out in the matter of the exhibition of furniture and dances. This dance will be under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Rockwell, an experienced teacher of dancing. Mme. Rockwell has arranged some very interesting and entertaining features for that evening.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Noticing Symptoms

One Mother Says:

My own mother called my attention to a habit I had with the children which was affecting them badly. I constantly commented on their health, noting their color, asking about their digestion, and taking their temperature when they had bad colds or were likely to have fever. My youngest little girl who had been the main victim of my nervous watchfulness had gone to grandmother and demanded tearfully if it were true that she was the invalid that mothed seemed to think. I don't know where she picked up the word, but I certainly took care that she got no more sick suggestions from me.

SPAGHETTI ITALIAN

Place three-quarters of a pound of spaghetti in boiling salted water with one onion stuck with two whole cloves and one tablespoonful of butter; cook until the spaghetti is tender, drain in a collander and mix with two cupfuls of tomato sauce, half a cupful of grated Parmesan cheese and a seasoning of pepper and grated nutmeg; cook ten minutes, mixing well. Dish on a hot platter and serve grated Parmesan cheese in a separate dish.

TOMATO SAUCE

Place in a saute pan half a cupful of olive oil, half a cupful of chopped onion, two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped celery, four tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one chopped clove of garlic and a seasoning of salt and pepper; mix well, add half a cupful of tomato conserve (Italian tomato paste) and stir and boil until thick and creamy. Strain through a sieve and use.

MARMALADE TURNOVERS

Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with half a teaspoonful of salt and chop into it two-thirds of a cupful of butter; when like coarse meal add gradually one-third of a cupful of water and work to a smooth dough; place in the ice box until thoroughly chilled, about three hours; roll in a square piece, cut in squares, spread with orange marmalade, fold to form a triangle, press the edges together, lay o a baking pan, sprinkle with sugar and bake a nice brown. Serve hot with cream or cold with a custard-sauce.

OX TAIL SOUP

Soak an ox tail in cold water for three hours, drain, cut in joints, remove all fat and place in a kettle with six cupfuls of cold water, half a teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sugar and one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce; bring to a boil and simmer three hours; add one finely chopped onion and one sliced carrot and boil forty-five minutes. Serve with toasted bread crusts.

BRAISED TONGUE

Cover a clean beef tongue with cold water and let stand two hours; drain, wipe dry and place in a pot with boiling water to cover; add one onion stuck with two whole cloves, two branches of parsley, one stalk of celery and a bay leaf; bring to a boil and cook fifty minutes; drain, plunge into cold water, remove roots and skin and dry well. Heat four tablespoonfuls of butter in a Dutch oven add the tongue and turn until evenly browned on all sides; lift out the tongue and place in the pot three sliced carrots and two sliced onions and cook until lightly browned; add the tongue, sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour over one cupful of hot water mixed with two tablespoonfuls of orange juice and one teaspoonful of lemon juice; add two whole cloves, six pepper corns, one bay leaf, one stalk of celery; two branches of parsley and a blade of mace; cover the Dutch oven with a piece of buttered paper and cook in a slow oven until tender, about three hours. Thirty minutes before taking from the oven, remove the paper, increase the heat and turn and baste the tongue often. Lift tongue to a hot platter; strain the liquor, remove the fat; add two tablespoonfuls of brown flour and stir and boil five minutes; pour the sauce over the tongue and serve.

'CRONY' OF GOVERNORS HELD FOR AUTO THEFT

Telling a tale of social frivolity and care-free life in Miami, Cleveland and New York, Elbert Delma Nall, self-styled graduate of Columbia University and friend of several governors, yesterday was held to answer for removal to New York on charges of violating the Dyer Motor Vehicle Theft Act. "The car was loaned to me by a friend whom I thought was a millionaire's son," Nall testified. The government charges Nall stole the machine in Miami from Carson Bardford, Miami business man, and drove it to New York on September 10, 1926.

Pair Escapes Long Sentence by Sheer Luck

Luck played into the hands of Gordon Lee Wood and J. P. Ferguson yesterday and kept them from serving a possible sentence of one year to life in San Quentin penitentiary.

Wood and Ferguson were tried in Judge Baird's court on a charge of robbery preferred against them in connection with the asserted hold-up of Anthony Clements of Glendale, in which he was robbed of jewelry, furniture and clothing valued at $500.

After hearing the testimony the jury brought in two verdicts, pronouncing them guilty of second-degree robbery and petty larceny. As the offense of robbery only was charged, Judge Baird informed the jury it could not return two verdicts. After reconsideration the jury killed the robbery verdict and found the pair guilty of petty larceny.

Attorneys for Wood and Ferguson, intimating that they feared the jurors might again change their attitude, waived delay in sentence and Judge Baird imposed a six-months' term in the County Jail on each of the defendants.

OFFICER EXONERATED

Police Commission Dismisses Charges of Brutality

The Police Commission yesterday dismissed charges of brutality against Police Officer J. R. Steward. Dr. Fred J. Barnet, in a letter to the commission, charged that Steward had used unnecessary violence in ejecting an intoxicated man from the Commodore Grill, Seventh and Lucas streets, about a month ago. The officer, he said, had kicked the man in the ribs.

Chief of Police Davis presented a report of a police investigation which absolved the officer. The drunken man, it was said, had used vile language, had resisted ejection and had fallen down. The officer, it was declared had not kicked him.

The commission dismissed the charges despite Dr. Barnet's demand for an investigation by the commission instead of by the police.

Kin of Late Pasadenan Charge Plot to Plunder $300,000 Estate

A plot to plunder the $300,000 estate of James Alva Price who died in Pasadena January 9 at the age of 81 years, is charged in a contest of his will, filed in Probate Court yesterday by Attorney Phillip McHugh in behalf of seven heirs.

It is asserted by the contestants that Mrs. Grace Davis Lynch, a nurse, and Rowan T. Segner, Pasadena banker, persuaded Price to alter his will while he was kept practically incommunicado in a "rest home" just prior to his death and that they conspired to obtain a key to the aged man's safe deposit box with a view to diminishing the estate prior to probate.

The contestants are Emma Price, a sister, and several nieces and cousins and a nephew. All reside in Canada.

STAR NAMES FOR GOLD RUSH FILM

Harry Carey, Karl Dane, Play in "The Trail of '98;" Alma Rubens Doesn't Like Stories, Leaves Fox; Wilkes Will Stage Mack's "The Noose"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Harry Carey

Having assigned a number of important players and packed up his traveling kit, Clarence Brown, M.-G.-M. director, who sets such store by Service's story, "The Trail of '98," that he means to make it as far as possible in the exact locale of the story up in Alaska, but who finds it practicable to make some of the scenes in Colorado, is planning to leave next week for the latter place. He will take his players to the snow-capped Continental Divide.

Harry Carey, having proven that he can successfully play baseball heroes and such, is once more back in a western role. But this time it will be as an Alaskan miner in Brown's picture. He is to have the role of Jack Locosto, according to announcement of Irving C. Thalberg.

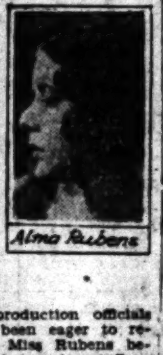
Carey recently appeared to advantage in "The Little Journey" and has just completed one of the featured roles of "Slide, Kelly, Slide," with William Haines and Sally O'Neil, under the direction of Edward Sedgwick.

Karl Dane and George Cooper, famed for certain of their delineations of the screen, have been assigned important roles also. Dane will play the role of Lars Peterson, and Cooper will be seen as Samuel Foote, also called the Worm. Everybody remembers him as Slim in "The Big Parade," and since then he has appeared in several M.-G.-M. pictures, including "La Boheme," "The Scarlet Letter," and others.

Cooper is well known for his work as a character comedian and anybody who saw him in "Red Dice" will forget his work as the gunman. He appeared in "Tin Hats" and "Women Love Diamonds."

Ralph Forbes and Tully Marshall are the other players assigned and several characters remain still to be cast.

Alma Rubens Quits Fox



Alma Rubens

No longer is Alma Rubens, Fox Films star during the past two years, to be associated under contract with that company. This was stated by the star herself yesterday and confirmed by Fox officials. Upon completion of "The Heart of Salome" the latter part of this month, her current starring vehicle, a modern French adaptation of the Salome story which Victor Schertzinger is directing, her term at the Fox studio will be ended.

Although Fox production officials admit they have been eager to retain her services, Miss Rubens being reckoned by their sales staff as one of their best drawing cards, she states that she demanded that definite screen vehicles of worth be found for her for the coming year before renewing her contract. Stories to her satisfaction not being aligned, she says, she and Fox failed to strike a new agreement to follow the one terminated last Friday, the 4th inst. However, cordial relations still exist between Fox officials and Miss Rubens, despite the disagreement on stories, and it is likely she will appear in future Fox productions.

During the past six years Miss Rubens has appeared in a number of noteworthy pictures including "Humoresque," "Cytherea," "Enemies of Women," "Under the Red Robe," "East Lynn" and "Siberia."

Iris Stuart's New Contract

IRIS STUART

Iris Stuart has been giving such a splendid account of herself in Raymond Griffith's new Paramount picture, "Beautiful Women," that this rising young actress has been given a new long-term contract with Famous Players-Lasky.

Just what her next role under her new contract will be isn't certain, but in the meantime she has joyously affixed her name to a new contract.

The young actress was formerly an advertising model in New York, and some one at the Paramount studios evincing curiosity as to the identity of a certain beauteous feminine being who so glorified the silk-stockings ads and others in which she appeared, she was sought out, given a screen test, and chosen to play certain small roles.

Her first important part was in Bebe Daniels's "Stranded in Paris," after which she played in "Casey at the Bat."

William Demarest in Demand

Although not yet through his featured role in "Matinee Ladies," William Demarest has already been assigned to an important part in the Warner Brothers production, "The First Auto."

Demarest is one of the few who jumped from vaudeville via the screen test to a five-year studio contract. Since signing with Warner Brothers two months ago, he has appeared in "Finger Prints," "Don't Tell the Wife," "The Gay Old Bird," "A Million Bid" and "Matinee Ladies."

In "The First Auto" he will play the role of the country know-it-all who doesn't believe that a vehicle can move without a horse.

Patsy Ruth Miller will be the star of "The First Auto," with Charles Emmett Mack in the leading male role, while others cast are Frank Campeau, Paul Kruger and Russell Simpson.

Ruth Renick in "The Noose"

"The Noose," a melodramatic comedy by Willard Mack, is to be produced by Thomas Wilkes in the West.

The play, which has been doing excellent business in New York, is said to somewhat resemble the metropolis's greatest hit of the current season, "Broadway," and like the latter-named play deals with cabarets, bootleggers, hijackers and other elements of wild night life.

RUTH RENICK

Ruth Renick, former popular favorite of the Majestic, will have the leading feminine role, and co-featured with her will be Walter Percival, who at present is playing the heavy in "Alias the Deacon," which is making such a hit at the Hollywood Playhouse, and Stanley Taylor perhaps best remembered for his work as the boy in "Clarence" at the Majestic.

The piece is to open in San Francisco for a run a few weeks hence, after which it will be brought to Los Angeles.

Oscar Bergi in It

She begins work this coming Saturday.

Jean Arthur Signs

JEAN ARTHUR

Jean Arthur, a budding screen ingenue, has been selected by Jess Smith to play the lead opposite Jack Mulhall in the production of "The Poor Nut" for First National which Richard Wallace will start directing during the coming week at the Tec-Art Studio.

The actress's first real role was opposite Reginald Denny in the first of the famous "Leather Pushers" series. Others already cast for "The Poor Nut" include Jane Winton and Charlie Murray, who will be featured with Mulhall, Paul Kelly, Cornelius Keefe, Maurice Ryan, Henry Vibart and Bruce Gordon.

Comedienne with Warners

Because of the illness of Mildred June, who was scheduled to play the leading feminine role in Rin-Tin-Tin's next starring vehicle, "Tracked by the Police," the young actress has been forced to give up the role.

Frances Lee, who has made a reputation for herself during the last year in Christie comedies, has been borrowed from that company to undertake the feminine lead in the story. Miss Lee is a Wampas baby star this year. Jason Robards, as heretofore announced, is to be featured in the male lead, while others in important roles are Tom Santschi, Douglas Gerrard, Heinie Conklin and Tom McGuire.

"Topsy and Eva" Starts Soon

Camera work on "Topsy and Eva," the Duncan Sisters' stage success destined for the screen as a United Artists special, is to start soon, according to advices received from John W. Considine, Jr., and Roland West, heads of Feature Productions, Inc., which will make the comedy.

Appointment yesterday of Walter Mayo as production manager of the "Topsy and Eva" unit and selection of other members of the technical staff were announced.

'FIREBRAND' WAITS FOR FILM STAR

Wilkes Doesn't Want to Do Play Without Joseph Schildkraut

Al G. Wilkes has no particular desire to produce "The Firebrand" at his Vine-Street Theater unless Joseph Schildkraut can be secured for the leading role, it was said yesterday.

Schildkraut is said to be under a five-year contract to Cecil B. De Mille, and he is trying to make arrangements whereby a stage engagement would not interfere with his picture work.

Arrangements have already been made for two members of the original New York cast, Nana Bryant, who will portray the role of the Duchess, and Ruth Harding.

Wilkes hopes to secure the entire New York cast if he is able to have Schildkraut.

'Rookies' Feel Sympathy for Homesick Boy

Any man who has ever been a "rookie" in the Army will feel sympathetic embarrassment for the awkward private in the stage play, "What Price Glory," who approaches his domineering captain at a most inopportune moment to report the loss of his identification tag. This episode in the war comedy, scheduled to open at the Playhouse Theater tonight, under the auspices of the Sergt. Francis Green post 833, Veterans of the Foreign Wars, is one of the many human touches that have made "What Price Glory" one of the most discussed plays of recent time.

Emmett Corrigan, as Capt. Flagg, is anxious for a little privacy with Charmaine, for the moment the lady of his heart, when Private Lewishon breaks in on him and tells him he has lost his tag.

Private Lewishon, with his awkwardness and his ill-fitting uniform is more than a mere incident in the play. He epitomizes the tragedy of the homesick boys never cut out for soldiers, who lost their lives overseas.

Maxwell Anderson and Laurence Stallings, authors of "What Price Glory" seem to have told more about the war in their three-act comedy than many historians have been able to do in a whole shelf of fat volumes.

Harland Would Learn to Play Steel Guitar

With Koahu Kialini, leader of the Hawaiian orchestra, personally instructing him on the guitar, Harland Tucker, leading man in "One Man's Woman" at the Orange Grove, announced yesterday that he was getting along fine and expects shortly to be able to master the instrument.

Tucker, it is said, developed a desire to learn to play the Hawaiian guitar since the opening of "One Man's Woman," Michael Kallesser's sex comedy at the Orange Grove seven weeks ago. Laid in Hawaii, "One Man's Woman" has in its cast a half-dozen Hawaiian dancers and a native orchestra. Upon hearing the instrumentalists playing at every performance, Tucker decided that he could also learn to play the fascinating music. As a result, the leading man has been practicing daily under the watchful eye of the Hawaiian musician.

Tucker has already mastered the ukulele, it was said at the Orange Grove yesterday, but the wailing of steel guitars has won him over. He predicts that the vastly popular uke will soon make its exit, and the romantic swains of the early future will entertain their girl friends with steel guitars.

CHILD IN "THE FOOL" PRAISED BY CRITICS

Audiences at the Belmont Theater this week are commenting on the performance being given by little Frances Buckley, who essays the role of "Mary Margaret," the crippled child who is restored to health by her faith, in the Channing Pollock stage play, "The Fool." According to those who have viewed the show, Miss Buckley gives one of the finest emotional performances ever enacted by a child on a local stage and a great future is predicted for her by the critics.

Owing to future contracts held by James Kirkwood and Lila Lee, co-stars of "The Fool," the management of the Belmont announces that the engagement of the Pollock drama at the First-and-Vermont playhouse is limited.

Since the opening of "The Fool" last Sunday night, capacity houses have greeted all performances, it is claimed.

AS MASTER OF CEREMONY

Coincident with the opening of Richard Barthelmess in "The White Black Sheep" at the West Coast Boulevard Theater, Lynn Cowan, composer of popular songs, will appear as master of ceremonies and a feature of Boulevard stage presentations. The footlight offering during the showing of the Barthelmess picture will be "Specialties," featuring several Fanchon and Marco favorites.

WITH "BABY" STARS

REALISTIC OFFERING AT GARRET

Intimate Presentation of Kearney's "A Man's Man" Given at Little Theater

With amazing realism, the Garret Theater last evening presented "A Man's Man," the human drama of American life in the tenements written by Patrick Kearney, who adapted "An American Tragedy" for the stage.

Although the tiny room where the Garret Theater presents its plays holds many drawbacks in the matter of stage facilities and of lack of size, it yet holds one great advantage. Each and every member of the audience feels a part of the drama going on so few feet away on the stage. And, in this intimacy, a sympathetic feeling results.

So it was last evening. The story of Mel and Edie, a couple of shop workers who had been married a year, their feeble celebration of their first anniversary, their guests who shouted boisterously and drank up all the gin, the false friend who humored the silly little wife into thinking she looked like Mary Pickford—and the husband who got drunk and disgusted her into disloyalty to him—all these happenings seemed to be in the informality of the home with the audience taking part.

Apparently, though "A Man's Man" lost much in smoothness and polish in its cramped quarters, it was none the less powerful. This drama by Mr. Kearney is a remarkably clear and human bit of American realism, and last evening this was brought out rather well.

Cecil Storm as the newly married man who "wants to be an Elk" is splendid. His scene with his wife after his discovery of her duplicity is by far his best. He is natural throughout—so much so that his voice drops conversationally until it is hardly heard.

As the wife who longs to be in the movies and is bored with married life with the "L" going by just outside the window, Magdalene Schaefer gives a sympathetic portrayal. She occasionally drops her character but for the most part is very convincing. Moreover, strangely enough, she does "look like Mary Pickford," which is the dream of the girl she portrays.

Will Reynolds plays the deceiving friend only indifferently. He of the whole cast seems stagey and to be acting. Marie Chappelle plays the girl friend with hard-boiled candor and gives an interesting and commendable performance. However at times she rather overdoes it.

"A Man's Man" will play the rest of the week, and on Sunday evening the principals of "The Miracle" will be guests of the theater. Last evening Eileen Robinson, who appeared in the leading role of this play in New York and in San Francisco, was an interested spectator.

Venice Tickets Prove Popular With Children

The free tickets to Venice Pier attractions and lobby show offered for children last Saturday by the Million Dollar Theater proved so popular that the Venice Amusement men have agreed to extend the same offer this coming Saturday to children attending the matinee performance of Harold Lloyd as "The Kid Brother," and Frank L. Newman, managing director of the theater, will stake the same show.

The children who purchase tickets to see Lloyd will receive a special ticket entitling them to admission to the following attractions on the Venice Pier: Giant Dipper, Dodgem, Racing Derby, Bobs, Dragon Slide, Fun House, Coal Mine, Baby Rides, Some Kick and the Venice Plunge.

The Million Dollar midgets, now appearing in the prologue, will be present in the lobby to distribute souvenirs to all persons attending the matinees, and Josephine, the monkey appearing in the Lloyd film, will be on hand also, to greet the kiddies.

Roach Comedy Now at Loew's is Milestone

"Love My Dog," the "Our Gang" comedy at Loew's State Theater this week, is a milestone in the history of this unique motion-picture troupe.

Its filming marked the fifth anniversary of the inception of the "Our Gang" idea and is the sixtieth of such comedies produced by Hal Roach, all directed by the same man, Robert McGowan.

At the conclusion of this production Mr. McGowan sought and secured three months' leave of absence, turning the company over to his two assistants, Anthony Mack and Charley Oelze—but before he left the city for Havana, Cuba, he signed a new five-year contract to continue the making of "Gang" comedies. This new contract indicates Mr. Roach's faith in the "Gang" as a screen institution.

TRIXIE FRIGANZA COMING TO ORPHEUM

The Orpheum will celebrate its thirty-third anniversary, starting Sunday matinee. Irene Bordoni, the diminutive little musical comedy star, will remain for a second week to headline the special bill.

TRIXIE FRIGANZA

There will also be numerous old favorites on the special anniversary week bill, among them being Trixie Friganza, with a new "Bag of Trix."

Val and Ernie Stanton, the English boys from America, and the lavishly staged Orpheum circuit dance revue, which features Helen Pachaud and a number of girls.

This special feature was staged by Sexter and Anito Peters Wright, and it has special costumes and settings by Henry Dreyfuss.

Other features will be "Much Ado About Nothing," a grand ensemble staged for laughing purposes only; Judson Cole in a humorous interlude; Peter Vanlane offering "Pictures in Sand," assisted by Earle Tanner and Florence Clark, and Sergt. Franklin and Ruby Royce, presenting "Trifles With Rifles."

War at Its Best

Emmett Corrigan and Nanette Vallon

Who appear as Capt. Flagg, and Charmaine in "What Price Glory" which opens on the stage at the Playhouse tonight.

"EACH BETTER THAN LAST"

When Clarence Brown was in New York last spring, he told one of the cinema critics that his aim was to make each picture a little better than the last.

Clarence Brown

After seeing "Flesh and the Devil," Mr. Brown's picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, now playing at the Forum Theater, the critic recalled his conversation with the director, and remarked that improving each picture seemed likely to become an onerous task, for, he said: "'Flesh and the Devil' is a remarkably fine picture play and it will be difficult indeed to equal or surpass it.

"Apart from unusually excellent performances, this is said to be a top-grade picture in direction. Brown has made effective use of lights and camera, and offers several striking variations in technique."

"Of course," the critic continues, "Brown was most fortunate in his cast. John Gilbert, Greta Garbo and Lars Hanson are a trio hard to beat. The scenes between Gilbert and Hanson were superior. Mr. Brown puts his spectators in the believing mood."

IN COMEDY ROLE

Raymond Hatton is playing his first comedy role since the completion of "We're in the Navy Now." His new characterization is that of a press agent in "Fashions for Women," which Dorothy Arzner is directing for Paramount.

POLISH PSYCHIC

Nostradamus Attracts Attention With Miraculous Feats

Presenting one of the most novel and entertaining offerings staged in Los Angeles theatrical circles recently, Nostradamus, the Polish psychic who startled the world by being buried alive, has opened a two weeks' engagement at the Ambassador Hotel Theater.

Displaying control of body, both local and general, in a manner so startling that it seems almost impossible, Nostradamus thrills his audience with miraculaus feats. Not only does he perform these feats on himself, but he performs demonstrations with animals.

This strange man of the East has attracted the attention of the medical profession during his travels and Los Angeles apparently has proven no exception in this respect. Using no trick or device in any of his experiments, he has invited the medical profession to witness his feats.

Nostradamus has also created a variance of discussion in motion-picture circles, and many parties of motion-picture actors and actresses have made reservations at the theater during his limited engagement, it is said.

ALEX FRANCIS PAYS TRIBUTE TO GIRLS

That the modern flapper is just as sweet and just as refreshing as her most demure grandmother was in the days gone by is the tribute paid the girls of today by Alec B. Francis, who is scoring with a portrayal in "The Music Master," now showing at the Figueroa.

"Those self-appointed critics who find fault with the girls of today should seek other subjects on whom to lay their sarcasm," says Francis. "There is nothing wrong with them or their actions, they just seem to be enjoying life with more exuberance and outward display than the feminine sex did years ago."

"The Music Master" is to continue for a second week, due to the large crowds who have thus far been unable to secure seats.

LARRY SEMON WILL RECITE "DAN McGREW"

The orator is Larry Semon and the oration is one which Larry is said to do perfect justice to, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew." Semon will also sing a number and do a little dance.

The occasion is anniversary week at the Uptown, which is being observed with an augmented program, which includes special music and stage offerings by Abe Lyman and his band, William Demarest, who makes his screen debut in Louise Fazenda's picture, "Finger Prints," appears on the stage with his partner, Colette, in specialties.

DORIS EATON FEATURE

Doris Eaton will be the featured star of the Fanchon and Marco presentation which opens at Loew's State Friday. Miss Eaton comes to Loew's State fresh from her triumphs as the star of a Hollywood revue. The presentation will be called Fanchon and Marco's "Serpentine Idea," and Miss Eaton will be supported by twenty-four California dancing beauties who have been trained for Fanchon and Marco by Larry Ceballos.

BRILLIANT BALL NOVEL SPECTACLE

Constantin Bakaleinikoff

Sid Grauman's prologue, introducing "Old Ironsides," Paramount's picturization of the American Navy in the making, sets new standards even for Grauman's Egyptian Theater, to judge by the interest being shown in the spectacle by theater and stage managers.

After the special overture, "Old Ironsides," by Grauman's Egyptian orchestra, Constantin Bakaleinikoff conducting, the prologue opens with the spectacle of a military ball the night before the launching of the old frigate, the U.S.S. Constitution, which later became known as "Old Ironsides."

More than 100 persons appear on the stage, including naval officers and civilians attending the ball in the brilliant costumes of the time. Artists brought from all parts of the country by Grauman entertain the assemblage gathered to celebrate the occasion.

College Band Must Produce Dance Numbers

Probably one of the most unusual contracts ever entered into in Los Angeles by an orchestra leader was signed last week by Brick English, head of one of the few all-collegiate orchestras in existence. The contract, which was offered by the management of the Cinderella Roof, requires English to produce an original dance number once a month, to be featured exclusively at the Roof under copyright, and to be played nowhere else except for record making. English has already composed several dance numbers which have met with success, but none of these will be considered under the terms of the contract with the Roof.

BRICK ENGLISH

The Brick English orchestra was organized at a Middle Western university at a time when every member of the organization was also a member of the glee club. The ten men, nine of whom are fraternity men, have played together for several years in cities of the Mid-West and Southland, coming originally to Los Angeles from Chicago.

Hatton Farce to Have World Premiere Here

Frederick and Fannie Hatton are here in Los Angeles to aid in the production of their latest play, "Synthetic Sin," which will have its world premiere at the Morosco Theater, following the current production, "The Poor Nut."

The Hattons have had no less than five plays open in Los Angeles, and all of them became successes later in New York, it is said. They are "Upstairs and Down," "The Waning Sex," "Playthings," "Lombardi, Ltd.," and "The Song Bird."

These two writers have had more openings in Los Angeles than perhaps any other writers, and so, in bringing the script of "Synthetic Sin" from New York, where they wrote it, to Los Angeles for production, they feel assured that it will become a success.

"Everything depends on the first night in New York," Mr. Hatton said, "and if a play fails then it is discarded and forgotten." In Los Angeles, Mr. Hatton believes, a good play has the opportunity to get started, and if it proves a success here it will be a success throughout the rest of the country.

"Synthetic Sin" is a comedy-melodrama. John Litel will play the leading male role and Alma Tell will play the leading lady.

Ingenue Finds Difference in Stage, Screen

Now that the fatiguing rehearsals are passe in so far as she is concerned, Helen Ferguson, who enacts the featured ingenue role in "Alias the Deacon," now showing at the Hollywood Playhouse, confesses rather timidly that there is a strong fascination behind the footlights.

Helen Ferguson

Miss Ferguson, who is one of the screen's bright luminaries and has fans both in this country and abroad, temporarily forsook her film career in order to gain stage experience.

"I must admit that it is more difficult to face your audience and gauge the success of your acting by the applause than through pantomime on the silver sheet. It is increasingly difficult, because you are aware of the eyes focused on your action and the slightest error can not be corrected.

University Professor Says New York Watches Our Theaters

Completing a six months' investigational trip spent in observing the relation of dramatic work to the educational field, Miss Florence Hubbard, professor of dramatics in the school of speech of the University of Southern California, has returned to Los Angeles, resuming her teaching duties on the Trojan campus.

"While attending almost weekly the Monday evening studio meetings of directors, producers, critics and dramatic editors at the Lambs Club in New York, I was repeatedly asked 'What does it mean, the opening of four new theaters in Los Angeles and Hollywood since September?' New York, I gathered, has its eye on Los Angeles, and predicts that this city will soon rival New York as the outstanding theatrical center," said Miss Hubbard.

Miss Hubbard spent two months working with Boleslavsky of the Moscow Art Theater group in New York at the American Laboratory Theater. Boleslavsky, she states, is attempting to bring into commercial directing in this country the European principals where every participant must learn every part of the play. The New York group, composed of young aspirants mostly of college age, coming from Harvard, Vassar, Yale, Wellesley, etc., spends one year in training and is then placed in the repertoire. Each member of the cast, she says, is told his part for the evening only at 5 o'clock of the date of the performance. Ballet instruction and methods courses for drama teachers are also included.

Miss Hubbard is to review a group of New York productions for the Women's University Club of this city.

FINISHING ROLE

Einar Hanson is nearing the completion of his first picture to be made under the terms of his new long-term contract with Paramount. He is playing the leading role opposite Esther Ralston in her first starring vehicle, "Fashions for Women," which Dorothy Arzner is directing.

CALEXICO POLICE CHIEF ARRESTED

Action Follows Shooting of Lettuce Shipper

Wounded Man Said to Have Threatened Officer

Wife Swears Out Warrant as Spouse in Hospital

CALEXICO, Feb. 8.—Mrs. W. A. Taylor, wife of an El Centro lettuce shipper, who was shot and wounded by Joe Hardwick, Chief of Police of Calexico, last Thursday night, swore out a warrant today charging the officer with assault with a deadly weapon. Immediately after his arrest bu deputy sheriffs, Hardwick was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Mayfield of El Centro and released under $20,000 bond, which was furnished by local friends of the police chief.

The shooting incident took place near the police station in Calexico when Taylor and a party of friends crossed the line from Mexicali at 9 o'clock in the evening.

According to the story told by Chief Hardwick, Taylor resisted arrest and reached for his hip pocket. "I thought he was going to shoot," Hardwick said, "and pulled my own gun and fired." The bullet entered Taylor's side near the heart and passed through his lung. The lettuce shipper denies that he was armed and asserted that the officer had no justification for the shooting. "I did not know he was an officer," said Taylor, "and he refused to give a satisfactory answer when I questioned his authority to place me under arrest."

Hardwick's two sons witnessed the shooting and confirmed their father's version of the affair. Prominent lettuce shippers who are associated with Taylor expressed indignation over the affair and declared that they had raised a fund of $1000 to prosecute the officer.

Police Commissioner A. Z. Agnew of Calexico stated today that the City Trustees would defend the action of the chief. Taylor was taken to an El Centro hospital, where, it was stated that his condition is not critical.

Man Dies When Autos Collide in Dense Fog

SANTA ANA, Feb. 8.—Mentone Castro, 48, 912 East Walnut, Santa Ana, died in the Orange County Hospital last night from injuries received twenty-four hours earlier in an automobile accident in the Santa Ana Canyon. No blame for Castro's death was fixed by a Coroner's jury which today held an inquest over the body, according to Coroner Charles D. Brown. The accident occurred five miles east of Olive when the car occupied by Castro and several companions collided head-on with a machine driven by M. Wulffenstein of Long Beach. The car in which Castro was riding was driven by D. Muro of Santa Ana. Two other men in the car with Castro and a woman, Mrs. C. L. Kinder of Long Beach in the Wulffenstein machine also were injured. That a dense fog was partly responsible for the accident was written in the verdict of the Coroner's jury.

HERE'S DIFFERENT PISCATORIAL TALE

BALBOA, Feb. 8.—Fishes big and little had their day here yesterday. It was fish day. The local Chamber of Commerce sponsored a fishing contest on the local pier with the result that more than 200 fishermen flocked to Balboa and tried their luck. Jack Fessman of Santa Ana won the prize for catching the largest fish, a nine-pound bass, and Bob Blair of Balboa was awarded the prize for catching the smallest fish, which weighed twenty-nine grains. It takes 437.5 grains to make an ounce, and 7000 grains to make a pound, so Blair's fish was not much to brag about, but it won the $5 just the same. The fishing contest is expected to be made a regular event at Balboa.

SKATER IN STREET CAUSES ACCIDENT

FULLERTON, Feb. 8.—A boy roller-skating on East Chapman avenue, Fullerton, is blamed for an automobile crash in which one car was turned over and several persons narrowly escaped serious injury, according to report on file at the Fullerton Police Department. C. E. Leach of Placentia, driving west on Chapman avenue, came suddenly upon the boy in the dark and in attempting to pass him sideswiped a car driven by Clyde Ruddock, also of Placentia, turning the latter machine over, it is reported. Both cars were badly damaged.

DRY PARTY DRIVE FOR VOTERS ON

State Secretary in Orange County to Begin Whirlwind Membership Campaign

SANTA ANA, Feb. 8.—Leading a determined movement to combat what he asserts is wet propaganda, J. C. Bell of Los Angeles, State Secretary of the Prohibition party, today began a whirlwind organization campaign in Orange county that will culminate in a general meeting of prohibitionists at the Courthouse here tomorrow.

A large registration of drys and a larger vote at all elections where the wet and dry issue is involved will be the aim of the organization, Bell stated. County committees delegated to interview voters in their communities will be elected at the gathering which will be held in the Board of Supervisors' room.

Bell already has conducted similar campaigns in Imperial, San Bernardino and Riverside counties in which he said considerable enthusiasm was created and increased prohibition registration assured.

"We are not afraid of the wets," Bell stated. "We know they have not gained ground but we realize that their propaganda tending to make disinterested persons think they are making headway is dangerous.

"According to our best information 773 prohibitionists are registered in Orange county at present. We believe this number can be doubled or even trebled and we urge all interested to attend this meeting." Bell will confer with prohibition partisans in all parts of the county today and early tomorrow.

SEEKS MAIL CARRIERS

Lankershim About to Win in Long Fight for Free Deliveries

LANKERSHIM, Feb. 8.—After several years of complaints over congestion in the local postoffice, it is now believed that Lankershim is on the eve of being granted a city mail carrier system with at least four carriers to take care of the districts in the townsite proper and in the area immediately adjoining.

Postmaster Milbiack and leading members of the Chamber of Commerce state there will be free city deliveries by July 1 at least. The granting of the fre delivery system has been held up by the national postal authorities because of the lack of sidewalks in Lankershim. For a year or more there has been a sidewalk building campaign going on. A recent survey shows there are twenty-three miles of paved walks in the town, which is more than sufficient to justify a carrier system.

About a year and a half ago, Van Nuys, on the west, was granted free city delivery when it showed sixteen miles of paved walks in the townsite. The petition for the employment of four outside carriers in the Lankershim district is now in the hands of the first assistant postmaster at Washington, D. C.

GLENDALE GIRL HURT BY STUDENT'S AUTO

GLENDALE, Feb. 8.—Esther Hendricks, 19 years of age, 518 South Adams street, suffered a fracture of the skull this morning when she was knocked down by a car driven by Frank Lauridsen, 219 East Harvard street. A student at Occidental College, Miss Hendricks also received a bruise on the scalp and gashes on the face and one knee.

She was taken to the Windsor Hospital. The accident occurred as Lauridsen turned from Chevy Chase Drive into Colorado Boulevard after making the boulevard stop. Police have not yet decided whether action shall be taken against Lauridsen.

AUTOMOBILE BURNS AS OWNER SLEEPS

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 8.—Nero and his fiddle and Rome in flames may be more or less legendary, but there was no doubt about the strange case of Mr. John W. Stoneman, 621 West Fourth street, Los Angeles, if police reports are correct. Mr. Stoneman left his automobile at Garfield avenue and Los Higos street today and retired to an alfalfa field for a little nap. While he was snoozing his machine caught fire. The fire department came and put out the blaze. Then a police officer found Stoneman in the field fast asleep. He was escorted to the station and booked on a charge of being drunk.

BOY SCOUTS NEVER JAIL CELL INMATES

PASADENA, Feb. 8.—"I am glad to be able to say authoritatively that we have never booked a legitimate Boy Scout in the Los Angeles County Jail," Sheriff William I. Traeger stated in a letter received today by Tallman H. Trask, local Boy Scout executive. Today was the first day of Boy Scout Anniversary Week.

SEA LIFE TO BE STUDIED

Observatory for Microscopic Study Opened in Balboa by Scripps Institute

BALBOA, Feb. 8.—The city took another step forward in the scientific world this week when it officially opened its first observatory for the microscopic study of marine life. The station has been established by the Scripps Institute of Oceanography and will be used for the study of physical hydrography and marine biology.

Antar Deraga, local weather observer, life guard and geological observer, will be in charge of the new observatory which is located on the Balboa pier. Deraga explained that the station was established here because of the extensive research work which has been carried on through the local weather station. The cooperation of the city officials with the institute, also was a factor in causing the school officials to establish the station at Balboa.

The new observatory will be officially inspected Wednesday by Dr. George F. McEwen, physical hydrographer of the Scripps Institute and Prof. Winfred Emory Allen, marine biologist of the institute. The primary purpose of the station will be for the quantitative study of marine microscopic animal life, observations as to the density of the water in the ocean will be taken daily at regular hours, and the temperature of the water on the surface and on the bottom of the ocean at the end of the pier will be recorded at the station. The direction and velocity of the ocean currents, the state of the surface of the ocean and the surface and the height of tides also will be among the many things recorded.

Several specimens of ocean life already have been captured and are on exhibition at the station. According to Deraga the ocean and bay here are prolific with animal life. A sea mouse is one of the queer creatures numbered among the recent captures of the station.

UNION PACIFIC SUBMITS PLAN

Long Beach Track Problems May be Solved

Railroad Proposal Involves Bond Election

Provision of New Right of Way Around City Urged

LONG BEACH, Feb. 8.—Early solution of this city's railroad trackage difficulties and the removal of the Union Pacific tracks from the streets in the business center of Long Beach, are seen in a proposal submitted to the city by the railroad company following a conference of President Carl Gray and other Union Pacific officials with city officials.

Features of the proposal submitted, which, if tentatively accepted by the city, will involve a special election and the authorization of a $250,000 bond issue, are as follows:

Long Beach to provide a new right of way for the Union Pacific around the north limits of the city for a cut-off to Dominguez viaduct. Union Pacific to pay for all grade separations and crossings necessary thereunder.

The cost of such cut-off is estimated to be under $500,000. The city to pay for about $250,000 of that amount through a bond issue and balance by assessment district on property owners according to benefits derived.

Tracks are to be removed from Ocean Boulevard, for the entire distance from Golden avenue east to California avenue and on the latter north as far as Anaheim street.

Union Pacific is to erect a modern passenger station that will be adequate to the rapid growth and increasing needs of Long Beach and to cost in the neighborhood of $125,000.

The Union Pacific to turn over to the city of Long Beach the steel bascule bridge connecting Long Beach with Terminal Island across Long Beach Harbor entrance and the city to have and use same for vehicle and foot bridge.

Union Pacific is to deed to city its holdings south of tracks west of harbor entrance on Terminal Island to permit city to have a highway direct to the Ford plant and also to connect with Badger-avenue highway into East San Pedro.

It was announced today by City Manager Henderson that the proposal of the railroad company will be submitted in writing within a few days and will be placed before the City Council. If accepted by the Council it will go before the voters as soon as possible for a special bond election involving $250,000.

MELODRAMA OF OLD WILL BE REVIVED

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 8.—"Hazel Kirke," with all her old-time melodramatic atmosphere—the iron-hearted father, the old mill wheel and the miller's lovely daughter, the young aristocratic lover and his haughty mother—will be revived from the 1880's by the Santa Monica Community Theater Guild Wednesday and Thursday nights at the Lincoln Junior High School Theater here. Bay district patrons of the guild, from Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice and surrounding places, will see Mrs. Arthur Raymond, formerly assistant director of the Pasadena Players, in the leading role, supported by Camillo Guercio, Fred Ritter, Mrs. Elise Holder, Don Short, Billee Short, Lillie Miles Harris, Douglas Farrell and Charlotte Ritter. Lenore Spencer has been directing the rehearsals, and the settings were done by William Robertson.

POMONA VOTERS MAY PASS ON ORDINANCE

POMONA, Feb. 8.—Answering a wave of criticism which has swept the City Hall since adoption by the City Council of an ordinance in July, 1925, creating a parks and playgrounds commission, City Council today discussed the issue thoroughly and finally decided to put the matter up to the voters on April 4, next, for decision.

The voters will be called upon to express their choice as to whether or not they are in favor of the Council delegating part of their administrative powers to commissions.

According to City Attorney Allard, he believes that such a step would be illegal, stating that he thought that the proposition could be placed upon the ballot only as a straw vote.

However, the Council requested that he look up the law covering this phase and report his findings to next week's Council meeting.

OLD LANDMARK AT VISALIA BURNS DOWN.

VISALIA, Feb. 8.—A familiar landmark of this section of the San Joaquin Valley, recalling pioneer days when Visalia was but a tiny village and Evans and Sontag were playing hide and seek with the officers after train robberies and the city's main street was dotted with saloons, is but a pile of ashes today. Last night firemen stood calmly by and watched destruction of this small frame building, many considering its razing an asset and none counting it a loss. Located beyond reach of the longest fire hose, nothing could be done to save it. For years this one-room shack stood by itself on West Tulare street, having been moved from the heart of the city years ago. At one time its frescoed front adorned Main street as part of the old Exchange Hotel. Tramps are believed responsible for the fire.

BALBOA MERCHANTS ASK PEDDLER TAX

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 8.—Protesting the great number of peddlers allowed to do business in Newport Beach with little or no license charge, a number of Balboa merchants presented a petition for the regulation of the itinerants at a meeting of the Board of Trustees last night. The matter was referred to Clyde Bishop, City Attorney, for recommendation at the next meeting.

SWATTING JUSTICES ORGANIZE

Penalty for Common Offenses Like Speeding to Be Made Uniform in San Bernardino County, According to Agreement Between Judges

REDLANDS, Feb. 8.—Heaven will protect the working girl, but who is going to look after the motorist now? That is the question since the announcement was made today that twenty-seven justices of the peace of San Bernardino county are planning to band themselves for mutual swatting of the man who breaks the speed laws and so on.

Charles Potter, Justice of the Peace of Redlands, is the prime mover in this movement that threatens to make life hard for the man who is heavy on the foot throttle. "The sole purpose of the organization is to come to some agreement regarding fines so that any violator taken into any court in the county will get just about the same treatment," said Mr. Potter.

"For instance, take the violation of the county nonsmoking ordinance in the mountains, last summer," he continued. "One justice would fine the violator $50, the minimum fine for the first offense. Another would assess the fine and suspend $25 of it. Another would suspend $35, and so on. What we want to do is to get together and decide on some schedule to be adhered to by all the justices."

It has been suggested that all speeders clocked traveling more than fifty-five miles an hour on the county roads should be sent to the County Jail for ten days at least, and that the motorists pay very heavily for all speed above forty-five miles an hour.

Prohibition violation fines will also be discussed at the first meeting to be held in March. At that time a Federal officer will speak. Justice Potter is sending out letters today telling of plans for organization.

BONES RECALL TRAGEDY

Skeletons of Starved Trappers Who Died in 1849, Dug Up on Site of New College

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 8.—The tragic death of a party of trappers in 1849 was recalled today by John Brown, Jr., one of San Bernardino Valley's oldest pioneers, when five skeletons were excavated by grading crews working on the junior college site, midway between San Bernardino and Colton.

Brown, who is secretary and historian of the San Bernardino Society of Pioneers, recalled the story told him by his father, one of the earliest white settlers, of the death of the party of trappers.

"I well remember the story," the pioneer said. "A party of five trappers arrived in the valley, famished by long weeks of privation while crossing the desert. The party reached the home of Cristobal Slover, after whom Slover Mountain was named, and so starved were the trappers that they could not wait for Slover to cook a meal. They ravenously ate of raw pumpkin and raw bacon and died in terrible agony before help could be summoned.

"The bodies were brought to the knoll overlooking the Politana Indian cemetery and there buried. On this knoll will be the new junior college."

GOVERNMENT LAND TO BE THROWN OPEN

VISALIA, Feb. 8.—W. S. Hunsaker, Register, announces that thirty-five sections of mountain land, located just south of the Tule River Indian Reservation, in Tulare county, will be thrown open to entry at the Visalia Land Office on March 28. Most of the land, according to Hunsaker, is already covered by valid settlement or other equitable claims, but some is still available for those who wish to make entry. The unreserved land in these townships will be subject to entry under the Homestead Act by qualified ex-service men of the World War, or by persons claiming preferential rights superior to that of the soldiers, for the first ninety-one days, that is, from March 28 until June 27. These parties may file during the twenty days preceding March 28, and all applications will be considered as filed simultaneously at 9 a.m. on that date. The land then remaining unfiled upon will be open to general entry.

MENACE TO FLYERS TOLD AT MEETING

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 8.—Discussion of conditions which are said to jeopardize the lives of reserve air corps officers who train at Clover Field, Santa Monica, occupied the attention of the City Club last night at a meeting in the Santa Monica Athletic Club. A report, which had been drawn up by a committee representing 500 Air Corps officers in Los Angeles and vicinity, first submitted to the military affairs committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and later to Congress, was read at the meeting. The report charges that at Clover Field there are now six war-time training planes of obsolete character; that the present gasoline allowance permits only fifteen minutes' flying time per month for each man and that the present equipment at the field is of no military value whatsoever.

CAMARILLO HOTEL AND STORE BURNED

VENTURA, Feb. 8.—The Hotel Fulton and the Frank Drug Store of Camarillo, twenty miles east of here, were destroyed by fire this morning, the loss estimated at $20,000. The hotel and drug store were both of frame construction and adjoined each other in the eastern end of Camarillo. Mr. Frank, the drug-store owner, had recently equipped the building with the fittings and stock. The hotel was one of the oldest buildings in the town. Both buildings were covered by insurance.

Boy's Heroism Saves Baby in Old Cesspool

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 8.—Benny Bedinger, 11 years of age, is a hero today, having saved the life of 2½-year-old Bernard Coute after the child had fallen into an abandoned rain-filled cesspool on Brundage Lane.

The boy was delivering milk for a local dairy at the time of the rescue, it is said, and as he ran around the back of a house was attracted by a gurgling sound emanating from the gaping mouth of the cesspool.

Peering over the side he saw the head of Bernard Coute on the surface of the water. With no thought for his own safety, Benny climbed down the rotting boards lining the wall of the cesspool, grasped the child and carried him to the surface.

Near the mouth of the cesspool he applied first aid, draining the child's lungs of water and bringing back signs of life. Only after he had brought the victim back to consciousness did the heroic lad call his aunt, Mrs. H. L. Underwood, who was at the front of the house, for help.

Benny, who goes to McKinley school, probably saved the baby from death due to his knowledge of artificial respiration learned in a Boy Scout handbook.

OWENSMOUTH WOMEN TO BUY CLUB SITE

OWENSMOUTH, Feb. 8.—Members of the Owensmouth Woman's Club met in the quarters of the American Legion post here and decided to buy three lots on Jordan avenue and Valerio street for a clubhouse site. About three years ago the club bought a lot on Jordan avenue, but this will not be used because it will prove too small for the proposed clubhouse purpose. Mrs. Julius Franz, the club president, has appointed a committee composed of Mrs. Leuella Hall, Mrs. W. E. Bechtelheimer, Mrs. Nat E. Heacock, Mrs. John M. Holt and Miss Elsie Matthews, to attend to the buying of the three lots.

PIONEER OF KINGS COUNTY PASSES ON

ARMONA, Feb. 8.—C. M. Smith, veteran of the Civil War and prominent in business and political circles of this county the past thirty-eight years, died here yesterday, aged 80 years. He served in the Michigan infantry and heavy artillery during the war and participated in many famous engagements. His father served in the same company and died while going home after discharge. Capt. Smith, as he was generally known, was engaged in the furniture business in Hanford for many years. For the past twenty-eight years he had served as justice of the peace at Hanford and Armona. He is survived by six children and stepchildren.

PETITIONS ARE IN FOR NEW VALLEY HIGHWAY

CHATSWORTH, Feb. 8.—Petitions for the establishment of Valley Circle Drive, which will skirt the foothills of the western part of San Fernando Valley, are now in the hands of the Los Angeles City Council. The new highway route will run from Calabasas to the entrance of Santa Susana Pass at Chatsworth, passing through the citrus orchard district west of Owensmouth and the Chatsworth water reservoir.

RUNAWAY BRIDE WEDDED

Colton Youth, Left at Altar First Time by Mae Lulu Yates, Celebrates Marriage to Her

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 8.—Morris Frank Higby is a persistent wooer And not twice was he left waiting at the altar, for today he escorted pretty Mae Lulu Yates, who went on a "lark" on her wedding night, to a parsonage and there they were married.

Higby used the same license that he obtained last Saturday to marry Mae. But Mae slipping out of the house thirty minutes before the minister and guests arrived, ran away with her bridesmaid, Zella Rand, and didn't come back until Sunday night, thereby causing Higby and his wedding guests much embarrassment.

"Oh, you see," the bride explained today, "I didn't want a fussy wedding and that's why I slipped away Saturday. All my life I've dreamed of a quiet little wedding with just the minister and one or two friends. I didn't want a marriage with a lot of guests and I decided I would run away, just for fun, and marry later."

Higby, a Colton youth, who searched for his bride all of Saturday night on the theory that she had been the victim of practical jokers who knew no bounds, was smiling when he left Rev. Walter C. Loomis's parsonage in San Bernardino with his bride. He had forgotten all about being left at the flower-festooned altar and pacing the floor nervously for hours waiting for the bride.

Last night there was a merry party at the Yates home in Colton, where the bride's mother, Mrs. A. J. Yates, was confined to her bed because of the shock she suffered when the bride failed to return home for her wedding. But all was forgiven and the newlyweds were happy.

OFFICIALS AT MONROVIA QUIT

Resignations Follow Months of Dissension

Trustee, City Manager and Park Head Out

Second Oldest Board Member Asks Release

MONROVIA, Feb. 8.—Culminating several months of internal dissension at the City Hall, resignations were in order at the Council session here last night and the city today was minus the services of one Trustee, the City Manager, and the custodian of the city auto park.

Trustee Thomas R. Hayes, second ranking member of the board, requested immediate release from his position, in a communication dated January 17, last. He was not present.

In a lengthy statement, Mr. Hayes said: "I am not in accord with the policy of the majority members of this board, because, unless the motive of giving one's time to the city be service above self, the reaction must be hurtful to the city as well as to the individual. Since the two members of this board who seem to have assumed control of the entire administrative city government and of the necessary majority of the board—since they got into action, they have, in my opinion, failed to give co-operation to the employees of the City Hall. They have kept these employees in a constant state of fear and unrest and have thus directly sacrificed efficiency and desired and necessary results.

"Since it is not my purpose to embarrass or harass them or to bring possible humiliation to myself by remaining on the board, kindly accept my resignation to take effect at once."

The resignation was tabled for action at the next regular meeting on February 21.

The second resignation was received from Harry Scoville, City Manager here for three years and president of the City Managers' section of the California League of Municipalities. The legal status and powers of this office, which was created merely by city ordinance, has been the cause of contention which resulted in splitting the board.

A motion to accept the resignation, effective on the 28th inst., was supported by Trustees E. C. Crump, A. J. Little and W. W. Horton, all of whom were elected to the board at the last election. Mayor J. P. Daniel voted "no," stating that he would not approve it until a successor for the position had been obtained.

The Trustees refused to comment on future plans to appoint another City Manager under the present ordinance or abolish the entire city-manager system.

Scoville announced today he planned to spend several months in research work for the International City Managers' Association.

J. S. Mullen, custodian of the city auto park, presented the third resignation, pleading ill health. It was accepted, effective March 1.

MILES OF TREES TO BE SET ALONG ROAD

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 8.—Indorsement of the plans of Jurupa Farm Center for planting of trees in the West Riverside district as windbreaks was made by the County Forestry Board yesterday during a luncheon at Mission Inn and conference with Woodbridge Metcalf of the forestry department of the University of California. A voluntary assessment of 10 cents per acre is to be levied in the district. A. E. Bottel, County Horticultural Commissioner, declared that many checks have come in for expense on the project from others than property owners of West Riverside and Wineville, who will realize an indirect benefit in abatement of the north winds. Immediate steps are to be taken to raise $1000 for planting of twenty-eight miles of roadway before summer. Five hundred trees to the mile are planned.

EL MONTE ACTING ON BUILDING ORDINANCE

EL MONTE, Feb. 8.—The City Trustees of El Monte last night passed the first reading of the new uniform building ordinance being adopted by the cities of California. Trustee Thurman and City Building Inspector Keller made an exhaustive study of the ordinance and recommended its passage with only a few minor changes. The Board of Trustees also changed the fire ordinance eliminating two blocks on South Tyler street, which will enable the American Fruit Growers' Association to expand their present activities in El Monte by moving their plant now located on Seventh street in Los Angeles to this city. This change also allows the local Catholic Church to build an addition to their present edifice.

MUNICIPAL PARK AT HANFORD POPULAR

HANFORD, Feb. 8.—The first municipal park playgrounds of this city are materializing rapidly. They are very popular and donations continue to come in. Last night the Hanford Fire Department voted to erect a flagpole and provide a large flag and Hanford Post of the American Legion adopted a program for a kiddies' playgrounds night on the 25th inst., when a band concert military drill, dance and country store will be presented to raise funds. The City Trustees are having the grounds leveled and water pipes put in and a public tree-planting takes place on Washington's Birthday.

GIRL RESCUED FROM MONOXIDE GAS DEATH

HUNTINGTON PARK, Feb. 8.—Alice Walton, 23 years of age, came very nearly being another victim to the monoxide gas list. She entered a room at her home in which a gas heater was burning and in which there was no ventilation. In a few minutes she was found lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. An inhalator was used by Chief of the Fire Department C. B. Hathway, and in a few minutes she had recovered.

LITTLE GIRL IS LOYAL BOOSTER

Hides Out When She Learns Parents Intend to Quit Southern California

LANKERSHIM, Feb. 8.—Isabel Suase, 15 years of age, likes Southern California, and especially Lankershim. At the police station she is reported missing and it is believed she "hid out," when she learned her parents were getting ready to quit here and return to a former home in Arizona.

When Isabel first heard of the proposed return trip, she started to "bawl her eyes out," the police say. Then when she found this didn't help, she went hiding somewhere, leaving it up to the police and her parents to battle with her disappearance. She is still missing and the Arizona trip of the parents is indefinitely delayed.

Police say the girl is said to have asserted that Southern California was the best place in the world to live and that her people might have to kidnap her before they carried her out of the Los Angeles district.

Importance of Navy Stressed by Commander

PASADENA, Feb. 8.—The United States Navy is this country's greatest assurance of peace and it is the duty of America to keep its navy abreast of the navies of the other great nations in equipment, morale and men, for the sake of continued peace, declared Admiral Richard H. Jackson, commander of the Pacific fleet, who spoke at a luncheon given today to the twenty-eight ranking officers of the fleet by the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Maryland.

Admiral Jackson stressed the importance of science in the recent development of the navy, exemplified particularly in the great and growing importance of radio and the airplane.

Although his topic was "The Present-Day Navy," the admiral covered considerably more territory in his talk. In fact, he started with Noah, the first sailor, and pointed out that doves, used by Noah to discover land, are used for the same purpose by navy aviators today.

FIRE STARTED BY KICKED FOOTBALL

VISALIA, Feb. 8.—Emulating the feat of Benjamin Franklin, who discovered electricity by sending a kite into the air, children of J. S. Helling on South Church street here, gained first-hand information of electricity when they kicked a football into the air, also giving the Visalia fire department a quick run. Electric wires in the Helling residence pass through the trees, where insulation had been weakened by constant rubbing. The bounding football knocked the unprotected wires together and flash, a fire was started along remaining insulation toward the house. The fireman resorted to the chemical and extinguished the flames before any damage was done.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY SPRING FLOWERS OUT

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 8.—"April showers bring May flowers" might apply to these sections where real winter is observed, but not to the San Joaquin Valley in California, for spring flowers come here at a time when the East is still blanketed with snow and shivering in furs. Yesterday's warm sunshine lured crowds out of doors and all roads led to the hills and fields, which are already dotted with a colorful variety of wild flowers. Continued rains and bright, sunny afternoons are turning the hills a velvety new green and the wild flowers this year are somewhat in advance of usual and promise to be most abundant. Literally hundreds of cars dotted the highways as townfolk answered the call of spring.

COUNTY BUILDINGS WILL BE WRECKED

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 8.—Bids on the wrecking of the old Courthouse, Hall of Records and County Jail were asked today by the Board of Supervisors. No date for the opening of the bids or awarding of a contract was fixed. The Supervisors, having been advised that the old structures, one of which was erected in 1874, were not worth the salvage, will probably raze the buildings and sell the sites in business lot parcels. The county will formally abandon the old buildings within ten days. Eleven county departments have been transferred to the new Courthouse at Third street and Arrowhead avenue, erected at a cost of $600,000.

EXETER, Feb. 8.—Tulare county figs have their parent product in the Near East,

Selected dried Calimyrna figs grown on the Henry S. Ewing ranch of this city are being used by George S. Kleiser, wealthy Los Angeles clubman, touring in Egypt and Arabia, to back his assertion that California has improved the quality of the fruit that is supposed to have originated in the Garden of Eden.

Shortly after his arrival in Egypt early in December, Kleiser cabled friends in Los Angeles to obtain choice dried figs for shipment to him at Cairo. Part of a holiday shipment from the Ewing ranch was forwarde dto the Kleiser party, which includes Mrs. Kleiser and their son.

DEBATING LEAGUE TO ASSEMBLE ON FRIDAY

"Resolved, that cabinet form of government is preferable to the Presidential form as we have it in the United States of America" will be the subject for an argument at the second session of the Southern California Debating League in the Hollywood High School Memorial Auditorium Friday at 8 p.m. The affirmative will be upheld by the University High School, with Beth Tibboth and Helen Cleenewerck as its representatives. Hollywood High School will argue the negative, represented by Walter Scholtz and Robert Commins, with Cecil Kilgore and Kenneth Myers as alternates. The judges will be E. H. Woodard, counselor for the Southern California Edison Company; Miss Yerkes, debating coach at the Montebello High School, and Dean Hertzog of the California Christian College.

McKAY GUEST SPEAKER

At a dinner meeting of college of commerce students of the University of Southern California tonight, Howard McKay will be the guest speaker. "Is Salesmanship Hypnotism?" will be McKay's topic. Albert Webb, chairman of the advertising and marketing group at Southern California, and Edward Oudermeulin, chairman of the general business group on the Trojan campus, will preside jointly.

MEXICALI SHIES AT GORY TALES

Burial of Americans Killed in Dives Denied

Local Officer's Report Laid to Phenomenon

Bones He Saw Said to be Dug Up by River

Dark tales depicting Mexicali as a "port of missing men" were ascribed to a distorted sense of humor on the part of the New River in statements by officials on both sides of the international line, according to word from Calexico last night.

A story attributed to Deputy Sheriff Keating of Los Angeles to the affect that bodies of many Americans "killed in the dives of Mexicali" were buried unidentified in shallow graves was denied by officials, with some amusement.

GOES TO BORDER

Keating went to the border to ascertain if the bodies of three men about to be buried along the New River were those of three reported missing here. On his return here he reported that the Coroner of El Centro is trying to get the Mexican government to allow him to photograph and fingerprint all Americans who die in the border towns.

The Los Angeles officer is said to have been aroused by the sight of human bones lying in an old river bed. This was due, according to Calexico police and Francisco Deralga, inspector of police for the northern district of Lower California, to the action of the New River in cutting across an abandoned graveyard. High waters washed out graves of persons buried several years ago, Deralga said.

COMPLETE RECORDS

Deralga declared that in the last three years only two Americans have met death in his district, and one disappeared. He said his office has complete records of every alien who died and was buried in Lower California.

Keating went to the border to see if the bodies were those of L. R. Foster, 11172 Ballinger street, Lynwood; Richard Langrill, Irving Apartments, Westlake and Seventh streets, or A. L. Dearman, reported missing from the Midnight Mission. He reported they were not.

BUSINESS AREA TOPIC OF DEBATE

Decentralizing Discussed at City Club Open Forum by Two Speakers

"Shall we make an effort to decentralize our business district?" was the subject debated at the open forum of the City Club last night, C. A. Dykstra, personal director of the Bureau of Power and Light, taking the affirmative side and C. A. Cooper, director of research of the Los Angeles Railway, defending the negative side. S. C. Graham, former president of the City Club, presided.

Mr. Dykstra affirmed that the best city in which to live was where one could make a good living, have a good time and be contented. He declared that those were real values and that when they came in conflict with realty values the realty values should be subordinated.

He said that the ideas of the city planners were in the main those that had crystallized in past generations and that the ideal city of today was not one to be used for the exploitation by business or other interests. He insisted that one cannot think in terms of realty values and get at the base of the problem despite the fact that realty values were based on the number of pedestrians passing a given point in a given time.

Mr. Cooper discussed the question from the economic, stead of the sociological view. He asserted that the American city is wholly new and could not be compared to any European city; that it was a concentric arrangement wherein people lived on the periphery with the business transacted in the center.

He declared that production was increased because the average man could make more contacts in the same amount of time than he could make in the decentralized or smaller cities. He insisted that the merchants required such concentration and because of the congestion higher rents could be paid.

The streets should be used to give the greatest utility to the greatest number, he declared, in discussing transportation and the building of subways and other rapid-transit means to care for the greater numbers.

At the conclusion of the affirmative and negative addresses, Chairman Graham declared in reference to the transportation phase of the question, that any transportation system the users of which cannot or will not pay for the cost of maintenance was a system that was unsound.

DRUG NEEDLE HID IN MATCH

Alert Officer Spots Ruse and Arrests Suspects on Dope Law Violator

Concealment of a hypodermic needle in a match and its discovery by an alert police officer yesterday landed Salvadore Flores, 29 years of age, in the City Jail on a charge of violating the State poison law. A collection of playing cards and chips and fourteen pints of liquor also caused police to tack on charges of conducting a gambling house and violation of the Wright Act.

Flores and the evidence were found at 1508½ East Fourth street when the place was raided by Police Sergeant Benjamin and members of the Hollenbeck Heights narcotic squad. Six other men were taken into custody for gambling.

OFFERED AS LONGEST TICKET

Passage for Round-the-World Voyage

Lengthy as the Trip!

Bob Cullen, general passenger agent for Los Angeles Steamship Company, and Miss Alma Tell with long ticket.

The length of railroad tickets has been a subject of jest since the first edition of Joe Miller's joke book, but the longest railroad ticket ever made seems the size of a theater ticket stub when compared with the round-the-world tickets sold this week when the Los Angeles Steamship Company opened its new office at 730 South Broadway.

Miss Alma Tell bought the first ticket, nonchalantly wound it around her neck and studied one end of it, while Bob Cullen, general passenger agent, punched holes in the other end. The ticket was purchased for Miss Tell's sister, Olive Tell, wife of Henry Hobart, motion-picture producer.

Mrs. Hobart, who expects to leave on the next sailing of the City of Los Angeles, will spend four weeks in Hawaii before continuing her journey to the Orient and on to the Mediterranean.

HE'S IN THE ARMY NOW

Guardsman Seeking Atmosphere Gets Ten-Day Sentence

Army life isn't all beans and canteen. This was learned yesterday by Milton H. Starr, private in a local National Guard unit, when he appeared before Municipal Judge Richardson for the third time on charges of failing to appear for drill.

"The National Guard is no joke," Judge Richardson said, "and its rules are not to be regarded lightly."

"That's fine," replied Judge Richardson, "I'll help you. No army career is complete without a hitch in the brig. Your's will be ten days."

Directors of Chambers to Gather Today

Chambers of commerce in Southern California between Fresno and San Diego, including Imperial Valley, will be represented at the Southern California Chambers of Commerce directors' conference, to be held at the Biltmore at noon today, according to Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber, who is in charge of arrangements.

The meeting was called by D. F. McGarry, president, and Arthur S. Bent, past president of the local organization. The conference, the second of its kind to be held in the United States, is expected to be attended by approximately 600 delegates. The only other meeting of its kind at which such a large number attended was held in Los Angeles several years ago.

Principal addresses of the day will be given by President McGarry, Past President Bent, Lane D. Webber, vice-president of the First Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego and past president of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, and R. H. Ballard of the Southern California Edison Company.

ADVERTISERS TO DINE

Meeting of Women's Association Set for Tomorrow

The regular monthly program dinner of the Los Angeles Advertising Association, an organization of advertising women, will be held tomorrow at 6:15 p.m. in the green room of the Woman's Athletic Club.

The evening will be devoted to modern art and its relation to advertising. Otis Shepard, general art director of one of the country's largest outdoor advertising companies and an authority on the art poster world, will be the principal speaker.

A musical program has been arranged and Florence Shindler, vice-president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs' Association, will act as hostess for the evening.

REINHARDT MAKES HIS DEPARTURE

Creator of "The Miracle" Will Return to Bowl for Production

Max Reinhardt, creator of "The Miracle" and wizard of stagecraft, left Los Angeles last evening after a stay here of four weeks. He had come expressly for the purpose of superintending the staging of "The Miracle" here and has tarried here longer than he had expected, attracted by the interesting reality of this center of the art of motion pictures.

On the eve of his departure he issued the following statement:

"Before leaving Los Angeles on my return to Vienna, I feel impelled to make at least a feeble attempt to express the deep gratitude surging in me. If the hospitality of America is proverbial, the hospitality of California seems to be the only thing in the world really deserving the name.

"The warmth of feeling that greets the stranger in this halcyonian paradise makes the parting very sad, indeed. I had never thought it possible to make so many friends in a few weeks. My gratitude and my affection will always belong to them. I hope that all of them will pay me a return visit and I have now the great ambition to show them that we in our little duchy of Salzburg, the area of which is probably smaller than that of the city of Los Angeles, may lack some of the Californian virtues, but that we shall try our hardest to attain them.

"I have come to this great capital of the film world to see, to study, to learn. It is not for me to say how much I have learned. My expectations have paled into nowhere, before this astounding, bewitching reality. My sincerest thanks are due to the heads of the great studios who so very kindly invited me to visit them while fully at work. The impressions received were overwhelming. Some of these men were so friendly as to invite me to try my hand in producing a film. To my greatest regret I had to decline all offers. My theaters in Vienna and Berlin and engagements in London and Paris make it quite impossible for me at present to entertain any of these most tempting ideas and hopes. I am exceedingly happy, however, to know that I shall return to California in the near future. The reckless imagination and the indomitable enterprise of my friend, Morris Gest, have been at work again and inspiring prospects of theatrical adventures of a grand manner in the Hearst Stadium of San Francisco and the Bowl of Los Angeles have been miraculously conjured up by him."

Americans are planning to build a port and municipal works project at Callao, Peru.

Shirley Mason Becomes Script Writer's Bride

SHIRLEY MASON

Shirley Mason, screen actress, was married yesterday afternoon to Sidney Lanfield, a scenario writer. The ceremony, which was unannounced and came as a surprise to Miss Mason's friends, was performed at the home of the bride's sister, Viola Dana.

The marriage follows a secret engagement of about two months. After the ceremony the couple left on a motor trip to Coronado. They will return today or tomorrow.

The ceremony was performed by Judge Guerin. Only Miss Dana, her husband, Maurice Flynn and Edna Flugrath, another sister, were present.

The wedding was a surprise to Miss Dana as well as to others. Miss Mason, Lanfield and Judge Guerin arrived at the Dana home without warning. The others were called by telephone and the ceremony performed.

The present honeymoon trip will be cut short because the bride is working in a picture, but after it is completed the couple plan a longer trip. Following that they will make their home in Beverly Hills.

FILMS GET ENGINEER

Franklin B. Cole Resigns Harbor Post to Enter De Mille Studio

Franklin B. Cole, chief engineer of the Greater Harbor Committee of Los Angeles, has resigned his position with this organization for an association with Cecil B. De Mille as superintendent of the De Mille studio, according to William Sistrom, general manager.

Cole, also consulting engineer for the city of Los Angeles Harbor Department for the past three years, has had previous motion-picture experience while holding the post of designing engineer for the New York Central Railroad. In his new capacity Cole will renew an association of many years' standing with A. George Volck, production manager of the De Mille studio, with whom he worked while associated with the New York Central and as engineer for the Emergency Fleet Corporation. Cole's resignation will take effect immediately.

An international conference of policewomen will be held in Des Moines during the coming summer.

"THERE is NO SUB UTE for MUSIC"

Josef Lhévinne at his Chickering Piano
From Liszt to Lhévinne, the Chickering has been the choice of the world's most sensitive musicians

ALL fine pianos of the world have something in common with the Chickering … that they employ fine materials … that they are modeled after the Chickering in the use of the full metal plate … the overstrung scale … and other original Chickering developments. A chosen few have also their years of good workmanship … their list of loyal purchasers … their following of famous musicians. But the things which are common to many should not be sufficient for you … as they are not for us. We ask that you compare the Chickering with any other you may have thought of purchasing. You may rest assured we should not frankly court comparison were we not quite certain of your verdict.

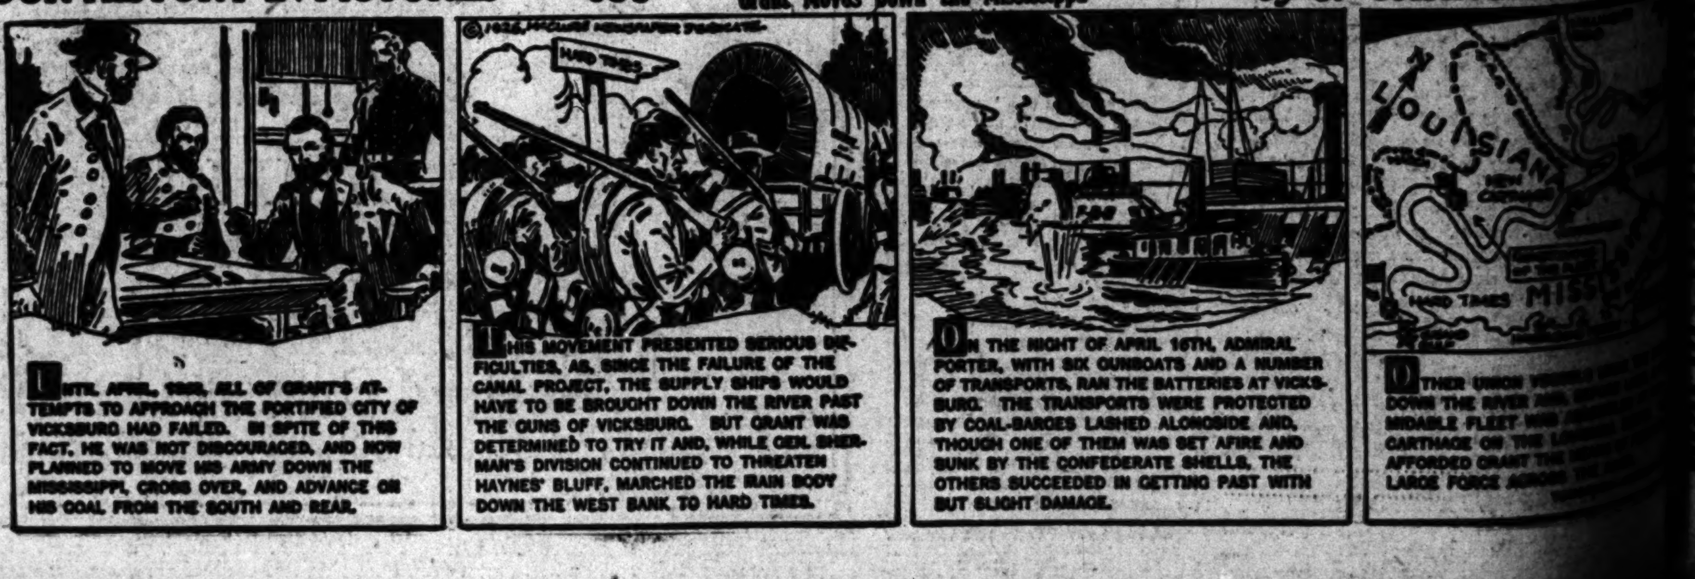
OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 635 Grant Moves Down the Mississippi by J. CARROLL MA



UNTIL APRIL, 1863, ALL OF GRANT'S ATTEMPTS TO APPROACH THE FORTIFIED CITY OF VICKSBURG HAD FAILED. IN SPITE OF THIS FACT, HE WAS NOT DISCOURAGED, AND NOW PLANNED TO MOVE HIS ARMY DOWN THE MISSISSIPPI, CROSS OVER, AND ADVANCE ON HIS GOAL FROM THE SOUTH AND REAR.

THIS MOVEMENT PRESENTED SERIOUS DIFFICULTIES, AS, SINCE THE FAILURE OF THE CANAL PROJECT, THE SUPPLY SHIPS WOULD HAVE TO BE BROUGHT DOWN THE RIVER PAST THE GUNS OF VICKSBURG. BUT GRANT WAS DETERMINED TO TRY IT AND, WHILE GEN. SHERMAN'S DIVISION CONTINUED TO THREATEN HAYNES' BLUFF, MARCHED THE MAIN BODY DOWN THE WEST BANK TO HARD TIMES.

SWIMMER'S EX-TRAINER GOING HOME

Walker Left Out in Cold When Young's Mother Joins Bay City Camp

Johnny Walker, former swimming instructor for George Young, Catalina Island Channel swim winner, will return to his Toronto home today unless "other developments" take place, it was announced last night.

Walker accompanied Mrs. Jean Young, George's mother, and the latter's sister, Miss Isabella Young, to California last week, but was declared not wanted in George's camp when a fight developed as to whether George was to retain his present managers or acquire some new ones. After a week's battle, Mrs. Young jumped to the camp of her son in San Francisco.

Miss Young, known as "Aunty Bella," it was stated, will remain in Hollywood until further advised from Toronto. Bill Hastings, George's former pal, was reported as going ahead with plans to produce a picture.

In San Francisco, according to dispatches, the Superior Court granted the petition of George Young to have the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles appointed his guardian pending final disposition of his financial, theatrical and other affairs. His mother was not in court at the time, it was stated, but Young took the stand and testified that there had been difficulties between himself and certain of his mother's advisers over his affairs before, but that perfect harmony now reigned. He told the court that he now had $30,000 on deposit in Los Angeles banks.

YOUNG PLANS TO SWIM ENGLISH CHANNEL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. (AP)—Declaring that under fair swimming conditions he believes himself able to better the present record by one hour, George Young, first conqueror of the Catalina Channel, announced today that he plans to swim the English Channel as soon as he fulfills his present theatrical contract. Young's feat of swimming the Catalina Channel in 15h. 40m. was a speed mark as well as a feat of endurance, neither of the other two swimmers who negotiated the waters being able to surpass it.

Bruin Forensic Schedules for Semester Set

Forensic schedules for the spring semester are practically complete at the University of California at Los Angeles. The co-eds will be the first to go into action in an intercollegiate debate at a double-header with Whittier and Occidental tomorrow night. Grace Harper, Alma Wells, Sara Zimbler and Ruth Gooder compose the team. Other co-ed debates will include a triangular contest with Berkeley and Stanford and a double-header with the University of Wyoming.

The men have a s. ies of five interscholastic debates scheduled as follows: February 24 at University of Southern California; March 3, Hastings College of Law at U. C. L. A.; March 17, Occidental at U. C. L. A.; March 29, at Southwest University; April 7, Southwestern at U. C. L. A.

Another series will open March 1 at Loyola; March 10, Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., at U. C. L. A.; March 22, State University of Montana at U. C. L. A.; March 31, College of the Pacific at U. C. L. A.

Bar Asserted Real Prewar in Equipment

Pre-Volsteadian sights unfolded suddenly before their eyes when they burst into a cleverly constructed room at the rear of a restaurant at 1315 East First street, a police squad from Boyle Heights station told Municipal Judge Turney yesterday when they arraigned Albert Rosse, 23 years of age, and John Hodges, Jr., an ex-policeman, on liquor-law violation charges.

A complete bar, all under the supervision of Rosse, carried the raiding squad back to days that were, they said.

Rosse was arrested on a charge of possession. He denied ownership of the liquor or the bar-room.

His story was upheld when Hodges entered the room, according to the officers, the newcomer admitting ownership of both. Hodges was charged with possession of liquor and as being an idle person, the latter vagrancy complaint to follow on the heels of the liquor charge.

Rosse was remanded to jail in default of bail pending trial and Judge Turney fixed bail at $600 for Hodges.

Bond Posted by Eaton to Free Seized Vessel

The gasoline-powered launch "Sea Wolf," owned by Capt. Ira K. Eaton of Santa Barbara, will be released today at Los Angeles Harbor from the custody of Federal prohibition agents where it has ben held since December, following its seizure on order of United States Marshal Sittel.

Capt. Eaton appeared at the Federal Building yesterday with his attorney, Albert K. Lucas, former assistant United States Attorney, and posted $12,000 property bond to get his vessel.

Eaton and five other persons, including two girls that later were released, were arrested at Santa Barbara when several gallons of moonshine liquor were found in the ship's hold as it docked at the northern port. Charges of possession of liquor are pending against them.

CHURCH PLANS APPROVED

ESTRADA SAYS ARMS BOUGHT

Ex-Mexican War Secretary Admits Purchases

Revolt Plot Denied, However, from Witness Stand

Admitting the purchase of 400 Springfield rifles, 150,000 rounds of ammunition, two Marlin machine guns and two airplanes that were seized by Department of Justice officials at La Mesa, near Tia Juana, last August as implements of war, Gen. Enrique Estrada, former Minister of War of the Mexican government, yesterday denied, however, that they were intended for military purposes on his own behalf, concluding testimony under direct examination in the court of United States District Judge Henning.

The accused ringleader of the ill-fated expedition to Mexico last summer that ended in the arrest of 152 men charged with conspiring and actually setting afoot an armed force against a country at peace with the United States, was on the stand all day yesterday with very few interruptions from Federal prosecutors.

The rifles, ammunition and machine guns were to have been taken to Tucson, Estrada testified, where they were to be held on American soil "until the American embargo against arms going into Mexico would be lifted." He did not explain why he thought the neutrality laws would be lifted.

The airplanes, he testified, were to be used in commercial advertising in Mexico City and the armored trucks were to have been utilized in hauling gold ore from mines in the State of Sonora.

More than three hours in the afternoon were spent by Gen. Estrada in detailing how the opinion of Lieut. J. P. Smith of the United States Marines, a government witness, that the most feasible route to follow in attacking Lower California and then the mainland of Mexico by way of the United States was Engineer's Springs just east of San Diego, was faulty and would lead "an army into a rat trap."

Gen. Estrada attacked the marine lieutenant's testimony on the ground that an armed force entering Lower California by way of Engineer's Springs would be caught without water, provisions and contact.

"The airplanes would be useless," he said, "because they are water and not air-cooled."

He will undergo cross-examination today from Asst. U. S. Attys. Chanoslan and Armstrong.

San Diegan Not Bennett Slayer, Witnesses Hold

Witnesses to the shooting of Officer Bennett by a bandit who attempted to rob Brodine's millinery store two weeks ago failed at the County Jail yesterday to identify Lawrence P. Maloney, a suspect arrested two days ago in San Diego.

Detective Lieutenants Hickey and Condaffer stated that the witnesses declared Maloney does not resemble the murderer-bandit in any way. Maloney will be held, however, for the police of San Francisco, where he is wanted on a burglary charge.

TRIAL DATE SET IN MAIL BANDIT CASE

Trial of Harry T. Robinson, accused of providing a rendezvous for the Herbert Wilson mail robbery gang to divide its plunder of $1,000,000, said by the government to have been obtained from the mail robbery near the Santa Fe station on November 3, 1921, was set yesterday by United States District Judge James for October 4, next. Herbert Wilson, preacher-murderer now serving a life term in San Quentin for slaying Herbert Cox; Joe Bertsche, B. F. Elerick and Max Newman, additional defendants, will be tried at a later date.

BUSINESS BLOCK FIRE CAUSE STILL MYSTERY

Origin of a fire which yesterday partially destroyed a two-story business block at 116 and 118 East Ninth street had not been determined last night. The blaze started, it was stated, in the upper story, occupied by the California Chandelier Company, where damage was estimated at $5000. The lower floor, occupied by the Pan-American Wall Paper and Paint Company suffered $2000 damage, it was estimated, from smoke and water. Traffic from Long Beach was held up for about half an hour while firemen fought the blaze.

SCHOOL SUBWAY ASKED

City Engineer Shaw has asked the City Council to authorize the construction of a pedestrian subway at Sunset Boulevard and Gardner street, as, he said, the tunnel is urgently needed by school children and had been recommended by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce.

OWNERS OF NEW CARS WARNED

Arrest of Those Who Abuse Ten-Day Registration Rule Ordered

The ten-day temporary registration privilege to automobile purchasers is being abused, it was declared yesterday in the daily traffic talk given over KHJ by the Police Bureau of Public Safety. Officers have been instructed to arrest and prosecute owners or drivers in instances where the ten days granted are found to have elapsed.

Ten-day permits are allowed for operation of cars for which registration has been applied. A green slip carrying all necessary data must be posted on the windshield, to be removed and destroyed when the license plate and registration certificate are received.

Son Benefits by Father's Experience

Former Judge A. H. Stutsman and Municipal Judge Carl A. Stutsman

Like father, like son, is applicable to Municipal Judge Stutsman, newly elected presiding judge of that tribunal, who yesterday took over the reins from the hands of Municipal Judge Willis, first chief of the court.

As Presiding Judge Stutsman took over the control of the court as he sat in Division 12 of the civil department, A. H. Stutsman, father of the new chief and former judge of the Iowa District Court, sat beside him on the bench to offer such paternal advice as his son might need.

There will be no immediate change of assignments in the Municipal Court, Judge Stutsman declared, as he took office, but later minor changes may be made in keeping with the preferences of the judges themselves and the continued efficient administration of the court's legal affairs.

While Judge Stutsman took over the presiding judgeship, Judge Willis moved into Division 21, formerly occupied by the new presiding judge. Judge Stutsman was unanimously elected by the judges Monday night. His staff now includes his regular clerk, Harold A. Snow, and John Bland, secretary.

BUNKO PLOT CHARGED TO SEIZED PAIR

Police Assert Scheme to Get $5800 in Stock Deal Has Been Uncovered

With the arrest of Harry B. Loeb and William C. Hodges, police yesterday declared they had broken up a clever gang of stock-market swindlers. Loeb was taken into custody here by Captain of Detective Williams, head of the police bunko detail, and Detective Lieutenant Bligh. Hodges was arrested in Fresno on information furnished by Capt. Williams.

According to Capt. Williams the two suspects took part in an attempt to swindle T. E. Bernard of 1416 Crenshaw Boulevard out of $5800. Bernard complained, he said, that a man giving the name of Sidney Allen offered to purchase for him 300 shares of preferred and 250 shares of common stock of the Monolith Cement at a lower rate than the market quotation. Allen, Bernard reported, declared he represented Erickson Company of 618 South Spring street. Officials of this company, Capt. Williams stated, denied knowing such a man and declared they knew nothing of the asserted transaction.

Bernard further related that he gave Allen a check for $5800, but that when the stock was not forthcoming at the appointed time he stopped payment on the check. Shortly after this Loeb and Hodges called on him, he said, and represented themselves as business associates of Allen, and told him that the purchase of the stock had been delayed. Suspicious, Bernard acquainted the police with the details of the deal and the arrests of Loeb and Hodges resulted yesterday. They were booked on suspicion of bunko.

Charges Filed Germans Make Poisonous Gas

BERLIN, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Poison gas is being used to kill vermin in German railway coaches in a new disinfecting plant at Potsdam. The composition of this gas was not made public, but its use is causing surprise, since, under conditions of the Versailles treaty, the manufacture of deadly gasses is forbidden.

Despite denials from official and civil quarters that Germany is engaged in making any form of poisonous gas or importing it from other countries, a Hamburg bank is able to announce that its vaults are protected with deadly gas which is released as soon as the locks are tampered with or can be sprayed on gunmen from the cashier's windows.

Woman's Death Held Result of Poison Doses

Mrs. G. E. Henderson, 30 years of age, was found dead in bed in a hotel room at 428 South Hill street yesterday. Two empty vials that had contanied poison were found in her purse by Detective Lieutenant Stevens, and a third vial, also empty, stood on the dresser.

Although police assumed death was accidental and due to ovedrose of the drug, an autopsy will be performed. The body was taken to the county morgue. Mrs. Henderson registered at the hotel four days ago. Nothing in her belongings which might identify relatives could be found.

HIGH JINKS FOR BUILDERS

Annual high jinks of the Los Angeles Builders' Exchange will be staked the evening of the 18th inst. at Masonic Hall, West Pico and Figueroa streets. Frank W. Plane is chairman of the entertainment committee. For the first time in the thirty-five years the jinks are to be reminiscent of the early days of California. Much of the program is to be provided by members of the Builders' Exchange, but will be supplemented by professional talent.

USE OF ADS HELD AID TO QUICK SALES

Expert Says Merchants Who Do Not Use Press Pay Bills of Others

"Merchants who do not advertise are the ones who really pay the advertising bills," declared Martin L. Pierce, director of sales for the Hoover Suction Sweeper Company of Canton, O., in an address given yesterday before the Advertising Club at the Biltmore.

Logically and by statistics Mr. Pierce proved that money intelligently spent for advertising makes possible increased production, more expansive distribution and quick turnover of capital, resulting in decreased costs of placing products on the market and a lowering of prices to consumers.

"Business crashes inevitably follow failure to advertise," said the speaker. "In the last analysis the right kind of advertising of reliable products more than pays for itself and makes for an increase in general prosperity. The sea of commercialism is strewn with business wrecks because of the failure of the pilots to guide their vessels along the safe lanes of advertising."

Stating that $96 out of every $100 spent at department stores are spent by women, that 65 per cent of men's clothes are purchased by the fair sex and that the majority of automobile sales are made to or approved by women, Mr. Pierce said that it pays men to educate their wives, mothers and sisters concerning the economic value of advertising and to point out to them that products well advertised usually are of superior quality and can be bought at lower prices than goods not advertised.

Andrades Seek Settlement in Separation Suit

Negotiations for a property settlement out of court yesterday resulted in Judge Valentine of Superior Court continuing to tomorrow trial of the contested separate maintenance action of Helen Louise Andrade against Albert Francis Andrade, reputed millionaire property owner of Los Angeles and Lower California.

In her complaint, Mrs. Andrade estimated her husband's income at $50,000 a year and she listed as community property real estate and jewelry valued at more than $1,000,000. She named Miss Judith Lane Lavender as co-respondent and declared Andrade had placed property in Miss Lavender's name. Miss Lavender entered a denial of the charges in so far as they applied to her.

The separate maintenance action was to have gone to trial yesterday, but Judge Valentine granted the continuance when attorneys in the case reported the negotiations for a settlement out of court were under way.

Film Actress Fails to Fight Contract Suit

The staff in Judge Guerin's court was expectant yesterday, for the calendar showed that Priscilla Bonner was due there to fight out her suit for $4800 she claimed due her from Warner Brothers, Inc., for twelve weeks at $400 a week on a contract she said had been repudiated. But when the case was called it was found to have been dismissed, indicating a settlement out of court.

The action, it is said, involved a point of "conscientious belief" on the part of a corporation. Miss Bonner declared she had been engaged to play the lead in a film known for studio purposes as "Barrymore, No. 1," but that a few days later the contract had been repudiated. The film company set up the defense that it had acted under a clause in the contract giving it the right to cancel if it "conscientiously believed" Miss Bonner to be unsuited to the part.

STUDIOLAND NEW IDEA IN FILM WORLD

Plans for a new motion-picture project to be known as Studioland, where independent producers may have every facility for picture-making, were announced yesterday by Donald Parker, president of Donald Parker Pictures Corporation.

Studioland, according to Parker, will embrace a square tract of fifty acres on Ventura Boulevard near Universal City, purchase of which was made a few days ago. The cost of buildings and equipment, he said, will be approximately $770,000, and actual construction is expected to begin in the next two or three weeks. The ground alone, he said, is valued at approximately $400,000. No stock is for sale, Parker declared.

A distinctive feature of the project, Parker said, will be one of the largest pools ever constructed on a studio lot, suitable for almost any requirements in water scenes. There will be eight large steam-heated stages and a whole flock of bungalow-type dressing-rooms. Each will have shower bath, steam heat and be furnished in most modern style.

"The most important feature of Studioland," Parker said, "will be the spirit of harmony and co-operation that will be insisted upon by the officials, whose years of experience have forced them to realize and recognize the requirements of independent producers. In short, Studioland will be the independent producers' own home, operated under their control and built especially to meet their needs."

The board of directors, he said, is to include William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr., John L. Byrnes of the Fleet Petroleum Corporation, C. B. Mosher, president of the Signal Gasoline Corporation; Judge Gavin Craig, M. T. Cantell, who also is the architectural engineer, and several well-known men already affiliated with the film industry whose names are withheld because of existing connections.

DAVENPORT LAST RITES TO BE TODAY

South Pasadena Broker and Clubman's Funeral Set for 10:30 This Morning

Funeral services for William H. Davenport, club man and broker, who died last Monday at the family residence, 1813 Fletcher avenue, South Pasadena, will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. today at the Turner & Stevens undertaking parlors, 1000 Fremont street, South Pasadena. Services will be in charge of Rev. Holland F. Burr, pastor of the Oneonta Congregational Church. Following cremation at Mountain View, Pasadena, the remains will be taken to the family burial plot at Eureka, Ill.

Mr. Davenport was 42 years of age and had lived in Los Angeles for the last fifteen years. He was a Mason and a member of the Jonathan Club, Los Angeles Athletic Club, Flintridge Country Cub and Westport Beach Club.

Born and reared in Chicago, Mr. Davenport was graduated from the University of Chicago, where he was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. For several years he was in the bank advertising business in the East and owned extensive properties in Chicago and Los Angeles.

Mr. Davenport leaves his mother, Mrs. Emma Davenport; his sister, Mrs. C. B. Neiswander and his brother, Ernest Davenport of Los Angeles, and another brother, Frank Davenport, of Texas.

Actresses Will Have Exhibits at Film Exposition

Not only will motion-picture actresses be present at the exposition in the Ambassador Auditorium, March 7 to 12, but two, and perhaps more, will be among the exhibitors. Katherine McDonald and Kathleen Clifford, both of whom conduct business establishments catering to screen personages, will exhibit their wares as part of the Motion Picture Exposition.

Miss Clifford personally will take charge of her floral exhibit, representing her string of flower shops, while Miss McDonald will preside over her cameo booth at which beauty lotions and cosmetics will be displayed.

During the six days of the show, afternoon and evening entertainments will be given and band concerts rendered. Other features are being arranged to make the exposition of general interest to the public as well as to the film trade.

McAdoo Home After Visit to Cities in East

William Gibbs McAdoo, whose recent dry speech in Toledo before the Ohio State Bar Association aroused national comment, returned to Los Angeles yesterday after a three weeks' trip through the East.

At his offices in the Bank of Italy Building, Mr. McAdoo declared later that he "did not care at this time to discuss politics," and stated that his recent visits to Toledo, Washington and New York had been "purely on legal business."

"While in the East," he added, "I found that interest in California and its development is greater than ever, and I was the target for repeated questions about opportunities here. I told them all the unvarnished truth; that California has never been more prosperous, and its climate has never been better."

SPOUSE SOUGHT KISS OF FRIEND, SHE SAYS

Although Frederick Klein, musician and former director of motion pictures in Germany, continuously harried his wife by jealous charges, he did not refrain from trying to steal a kiss from one of her friends, Mrs. Wiltrud Klein declared in a complaint for divorce filed yesterday. Mrs. Klein is a film actress, and says her husband followed her about from studio to studio and hampered her in her work.

ORATORS BUSY AT RIVERSIDE

All But One High School Enters Great Contest

Newspapers of County Give Publicity and Prizes

Patriotic Citizens Assist Civic Organizations

Another broadside of Southern California enthusiasm for the Fourth National Contest on the Constitution was received by Director Nichols yesterday in a report from Riverside county to the effect that all but one of the smaller high schools in that district have definitely decided to enter the competition.

Young orators are hard at work on their speeches in all these institutions and, according to the principals and teachers of public speaking, the rivalry among the various schools promises a spirited contest in this county, which has taken a leading part in all former contests since the movement was inaugurated.

Prizes are being offered by local newspapers and civic organizations, patriotic citizens in the different towns are offering active co-operation and from all indications, it is apparent that the 1927 contest will eclipse in interest all former events in the line of oratorical competition in Riverside county.

Arthur C. Paul, the principal of Riverside City High School, is giving his personal attention to the promotion of the contest in that institution and has offered the use of his auditorium for the district contest where champions of all the different high schools of Riverside county will meet on April 22 to decide on the county champion for the group contest.

EDITOR GIVES HELP

Will Marsh, the editor of the Riverside Enterprise, will give the contest there full publicity through the columns of his paper and has also offered a silver cup as a prize to the winner in the local contest. The Riverside Chamber of Commerce is considering the proposition of offering a prize at the district contest. This matter will be submitted to the board of that institution at its meeting this week.

The principal of the high school at Banning, Horace W. Moore, is extremely enthusiastic about the contest, and was anxious to be advised as to whether his school is officially entered. "I regard the contest as the best thing The Times ever did," said Mr. Moore.

Carl Barkow, the editor of the Banning Record, will carry the news of the progress of the contest at Banning and has also offered a silver cup to the winner in the local contest.

L. W. Hepp, principal of the high school at Perris, reports that his pupils are already at work on orations. The contest in this town will be conducted under the local newspaper sponsorship of the Perris Progress, M. C. Hendricks.

Miss Dorothy Robinson, the teacher in charge of the contest in the high school at Elsinore, expressed great enthusiasm and her pupils are already at work on orations. Both newspapers in this town, the Leader-Press, edited by Alva McGuire, and the Elsinore Valley News, owned by E. M. Wilson, are anxious to co-operate in making the contest a success in Elsinore. Mr. McGuire has offered a prize to the local winner.

At Hemet, Paul G. Ward, the principal of the high school, expressed cordial interest, stating that a large group of his students are writing orations. J. E. King, editor of the Hemet News, has offered a prize to the local winner, the choice of which will be left to Principal Ward.

Great interest in the contest is shown by the students of the high school at San Jacinto. The principal, C. Jay Boyington, states that in anticipation of the opening of the contest he had added a dozen volumes on public speaking to the school library for the benefit of the contestants.

OTHERS ENTHUSED

C. M. Kline, the editor of the San Jacinto Valley Register, will carry a series of special articles on the Constitution in his paper to stimulate interest in the competition, and has also offered a silver cup to the winner in the local contest.

Glen D. Wright, the principal of the high school at Corona, stated that his pupils are going into the contest in full force. This school has a beautiful auditorium where the contestants will practice when their orations are completed and where the local championship will be decided at a meeting of the entire school which will be open to visitors. The Corona Daily Independent will offer a silver cup to the local winner.

C. O. Harvey, the principal of the school at Beaumont, stated that, owing to the heavy schedule, his student body had not as yet fully decided on entering the contest, but that he thought the school would finally decide to go in. The local newspaper, the Gateway Gazette, is enthusiastically in favor of the contest and will offer a $5 gold piece to the local winner, if the students conclude to participate.

GLENDALE DEFEATS BONDS FOR AIRPORT

GLENDALE, Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—A proposed bond issue of $225,000 to buy forty acres of land for a municipal airport was defeated today. The vote was 1190 in favor and 1910 against the proposition.

ROYALTY MEETS ALIEN DELIGHT

Tamale and Mexican Bean Introduced

Studio Scene of Feast

BRITISH nobility and royalty of the European amusement world were introduced to the charm of the Spanish tamale and the Mexican bean yesterday at the United Artists' Studios by John Barrymore and Douglas Fairbanks.

Barrymore played the role of host at a studio luncheon while Fairbanks wrote the scenario for the menu. Other United Artists members who appeared prominently in the luncheon cast were Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board of directors; Mary Pickford, Norma Talmadge and Kathleen Norris, the latter now working on the next Pickford story.

Luncheon was served in the studio lunch room.

MRS. VINCENT ASTOR REVISES TOUR ITINERARY

Apparently abandoning her proposed Panama Canal trip, Mrs. Vincent Astor, New York society leader, upon arriving here yesterday morning from the north with her party of five immediately arranged to leave for New Orleans in her private car, the Newport. She expects to depart this morning with the Sunset Limited.

Mrs. Astor registered last night at the Garden of Alla with Mrs. Harriman Russell, also of New York, although the whereabouts of other members of the party, including Lord and Lady Strathcona and Messrs. McIntosh and Hull, were undiscovered.

The party arrived yesterday at 7:40 a.m. over the San Joaquin Valley route after a week's visit at Pebble Beach, Del Monte and the Yosemite Valley. The English notables acquired a residence at Pebble Beach which they will model after their Elizabethan manor at Wakehurst in Sussex.

Southern Pacific officials stated last night that Mrs. Astor had secured reservations for a party of five, although Mrs. Russell was not included in the list of guests. Mrs. Russell, however, declared she will accompany Mrs. Astor to New Orleans today.

ADMIRERS IN TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

Attorney Sketches Life of Emancipator at Meeting of Knights of Columbus

Eloquent tribute was paid Abraham Lincoln last night by J. F. T. O'Connor, Los Angeles attorney, before an audience of several hundred admirers of the great emancipator at Columbus Auditorium, 612 South Flower street. The meeting was sponsored by Los Angeles Council, No. 621, Knights of Columbus, to commemorate the forthcoming anniversary of Lincoln's birthday.

"No character in American history so fascinates the imagination and holds such an appeal to every class of people as does the immortal name of Abraham Lincoln," the speaker said at the outset of his address.

He then sketched the early struggles "of that typically American boy" under the adverse conditions in which he lived during his youth, and extolled his courage, industry and hard work from the time he left his father's log cabin in Kentucky attired in homespun clothes until he was elected President "with lowering war clouds in the offing."

Describing the famous debates between Stephen A. Douglas and Lincoln, he recalled how, when Fort Sumpter was fired on—"his erstwhile enemy was among the first to come to him and offer 'all that I have is yours.'"

Mr. O'Connor then told of the trials that beset Lincoln as war President, with Seward, Stanton and other members of his Cabinet placing obstructions in his pathway, and related incidents where Lincoln had shown he was head and shoulders above the carping critics in his official family. "It takes big men to receive insults and not reply to them," he said.

Howard Callahan, Grand Knight of the Council and chairman of the meetin, in introducing the speaker characterized him as "an authority on our Constitution, and one who is credited with having had a large part in breaking up the power and influence of the Nonpartisan League in the days of its power when he was a resident of North Dakota."

MRS. MAUDE KALIS ELECTED

Mrs. Maude Kalis was elected president of Helen Jean Christie Tent No. 17, Daughters of Union Veterans, yesterday. Mrs. Lena Boyd was elected secretary and Mrs. Gertrude Irvin, treasurer. The next all-day meeting of the tent will be at the home of Mrs. Jessie Mason, 6322 Bonsallo avenue, on the 10th inst.

CALLS FOR GAS AND GETS "OIL"

Officer Asks for Gallons and Is Offered Pint for $2

Police Officer M. J. Duffy, in uniform, stopped his automobile at a service station at Slauson and Normandie avenues last night and called for gas.

"Sure, bring a pint," said Duffy, thinking he was being kidded. "How much is it?"

"Two dollars," said the oil-station man, handing over a pint of liquor, according to the officer's report.

Service Men's Club Completes Reorganization

Reorganization of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Club into the Service and Ex-Service Men's Club, with headquarters at 735 South Main street, was completed at a meeting last night.

The following new officers were elected: Glen Steve, president; Ralph Saunders, vice-president; James Melville, treasurer, and Minnie F. Boston, secretary.

An entertainment program was given in which the Dodson Trio, composed of talented children, were featured.

VENICE PLANNING TO CELEBRATE IN MARCH

The Venice group of the Chamber of Commerce has asked an appropriation of $1500 for a celebration planned for early in March. The festival will honor the memory of Abbot Kinney and celebrate the "new era" in Venice, marked by the obtaining of the right to fill in the canals. Miniature naval battles, a water carnival, fireworks displays, music and vaudeville acts are planned.

CAMPAIGN HEADS NAMED

Attorney Roland McNitt, dean of the Southwestern Law School, and Harold P. Huls will act as heads of the Haas-for-Judge Club, it was announced yesterday. Judge Charles Haas, who is a candidate to succeed himself at the coming municipal election, will be tendered a dinner at the Broadway Roof, Friday noon, by the Haas-for-Judge Club under the leadership of Tom MacGowen, L. C. Bagley and Hugh Ward Lutz.

DR. MORIARITY TO SPEAK

Dr. W. D. Moriarity, professor of economics of the University of Southern California and educational director of the Advertising Club, will speak at the monthly meeting of the Purchasing Agents' Association of Los Angeles tomorrow night. Prof. Thurston H. Ross, University of Southern California, will discuss weights and measures as related to purchasing.

Too Smart

An Aberdonian, hearing that a doctor charged 6 shillings and 6 pence for a first consultation and 2 shillings and 6pence for a second, went to him and said: "Here we are again, doctor."

"I don't remember seeing you before?" said the doctor.

"Oh, yes, I was here last week," said Sandy.

"Indeed I had forgotten. How are you keeping?"

"Nat at all well."

"Then," said the doctor, "just continue your last prescription for another week. That will be two-and-six-pense, please." — [London Tit-Bits.

Two Whys

J. Whitman Greenough, the antilynching champion, was accosted, at the end of an antilynching speech in Washington, by a southern minister.

"A very good speech, Mr. Greenough," the minister said, and then he gave a meaning laugh and added:

"But why don't you go South, where lynching actually happens, with your splendid speeches?"

Mr. Greenough laughed in his turn.

"You are trying to save souls from Hades, aren't you?" he said. "Well, why don't you go there to do it?"

Not Far Enough

"Mother," said Bobby, "did you tell father that I wanted a wireless set?"

"Yes, dear, but he said he couldn't afford it."

"I knew he'd say that. What did you do then."

"I told him how much you desired it and argued in favor of it, but 'twas no use."

"Argued! Oh, mother; if it'd been something you wanted yourself, you'd have gone into 'sterics and then you'd have got it!"—[Weekly Scotsman.

FLEET RECEIVES SAILING ORDERS

Vessels Expected Back at Local Base June 30

Seventy ships and sixty airplanes of the battle fleet will sail from the local area on the morning of the 17th inst., under changed plans for the 15,000-mile Caribbean-Atlantic cruise, as announced yesterday aboard the U.S.S. California, fleet flagship.

Ten battleships and thirteen auxiliaries of the fleet train will depart from San Pedro at 10 a.m. and at 4 o'clock that afternoon they will be joined off the Mexican coast by thirty-two destroyers, the cruiser Omaha; eight submarines, with the tenders Holland and Ortolan; the aircraft squadrons aboard the carrier Langley and tenders Aroostook and Gannet, and the destroyer tenders Altain and Melville.

Two battleships will be left behind for overhaul at the Puget Sound navy yard, the Pennsylvania and Tennessee. The Pennsylvania, now undergoing overhaul, will leave Puget Sound in early March and join the fleet at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The Tennessee will remain here alone until the 25th inst., proceed to Puget Sound, undergo overhaul and rejoin the returning fleet off the Central American coast in May. The battle fleet will return to the local base on the morning of June 30.

REPAIR ORDERS REVOKED

The dreadnaughts Oklahoma and Nevada will take part in the cruise, orders providing for their overhaul at the Puget Sound navy yard and subsequent modernization having been revoked. Both ships are expected to return here next June and then sail for East Coast yards in early August for their $13,000,000 modernization program. No scouting fleet ships from the Atlantic will take their place during their absence.

Strategical maneuvers and tactical exercises will be conducted by the fleet on the run south to the Panama Canal, which area will be reached on the morning of March 2.

About that date the battle fleet, under Admiral Richard H. Jackson, will launch a theoretical attack on the Pacific defenses of the canal, defended by the Army forces. Aircraft of both the defenders and attacking forces will play a prominent part in the exercises.

The fleet will pass through the canal between March 5 and 10 and steam into the Carribean Sea, where it will engage in a war game with the scouting fleet.

BATTLE PRACTICE

Following completion of this problem, in which approximately 150 surface vessels and as many more planes will be simultaneously engaged, the combined United States fleet, under Admiral Charles F. Hughes, commander-in-chief, will base on Guantanamo Bay. Long-range battle practice, tactical exercises, rifle-range firing, athletics and conferences will take place in the Guantanamo area from March 15 to April 23, when the entire fleet will sail for New York.

Arriving at New York May 1, following tactical exercises en route north, the fleet will remain in the North River for leave, liberty and machinery upkeep until May 16, when the entire force will put to sea for tactical exercises terminating in joint exercises with the Army on Narragansett Bay.

The fleet will sail for Los Angeles Harbor on May 28, arriving at the canal June 7 and at this port June 30.

Siphon Water System Given Pressure Test

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 8.—Satisfactory test of the six-mile steel-inverted siphon of the Moreno Mutual Irrigation Company was made today by directors of the company and engineers from Los Angeles. Three of the five pumps on the former Singleton ranch were started and 500 inches of water was forced into the tubes.

Directors and engineers found every high-pressure joint doing its duty satisfactorily and the big job's acceptance seems only a matter of form now.

Test of the six miles of concrete distribution unit was made last week and found satisfactory so that valley users of water are assured ample water for crops during the coming summer. There will be sufficient water for 3500 acres of land, it was stated.

The unit tested today has cost the company $145,000. It consists of six miles of twenty-four-inch double-riveted, double-dipped and wrapped steel pipe. It is one great inverted siphon with the intake sixty-eight feet higher than the discharge. Into the steel siphon will be delivered the water from the five new wells on what was once known as the Singleton ranch. This property is of 700 acres and chiefly of value for its water.

One Night Out a Week Held Fully Enough

The issue between Margaret Warman and her husband, Ray Warman, as she told it to Judge Summerfield yesterday was:

"One night," was Mrs. Warman's answer.

"Seven nights," was Warman's theory, she said.

Mrs. Warman, was right and her husband was wrong, Judge Summerfield held.

"A man whose wife is willing to concede one night a week out is lucky enough," the court observed. "This gentleman has been imposing on good nature and his wife is entitled to a divorce."

ADMINISTRATOR ASKED

A $10,000 estate was left by Mrs. T. L. Burnell, 72 years of age, who was killed in an automobile accident last November 6, according to a petition for letters of administration filed yesterday by Attorney C. E. Fleming. She left two daughters and a son.

CHAPLIN AIDE TAKES ACTION

Alfred Reeves Pleads Injunction Injures Him; Pasadena Censors' Action Revoked

A new technical legal motion directed at the restraining order imposed on the defendants in the Chaplin divorce fight was added late yesterday to the dozen or more such actions with which the courts are already cluttered. It was filed late in the afternoon by Alfred Reeves, general manager of the Chaplin Studios, and asks that the restraining order be lifted as regards himself, at least, because it is causing him financial injury.

Under the restraining order the defendants in the complaint are prevented from moving or disturbing the comedian's cash or property or opening safe deposit boxes in which the comedian may have cash or other valuables.

HEARING FRIDAY

The matter will be heard Friday morning before Judge Guerin of the Superior Court, who issued the restraining order. Tomorrow Judge Shaw will hear Reeves's motion to vacate the receivership imposed on the comedian's estate here to guard the interests of his young wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, pending the trial of her divorce suit.

Aside from the filing of this new petition and removal from the court calendar for the time being of the contempt hearing against Loyd Wright, Chaplin's attorney, the legal front remained quiet during the day.

In Pasadena, the action of the board of censors in blacklisting Chaplin's pictures was overruled by the Board of City Directors, which decided that the city's moral critics had overstepped their powers in the action against the comedian.

EXCEEDED AUTHORITY

By a vote of five to two, the directors ruled that the censors have no authority to bar pictures simply because of their opinion of an actor's private morals. The censors can act only in cases where plays or pictures are judged immoral or obscene, the board ruled.

Rev. C. V. Cowan, chairman of the censor board, had led the move for blacklisting the comedian's films in Pasadena. Lyndol L. Young, chief of Mrs. Chaplin's legal staff, declared yesterday that the rapid-fire series of motions, demurrers, exceptions and appeals to which Mrs. Chaplin's complaint has been subjected would not alter the status of the case in the long run.

"The case must be tried on its merits," he declared. "When it comes to trial, these involved legal preliminaries will not affect it one way or another. Chaplin has a wife and two children to support. That is the outstanding issue in the proceedings."

BILL AIMS BLOW AT IMPROVEMENT LIENS

MEASURE BEFORE LEGISLATURE HAS INDORSEMENT OF BAR ASSOCIATION

As the result of the recent investigation by the Los Angeles Bar Association of the improvement-lien complaints, Assemblyman Crawford of Burbank has introduced into the Legislature a bill designed to relieve the matter of notice.

Mr. Crawford's bill, which has the indorsement of the Los Angeles Bar Association, will make it imperative that all notices of liens be printed on the tax bills. Each tax notification will carry on its face the notice of all outstanding liens and assessments so that the property owners may be protected.

FERRIS IN NEW FIELD

Advertising Man Plans to Conduct Campaigns for Funds

Otho L. Ferris, one of the founders of the Smith & Ferris Advertising Agency, has retired as an active officer of that concern and will engage in the new profession of directing fund campaigns for philanthropic, civic, fraternal and religious organizations. He has become an associate partner of C. W. Lee, who, for several years has conducted funding campaigns.

"The directing of financial campaigns has arrived as a profession," Ferris said. "Supplying of organization and constructive publicity experience makes it possible to carry to a successful termination any financial program that is based on a real need and has a tangible list of constituents."

Temporary offices of the Lee-Ferris Associates will be maintained in the Union Bank Building.

SHEPARD RITES TODAY

Aged Physician's Funeral to Be Conducted from Chapel This Afternoon

Funeral services for Dr. William Asher Shepard, 2307 Sixth avenue, who died at his home last Monday night, will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Hollywood Cemetery Chapel under the direction of the Ruppe Mortuary.

Dr. Shepard was 90 years of age, and had been ill for the last five months. He had resided in Los Angeles for about eight years, coming here from Colorado Springs, where he had practiced for many years. Besides his widow, Mrs. Eva G. Shepard, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Lucy I. Cary of this city, and Mrs. Karl C. Schuyler of Denver, and three sons, Dr. C. C. Shepard, Ord, Neb.; Dr. W. T. Shepard, Le Mars, Iowa, and Dr. E. L. Shepard, Brandon, Wis.

CONCERT GIVEN IN HOLLYWOOD CHURCH

Songs, glees, madrigals and opera choruses featured the concert Monday night at the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood. The choir, conducted by J. B. Nield, won applause for its numbers. Soloists of the evening were Mary Teitsworth, soprano; Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto; Ivan Edwards, tenor; James P. Allan, baritone; Nelle Frogley, mezzo-soprano, and R. J. Villim, violinist. The choir underwent a period of three months' training for the concert, which included "The Song of the Vikings," the "Anvil Chorus" from "Il Trovatore," and "The Bells of St. Mary's."

AGED WOMAN KILLED BY LONG BEACH AUTO

LONG BEACH, Feb. 8. (Exclusive) Long Beach experienced its third traffic death in twenty-four hours when Mrs. T. C. McGallup, 81 years of age, of 516 Pacific avenue, died at the Seaside Hospital today. Mrs. McGallup and Mrs. P. Christiansen, 50, of the same address, were struck by a car driven by A. F. Thibodeaux, 147 East Anaheim avenue, at Pacific avenue and Fifth street. Mrs. Christiansen suffered possible internal injuries.

Four Injured in Canning Plant Gasoline Blast

LONG BEACH, Feb. 8.—Explosion of a canning machine at the plant of the Italia Gasoline Products Company, Pine avenue and Spring street, in the Los Cerritos oil field, this morning, sent four men to the hospital with severe burns and resulted in damage to the plant estimated at $400.

The injured are: G. A. Baldwin, 27, of 1700 Pine avenue; James Cornwell, 23, 589 Cerritos avenue; Oscar Escalante, 27, and Ernest Hutton, 27, both of Los Angeles.

The condition of the first two named was so serious that hospital physicians expressed doubt of their chance for recovery. Escalante and Hutton sustained burns about the face and body which, while severe, will not prove fatal.

Prompt work on the part of the employees of the plant in fighting the resulting blaze with special oil-fire chemicals, won praise from fire department officials and prevented a gasoline explosion that would have rocked the entire city, it was said.

HONOR FOR LINCOLN

Lincoln's Birthday will be celebrated Saturday at 2 p.m. in Patriotic Hall by the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, with members of the G.A.R. as special guests. Members of Tents Nos. 4, 14, 17, 29 and 45 will be hostesses. The program will be given under the supervision of Lillian Kroesen, department patriotic instructor.

WOMEN DOCTORS INCREASE

The number of women doctors in Germany has increased from 195 to 1627 between the years 1913 and 1926. Of the present total, 280 are assistants to visiting hospital physicians. The majority of the women doctors are general practitioners; 116 specialize in children's diseases, and are obstetricians and gynecologists.

A MAN LOANED ME $10.00

That was four months ago. He also gave me a job, and out of that job I have made more money than I ever made before. Prior to that time I was a professional man, but in the four months in this new line I have found that my previous years were practically wasted. I have now been put into a position where I can employ other men in the same line and if you have any "get up and get" to you there is no reason why you cannot make better than $100 a week. I prefer young men who have previously sold something, but that is not absolutely essential. If you want to earn money and have the right amount of ambition I can put you right to work. Come in and see me today. LIEUTENANT KORIES, 728 S. Spring.

BRASS core maker, $6 day; electrician, contract; lather, $4.50 M; fender repair man, 90c hr.; Reed worker, $5 day, hand wood carver, $7 day & bd.; young man, do some spot welding, $18 wk.; locomotive boilermaker, $5.22 day; creamery man tester, license). Man & wife, ranch hand, housekeeper, $60 mo., & fd.; married milker, $110 mo. & house; 3 machine miners, $4.50 day. MURRAY & READY EMPL. AGCY., 504 Towne ave.

SALESMEN

BUSINESS LOTS ALWAYS SELL

Don't you find your prospects loaded with residential lots? Don't you find most investors prefer business property—not residential? We have carefully analyzed the present market and secured a piece of property which would sell. Our analysis proved correct, because we sold over ½ million the first 60 days. A business property in Los Angeles in the heart of a fully developed district — surrounded RIGHT NOW with a built-up residential area. Improvements nearly completed—a $500,000 new business block contracted for. A live newspaper campaign and a wide-awake organization to back up your efforts. We want TWO MEN who can stand prosperity, because we maintain a small organization of only high-class men—all of whom prosper.

I Want an Assistant

Who can sell, or who is willing to learn and can qualify for position as assistant sales manager; for NATIONAL MANUFACTURING CO. Must have executive ability, initiative, education and self-confidence to work with me in Los Angeles. Previous experience not as important as the ability to do well the tasks of the moment. Must have car. See Mr Sweeney, 1123 S. HILL.

Especially Desirable For Home Owners:

Ten-year amortization loans on improved properties with prepayment option. "Any amount at any time without penalty." Loans made with full rebate of interest on principal repaid. Half-yearly payments cover principal and interest, and extinguish the debt at the end of the 10-year period. A safe and sane plan; which eliminates renewal expenses and worries and provides a wise and practical plan for the eventual payment of the debt. Low cost. No appraisement or escrow fees. Unlimited funds. Loans made in approved cities and towns in Southern California.

Saloon Gong Used to End Cage Tussle

MARYVILLE (Mo.) Feb. 8.—Officials of the Northwest State Teachers' College of this city almost were the cause for a miniature riot the other night at a basketball game when they dedicated a gong which once had been used to sound the closing hour of a saloon in this city during preprohibition days, to signal the end of play. Five well-known business men grabbed their hats and started for the door, ready to go home, before they realized that they had been caught napping. The incident gave the spectators a great kick and proved most embarrassing for the business men, who no doubt were former patrons of that well-known saloon. In the good old days the sounding of the gong was always followed by the admonition of the barkeeps: "Don't forget your packages."

The gong idea at basketball games was hit upon by the officials of the college when other methods failed to get results. Whistles did not work well because they became confused with those of other officials. Pistol shots often were drowned out by the cheering of the crowds, and at other times the revolver would become balky and refuse to fire for a minute or two. But the gong. That old-time saloon accouterment gets them. It can be heard loud and clear above the worst bedlam ever turned loose at a sport event.

CLIFF RITTER QUITS POMONA COLLEGE TEAM

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Cliff Ritter, the tiny athlete who was captain of the freshman basketball squad last year, besides being a good football and baseball man, has joined the parade of star performers who have left Pomona this season. Ritter is now playing a forward on the Alhambra Athletic Club team and is making a big success of it, despite his lack of height, weight and girth. He was one of the most promising forwards ever to attend Pomona and left a big hole on the varsity squad when he decided to end his college career.

MORE HEAVYWEIGHTS AT MAIN STREET CLUB

Promoter Carlo Curtis of the Main-street A.C. has lined up another high-class heavyweight bout for next Saturday and announces that he is meeting with greater promise for a successful heavyweight tourney than he dared anticipate. Cliff Ramies, the Mexican boy who dumped Steve Mullens in five heats at Wrigley Field last month meets Jimmy Lyall, a knocker-out from Victoria, B. C.

In one of the preliminaries Curtis has signed two very promising heavyweight prospects who have been shaping up well in the gymnasium. They are Al Worthen and Vic Pertley.

POMONA NINE IN OPENING WORKOUT

POMONA CALLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 8. (Exclusive)—Cass Packard, the soft-voiced youth who captains Pomona's baseball team this year, got the season officially under way yesterday, sounding the call for varsity diamond aspirants and suiting the action by taking a long and intensive workout himself. Seven letter men are returning this year and all that the squad is waiting for is the end of the basketball season, which will release Coach Earl Merritt from his present duties as freshman mentor and allow him to put some time on baseball.

RAINBOW TROUT ARE LURE TO EASTERNERS

In word received from Leigh Garnsey, manager of the Rainbow Angling Club, it is learned that three different fishing parties were sent to Rainbow last week from the Mission Inn of Riverside. Each party contained from twenty-five to forty anglers, and all had a good time.

Garnsey also announced that the winter season has seen hundreds of eastern people fishing at Rainbow on guest cards, and that each day many boxes of trout are sent east.

KEICKHEFER IN CUE TIE WITH REISELT

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. (AP)—The national three-cushion billiard championship tournament tonight settled down to a race between Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, the title-holder, and Augie Keickhefer, Chicago southpaw, who held the championship nine years ago.

Keickhefer went into a tie with Reiselt for the lead in the tourney tonight by defeating Raimundo Campanioni of Havana, 50 to 32, in forty-five innings.

CORDINGLY IN LEAD

CALGARY (Alta.) Feb. 8. (AP)—Warren Cordingly, veteran musher from Ashton, Idaho, drew into Morley, Alta., at 5:21 tonight to win the first lap of the Calgary-Banff dog team race. The second half of the eighty-six-mile event will be run from Morley to Banff tomorrow.

SWIM AND RING STARS AT BANQUET

Western-Avenue Business Association Seats Officers With Annual Celebration

Henry Sullivan, conquerer of the English and Catalina channels, and Mickey Walker, middleweight boxing champion, were special guests at the seventh annual banquet and entertainment of the Western-avenue Business Association last night in the New Masonic Building, Third and Oxford streets.

The meeting, attended by approximately 450 members and guests, marked the installation of the new officers, comprising the following: A. H. Vossmeyer, president; Dr. W. F. Traughber, first vice-president; E. C. Edmunds, second vice-president; M. C. H. Clinch, treasurer, and H. A. Henry, secretary.

Walter Thornton, secretary-manager of the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, was the principal speaker of the program, which included several acts of entertainment. Taking "Los Angeles, Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" as his subject, Mr. Thornton pictured an optimistic future for the metropolis of the Pacific.

Gordon Whitnall, director of the City Planning Commission, and Boyle Workman, president of the City Council, also spoke. Reminiscences of their respective professions, were related by Sullivan and Walker. Sullivan outlined his proposal to swim the Irish Channel. Hans Koehig officiated as toastmaster.

City Councilmen Hughes, Sparks, Hall, Moore and Allan and County Supervisors Graves were guests of honor.

New Beach City Sells Gas Plant to Corporation

Huntington Beach yesterday voted to sell its municipal gas system to the Southern Counties Gas Company. The vote was 425 to 74. The City Council of Huntington Beach had previously accepted a tentative offer of $75,000, the deal requiring ratification by popular ballot.

According to officials of the company, Huntington Beach was the only community in Orange county not being served by that organization. The municipal plant, however, had been purchasing its gas wholesale from the Southern Counties Gas Company. Long Beach, it is said, is now the only remaining community in Southern California with a municipal gas plant.

Huntington Beach has about 1500 gas consumers. Southern Counties Gas Company is now extending its lines to Laguna Beach, according to Clyde H. Potter, an official of the company.

DRAWS OCEAN TRAFFIC FROM LIVERPOOL

During the last few years the port of Liverpool has lost the world's largest ships, the owners of the giant Cunarders and White Star liners having deemed it more expedient to take those vessels, once the pride of Liverpool, to Southampton and other South of England ports.

What this means to the great Lancashire seaport is realized when we remember the steady stream of ocean-going passenger traffic that was the very life blood of the port in those calm, but prosperous, days before the war.

Even more do the inhabitants of Liverpool at the present time regret the move southward, as owing to the enormous increase in the number of wealthy tourists from all over the world who are now crossing the Atlantic this feeling of regret is further intensified.

But the tourists are not confined to the wealthy classes. The great steamship lines have, during the last two years by the inauguration of the "tourist third class" given a welcome stimulus to the third-class passenger traffic, and have added greatly to the number of passengers now crossing over; the excellent service and splendid accommodation now provided being a great incentive to those who, while being able to afford the moderate rates now in operation, found the higher-class fares somewhat beyond them.

What this migration really means to Liverpool is perhaps more fully realized when one thinks of these massive liners, with their huge complement of human souls, which used to adorn the Liverpool landing stage three or four times every week. Every day in port means to that port a rush of work in every trade, the ship has to be revictualled, stores have to be replenished, enormous quantities of food have to be taken on board, there is work for the laundries, the vessel gets a new coat of paint, and all necessary repairs to engines, etc., have to be carried out.

The ship repairers in Liverpool alone have lost many thousands of pounds sterling worth of work, one big firm having had to close down as a result of the reduced number of vessels making the port. These big liners used to bring business for the hotels, and in reckoning the loss to the port such items as dock rent and dues, and towing contracts, to mention only two, have to be taken into consideration. Of more recent date there has sprung up another factor which is helping to add to Liverpool's troubles. The inland port of Manchester, which is now a very serious competitor to Liverpool, makes direct shipments of her wonderful store of manufactured goods, which were hitherto sent by road and rail to the Liverpool docks.

Evidence of this is forthcoming here on the Pacific Coast when we see the new large cargo and passenger boats of the Furness lines bringing out Manchester goods. The extent to which Manchester is exploiting its shipping possibilities is seen by the recent returns of the Manchester Ship Canal Company. That great engineering work has at last justified its existence, and the canal for the first time in its forty years' history is a paying proposition.

But despite all this as one walks around the city of Liverpool, one sees huge buildings towering upward everywhere. There is the Blue Funnel Line Building on Water street, now nearing completion, and estimated to cost over £1,000,000; banks ten stories high, and huge department stores in the Church-street area. So that notwithstanding all that has been said, Liverpool still has a future—somebody has confidence.—[Vancouver Province.
